Mal-nutrition under many aliases is killing hundreds of thousands every year

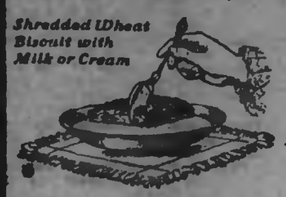
Nearly every disease that is prevalent can be traced to improper food. An ill-nourished body is an invitation to disease. If you are eating heat- and fat-producing foods such as butter, white flour bread, fat meats, etc., you are neglecting the vital elements of your body—the principles which build muscle, bone, brain, tissue and nerves, the elements which resist the attacks of disease.

To be free from sickness you must build up every element in your body.

SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT AND TRISCUIT

The Natural Foods

will do this. They contain every nourishing element the body needs.



Shredded Wheat Biscuit with Milk or Cream

Try Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit with Milk for breakfast to-morrow and develop the elastic step of health and the clear brain of a properly fed stomach.

Triscuit makes ideal toast—try one with butter.

MR. TARTE AND THE FARMER.

Mr. Tarte continues to tell the readers of La Patrie that higher duties on American farm products, including what, would increase the selling price of similar products in Canada. The former, he says, are exporting in large quantities to Canada to the detriment of Canadian agriculture.

As a matter of fact our purchases of American farm products, if we except those of Indian corn, admitted free when used by farmers for fattening stock, are comparatively insignificant. But be they what they may, how is it, if Mr. Tarte's theory that high duties enrich the farmer by increasing the price of his wares be sound, that American farm products are so cheap as to allow of their being sent to Canada in the face of existing duties? If he will only stop to think he will see that in raising his alarm about the "inundation of low-priced American wheat and other farm products" he is flatly condemning protection, inasmuch as no farmers in the wide world are so highly protected as those of the United States. They have been protected for a hundred years, from 1790 down to the present time by duties well nigh prohibitory, higher, certainly, than any he would care to impose in Canada. Obviously, then, his cure all has failed on that side of the line, and he cannot show that it would work to better advantage on this.

Last year we imported 100,000 bushels, valued at $58,000, of American wheat for home consumption. Our total imports of wheat from the States were 7,296,000 bushels, valued at $5,600,000, but all save that fraction was exported. On the other hand, our exports of wheat grown in Canada amounted to 33,000,000 bushels valued at 24,500,000. The bulk went to England. The problem before Mr. Tarte, therefore, is to explain how by shutting out 100,000 bushels of American wheat he can increase the price we receive for the 33,000,000 of Canadian shipped from Canada. Can any fiscal legislation of ours regulate the British market? Is it in his power to cast an evil spell over the crops of the United States, Russia, Argentine and other countries whose exportable surplus in competition with our own, supplies the United Kingdom?

Every farmer knows that the price of wheat, cheese, bacon, etc., in England, practically determines the price here; that is to say, the return we get for our exports of these articles fixes the home quotation, freight and other charges deducted. Looking back fifty years, the Crimean war, in which England, France, Turkey and Russia were engaged, created a wheat shortage in Europe, so that wheat sold in Canada for $2.50 per bushel. The Civil War in the United States caused another rise. About 1873 prices began to decline chiefly in consequence of the opening of new countries and the reduction of cost of harvesting and transportation through the application of modern inventions — the self-binder, railway and ocean steamer. Since then the general tendency has been downward. But it is safe to say that Mr. Tarte is the only man in the province of Quebec, calling himself a statesman, who believes that the Canadian Parliament can augment the price in Canada, England and elsewhere by simply excluding a few bushels of American wheat at the Canadian frontier. He might as well try to influence the tides of the Atlantic by damming a creek flowing from Vermont into the Eastern Townships.

The policy of Higher Protection for Agriculture and Higher Protection all round for Manufacturers, could not possibly help the farmer, but would surely injure him by increasing cost of production. No one ever perceived this more clearly than Mr. Tarte himself during the five same years in which he was a tariff reformer.

LOTS OF IT NOW.

Whatever politics there may have been in the control of the militia it is not apparent that Lord Dundonald has decreased the quantity. He censured the Government in such terms dismissal was made necessary, and the issue raised, without regard to its merits and considered merely as a troubling of the waters, is like a special gift from Heaven to the Conservative party, which has long been unable to arouse popular interest in any of its complaints against the Laurier Administration.

This is just what the Opposition was looking for. A new subject is thrown into the political arena. The merits of the case are of little moment for partisan newspapers like the Mail can amond the particulars to suit their party's needs, and much excitement can be aroused amid a thoroughly misinformed Conservative public already prepared to think the worst of a Liberal Government.

Lord Dundonald is being implored to talk by reporters for Conservative newspapers. When he declines, he is urged to speak on the ground that if he does not follow up his action by further utterances he will have sacrificed himself in vain. They tell him that he has the country behind him. In fact he has behind him a political party that will use him for all he is worth in party strife, and if that is the use to which he is willing to be put, he can be banquetted and dined wherever there is a County Conservative Association in Canada. If this will help to keep politics out of militia affairs, an extensive work in that direction can be done in the time intervening before the general elections.

It is evident already that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's inadvertent reference to Lord Dundonald as a "foreigner" is to do campaign duty for the Opposition in every part of Canada outside Quebec. In Quebec the same word "stranger" means both "foreigner" and "stranger," and Sir Wilfrid, in saying that Hon. Sydney Fisher knew local conditions better than Lord Dundonald possibly could, explained this by saying that the G. O. C. was "a foreigner—no, a stranger." The Premier corrected himself on the instant, before the watchful Opposition could interrupt him. But nearly every newspaper on the Conservative side has taken it up. Speakers in the Commons and Senate have taken it up. It is to do capital service in the approaching campaign wherever there is a prejudice against the French-Canadians. Lord Dundonald is undeniably a stranger. Only a stranger would have made the egregious error of supposing that the course he pursued could have any other effect than to drag the militia bodily into the political field, especially at a time when politics were beginning to boil preparatory to a general election.—Toronto Star.

No Competition.

OVERTAKEN BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Men Riding on a Hand Car Were Killed.

A railroad fatality occurred four miles west of Sharbot Lake on Friday about six o'clock p.m., when W. C. Tennant of Toronto, was the victim.

Together with O. Butterfield and L. Ferguson he was travelling in the direction of Sharbot Lake on a handcar, when they were overtaken by a through freight in charge of Engineer Ritchie of this town. It appears that the crew of the handcar were aware of the train's approach, that they had dismounted, and were trying to save the handcar, when struck.

Ferguson escaped unhurt, while Butterfield had his shoulder broken. Both are attached to the engineering staff, to which department Tennant also belonged. Butterfield was taken to the hospital at Sharbot Lake. His injuries are not serious. —Havelock Standard.

NEW CLERGYMAN FOR NORWOOD.

Rev. E. W. Pickford Given Farewell from Mono.

Addresses and Presentation to Retiring Incumbent - A Popular Clergymen.

The Dufferin Post publishes in Orangeville, has the following account of a farewell to Rev. E. W. Pickford, who is shortly to come to Norwood:—

Rev. E. W. Pickford, who has been incumbent of the fine Mono West Anglican church for the last eight years, leaves with his family this week for Norwood, Ont., to assume the pastorate of the large Episcopalian congregation at that point. During his residence in this section he has by his affability and kindliness made himself popular with all classes and he leaves this district with the good will and best wishes of men of every creed. Rev. Mr. Pickford is a ripe scholar and a speaker of force and weight and during his Mono incumbency he discharged his high duties with zeal, energy, and devotion. He was especially active and assiduous in his ministrations at times of sickness and death and on those touching occasions he was seldom or never prevented by bad weather or worse roads from discharging his sacred functions, comforting and strengthening the sick and dying and consoling the afflicted. Mrs. Pickford, who is a daughter of the late Rev. Thomson, of Toronto Junction, in his day one of the able and leading Anglican clergymen of Toronto diocese, has also been a faithful helpmate to her husband and has shared with him deserved popularity. It is no wonder, therefore, that the intimated departure of Rev. Mr. Pickford was the signal for expressions of kindly farewell wishes and substantial tributes of respect and esteem. On Tuesday evening of last week the reverend gentleman was banqueted by Harris Lodge A. F. and A. M. of this town, when several officers and members paid eloquent tributes to him as a man and citizen. On Friday evening representatives of St. Matthew's and St. Luke's congregation of Mono assembled at the Manse at Cardwell and presented him with a farewell address and a purse of close upon $50. The chair was occupied by Mr. A. O. Scott, merchant and postmaster of Mono Centre, who, as a Presbyterian, said he felt pride and delight in being able to be present to do honor to a gentleman of the cosmopolitan stamp and character of Mr. Pickford. Mr. Beatty Moore, of Mono Centre, also a Presbyterian, was equally complimentary in his tribute. Mr. Mungovan, Editor of the Post, said that Rev. Mr. Pickford was esteemed by and popular with all because he had realized the high duties of a man in his position and had performed those duties with zeal and unswerving devotion. A neat and feeling address was read on behalf of the congregation by Mr. Wagner, one of the Wycliffe College students, at present in charge of the Mono west mission, and to this address Mr. Pickford replied briefly and touchingly. He said that in discharging his duty he had sought to win the respect and good opinion of men and women of other creeds and that he had at least partially succeeded was proven by the presence there that evening of Methodists, Presbyterians and Roman Catholics. He referred particularly to the unfailing effort he had made to attend the sick and the dying. That was a function on which he felt strongly, and he could say with truth that during the eight years in their midst he had never failed when at all possible to be at the side of the sick and the dying. The Mono missions were hard to fill, and during his incumbency he had driven 20,000 miles. In point of numbers the charges had increased during his term, and this was a feature of his sacred trust which particularly pleased him. He thanked all on behalf of Mrs. Pickford and himself, and trusted that Providence would ever bless their many friends in these parts. Brief speeches were also made by Messrs. W. J. McKelvey, W. Ewing, Thomas Kidney, Ira Allen, Peter Wilson, W. Jackson, Jas. Wilson and others.

The company was entertained to a sumptuous lunch and the interesting and memorable proceedings terminated shortly before 11 o'clock. The congregation of Herald Angel church have since presented Rev. Mr. Pickford with a purse of about $30, and L. O.L., 320, Prince of Wales' Road, with a purse of about $20. It is not often that a departing clergyman is so honoured on every side, but the reverend gentleman's career in this section has been exemplary, an open book in fact, and he well deserved the practical outcome of sentiment in his favour on the eve of his departure. He begging his incumbency of the important charge at Norwood, under the most favourable circumstances, and the Post joins with his legion of friends in wishing him continued success in his sacred ministrations.

CHILD BURNED SUNDAY MORNING

Playing with Matches and Clothes Took Fire.

The Campbellford Despatch says: — On Sunday morning last this little three year old daughter of Mr. Robert Hay, Seymour east, was nearly burned to death. Mrs. Hay was at church, and the little one got hold of some matches while the father was napping on a sofa in the same room with it. Its clothing caught on fire, and before the father could extinguish the flames the child was most severely burned. Dr. Carlow and Dr. Sobark were called and dressed the wounds. Little hope is held out for the child's recovery.

Steady Growth in Popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Made by Cures Like that of Simon V. Landry—He Tells About it Himself

River Bourgois, Richmond County, B., June 17. — (Special.) — Among the many men in this part of Canada whom Dodd's Kidney Pills have relieved of aches and pains and weakness and made strong and able to do a good day's work is Mr. Simon V. Landry. Mr. Landry has numerous friends here who can vouch for the story he tells of his cure.

"I was troubled for over a year," he said, "with lame back, weak legs, palpitation of the heart, general weakness and shortness of breath; in fact I could not work, and was a total wreck.

"I could not get anything to help me till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. But they did me good and no mistake. I used three boxes and am now back at work again."

It is the cures they make that make Dodd's Kidney Pills so popular. Their popularity has grown steadily for 18 years. It must be well founded.

CANADA EASTERN R.

Government Will Take Over New Brunswick Railway.

PURCHASE PRICE IS $800,000

Line Will Be Run in Connection With the Intercolonial Railway—Mr. Emmerson Will Introduce a Bill to Give Effect to the Government's Purchase—Sir Wilfrid States Government's Program.

Ottawa, June 18.—At yesterday's meeting of the Cabinet it was decided to purchase the Canada Eastern Railway, New Brunswick. The price is in the neighborhood of $800,000. The line will be operated as part of the Intercolonial system. Mr. Emmerson, upon whose recommendation the purchase was made will introduce a bill to give effect to the Government's decision.

GOVERNMENT PROGRAM.

Important Measures Yet to Be Introduced —The Premiers Statement.

Ottawa, June 18.—The House made little progress yesterday, and the conduct of the Opposition gave color to a corridor report that business will be burked until the nature of the election act amendments are disclosed. What blocking may follow their presentation remains to be seen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced a considerable budget of Government bills yet to be introduced, including the election bill, an amendment to the alien labor act and other bills of lesser importance. In the discussion in Committee of Supply Mr. George Taylor led in a spirited attack on the custom of Ministers charging cab hire, and moved an amendment to strike out a sum equal to Mr. Prefontaine's bill last year from the Marine and Fisheries vote then under consideration. The discussion drifted off to the subject of lobsters and the amendment was lost sight of and never presented.

In moving a resolution taking Mondays for Government business the Prime Minister made announcement of the Government business yet to be introduced. Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick would on Monday or Tuesday introduce some amendments to the election law.

"What do you propose?" Mr. Haggart asked.

"I cannot say for certain," Sir Wilfrid replied, "though I think it relates to the list in certain Provinces. I think it makes provision for the list where it is not prepared by the Provincial or Municipal authorities."

Dr. Roche (Marquette) asked if the new act would mean the laying aside of the present list now being prepared by the Manitoba Government officials, and the substitution therefor of a list prepared by Dominion officials.

Sir Wilfrid replied, in the absence of the Minister of Justice, who is in charge of the bill, that he did not like to give any precise information. All information would be given in a few days. Continuing, he said Sir William Mulock would introduce amendments of a light character respecting the civil service act. There would also be an amendment to the alien labor act. Mr. Emmerson would introduce a bill providing for the transfer to the Intercolonial of the Canadian Eastern Railway, also probably a bill adopting for the Government railways the pension system in operation on the G.T.R. and C.P.R. in Canada. There might be other departmental bills of a minor character, but not contentious.

The House adjourned at 11.05.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

Retained 23 Out of 142.

Quebec, June 18.—Three ocean steamers arrived yesterday in port with over fifteen hundred new settlers. The Canadian medical inspector detained 23 out of 142, affected with trachoma, and these were sent to the house of detention for treatment, and if not found curable will be deported. Among the immigrants held over by the Canadian authorities is one young Arabian girl supposed to be worth some $8,000 in effects alone and accompanied by a servant.

Fell From Bicycle, Dead.

Toronto, June 18.—Robert Heney, a 15-year-old lad who lived with his father, John H., at 178 Shaw street, died suddenly last evening. He and a number of companions were bicycle racing on the exhibition grounds. The young chap was seen to fall off his wheel, and when picked up he was dead. It is supposed that he over-exerted himself and died from heart failure. His father, who was present, took the body home.

Look to Chamberlain.

London, June 18.—(C.A.P.)—The Scotsman tells British woollen manufacturers there is nothing anti-British in Mr. Fielding's budget. If they are dissatisfied they will likely look for more from Chamberlain's policy.

Thrown From a Wagon.

Mr. George K. Babcock was thrown from his wagon and severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says it is the best liniment he ever used. Mr. Babcock is a well known citizen of North Plain, Conn. There is nothing equal to Pain Balm for sprains and bruises. It will effect a cure in one third the time required by any other treatment. For sale by all druggists.

The ruffianly Moorish troops are still here despite the strong protests lodged with the authorities by Great Britain and the United States.

NATURES'S WARNING SIGNAL.

The cry of a baby is nature's warning signal that there is something wrong. If a little one is fretful, nervous or sleepless, the safe thing to do is to administer a dose of Baby's Own Tablets. They speedily cure all the little ills of childhood and give sound, natural sleep, because they remove the cause of the wakefulness and crossness. Mr. T. L. McCormack of Peel's Island, Ont., says: "I am never worried about baby's health when I have the Tablets in the house; they always give prompt relief for all little ailments." The Tablets are good for children of all ages, and are guaranteed to contain no opiate. If you do not find the Tablets at your medicine dealers send 25 cents to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and a box will be sent to you by return mail.

The Sheffield Independent hopes that British officers will, when in the colonies, learn by Lord Dundonald's unfortunate example to think a little more Imperially.

The Westminster Gazette says Lord Dundonald's closing experience in Canada has been of a less striking character than that of the dismissed commander-in-chief, who was so valiantly championed by Charles James Fox in Parliament exactly a century ago.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN.
Miss Anna Prescott's Letter.
Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:
"I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My druggist advised me to try Peruna and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful.
"I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.
Peruna a True Friend to Women.
Miss Florence Allan, a beautiful Chicago girl, writes the following from 75 Walton Place:
"As a tonic for a worn out system, Peruna stands at the head in my estimation. Its effects are truly wonderful in rejuvenating the entire system. I keep it on hand all the time, and never have that 'tired feeling,' as a few doses always makes me feel like a different woman."—Florence Allan.

FINEST SHOP FRONT IN FAIR ONTARIO

The New "Front Door" of Messrs. Loch & Sons, Furriers.

Spacious and Elegantly Equipped Window Show Cases.

After a seven weeks' restoration vacation, Messrs. Loch & Son's splendid new shop premises are thrown open to the public, and the firm is receiving hearty congratulations upon the possession of one of the finest and most, if not the finest and most, elegant shop front, in Ontario.

We often hear of a man reaching a green old age, but here is a business firm, which after over 40 years of successful business, is renewing its youth and blooming out in new premises, which for beauty and adaptability to business purposes, eclipse all former efforts.

The business now represented by Loch & Sons was established in Peterborough in 1861 — forty-three years ago — by the late William Loch. The first place of business was in a building on the site now occupied by China Hall; then in a building on the site of Clarke's hat and fur store; then in the building now occupied by the Y.W.C.A., a former site of Tully's drug store. While the business was domiciled here, it had a thrilling experience with a burglar, an ex-policeman at that, who after having committed several robberies in other places, made a raid on Loch's fur store, and here he was caught. This incident led the late Mr. Loch to build a burglar proof and fire proof building, and in 1868 the building now occupied by the business, was erected and occupied, and the underwriters say that it is one of the most substantial, fire-proof structures, with double side fire walls, and as first constructed, furnished with heavy iron shutters, front and rear, the latter still remaining. As giving some idea of the solidity of the front, when a few weeks ago it was taken down to be replaced by the present new front, two and a half tons of iron were removed. About 1886 the late Mr. Loch admitted his two sons, Mr. K. G. and Mr. W. E. Loch, to partnership, and in 1895 the father retired from active business, leaving the new firm to conduct it.

And they have well succeeded. Within the past two years the business of the firm has doubled, and the necessity of providing better facilities for the displaying of stock, etc., became urgent. Hence the new improvements came about.

THE RESTORED AND BEAUTIFIED PREMISES.

The old premises were provided with improvements from time to time but never on the elegant and elaborate scale of these now completed. The essential feature of the improvements is providing splendid window showcase facilities for the display of the finest stock of furs in Canada. Seven weeks ago the work began, Mr. James Graham being the contractor and he has very creditably carried out the designs of the architect, Mr. Fred Bartlett. It is not necessary to enter into minute details of description for only a view of the new front will suffice. The width of the shop is 22 feet. At the line of pavement in the middle of this is a broad entrance 12 feet in width, flanked by plate glass windows on each side 8 1-2 wide by 9 feet in height. This entrance narrows for a depth of 9 1-2 feet to 4 feet. The space thus formed is floored with marble mosaic with an elaborate ornate border enclosing the word "Loch" also in mosaic, and the central figure, a polar bear suggests the great fur specialties of the firm. The sides of the entrance vestibule are formed of glass plates 8 x 10 feet in area. Underneath the main cornice of the front extends across its whole length a belt of luxifer prisms three feet wide. This throws, after the manner of its kind a flood of light into the interior, assisted by prism plates with which the enlarged windows in the rear are provided. The front line of luxifer prisms is separated from the side plate glass fronts by a neat cornice of quartered oak. Wherever wood work occurs in the front it is of polished quartered oak except the angle styles at the junction of the front and side plates, which are of polished brass with ornate bases and capitals. The ceiling of the window show case, and indeed of the whole depth of the entrance—9 1-2 feet—is of Etruscan glass about a yard lower than the general ceiling of the shop, which permits the light that comes in through the luxifers to filter down upon the contents of the window. Around the two sides of the window, not enclosed by plate glass, there extends at the top a line of richly modeled lead glazed art glass and underneath this the walls are of British plate mirror, an arrangement which, of course, multiplies the appearance of the contents of the window. The main door is a prominent feature of the entrance. It is nearly four inches in thickness with oak styles enclosing an oval bevel plate glass centre piece, the complementary angles, fitted with art glass. It is fitted with elaborate handles and is altogether a fine finish to a beautiful entrance. The show window is lighted at night with lines of hidden trough electric bulbs. The general effect of this splendid show case window is excellent, the passer on approaching the premises from either direction having an excellent view of the contents of the window for a considerable distance. The interior of the shop has also received minute attention. The walls and ceilings have been decorated anew and everything necessary brightened with paint and polish. New fixtures have been placed including the style of nickel plated show cases called "silent salesmen," but less effective as silent salesmen than the established reputation the firm has achieved for first-class reliable furs and honourable implementing of business engagements. The artificial lighting of the interior is by cluster electroliers.

Taking it all in all the renovated premises of Messrs. Loch & Sons are not only an unsurpassed credit to the town and an old established business, the best part of whose capital consists in a record and practice of honourable dealing in reliable goods.

CHAMPION MUSKETEERS AND MARCHERS.

The Aurora Zouaves Come Charging Upon us.

The coming to Peterborough on Saturday, July 2nd, of the Aurora Zouaves — first associated with the great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous United Shows at Madison Square Garden, New York, and since retained as a signal attraction among their martial features — recalls a bit of military history with which many of to-day may not be familiar. Half a century ago at Chicago, Ills., Captain Elmer E. Ellsworth, then regarded as a good deal of an ostentatious military crank and martinet, organized a Zouave company, bearing his name, with which, shortly before the guns trained on Fort Sumpter thundered forth the first warning of open rebellion, he made a tour of the principal cities. He thus not only justified his methods and purposes by presenting unparalleled exhibitions of tactical skill, but gave invaluable object lessons in the use of arms, and greatly stimulated patriotic fervour. Soon after, and at the threshold of a career, which promised to crown him with lasting bays, as colonel of a Zouave regiment, he was shot dead by the landlord of the Marshall House, at Alexandria, Va., for hauling down a Confederate flag flying over his roof. Some thirty years later history repeated itself, in the organization at Aurora, Ill.,—and by an odd coincidence scarcely a day's march from the birthplace of the lamented Ellsworth's company—by a number of its representative young men, of another company of "Red-Legs," destined to far surpass its progenitor in skill and world-wide fame and standing among military critics. Under command of Capt. A. H. Tarble, this company made steady and remarkable progress, until it reached such a state of unparalleled efficiency that a tour of Europe and comparison with her crack military organizations was decided upon. The result was an unbroken series of victories for Uncle Sam's soldier representatives, and everywhere in court and camp, unqualified recognition of their inimitable dexterity and discipline. Returning home in triumph, they joined forces at Madison Square Gardens, New York, with the great exhibition above named, and will be with them here, as announced.

NIGERIA PROTECTORATE.

Fulani and Hausas Are the Leading Tribes —Lady Lugard Throws some Light Upon Their Customs.

In a description of the kingdoms of Nigeria Lady Lugard, wife of Sir Frederick Lugard, High Commissioner for Northern Nigeria, said that the reigning chiefs were of the semi-Arab race of the Foulahs, or Fulani, and what the Great Mogul of Delhi was to the India of Clive's day such was the Great Foulah of Sokoto to the Nigeria of four years ago, says The London Times.

The Fulani were a striking people, dark in complexion, but of the distinguished features, small hands and fine, rather aristocratic carriage of the Arabs on the Mediterranean coast. They were of the Mohammedan religion, and were held by those who knew them to be naturally endowed with the characteristics which fitted them for rule. Their theory of justice was good, though their practice was bad; their scheme of taxation was most elaborate and was carried even into a system of death duties, which left little for an English Chancellor of the Exchequer to improve. The caravan trade across the desert, which was already old when the Arab historian, El Bekri, wrote of the country a thousand years ago, and which then supplied the ports of southern Europe with the leather known to us as morocco leather, and with many other articles of luxury which English people of that day had not yet learned to use, continued and paid its tolls to the Fulani.

The Fulani had come to be the ruling people, but the Hausas, who were also for the most part Mohammedan, formed a very important industrial and commercial portion of the population. The cotton cloth of Kano was famous through the world of Africa long before the Fulani had made their appearance as a governing race in history. Iron smelting and smith's work were spoken of in an Arabic manuscript, not yet properly translated, which carried them back to the mythical ancestry of the founders of Kano. Weaving, dyeing, tanning, brass work, leather work were among the local industries, and trade in these as well as in the raw materials with which the country abounds is largely carried on by the Haussa people.

Speaking of the slave trade, Lady Lugard said that at the time of the transfer the principle currency of Nigeria was in slaves. Large sums were reckoned, not in pounds, but in slaves; public tribute was paid in slaves, and all labor was slave labor. The result of the slave trade was seen in depopulation. Where Barth described in 1854 a population of 50,000,000 there were probably not more to-day than 10,000,000 or 12,000,000. Yet so wedded were the Fulani rulers to the system that when, on the assumption of power by the British Government, the Emir of Bauchi was remonstrated with and asked to give pledges of abstaining from slave raiding for the future, his reply was: "Can you stop a cat from mousing? When I die I shall be found with a slave in my mouth."

5 Years For Perjury.

Brantford, June 17.—J. C. Drummond, who was found guilty of perjury in the Kennedy murder trial case, was yesterday morning sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary.

HE COULD PREACH.

At First He Thought He Couldn't, but Changed His Opinion.

In the early days of Methodism in the west a circuit rider, if he had a large field to cover, was sometimes permitted to have a colleague, who was frequently a young minister, just beginning to preach. The Rev. John Thompson was a circuit rider in a somewhat thinly settled portion of central Illinois more than fifty years ago. The colleague assigned to him was Brother James Smith, an excellent young man, but with very little experience as a preacher.

One Sunday Mr. Thompson had an appointment at a small meeting house in the country, but having a severe cold he asked his young assistant to go along with him and preach the sermon, and the latter, as in duty bound, obeyed orders.

Brother Smith had never undertaken to preach in the presence of his more experienced colaborer, and when, after the opening services, he rose and gave out his text he was visibly embarrassed.

He stammered through a few sentences, hesitated, made another attempt and came to a dead stop.

"What's the use, brethren?" he said, sitting down. "I can't preach!"

Brother Thompson saw that the case was one in which heroic measures were necessary.

"Young man," he whispered sternly in his ear, "you get up again and preach that sermon or I'll take you out in the grove after this meeting is over and give you a hard spanking, as sure as your name is Smith!"

An electric shock could not have operated quicker. Brother Smith rose to his feet again, his hesitation all gone, and in ringing tones he preached a sermon that is still remembered by aged survivors of that old time congregation as the most fervid and eloquent discourse they ever heard so young a man deliver.—Youth's Companion.

Biggest of Gold Nuggets.

Could even fiction or east side melodrama suggest any situation more romantic? Figure to yourself, as the French say, four men sinking down exhausted in the arid Australian bush; way back in the "Never-Never" country, where rain does not fall for years at a stretch, and the only plant that forces its way through the choking sand is the dreaded spinifex, or Australian spear grass, whose points pierce the pedestrian like a lance.

They sank down to die. Their horses, too, were exhausted, and one of these in stumbling struck its forefoot against a small piece of rock that projected a few inches out of the sandy soil. The eyes of one of the men followed the stumble, and the next moment he had struggled to his feet, shouting, "Gold, gold!" Sure enough, the supposed "rock" struck by the iron shod hoof glistened in the pitiless sun, and a moment later all four men were digging eagerly with bleeding fingers around the place.

Almost in less time than it takes to tell it these unfortunate fellows had unearthed the largest mass of virgin gold that the world has ever seen. This is known as the famous "Welcome Stranger" nugget. It is of the enormous weight of 10,000 ounces, and every ounce of it virgin gold, there being practically no alloy whatever. It is in the shape of a rough cross.

This marvellous find acted as a tonic upon the men and they were enabled to make their way to the nearest township, which chanced to be Ballarat. Here the "Welcome Stranger" was deposited in the bank, and after it was melted down brought at the rate of $20 an ounce, so fine was the quality of the gold. A full sized model of the "Welcome Stranger" may be seen by visitors to London in the Department of Minerals and Precious Stones in the great Natural History Museum in the Cromwell Road, South Kensington.

CHANGES OF A CENTURY.

Nelson's Hearts of Oak and Modern Ships in the British Navy—Ancient and Modern Broadsides.

We wonder what Nelson would have said if he could have looked a century ahead and read in the daily paper a sentence such as this: "After the receipt of the intimation the Russian warships Varyag and Koreitz left the harbor and engaged the Japanese fleet at from six to eight miles distance," a piece of information which we read to-day without the least surprise.

In Nelson's time a gun which would fire a 68-lb. ball with any hope of hitting an enemy's ship a mile away was a thing to be wondered at, and, indeed, such monster weapons were rarely used. The standard weapon carried by the largest ship of the line was a thirty-two pounder, and to make it effective the opposing ships preferred to get within pistol-range of each other before discharging their broadsides.

And yet, when Nelson was still alive and with his greatest honors unwon, it was seriously thought that the battleship of the period had touched finality in naval construction. "The size of our ship," wrote a great authority in 1800, "seems now to have nearly reached its maximum; for Nature herself in some measure fixes its limits. Timber, the growth of Nature, cannot be made to grow larger, and the very element in which our ships are to navigate has only certain depths that cannot be increased."

And then the writer proceeds to throw up his hands in amazement at a "ship of most extraordinary size which the French have lately built—with a keel 172 feet long and a tonnage of 2,850—an unwieldy monster pronounced to be entirely unfit for service and which hath never been out of harbor."

But what a baby this leviathan would look to-day by the side of a London or Bulwark of much more than twice the length and four times the tonnage, which can force its way against wind and waves at a speed of well over twenty miles an hour. Still, a first-rate ship of a century ago was a very fine vessel and, for the time, a splendid fighting machine, well worth spending a minute or two in picturing. Although called a "three-decker," she had, in fact, five decks, of which three carried her hundred or more guns.

Along the whole length of her main deck on each side was a row of seventeen thirty-two pounders; the middle deck beneath carried seventeen of these guns on each side, together with two 8-inch guns, pointing their grim muzzles, like their fellows above and below, through as many ports; and on the lower deck were twenty-eight thirty-two pounders and four 8-inch guns; while still deeper in the ship was the magazine, containing about thirty-five tons of gunpowder.

Thus we have a stately battleship showing over a hundred vicious teeth to the enemy, and sure to give an excellent account of herself. Each of her ninety-six smaller guns fired a 32-lb. ball propelled by a charge of 14-lbs. of powder, and a broadside would pour something like three-quarters of a ton of metal into the enemy's sides.

A battleship of to-day, like the London, carries only forty-six guns, but a single one of them can discharge in two shots as great a weight of metal as an entire broadside of Nelson's biggest ship. The 12-inch gun, of which each battleship carries four, despatches a projectile weighing 850 lbs. by means of a charge of 207 lbs. of cordite. The shell has an extreme range of over twenty miles, and will go clean through 3 feet of iron at the distance of a mile. The 6-inch gun hurls a shell of 100 lbs. weight, and the 9.2-inch one of 380 lbs.; while of the forty-six guns, four of them will pour forth in a couple of minutes three times the weight of metal one of Nelson's ships could discharge from all her hundred guns.

Premature Burial.

The fear of the late Miss Cobbe of premature interment has been shared by a number of notable people. In providing by her will that her doctor perform an operation upon her body which would "render her revival in the grave impossible," she followed the example of Harriet Martineau, who bequeathed her doctor ten pounds to see that her head was amputated before burial.

Lady Burton directed that her heart should be pierced with a needle and her body submitted to a post-mortem examination before burial. Meyerbeer left instructions that his body should be left undisturbed for ten days, that bells should be fastened to his feet, and that veins should be opened in his arms and legs.

Bishop Berkeley, Daniel O'Connell, Lord Lytton, Wilkie Collins and Hans Anderson were other well-known men who were apprehensive of premature burial, the last-named carrying in his pocket a note solemnly enjoining his friends to make certain that he was dead before he was buried.

Numerous instances of premature burials are to be found recorded in The Lancet. One of the quaintest of the earlier instances on record relates to Sir William Lindsay, who was brought to life on the very day for which his funeral had been fixed. His resuscitation was, at his own request, kept a profound secret, and the company assembled for the burial at the appointed time. After some delay, occasioned, as was supposed, by the non-arrival of the clergyman, the mourners were terrified to see the knight, dressed in black, enter the doorway, leaning on the arm of the vicar of the parish. After a short thanksgiving service for his recovery Sir William Lindsay insisted upon the company sitting down to the repast that had been prepared for them, and presided over the carousal which, after the fashion of the seventeenth century, followed the dinner.

THE ORIFLAMB.

A Standard That Has Played a Conspicuous Part in History.

The Carlovingian standard was really no other than the oriflamb, which has played so conspicuous a part in French history, but was not formally adopted until 1082, in the reign of Philip I. It consisted of a red or crimson flag, mounted on a gilded staff, the flag being cut into three "vandykes," to represent "tongues of fire," with a silken tassel between each.

The old romance writers pretended that the infidel was blinded by merely looking upon it. In the "Roman de Garin" the Saracens are made to exclaim, "If we only see it, we shall be dead men," and Froissart affirms that as soon as it was unfurled at Rosbecque the fog vanished from the French line of battle, leaving their enemies still shrouded in darkness.

Thus red, the color which the church has consecrated to her martyrs, became in its turn the color of the French kings. They wore it on their coats of arms through the whole period of the crusades and as late as the closing decade of the fourteenth century were still faithful to this "glorious blason."

The famous Du Guesclin, fighting against the English in Poiton, wore the red cross, while his adversaries wore the white. But after the great defeat at Agincourt in 1415 the French kings abandoned the oriflamb, because it had been assumed by Henry V. and his successors, and adopted white as a national color when England had discarded it. This is a curious but little known historical fact.—All the Year

Teeth as Sentinels.

"When thou sittest to eat with a ruler consider diligently him that is before thee," says the Hebrew proverb, warning a king's guest to regulate his appetite by his host's temper. Boswell, Dr. Johnson's biographer, gives in his notebook a modern paraphrase of the old Jewish proverb: "I said of a rich man who entertained us luxuriously that, although he was exceedingly ridiculous, we restrained ourselves from talking of him as we might do lest we should lose his feasts. 'He makes our teeth sentinels on our tongues,' said I."

Galvanism.

Galvani, the discoverer of galvanism, ran against his discovery quite by accident as a result of some medical investigations. He was engaged one day on some work in connection with the bodies of frogs. Accidentally the bodies touched a zinc object standing near, and a violent twitching ensued. Galvani instantly deducted that the metal had some properties peculiar to itself and subsequently discovered the force of galvanism, for which he became famous.

that the walls of a room should be free to breathe so that the imprisoned moisture may do so. Dr. De Wolfe, late Commissioner of Health for the City of Chicago says: "The free passage of air through the walls of living-rooms is an important element in proper ventilation. The practice of re-papering rooms by layer upon layer of wall-paper, made adhesive by glue or paste, which adds a decomposing material to the damp person, can receive nothing but condemnation from sanitarians. The perfect wall for domestic habitation is of material which resists decomposition in every form, and which permits the passage of air. Paper does not supply these conditions."

CANADIAN LAW AND ORDER.

Element Not in Sympathy With Canadian Ideas Taught a Lesson.

A private letter from Fernie gives some interesting particulars of one aspect of the recent fire which destroyed a large portion of the town. Looting began while the fire was in progress, the town containing an element not in sympathy with Canadian ideas of law and order, and an unlimited supply of liquor being obtainable. Special constables were sworn in and the jail was soon filled. The situation still was serious. One of the higher employes of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company is Major J. G. Langton, late of Toronto, the commanding officer of No. 2 Army Service Corps, Toronto, formerly adjutant of the 20th Halton Rifles, and prior to that an active non-com. in the Queen's Own. Major Langton volunteered his services. He was given a number of men and took charge of the fire district, which contained much valuable salvage.

Major Langton converted the Police Court into a guard-room, procured distinguishing badges for his special constables, and persons authorized to be inside the fire lines, and then cleared the district of all others. That done, he established a cordon of armed sentries around the fire area. Going back to his non-com. days, he posted the sentries and took out the reliefs himself. This process began in the afternoon, and by night the place was very quiet, the moral effect on the foreigners being unexpectedly great. The Chief of Police then used the remainder of the special constables for patrolling the town outside of the burned district, and there was not the slightest trouble.

On the ensuing day there was some talk of mobbing the guardians of property. The precautions were renewed, and at 10 p.m. Major Langton doubled his sentries and placed a larger reserve in the guard-room; while the police kept the crowd moving. The night passed quietly, the only alarm being a fresh outbreak of the fire in some debris. The guard turned out and for two hours fought the fire.

"The people out here never realized before what a little display such as we made could do in the way of awing the lawless element," writes an eye-witness. It is expected that the events of the two nights will give a stimulus to the projected organization of an independent militia company.

The Holdup at Antelope's Run

By CURRAN R. GREENLEY

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

The cattle were quiet. Gerald slipped to the ground at a safe distance and eased the cinches to give the black pony a breathing space. A rim of silver grew and widened along the east, and as Gerald watched the moon swung up the sky and the south wind came rushing cool and sweet against his hot brow. How like to that night three years ago, when they had stood together 'neath the palms at St. Augustine! In place of the loneliness of plain and sky—the Dream City, jewel crowned, the gray old fort, the shimmering moon silvered sea—and Margaret. One night in a man's life, when she had answered "Yes" to the story he told, out there on the crumbling walls of San Marco. He remembered how they had watched the little blue clad figure as it toiled up with the fateful message, the message that dashed the sweetness from the orange scented night, hushed the music of the sea, leaving him alive to only the sense of ruin—utter ruin!

Three hours later he was on the way to New York, leaving only a brief note: "I cannot hold you to your promise. I am a beggar." He knew now the wrong that he had offered her womanhood. But then, with the old man who had been more comrade than father, lying with a bullet hole through his brain, there seemed no other way. It had been a maze, commencing with the pitiful funeral, with himself as a sole mourner; then the long days when every hour disclosed the wrong that had been done to women and helpless children. A very madness of speculation had possessed his father, and the worthless paper seemed to grow into mountains of guilt and shame. Settlements, judgments, foreclosures, and there came a day when he stood with barely enough left to take him west out of sight of his kin.

Five long years. They were filled with life and movement and afush with barbaric color wrought in strange pattern of border warfare, night raids when Comanche and Apache were "out." But the Blue Star ranch had prospered. The cattle had thriven and grown from scattered bunches into a great herd, of which Gerald was half owner. Tomorrow they would start on the long trail to the market places.

The black pony sniffed the air suspiciously at a rustle in the dried sage grass. A shadow came out from among the shadows and stood upright, and as the blanket slipped from her shoulders Gerald saw that it was Juana, the Mexican wife of Comanche Jake. He knew the woman. Only a week before he had come to her rescue just in time to save her from Comanche Jake's bowie knife, and now spoke to her kindly. "You, Juana? What is the matter now? Is Jake after you again?"

Juana crept still closer. "Senor! Senor! For the love of Our Lady, call out your men and ride to Antelope's run. They"—with a twist of her hand toward the distant tepee in the mesquite—"they are over there—half a dozen like Jake, all mad with the mescal—and they go to rob the Anguilla stage when it passes Antelope's run. Senor, they will kill—they'll kill me when they find I've told, but Caracas Johnny came in at nightfall from up above and told how he got a message while at Anguilla in cipher from a pal of his in Santa Fe, and it said there was government gold a-comin' through and that there was a woman, too, who was rich and had money along with her. They've got it all planned how to do for the driver and the guards, and Caracas Johnny is to have the woman. Senor, for the love of the mother that bore you, get out your men and save her or kill her. It's twenty miles to Antelope's run, but Jake and the boys won't start till midnight and they'll be drunk with the mescal."

"And how about you?" asked Gerald.

Juana gathered her blanket closer. "Senor, if you let Jake come back, he will know I told you. Then God and Our Lady have mercy." And the squat figure slipped away into the night.

He did not question the truth of the woman's statement. There was work for the Blue Star outfit at Antelope's run. It worried him that this should have come just as they needed all their best men for the big drive, but where a woman was at stake there could be no question of cattle.

Ten minutes of hurried galloping to and fro and Gerald led off his cattle force, leaving a half dozen, out the gate. As they shot up the Santa Fe trail his watch showed 11 o'clock by the moon's rays.

The swift ponies lay down to their work and the earth rolled back beneath their hoofs as they rode in the quick cavalry trot over miles of sage grass and white sand, past prairie dog towns, where the alert tenants whisked out of sight like so many small ghosts, past the dry arroyas like white scars on the face of the plain. On and on. Here a bunch of mesquite, gnomelike in the spectral light, clumps of prickly pear and weird contortions of the giant cactus—ten miles, fifteen, and they began the ascent where the plain rolls up toward the foothills. They could see the highway, where it wound like a snake, seeking its lair in the shadow of the trees that begin at Antelope's run.

Gerald pulled out his watch. The stage was due at 3 o'clock and they had a little less than an hour to wait. He turned to the men: "Boys, we will ride on and meet them; then there will be no chance of their getting us mixed with the attacking force."

There was as yet no sign of Comanche Jake and his men; but, as Juana had said, they would be likely to stay with the mescal until the last minute. Gerald and his men rode slowly up the trail to a point about three miles beyond the run. Then they drew rein and waited until they heard the roll of wheels and the thud of horses' feet as the stage clattered down the trail. There were two guards on the outside with their rifles cocked across their knees. Gerald rode out and, as he raised his hand, a bullet whistled by his head. "Don't fire; there's trouble ahead of you," and the driver pulled up sharply. A few words explained the situation. One of the guards went to the door and talked with some one inside; then the word was given to move on. Gerald and his men rode just behind, their Winchesters ready.

Seemingly the road was clear. Gerald almost doubted if Juana had told the truth. But suddenly the shadows were alive with men that sprang at the bridles of the leaders, cutting the traces; from all sides the hooting, yelling, drink crased Mexicans swarmed like wasps. There were more of them than Juana had said, and as Gerald plunged into the thick of it he made straight for Caracas Johnny. It was too close work for the rifles—a hand to hand duel with the terrible knives. Short, swift, indescribably brutal, a bare five minutes and it was over; but one of Gerald's best men would ride no more, and Gerald himself was bleeding profusely from an ugly cut between the ribs, where the bowie of Caracas Johnny had searched for his heart. Thanks to the mescal, Johnny's aim was bad, and Johnny would spend many days at Santa Fe in consequence thereof.

Comanche Jake lay beneath his pony, a lifeless heap from which Juana had nothing to fear. But the guards were all hacked to death where they had fought to protect their treasure bags. Gerald leaned against the black pony, faint from loss of blood, but fighting it off, while he saw that those of the Mexicans that did not get away were safely bound.

With the last knot tied, the dead and wounded were to be disposed of. It was gray dawn when at last the stage was ready to go on to Anguilla.

Gerald had fancied that a smothered scream came from the stage when the fighting began. Since then it had been quiet inside, but as he tried to mount the pony he was not surprised to hear a woman's voice. She came toward him through the gray light, tall, straight and strangely familiar. "I cannot let you go without thanking you for your timely rescue, for my very life itself," she was beginning, when he turned, and the light fell full upon his face. He heard her catch her breath, like a stifled sob—"Jack! Jack Gerald!" And there, before the eyes of the old driver and the Mexicans, she fell to crying in his outstretched arms for very gladness, while he, with the dead men at their feet and the wounded moaning in the shadow of the trees, Jack Gerald, bowed his head and thanked the God of his childhood that had sent him to the rescue of the Anguilla stage.

How Mr. Frog's Wit Saved Him.

One day a jolly old pelican was walking on the shore of a pond when he came across Mr. Bullfrog. "Hello," said he, "you're just the fellow I was looking for. My stomach reminds me that it is about dinner time, and there is no one that I should rather have present at my meals than you, sir." And he chuckled to himself.

"You don't intend to eat me, do you?" asked the frog anxiously.

"Well, that was the calculation I was figuring on," replied the pelican.

"But I'm green," said the frog.

"Good joke," laughed the pelican, "but I feel sure you're ripe." And, putting his long neck down quickly, Mr. Pelican scooped up Mr. Frog.

As he reached the pelican's great pouch the frog cried out, "Oh, Mr. Pelican, let me ask you a riddle."

"Go on," said he.

"Why are you like a cough drop?" asked the frog.

"Give it up to save time," said the pelican.

"Because you've got a frog in your throat," answered the frog.

That was more than Mr. Pelican could stand. He opened his mouth and laughed enough to kill himself.

Mr. Bullfrog, seeing the chance he wanted, made good his escape.

A Tale About Food.

If a cup is filled with small shot, held up and tilted over, these pour out like water, and so with the sands in an hour-glass. The blood, says Health, is composed of globules, little globules, like sand or shot. All liquids are similarly composed, the thinner they are the smaller are the globules, so small that they cannot be distinguished by the naked eye, but seem to be one mass. The globules of fresh blood are so small that, if laid side by side in a straight line, it takes three thousand of them to make an inch in length. Unhealthy blood—black blood—is thick. The spectroscope makes visible one-half of a healthy blood-globule hence the time may come when the character of a disease will be indicated by this instrument.

DRAGGED UNDER WATER.

A Medical Man Relates His Feelings During the Experience.

A medical man described in a recent issue of a Scotch medical journal his experiences when dragged under water with a foundered ship. He struck out to reach the surface, but only went further down. This exertion was a serious waste of breath, and after what appeared to be ten or fifteen seconds, the effort of inspiration could be no longer restrained, and pressure on the chest began to develop. The most striking thing to be remembered was the great pain in the chest, which was increased at every effort of expiration and inspiration. It seemed as if the sufferer were in a vise, which was gradually being screwed up tight, until it felt as if the breastbone and backbone would break. The "gulping" process became more frequent for about ten efforts, and hope was then extinguished. The pressure after these gulps seemed unbearable, but gradually the pain eased up, as carbonic acid accumulated in the blood, owing to the absence of air in the lungs. At the same time the efforts at inspiration with their accompanying gulps of water occurred at longer and longer intervals. The writer's mental condition then was such that he appeared to be in a pleasant dream, but still had enough will power to think of friends at home, etc. Before finally losing consciousness, the chest pain had completely disappeared, and sensation was actually pleasant. When consciousness returned, the surgeon found himself on the surface of the water, and he finally managed to reach the shore. The writer goes on to describe the very unpleasant effects of large gulps of sea water, and the tortures to be endured in the restoration of the circulation in the almost drowned, and concludes by hoping that death by drowning will not again be described as a pleasant form of death.

A Slump in "Tipping."

A recent complaint has been made by a London railway porter to the effect that people do not now give "tips." In fact, he alleged, one shilling would cover the year's gratuities to be divided among six of his kind. A Daily News representative, for corroboration of the statement, yesterday obtained the views of an employe on a leading line.

"Things are pretty much the same as usual with us," said he, "that is to say, the summer is our golden harvest, and the winter a dull season. But otherwise it is, of course, chiefly a question of station. At Dover, for instance, and other places where people disembark, we are only paid 15s. 9d. per week, and are glad to get it, since it is reckoned to be one of our soft jobs, as we make a substantial addition out of gratuities. Wages in town are, however, higher, as the tipping is comparatively less; but even then I don't know how we should live if we didn't obtain something from the passengers. And I'm glad to say they spend just as much as ever they did in this way."

A waiter at a well-known restaurant also gave his opinion that there is no appreciable decrease in the tipping system—in England, at any rate.

"But in Lucerne and other continental places strict notices are put up that feeing the waiter is not allowed. Naturally we get paid more in such situations by the proprietor, but not so much more as to make it worth our while to dispense with the gratuity. In this country we get paid fairly well, and in addition double the wages by tips. Oh, no, it's not a custom likely to die out, I'm glad to say."

A tea-shop girl was equally emphatic on the subject.

"Although gratuities are forbidden, I may say our tips are none the less frequent on account of the notice—nor are the public less generous than they used to be. It is only the parsimonious old lady with the reticule who sneaks off taking advantage of such a prohibition.—London Daily News.

Man Who Has Saved Lives.

Lord Lister enters his 78th year to-day, and the journalist who offers to such a man the common birth-daily congratulations shall hardly escape the charge of banality. The case is unique. Men live who have brought slaughters upon earth; here is a man who has saved lives in numbers that are beyond calculation. But for the antiseptic and the aspetic surgery of which he is the founder, a multitude of men, alive to-day, would be dead or maimed. Put the figures at near a million among the white races, and one cannot be far above the mark. To Lord Lister, therefore, are due the birthday congratulations that go only to a lifegiver; and many a letter will reach him this morning written by grateful right hands that, but for him, would have festered to amputation. "Buttends of human beings" was Stevenson's phrase for the lepers. Lord Lister has made, on a large scale, our English manhood whole.—London Chronicle of April 5.

A Young Artist's Success.

One of the notable features of this Royal Academy exhibition is a picture by a young man who is only seventeen years old. His name is Austin O. Spare, and he is the son of Mr. Philip Spare, until recently a constable in the city of London police force. He sent two black and white drawings to the Academy, both of which were accepted, one being hung. They were executed when the artist was sixteen years of age. Spare was born in December, 1886. He was educated at St. Sepulchre's School, Snow Hill, and St. Agnes School, Kennington Park, and received his first art training at the Lambeth Evening Art School, under Mr. Macady. There, before he was twelve, he took three first-class certificates. At the age of fourteen he won a £10 County Council scholarship, and one of his drawings was selected for the British art section at the Paris International Exhibition. When he was fifteen some work which he was doing for Messrs. Powell, the stained-glass manufacturers, attracted the attention of Sir William Richmond and Mr. Jackson, R. A., and those gentlemen recommended the youthful artist for a free scholarship at South Kensington Art School. There at the age of sixteen he won the silver medal in the National competition and also the £40 scholarship.

An Encouraging Message

I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the torture due to female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health, and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well-being. This change has been brought about wholly by the use of ORANGE LILY.

In addition, I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgements of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:

Truro, N. S., April 5, 1904.

Dear Mrs. Currah,—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it.

For several years I have suffered untold agony. This suffering was continuous, but I would have violent attacks every few weeks, each attack lasting several days. The first Sunday in November, I felt the pain increasing and so did not go to prayers. The rest of the family did go and soon after the forcing down pains seized me and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night, and was very sick for a whole week.

Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick to write myself. (My doctor could do nothing for me.) I have used 6 boxes of ORANGE LILY, have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going around and doing my own work. I can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could shout it to all the world. I cannot speak enough in its praise.

Your friend, MRS. R. H. F.

Receiving as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I felt impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It differs from the other so-called remedies in that it is not taken internally. It is a strictly local treatment, and is applied directly to the affected organs. Its curative elements are absorbed into the congested tissues, expelling the stagnant foreign matter which has been irritating the membrane and oppressing the nerves, and a growing feeling of physical and mental relief is noticeable almost from the start. It is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free trial Treatment you will be very materially benefitted.

FREE TRIAL OFFER.

I want every reader of this who suffers in any way from painful monthly periods, irregularities leucorrhoea, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pains in the back, etc., to send me their addresses, and I will forward at once, without charge, 10 days' treatment. If your case is not far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so earnest in making this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without a doctor's bill.

MRS. F. C. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT.

ORANGE LILY is recommended and sold in Peterborough by Mr. W. B. Warne, Druggist, 345 George Street.

CREATED A SENSATION IN GALT

The Whole Country Ringing with Praises of

PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

Mr Weaver, Cured two years ago, continues to spread the good news of his recovery from Grinder's

CONSUMPTION

Publicly corroborates the history of his restoration to health, as published recently by the daily press of Canada.

Doctors and specialists despaired of a cure and gave Mr. Weaver but three months to live.

MR. L. WEAVER, GALT.

Who desires to publicly confirm the history of his remarkable recovery, as published quite recently by the daily press of Canada. Mr. Weaver was as bad a case of Consumption as might well be imagined. He was employed for five years in the grinding room of James Warnock & Co's, better known as "The Axe Factory," in Galt. Here he contracted consumption from the steel-laden dust. He persisted with local physicians' treatment for over a year, also consulted a number of lung specialists. They all did their utmost to cure, but declared Mr. Weaver's an incurable case of grinder's consumption giving him but three months to live. Mr. Weaver himself, despaired of a permanent cure, as two of his brothers before him had already died of consumption.

It is but seldom that any remedy receives such strong endorsement as Psychine is receiving daily, seldom indeed that the cured come forward voluntarily to state their case a second time so that all may be convinced of the truth. The instance herein reported from the busy town of Galt, Ont., is a typical instance of what is occurring in every city, town, hamlet and country-side in this broad Dominion. Scores of people living in Galt were long ago conversant with the facts of this notable case; while to others the publication of it in the daily press came as a revelation.

Scores of people recently called upon Mr. Weaver to see if all that had been published was really true. Medical men evidenced a desire to see the good work wrought with Dr. Slocum's famous remedy, Psychine (Si-keen). Mr. Weaver has also been the recipient of hundreds of letters from all parts of the country enquiring as to his case.

Sad and sorrowful is the first chapter of the story told by the man whose case has excited the interest of Lung Specialists and of medical men and whose cure and complete restoration to health is the talk of Galt and the wonder of the medical profession. Such, in brief, are the opening remarks of the case of Mr. Weaver, of Galt, whose portrait appears above.

Mr. Weaver is to-day a splendid specimen of manhood and the picture of robust health. His lungs give him no more trouble. He is strong and healthy, eats and sleeps well, and feels better than he has for ten years.

Mr. Weaver's Case as given to the press, January 30th, 1904.

Dr. T. A. Slocum:—For five years I worked as a grinder in the James Warnock, better known as the Axe Factory, here. The dust from the grinding did for me what it has done for many others. It gave me "grinder's consumption." I was compelled, of course, to quit work. I persisted with two local physicians, and also consulted a number of lung specialists. Their diagnoses were all alike:—"You have Grinder's Consumption, and may possibly live three months, but you are liable to drop off at any time." This was over two years ago.

I then almost abandoned myself to what seemed my fate, my two brothers having died of consumption a few years previous. I was in an advanced stage of the disease. I was thin and weak, had night sweats, chills and fever, and a terrible cough.

I saw your advertisement of "Psychine," and I determined to try it. Through the kind advice and assistance of REV. MR. KETTLEWELL, Methodist minister in charge here at that time, I procured your treatment. The very first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking six bottles I could walk down town and even work occasionally. Have since then entirely regained my health, and work hard every day. I can eat and sleep well. I feel better to-day than I have for years. I owe my life to Psychine.

Yours truly,
LEVI WEAVER.

Mr. Weaver's second statement after the above was published.

Dr. T. A. Slocum:—The publication of the history of my case in Toronto and Galt papers has caused quite a sensation in this town. There have been scores of people ask me if such were really the case. I have also received by mail numbers of like enquiries. Some people hardly think it possible that I was so near death's door. But I can say for certain that Psychine saved my life and I bless the day I saw Psychine advertised and became convinced of its merits enough to try it. I have spread the good news in three counties, and shall ever continue to praise Psychine. Every word, as published January 30th, is true to the facts of the case.

Yours truly,
LEVI WEAVER.

HE WAS PARALYZED.

Lost Power of Speech—Face Was All Drawn Out of Shape—Five Doctors Failed to Even Relieve—Electricity Proved Ineffective — Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Made a Perfect Cure.

A MOST REMARKABLE CASE.

Nervous paralysis is usually considered incurable, but here is another case in which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has positively cured this terrible disease.

If you are suffering from any form of paralysis or nervous exhaustion, this letter from Mr. Brennan should prove of priceless value to you, because it directs you to the cure.

On the other hand, it should be a warning to you if you are neglecting the first symptoms which point to the approach of nervous prostration or paralysis.

By such wonderful cures as this of Mr. Brennan, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is proving itself a nerve restorative of most exceptional power, and astonishing doctors who find themselves powerless before diseases of the nervous system.

MR. WM. J. BRENNAN, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"For a year or more I suffered with paralysis, which five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. The trouble began like an earache and developed into drawing the left eye half way down the cheek, and the mouth twisting up towards the right eye. I finally became speechless and dwindled in flesh. Insomnia followed, and after trying everything I could hear of, even to the electric battery, I gave up in despair.

"One day a friend read in one of Dr. Chase's books about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food curing a similar case to mine and persuaded me to try it. So tired, discouraged and despondent, I began its use soon to find that I was improving. By continuing this treatment, I became sound and well in every way, have resumed work, sleep well and my eye and mouth have returned to their normal position. I would not go back to my former condition for all the gold in the country, so you can see what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for me. I have gained in flesh and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and gradually but certainly overcomes such ailments as nervous prostration and paralysis. It has a marvellous record of cures. At all dealers. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WEDDING OF A PETERBOROUGH MAN.

Dr. C. O. Cragg Married in Toronto Thursday.

A very pleasing event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mesford, 343 Wellesley street, Toronto, on Thursday, when Miss Florence Eunilda, their only daughter, became the wife of Cecil C. Cragg, M. D., formerly of Peterborough, but now of Calgary. Rev. E. Cragg, of Brighton, father of the groom, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. E. Cragg, of Haliburton, a brother. The bride, who is a grand-daughter of Mr. Culling Eardley Eardley, Heybam Castle, Lancashire, England, wore the family jewels, diamonds and rubies. She received, among many other beautiful presents, a piano and a substantial check from her father and mother. After a dainty luncheon, Dr. and Mrs. Cragg left on the 1.45 train for Calgary.

Unfortunate Accident to Mr. Fred Riches at C. G. E. Works.

A very unfortunate accident occurred at the C. G. E. works about ten o'clock last evening. While Mr. Fred Riches was lowering a heavy crane his left hand became caught, and was painfully crushed. The bones of the thumb and first two fingers, and several bones from the fingers to the wrist, were very badly injured.

Dr. Young was summoned and treated the injured member. The patient was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. Hopes are entertained that the hand will not have to be amputated. Mr. Riches is a married man living at 154 Romaine street.

POLICE COURT.

No Dog Tag Cases to be Settled out of Court in Future.

At the police court this morning, Jeremiah Clancy was charged with being found drunk on the sidewalk. He pleaded guilty and was discharged with a warning not to appear again.

Some dog tag cases were settled. The Magistrate stated that in future there would be no cases settled out of court and that the fine would no longer procure a tag, but the parties would have to submit to the judgment of the court and purchase a tag also. The collection of the money for these dog tags caused the police more trouble than any other duty and it was simply because a great many were doing their best to evade paying for tags that he took this course. Next year after the month of May no cases will be settled out of court.

THE DUNDONALD INCIDENT.

The Dundonald incident is a most unfortunate affair. Not the least important element of regret consists in the fact that the country and militia lose the services of a man in every way qualified to confer extensive benefits upon the country, through the reorganisation of our national militia. Lord Dundonald is a brave officer who has to his credit a most distinguished and notable record in field and camp. That is, on the surface, one of the most important features of the regrettable affair. But a more important and far more mischievous feature is the use that is being made of it to sow the seeds of dissension in Canada between the mixed racial elements, which comprise our population. For the sake of the petty party advantage sought to be gained the baser elements of the Conservative party and press are imperilling our domestic peace, and doing their best to disorganize and injure the militia. The essence of the matter is very simple. Lord Dundonald was employed by the Dominion Government for service in connection with our militia. He was paid for his services by the Government, representing the people of Canada. He was responsible to the Government of the country as a paid public servant. He may have had reason to think he had grounds of complaint, but, after this long military services he should know his duty, and that was to make representations in the proper quarter, through a proper channel and in the proper manner. But he chose the unsoldierlike part of talking in public and publicly criticising and denouncing his official superiors—for perhaps in soldierly qualities and services he has no, or at least, few, superiors. He did not do that—he seems to have preferred to take the course pursued by an equally distinguished soldier, General Buller, who, in an evil moment for himself, forsook the field of action, where the true soldier's place is, for the field of talk, where the true soldier seldom shines. He criticised his official—not his military—superiors and as a punishment for his indiscretion or insubordination he received the same treatment that Lord Dundonald, under similar circumstances, has received—his services were dispensed with. Lord Charles Beresford, also with a large record of distinction, committed the official crime of criticising his official superiors, and if he had not apologised, would have had to walk the plank. Lord Dundonald was capable, in his professional capacity of doing Canada a splendid service in reorganizing our militia forces, but in a moment of indiscretion, he disqualified himself. The first duty of the true soldier is strict obedience to discipline, and proper respect for his superiors. Ministers of the Crown, who enjoy the confidence of their Sovereign, through the constitutional channel, have a right to expect at least, official respect, and respect for constitutional authority, from a public servant who is in their employment, as they are servants of the people. The first essential of military service, especially on the part of our citizen soldiery, to whom more individual independence is conceded, is to be taught a proper respect for constituted superiors, and for discipline. How is this lesson to be brought home if commanders, like General Buller and Lord Dundonald, set the example of practical disobedience to discipline, and overt insubordination? In a moment these two men wiped out a brilliant record, so far as official cognizance was possible, by the mere lick of an unrestrained tongue. That is to say, they made the conditions of retaining their eminent services impossible. We in Canada are six million people—we are daughter in our mother's home, but mistress in our own—and when any man, however great his record, accepts service and emolument at the hands of the people of Canada, that does not confer the power upon such a great man to treat his employers cavalierly. If Lord Dundonald had reason to complain he had his remedy. Instead of applying that remedy he took a course similar to that for which he would have condignly punished any subordinate in a regiment or division he commanded, who would have dared to publicly criticize and denounce his superior officer. The regret at losing Lord Dundonald's services as a soldier of immense capacity for useful service in Canada with our militia, is as universal as it is deep.

WEDDING BELLS.

Quiet Wedding in Montreal of Interest to Many in Peterborough.

The Montreal Star on Monday, June 6th, has the following account of a wedding in that city. The bride is a sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Davidson, of Peterborough:—

"At St. James' the Apostle Church, on Saturday afternoon the marriage took place very quietly of Miss Naomi Lewis, daughter of Mr. F. J. Lewis, of Clandeboje avenue, Westmount, to Mr. G. B. Mitchell. The bride, who was given away by her father was gowned in white china silk, trimmed with lace and wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses. Miss Edith Lewis, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid wore pale blue silk, a tale blue organdie over pale blue silk, a pale blue chiffon hat and carried pink roses. Mr. Geo. Jackson, acted as best man. There was no reception after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left for their wedding trip the bride travelling in a navy blue cloth costume, with blue and white hat and a white silk blouse. ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO MR. WILLIAM BUTCHER

At noon To-day Previous to His Departure from C. G. E Works.

A presentation took place at the Canadian General Electric works at noon to-day, when Mr. William Butcher, who is severing his connection with the works was kindly remembered by those with whom he has been employed for the past five years in the carpenter department. The address was read by Mr. J. Begley, after which Mr. Jas. Fuller made a presentation of a beautiful silver cream and sugar set. The address read as follows:—

Mr. William Butcher:—

We, your fellow workmen, knowing your many good qualities, cannot allow your departure from among us to pass without showing in some manner that you have not only gained our respect, but each and every one of us feel that we have been benefitted by knowing and coming in contact with you—that your example, self-sacrificing nature, and many noble qualities have gained our sincerest admiration.

While expressing our sorrow at your leaving, we hope for you the reward that the many virtues you possess deserve, and we feel that if you receive anything like justice in this world, you will have a grand future.

Please accept this small token as a souvenir of the respect and esteem of your fellow workmen.

SAD DEATH OF MINISTER'S FATHER.

Rev. C. W. Barrett, New Methodist Minister Meets with Bereavement.

It may truly be said that death considers neither time nor circumstances and its visits are sometimes made under conditions which make them particularly sad. Two weeks ago last night three young men were received into the Methodist ministry of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and on Sunday the ordination sermon addressed to these young men, was preached. The father of Rev. C. W. Barrett, one of these young ministers, was at the time of the delivery of this sermon, very dangerously ill, and his relatives were at the time endeavouring to communicate the intelligence to his son. He was acquainted with the facts of his father's illness and left for home that same night. He arrived there to find him very ill, and an operation was performed, but he gradually became worse and died.

It was a great relief to him to know, however, that his son had been received into the ministry.

The Liberal Convention Held at Warkworth Yesterday.

Messrs Douglas and Cryderman the Party's Choice—Good Prospects for Election.

Yesterday was a great day in Warkworth. The Liberal Convention for the riding of East Northumberland was held there, and was a success in the widest sense.

Fully 200 persons were present, and every polling sub-division was represented, 142 delegates being present. The purpose of the meeting was to nominate candidates for the Commons and for the Ontario Legislature. The meeting was unanimous and the riding as a whole is united, and every section is working in harmony. The first business was the election of officers, Mr. Mulholland, of Campbellford, being re-elected president, and Mr. McLennan, of Brighton, secretary-treasurer. Vice-presidents were also elected for each township.

Resolutions were passed expressing confidence in the Dominion and Ontario Governments, and the respective leaders. A resolution expressing the confidence of the convention in Hon. J. R. Stratton was also passed unanimously.

The nomination of a candidate to contest the riding for the House of Commons was next proceeded with, five names being submitted to the meeting:—Messrs. Douglas, of Warkworth; Webb, of Colborne; Denike, of Campbellford; Huycke, of Cobourg and J. H. McClelan, of Peterborough.

These gentlemen each addressed the meeting, Mr. McClelan being the first speaker. He delivered a stirring address, in the course of which he referred to the Tariff, the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the Postal Department. He showed that the administration of the country's affairs, under the Laurier Government was gratifying. He also spoke of the position in Ontario, and referred to the able manner in which the province is governed, and its resources husbanded. He withdrew his name from the meeting, after thanking the gentlemen for nominating him.

Mr. Huycke, who was the next speaker, addressed the meeting briefly, urging unity and energetic work. He also withdrew his name.

Mr. Denike, after thanking those present for placing his name before the meeting, declined to allow it to stand, and it was left to Mr. Douglas and Mr. Webb, both of whom spoke briefly, placing themselves before the meeting. On the first ballot the vote stood:—Douglas, 101; Webb, 40; spoiled ballots 1. The nomination was given to Mr. Douglas and on motion of Mr. Webb, who made a stirring speech, was made unanimous. He urged all the Liberals to rally to the support of their standard bearer.

The nomination for the Ontario Legislature was next considered, and the unanimous choice of the meeting fell on Mr. Crydorman, Reeve of Cramahe. His name was the only one submitted to the meeting, and great unanimity was manifested in his nomination. The prospects for the Liberal party in East Northumberland are excellent. The party is united and enthusiastic, and it is asserted that two Liberals will represent the riding after the next elections. Both candidates are strong men, and the rank and file of the party will support them faithfully.

A PLEASANT OUTING ON OTONABEE RIVER

Mr. R. M. Roy Takes a Party for a Pleasant Sail.

Yesterday evening a very pleasant excursion went down the river in the Bob Roy, under the direction of Mr. R. M. Roy. The members of the B.A.C. Club entertained the members of the A. F. F. Club to a sail on the Otonabee, the ladies reciprocating by providing a dainty tea at "Telephone" Point, which, needless to say, was thoroughly appreciated by their gentlemen friends.

After tea the party with one or two exceptions again embarked on the trim little yacht, and a further sail down the river was enjoyed. Returning, the exceptions were taken on board, and the delightful trip home was made in the light of the new moon. The wharf was reached at an early hour, and, thanks to the kindness of Mr. Roy, everyone participating in the pleasing affair spent a thoroughly enjoyable day.

The yacht, this year has been enlarged, and is now one of the best little crafts sailing the inland waters, and those fortunate enough to be passengers on her are loud in their praises of the popular captain and his boat.

SEVEN SUTHERLAND SISTERS HAIR GROWER

SEVEN SISTERS WITH THE LONGEST AND MOST BEAUTIFUL HAIR IN THE WORLD LIVING PROOFS OF ITS MERIT

The Great Hair Tonic is a Positive and Thorough Antiseptic

and will quickly eradicate all forms of scalp bacteria, which is the cause of hair falling, dandruff and bald ness. NO BALD CAN BE BALD-HEADED, NO HAIR CAN BE BEAUTIFUL WHILE CONTAMINATED WITH THESE DISEASE-BREEDING CREATURES. They undermine the hair and devour all the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp, without which the scalp dries up and peels off, forming dandruff, and consequently loss of hair. SEVEN SUTHERLAND SISTERS HAIR GROWER AND SCALP CLEANER ARE THE ONLY REMEDIES IN THE WORLD THAT WILL DESTROY THESE GERMS. They penetrate the scalp thoroughly, carrying with them all the necessary properties to quickly regenerate all the impoverished parts. They rebuild the lost tissues of the scalp and renew the growth of the hair in every case. A few applications will make the hair fairly sparkle with new life and vigor. They make healthy hair grow twice to three times as fast as it does normally.

DURABLE WOOD.

Teak, When Seasoned, Will Neither Warp, Crack Nor Shrink.

The most durable wood of which we have evidence is that of which the wooden tombs discovered in Egypt were built and which Professor Petrie estimates to date from 4777 B. C. They were most probably constructed from timber yielded by a species of palm.

Oak wood when once it has passed a certain age becomes practically everlasting. Evidence of this is found in the roofs of Westminster hall and of the cathedral at Kirkwall, which have lasted almost a thousand years. Ancient oak canoes discovered from time to time yield strong testimony to this, for one thirty-three feet long was recently refloated on the Clyde, probably 2,000 years after it was first made.

For general durability, however, oak must give place to teak, which when seasoned will neither warp, crack nor shrink. It will, indeed, last longer than many kinds of stone, since neither weather nor water affects it injuriously. Fragments of teak many thousand years old have been found in Indian rock temples. It is probably the most durable material used in modern ironclads, where it is invaluable as backing to armor plates and as deck sheathing.—London Standard.

THE WORD "TAWDRY."

Where We Get It and What It Meant Originally.

The word "tawdry," spelt in Johnson's Dictionary "stawdrey," is a corruption of St. Audrey, or St. Etheldreda, in whose honor a fair was held in East Anglia on Oct. 17. The word was originally used of a necklace bought at that fair, often made of white pebbles, as Drayton writes:

Not the smallest beck
But with white pebbles makes her tawdrys for her neck.

Originally this word did not necessarily imply shabby splendor, for Shakespeare in "The Winter's Tale" has: "Come, you promised me a tawdry lace and a pair of sweet gloves." Since his day the word has long lost its better meaning and now stands for things gaudy, in poor taste and of little value.

Others say that St. Audrey died of a swelling in the throat, which she considered a special judgment for wearing a necklace, and that from this legend such ornaments were connected with her name and later took on its worse meaning.—London Telegraph.

Individuality in Vegetation.

The vegetation covering the slopes of European mountains as well as that on the great snowy peaks of the American cordilleras and other ranges has an individuality, a character, of its own, striking even the most indifferent of tourists. In this flora all is dwarfed and on a small scale. The flowers alone, of relatively exaggerated size and generally brilliant in color, seem to be abnormally developed. The manner of growth of these plants is a surprise to those ignorant of their history and the cause of their peculiar appearance. While in the lowlands large plants, with spreading branches and well developed foliage, generally have flowers smaller than the leaves, the reverse is true in the higher regions.

Another easily noticed peculiarity is that while the Alpine flora in sunshine shows flowers of great size and vivid coloring, as the gentians, auriculas, anemones and violets, in the shade, on the other hand, we find them small and weak in color. Thus the action of the sun's rays on vegetation at great elevations seems to be more intense than on the plains.

POISONED.

Rank Poison is Created when Food does not digest, and that is when Sickness Commences.

If the man or woman who does not feel right, will at once look to putting the stomach right they will strike the right key—Every ache and every pain is a cry of poison, too much of which has been made in the process of converting food into nutriment. It may be the backache or sideache of the kidneys telling they are overtaxed and cannot filter the poison—It may be weight, pain or distress in the stomach that tells of fermentation and decomposition instead of digestion—It may be headache, dull, depressed, which tells poison has reached the fluid which surrounds the brain cells. The first cause is the same—lack of gastric juice to properly digest. ANTI-PILL, the Great System Treatment, is a new discovery which so acts on the mucous membrane of the stomach, a natural supply of gastric juice is assured. To prove the wonderful action of ANTI-PILL, you may have a free trial bottle by addressing Wilson-Fyle Co., Niagara Falls, Ont.

AS A WORKING TOOL

for the student and the writer, as an authoritative reference book for schools, teachers, families, business and professional men, there is one book which offers superior advantages in the solid value of its information, and the ease with which it is obtained.

One's admiration for Webster's International Dictionary increases daily as it comes to be better known. It never refuses the information sought and it never overwhelms one with a mass of misinformation illogically arranged.

The St. James Gazette of London, England, says: For the teacher, the pupil, the student and the litterateur, there is nothing better; it covers everything.

The New and Enlarged Edition recently issued has 25,000 new words and phrases, a completely revised Biographical Dictionary and Gazetteer of the World, 2000 pages and 6000 Illustrations.

Our name is on the title-pages of all the authentic dictionaries of the Webster series.

SERIOUS TOP-SPINNING

A Rather Delightful Tale of South Sea Islanders Who Are Experts at This Form of Amusement.

Mr. A. C. Haddon, a traveler in Torres Strait, off New Guinea, describes in his book, "Head Hunters," a top-spinning contest which might excite the envy of a civilized schoolboy, or even of an uncivilized one. Top-spinning is a favorite pastime among the South Sea Islanders, indeed on Murray Island, where Mr. Haddon was, it is a serious ceremony; for this contest was the opening business of a funeral feast:

"At one moment there were thirty tops spinning together. The men sang songs, cheering on a top which threatened to stop, and shouting when one toppled over. When a top was "dying," great care was taken to shelter it from the wind to prolong its life a few seconds. We timed four of the best tops, and found they spun for 27, 26, 25 and 24 minutes.

"The tops are made of a fine-grained volcanic ash, and have the shape of a split pea with the flat surface up. The diameter is from four to six inches. The stem is a long pencil of palmwood. The flat surface is decorated, sometimes with common objects painted in colors, sometimes with legend's symbolically depicted.

"The top is spun by repeated slow, steady, sliding movements of the outstretched palms. To give a smoother bearing surface, bits of shell or pieces of broken crockery or the under surface of a cup or saucer are put beneath the top.

"Special baskets with a protecting nest of cloth are used to keep the tops in. It is amusing to see grown men gingerly carrying with both hands a top ensconced in its basket, with as much seriousness and care as a young wife carrying her first born.

"Men of all ages engage in these matches. Usually one section of the island is pitted against another.

"Natives tend to carry their amusements too far. During our stay top-spinning became almost a debauch, and the men neglected their work until the mamooose, or chief, issued an edict prohibiting top matches on Saturday. It seems that the men were so busy playing top that they did not bring in food enough on Saturday, and as Christianity has made them strict Sabbatarians, unwilling under any conditions to get food on Sunday, many children went to school on Monday morning without breakfast."

AN IDEAL FISH.

Mohawk Chubs Are Graceful, Slim and Elegant Creatures.

There are in some clear, cold streams of the north certain fish known locally as "Mohawk chubs." These fish are the ideal fish in shape and color—graceful, slim, elegant creatures, pure silver except on the dorsal ridge, which is the tint of oxidized silver. They are tender mouthed and remind me somewhat of the grayling, although they have not the great dorsal fin nor the fragile mouth of that fish. They often inhabit trout waters, and I have an idea that trout feed on the smaller ones, although I have no absolute proof that this is true. I know, however, that pickerel, muskellunge and black bass strike at them eagerly.

These fish rise to a fly and are often quite as gamy as grayling. Often and often I have struck them in trout waters and have found them interesting fighters when tackle is light and water cold and swift.

Animals and birds appear to be very fond of them, or at least are often seen eating them, perhaps because they may be easier to catch than trout. Where Mohawk chubs are, herons and kingfishers congregate. The only time I ever saw an osprey in that region was once when whipping that stream. The osprey dashed down within a rod of me and seized a Mohawk chub that must have weighed a pound at least, bearing him up out of the pool and away across acres of swamp toward the distant forest.—Robert W. Chambers in Harper's Weekly.

BUCHAREST.

The Capital of Roumania Is a Sort of Miniature Paradise.

Though all Bucharest is modern, we find the old eastern methods of mercantile construction—little open cupboards lining the road, dealers squatting among their wares, literally at the receipt of custom, for they make no effort to invite it, and the various trades huddle together, here an armory of rude pottery, richest green and richest red; there an arsenal of thick leathern sandals, a heavy patch of burnt umber; yonder an avenue of black sheepskin caps set out upon brass stands, in appearance like peasants' heads after a massacre. Out in the streets are high hillocks of golden grain, pyramids of pumpkins and blazing piles of scarlet chillies. At intervals little congregations wait with laughing philosophy until they shall be hired—builders with their hods, laborers with their spades, all with the emblems of their toil. Bucharest may be summed up as a city of pleasures and palaces, a metropolis of perpetual carnival, a temple of boisterous joviality. Her engaging people combine the color, the grace and the hospitable instincts of the east with the comfort and convenience of the west. Every instant spent among them yields a quintessence of life and joy and warmth and color. A small Paris indeed? Nay; 'tis a little paradise.—Herbert Vivian in Saturday Review.

An Endless Chain.

"Isn't that the same suit you had last year, Uncle Peter?" the agent for sewing machines inquired.

The postmaster, storekeeper, town clerk and iceman looked at him in silence for a moment. "Yes, sir," he said at last in a chilly tone. "It is the same suit I had last year, and it is the same suit you asked me last year if it wasn't the same suit I had the year before. Now, have you got any more questions to ask, or will they hold over till next season?"

Men and Gossip.

"Why do men never gossip?" asked the woman who regards her husband as a great and good man.

"Because," answered Miss Cayenne, "they are too indolent. They insist on sending their wives out to get the news for them."

His new umbrella wasn't where
He knew he put it yesterday;
He said he'd searched with greatest care,
But it had simply got away.

He questioned every one at hand
And asked the boys which one had sneaked
His pet umbrella from the stand
The last time that the skies had leaked.

Within a closet, dark, remote,
A place where many things he flung,
He stepped to get his overcoat,
And there his lost umbrella hung.

He gazed with unbelieving eyes;
Amazement o'er his visage spread.
He took it down in shamed surprise.
"Now, what'd you think of that?" he said.

"But won't the fellows question now,
When out I this umbrella bring,
And ask me when and where and how?
I wish I hadn't found the thing."

"Love you? I could die for you!"

"And should I tell you that there was an obstacle in the way of our marriage could you wait for ten or fifteen years, though without a definite promise to marry you at the end of that time?"

"With the possibilities of winning you I could wait forever if I were to receive the faintest ray of hope."

"All right, Freddie. You just wait around, and if I don't land something better I will probably marry you as a last resort."

SUGAR FROM RAGS

Process by Which Shredded Linen is Turned Into Grape Sugar.

A curiously interesting experiment may be made by slowly adding concentrated sulphuric acid to half its weight of lint or shredded linen, which is then pounded in a mortar and left to stand for some hours. Afterward this is rubbed up with water, warmed and filtered, and the solution is finally neutralized with chalk and again filtered.

The gummy liquid retains lime, partly in the state of sulphate, partly in combination with a peculiar acid, composed of the elements of sulphuric with those of the lignine, to which the name sulpho-lignic acid is given.

If the liquid before neutralization is boiled for three or four hours and the water replaced, the acid evaporates, and the dextrine is entirely changed into grape sugar. Linen rags by this process may be made to furnish more than their own weight of this substance.

THE CAPE TO CAIRO ROAD

ONE OF THE LATE CECIL RHODES' DREAMS NEARING A REALITY.

Tourist Tickets to Victoria Falls Are Being Issued and Another Long Stretch of Travel Will Soon Be Under Rapid Construction—Map Shows How the Cape to Cairo Project Stands at Present Time.

Writing in 1900 to Ewart S. Grogan, a plucky young traveler who had just completed a journey from the Cape to Cairo, Cecil Rhodes said:

"Every one supposes that the railway is being built with the only object that a human being may be able to get in at Cairo and get out at Cape Town. This is, of course, ridiculous. The object is to cut Africa through the centre, and the railway will pick up trade all along the route. The junctions to the East and West coasts which will occur in the future will be outlets for the traffic obtained along the route of the line as it passes through the centre of Africa. At any rate, up to Buluwayo, where I am now, it has been a payable undertaking, and I still think it will continue to be so as we advance into the far interior. We propose now to go on and cross the Zambesi just below the Victoria Falls. I should like to have the spray of the water over the carriages."

If Cecil Rhodes were still alive he would soon see this last wish realized, for the railway from the South has been carried from Buluwayo through the Wankie coal fields to the edge of those wonderful falls, which are twice the height and more than double the width of the Falls of Niagara, while a bridge consisting of a single span of 500 feet is now being constructed over the gorge below the falls, and will be completed by the end of the year.

The bridge will have the distinction of being the highest in the world, the rail level being 420 feet above the river, of 55 feet higher than the dome of St. Paul's. While the construction of the great span is in progress the rails for the extension northward will be conveyed across by aerial gear to avoid delay.

It was originally intended to carry the line from Buluwayo due north through the Mafungabusi coal district, crossing the Zambesi at the Kariba Gorge. It was found, however, that the country north of the Zambesi at this point offers immense difficulties for railway construction, and that the value of the coal deposits is not to be compared with that of the Wankie coal fields.

The certainty of a large tourist traffic if the line were carried to the Victoria Falls formed a further inducement to choose the western route, and accordingly the line northward from Buluwayo was begun in May, 1901. Last year it reached Wankie, a distance of two hundred miles, and the additional seventy-five miles to the falls have been constructed in less than a twelvemonth. Tourist tickets to the Victoria Falls are being issued, and among the visitors next year will be two hundred and fifty members of the British Association, who have accepted the invitation of the British South Africa Company to pay a visit to Niagara's rival.

Starting from the south, the railway is now completed from Cape Town to Victoria Falls, a distance of 1,635 miles, and a further stretch of 350 miles in a northeasterly direction to Broken Hill Mine, one hundred miles beyond the Kafue River, will be begun at an early date, the contract having already been let. This section, which is to be completed by the end of March, 1905, will tap a district rich in copper, lead and zinc deposits, beyond which is a region with vast supplies of rubber. There will then remain only a section of 450 miles to complete the connection with Kituta, at the southern end of Lake Tanganyika, where the Chartered Company's sway terminates. Survey work here is now in progress, and there is no doubt that within a few years this link will be made.

From this point onward, however, Rhodes' scheme has had to be modified as the nature of the country around the chain of lakes stretching from the Zambesi to the Nile came to be known. As Grogan pointed out, Lake Tanganyika is hemmed in by steep mountains offering well-nigh insurmountable difficulties to railway construction, but on the other hand, the lake itself offers a magnificent waterway of four hundred miles on the direct line between the Cape and Cairo. It may be taken as granted, therefore, that this part of the journey will be made by water, and that passengers will be carried by steamboat from Kituta to Usambara, at the north end of the lake. From here to Lake Kivu is ninty miles, offering no serious obstacle to a railway beyond a rise in level of two thousand feet. Lake Kivu is sixty miles in length, and this sheet of water also is surrounded by high and precipitous mountains, so that another break in the line will have to be made and the waterway utilized.

The "Bobs" of Japan.

Everybody knows that the Japs are great soldiers, but few know who is the greatest of them. The Lord Roberts of Japan is General Viscount Katsura, who became Prime Minister of the country two years ago.

He began his fighting career in 1867, during the Civil war which resulted in the overthrow of the old order of things in Japan and the adoption of western civilization. He was only a lieutenant then, but he became famous for his extraordinary courage. He was always in the thickest of the fight, always the first volunteer to lead a forlorn hope.

After the Civil war was over, the new Government sent him to Germany to study military matters. When he returned to Japan he took a leading part in reorganizing the Japanese soldiery on the European model. Practically, he is the creator of the modern Japanese army.

During the Chino-Japanese war he had opportunity of leading his men to battle and discovering that the trouble he had taken to train them had not been thrown away. He marched his army through Corea to Manchuria, winning dozens of victories on the way. His name became a terror throughout that country.

When he got back to Japan nothing was good enough for him. He was the idol of the people, and all kinds of honors were showered upon him.

General Katsura believes that the Japanese soldiers are the best in the world, and says that he would not fear the result if he had to lead them against any white troops.

Red Hair and Baldness.

Red-headed people are less subject to baldness than others. A doctor explains the matter thus: The hair of the red-headed is relatively thick, one red hair being almost as thick as five fair or three brown hairs. With 30,000 red hairs, the scalp is well thatched, whereas with the same number of fair hairs one is comparatively bald. It takes nearly 160,000 fair and 105,000 brown hairs to cover adequately an ordinary head.

THE ANGLESEY ESTATES.

Marquis, After Six Years' Possession, Relinquishes to Trustees to Pay Debts.

The Marquis of Anglesey finds himself in money difficulties, and at a recent meeting of creditors a deed of assignment placing the family estates in the hands of trustees to meet the liabilities was accepted. One of the recent London auctions was largely attended, as it was whispered abroad that some of the Marquis' jewels, of which he had made a great collection, were to be disposed of in the sale.

Henry Cyril Paget, fifth Marquis, is a great grandson of the Waterloo Field Marshal, one of Wellington's generals. He was born in 1875, and came into possession of the estates in 1898, marrying in the same year his cousin Lilian, daughter of Sir George Chetwynd.

Proceedings were taken to annul the marriage, but were eventually withdrawn. Everything underwent a change at Anglesey Castle, or Plas Newydd (the New Palace), as it was formerly called, when the present

THE MARQUIS OF ANGLESEY.

Marquis came into possession. The chief alteration was the conversion of a private chapel into a theatre, in which the Marquis gave private theatricals, himself taking the chief roles.

He appeared in "Aladdin" and as L'Aiglon, and his costumes were lavishly decked with jewelry. The Marquis' private box in the gallery facing the stage is copied from the Royal Opera House in Dresden. The estate is beautifully situated on the Menai Straits, and the view over the water and to Snowdonia is splendid.

There are Druidical cromlechs on the grounds and the little hamlet near the entrance gates, where is the railway station of the place, rejoices in the characteristic Welsh name of Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyndrobllwllantysiliogogoch.

Wonders of Memory.

The memory may be cultivated to an extraordinary degree, as all are aware. Seneca, the Roman rhetorician, was able to repeat 2,000 words upon once hearing them, each in its order, though they had no dependence or connection on each other. Pontius Latro retained in his memory all the orations he had ever spoken, without failing in even a single word. Cyneas, Ambassador to the Romans from King Pyrrhus, in one day so well learned the names of his audience that the next morning he saluted the whole Senate and all the populace assembled, each by his name. Cyrus knew every soldier in his army by name, and Scipio had a speaking acquaintance with all the citizens of Rome. Herr von Nieublin, a celebrated German scholar, was once clerk in a bank of Copenhagen, in which capacity he gave proof of miraculous memory by restoring from recollection alone, the entire contents of a leaf in the bank ledger which had been accidentally lost by fraud or accident.

THE REASON.—There is no medicine equal to Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for purifying the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak nervous people vitality and vigor.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and think it's the grandest medicine in the world," writes Mrs. J. M. Young, of Weir, West Va. "I took down sick six months ago and called in our physician and he gave me medicine but I grew worse. He said I had dyspepsia in its worst form. I decided to try your medicine and began to improve. I used five bottles two of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three of 'Favorite Prescription,' and now I am doing my own housework. A number of my lady friends also are using Dr. Pierce's medicine and they recommend it highly. May God bless and prosper you in your grand work."

FRENCH AND ENGLISH.

Business Incident Which Shows Both on an Equality in Canada.

Le Rappel of Montreal, has discovered racial intolerance in Hamilton, Ont., and gives a long account of the "proudly patriotic act," whereby it was dealt with by Rev. Father Benoit, Superior of the Canons of the Immaculate Conception of Notre Dame de Lourdes, Manitoba. The Rev. Father wrote to a well-known Hamilton house giving an order couched in French, and received the following reply:

Hamilton, Ont., April 29, 1904.

Dear Sir:

We have received a letter from you written in French; also one of our order sheets on which you have written: an "Iron Mitre Box $6.75." We would ask you to tell us what you wish us to do in reference to this, and would request that you write us in English, as we do not understand French.

Yours truly,
Stanley Mills & Co., Limited.

To which the French-Canadian cleric retorted as follows, needless to say, in French:

"I have just received your postal card of April 29, in which you ask me to renew in English the order I had previously given in French to your firm.

"My good friend, I shall send no further orders to your firm until I learn that you have an employe who can speak and write French. I shall further request all the superiors of our religious houses to adopt the same line of conduct.

"What! Frenchmen to-day travel all over England, and make themselves understood in their own language by every Englishman who has a smattering of education; and here in Canada, where politically and socially French is on an equality with English, must a Frenchman find a translator to give an order to a commercial house which floods the whole Dominion with its price lists?

"I assure you, my good friend, that I shall take my time about looking for a translator, and with all the respect that is due, I remain, etc."

Race Question Settling Itself.

In the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony, if the present rate of inter-marriage between Briton and Boer is kept up, within twenty years the two races will be so welded together as to be indistinguishable. The only bitterness now existing is between two sections of the Dutch, the bitter-enders and the Scouts.—African Review.

Height of the Sea Breeze.

Observations as to the height of the sea breeze, although few in number, are of considerable importance. By means of a captive balloon, sent up from Coney Island a number of years ago, it was found that the average height at which the cool inflow from the ocean was replaced by the upper warm outflow from the land was from 500 to 600 feet. At Toulon, in 1893, the height of the sea breeze was found to be about 1,300 feet, and the distinct off-shore current was found between 1,900 and 2,000 feet. More recently (1902), on the west coast of Scotland, Dines, using kites, has noted that the kites would not rise above 1,500 feet on sunny afternoons, when the on-shore breeze was blowing.

Marshal Broze once accidentally killed a relative while both were rabbit hunting and ever afterward would swoon at the sight of a hare.

AN ODD PROCESSION.

Tiny Worms That Travel in a Long Serpentlike Mass.

The sciara, of the genus tipulx, a tiny wormlike creature which is found in the forests of Norway and Hungary during the month of July or early in August, gather in huge numbers preparatory to migrating in search of food or for a change of conditions. When setting out on this journey, they stick themselves together by means of some glutinous matter and form a huge serpentlike mass, often reaching a length of between forty and fifty feet and several inches in thickness. As the sciara is only oh an average of about three thirty-seconds of an inch in length, with no appreciable breadth whatever, the number required to form a continuous line of the size above mentioned is incalculable.

Their pace is of course very slow, and upon meeting an obstacle, such as a stick or stone, they either writhe over or around it, sometimes breaking into two bodies for the purpose. A celebrated French naturalist says that if the rear portion of this snakelike procession be brought into contact with the front part the insects will keep moving round in that circle for hours, never seeming to realise that they are getting no farther on their journey. If the portions be broken in two, the procession will unite in a short time. When the peasant meets one of these processions, he will lay some obstacle in front of it. If it passes over it, it is a good omen.

Orillia may be able to play Lacrosse, but there is in the minds of some louvenile, a grave doubt as to the ability of the Asylum town men in the game of baseball. A game was played here Thursday, in which the visitors were defeated; an account supplied the Examiner of the game reads:—

A game of baseball was played in Central Park Thursday afternoon between the Orillia's and the Y.M.C.A. of this town. The score was 6-10; in favour of the Y.M.C.A. when the game ended. The fellows in the long pants from Orillia could not play ping-pong, nor ball or marbles and the fellows in the short pants showed them how to play ball. The Orillia boys' names are unknown, they seemed ashamed of their names, or were too ill to tell them when the T's were done with them. Purchase of Wives.

Wives are still obtained by purchase in some parts of Russia. In the district of Kamyshin, on the Volga, for example, this is practically the only way in which marriages are brought about. The price of a pretty girl from a well to do family ranges from $100 to $200, and in special cases a much higher sum is obtained. In the villages the lowest price is about $25. It is customary for the fathers of the intending bride and bridegroom to haggle for a long time over the price to be paid for the lady. A young farmer whose father cannot afford to pay for a wife for him need not think of getting married.

A ROYAL FEATHER CLOAK.

Kalakaua Couldn't Wear It, and His Groom Disgraced It.

When King Kalakaua of Hawaii visited Japan many years ago he was very anxious to exhibit to the Japanese his famous royal feather cloak. It did not look well draped over the regular costume of the king, which was based on European military models. It was out of the question to wear it draped over brown cuticle, as was the ancient fashion. Finally it was decided to let Robert, one of his attendants, wear it. William N. Armstrong, the king's attorney general, said: "This additional service delighted Robert, who now, according to a confidential statement made to his Japanese attendant, was 'keeper of the royal standard,' 'groom of the feather cloak' and 'valet in ordinary.' While in the imperial car, on the way to Tokyo, the king's suit had suddenly seen Robert, sitting in state in the luggage car, dressed in a silk hat, white gloves and with the gorgeous royal cloak hanging over his shoulders, the tableau being completed by a group of Japanese attendants who were standing before him lost in admiration." But Robert was scarcely equal to the dignity that was his. In his capacity of valet he preceded the party to the palace assigned to them, and discovered there abundance of wines and spirits, which he consumed until they arrived. He was found asleep in the king's bedchamber with the silk hat far down over his head and the gorgeous cloak askew on his shoulders. He was at once deposed from his office of 'groom of the feather cloak.'"

HE LOOKED IN VAIN FOR HELP

Till He Tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets —Now Edward Rousseau is a New Man

"Yes," remarks Mr. Edward Rousseau, of Bruce Mines, Ont., "I can prove that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure when other medicine fails.

"You remember I was a severe sufferer from Dyspepsia for ten years or more. Well, I doctored and did everything I could think of for it, but I couldn't get relief till I began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Two boxes of them made me feel like a new man. Words cannot express the good they have done me. You don't wonder I am always ready to recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, do you?"

If you would eat what you like and when you like, use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Carry a few in your pocket and take one after eating.

Ant Colonies.

An ant nest or colony arises from eggs laid by one or more "queens." The developing young are tended by the sexless neuters, or "workers." The maggots, or larval ants, are fed by them, often nourished out of the nurses' mouths, and are as carefully watched in respect of the temperature and other conditions of the nurseries as are infantile human beings. When full development occurs the pupae change into ants, which are either winged or wingless. The latter are the "neuters," or workers. They may develop big jaws and appear as the "soldiers" of the colony. Those which are winged are the founders of new colonies. They are of both sexes and they produce the eggs whence the new generations will be evolved.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all druggists.

The Japanese Sleeve Dog.

The Japs have a quaint standard of perfection by which they assess canine merits. Thus the sleeve dog has or ought to have five cardinal "points"—the "butterfly head," in which the color marking represents a butterfly, the white blaze on nose and forehead forming the body, and the rest of the face and ears the wings; the sacred "V" found in the wedge shape of the blaze running up the forehead; in the center of this sacred V an isolated circle of color, which typifies the "bump of knowledge;" the "vulture feet" requiring ample feathering, as the fringing hair is technically called, and lastly the tightly curled, profusely feathered tail symbolical of the sacred flower of Japan, the chrysanthemum.

Good Digestion Should Wait on Appetite

To have the stomach well is to have the nervous system well. Very delicate are the digestive organs. In some so sensitive are they that atmospheric changes affect them. If they become disarranged no better regulator is procurable than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They will assist the digestion so that the hearty eater will suffer no inconvenience, and will derive all the benefits of his food.

In Cases of Shock.

A person in the state termed "shock" is in a very critical condition. Medical assistance should be procured as soon as possible. The face will be deathly pale, the body covered with cold perspiration, pulse very feeble and the mind bewildered or there may be complete loss of consciousness. If the patient is dressed loosen all the clothing about the neck and chest, apply heat to the extremities, to the pit of the stomach, under the arms and mustard over the heart. Give stimulants freely, and if there is nausea give bits of cracked ice.

Different Meanings.

"Arrah, you're lookin' very sad," said Pat O'Hollilan, addressing his friend Denis the other day.

"Oi feel sad," responded Denis. "Oi've lost my mother-in-law! Oi tell you it's hard to lose your mother-in-law!"

"Hard!" exclaimed Pat. "B'gorrah, it's almost immeasible!"

It is a fact that Teachers of Cookery all over the country use and recommend Cleveland's Baking Powder.

This is not an accident.

These women in their work must have the best; and when they choose Cleveland's it means that by experience and test they have found it the purest and strongest made.

The housewife will find the method of these Teachers a safe guide to good, wholesome baking.

UNCLE SAM'S LATEST MOVE.

Washington, June 18.—The American battleship squadron, commanded by Rear-Admiral Barker, has sailed from Lisbon on a visit to the ports of Greece and Austria. It is reported that after spending a few weeks there, Admiral Barker will be reinforced by the European squadron under Rear-Admiral Jewell, and this formidable fleet will pay a visit to Turkish waters about the time Mr. Leishmann, the American Minister, takes up in earnest again his negotiations with the Porte to insure for Americans in Turkey the same rights as are enjoyed by citizens of some privileged European nations.

Devlin Re Dundonald.

London, June 18.—(C.A.P.)—C. Devlin, M.P., will ask the Secretary of the Colonies on Monday on what grounds Lord Dundonald was relieved of the command of the Canadian militia, if His Majesty's Government has made any representations to Lord Minto with a view of preventing action in this matter by the Canadian authorities, whether in view of previous difficulties made in the appointment of officers, this formed a subject of discussion with the Canadian authorities.

London Camp Closed.

London, June 18.—Yesterday the camp on Carlings' Heights practically closed, one of the regiments having left for home yesterday and the others will leave this morning. The Layborn Cup was won by the Thirtieth Regiment, Wellington Rifles.

Seek the Answer.

London, June 18.—(C. A. P.)—The Mail in a special article, signed H. W. W., headed, "Shall We Keep Canada?" says the answer to the question raised by the summary dismissal of Lord Dundonald will be best found in Colquhoun's "Greater America."

Liberal Candidates.

Warkworth, June 18.—At the Reform Convention held here yesterday, John H. Douglas of Percy, received the nomination for the Dominion House and George Cryderman of Cramane for the Local House.

Lever's Y-Z (Wise Head) Disinfectant Soap Powder is better than other powders, as it is both soap and disinfectant. 34

Mutilated Canadian Coins.

Toronto, June 18.—Mr. Ridout of the sub-Treasury at Toronto told a British immigrant, who presented a mutilated silver coin for redemption yesterday, that he was just two weeks too late. Mr. Ridout said that instructions were issued from Ottawa to discontinue the redemption of any mutilated, or coin worn smooth, or coin that has accidentally been injured. There is no legislation for the redemption of silver coin.

WOULD HAVE COST TWELVE MILLIONS

Why Lord Dundonald's Plans Could Not be Carried Out.

QUESTION ONE OF SUPREMACY

Interesting Discussion in the House of Commons Last Fall—Lord Dundonald Gives Out a Statement Giving His Reason for His Recent Course—His Informal Farewell to the Troops.

Ottawa, June 20.—In the absence of Sir Frederick Borden no official view can be gleaned with reference to Lord Dundonald's statement, issued Saturday in Toronto. The general opinion is that the late General Officer Commanding has made it clear that the issue so far as he is concerned is as to who should be supreme. It might be pointed out in respect to his criticism that there are too many Colonels and Lieut.-Colonels in the ordnance branch, that these officers are in charge of the various militia stores in Canada, such as Quebec, Kingston, Toronto and other widely-separated cities, and it is but reasonable that men of that rank should be entrusted with that responsibility. Lord Dundonald's complaint that his recommendations were not always accepted, nor his reports always published, recalls a discussion in the House only last fall. Colonel Sam Hughes asked the Minister of Militia why he had declined to publish a part of Lord Dundonald's report. Sir Frederick Borden, in reply, said the special report referred to was of a confidential nature, just as was the report of the defence committee of 1898. Athough the Minister did not so inform the House, it is understood that the report recommended defence works which would cost over $12,000,000. The succeeding discussion, participated in by Colonel Hughes, Colonel Tisdale and Mr. Ingram, indicated that the Opposition themselves were fully posted as to the unpublished reports. Sir Frederick Borden added that as the report involved a very heavy expenditure, which the Government had not decided to make, it would be highly improper to print it. Mr. Ingram complained that the report was not made public, and Colonel Tisdale went on to say that the Major-General was not an officer of the Department, but commander of the militia.

Sir Frederick Borden—He is an officer of the Canadian Government.

Colonel Tisdale—He is, but the Minister said he was an officer of the Department.

Sir Frederick Borden—Well, he is; he certainly is not controller of the Department, not the boss of the Department—not now at any rate.

Colonel Tisdale—I laid it down before, and I do it know, that the General is under the Minister. The Minister is, under our system, responsible. His position is political.

Sir Frederick Borden—That is right.

It is not expected that the discussion on the Dundonald matter will occupy very much time, in view of the turn affairs have taken. What remains to be said will probably come out when the remaining militia estimates come up.

DUNDONALD'S STATEMENT,

Gives His Reasons For His Recent Course—Recent Suggestions Not Approved By Government—Farewell to Troops.

Toronto, June 20.—Lord Dundonald gave out on Saturday his statement regarding his recent actions. The statement is as follows:

Considering it desirable that I should lay before the people of Canada a statement of my position with reference to the difficulty between myself and the Government of Canada I may say:

I was fully aware of the gravity of the step which I took in making a public protest. I was fully aware that it was an unusual step. I decided to take it because I was convinced that it was the only means of serving the militia of Canada.

I have for two years been general officer commanding the militia. I have worked hard to improve the force, to devise a scheme of reorganization, to create and organize numerous departments, and to revise the system of training. I have sedulously avoided taking any part or interest in Canadian politics.

Freedom of a General Manager.

In all of my work I have endeavored to keep steadily in view the nature of my post. I have not sought to impose my policy upon the Minister or upon the Cabinet. I have sought to carry out the plans approved by the Government. In the technical administration of the force I held that I should be given a fairly free hand. At the same time I was careful to ascertain and consider the views of all persons interested. I claimed a smaller measure of freedom than is accorded to the general managers of important commercial companies. To make a railway pay it is necessary to leave detail matters of administration largely to the expert official in charge of the system. The managing of a military force is expert work, and the safety of the country is surely as important as the success of a railway. My claim for freedom extended only to the technical side of my work. I had no desire to force my policy upon the Ministry.

Completely Hampered.

In my efforts I was constantly hampered by interference with that particular part of my work. This interference began very soon after my arrival. It has continued incessantly ever since. Mr. Fisher's interest in the affairs of the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons was simply the final incident in a long list of various phases of obstruction.

My only reason for remaining in my post was to benefit the militia of Canada, but my efforts were so persistently blocked that I came to look upon the case as a hopeless one. I was forced to reflect very seriously upon what I could do to effect my object—the improvement of the militia. It seemed to me that, imperfect as is the training, great as is the lack of armament, numerous as are the faults of detail, there lies behind all these evils a far greater evil—the indifference of the men who govern the country to the welfare of the force.

How to Impress the Public.

It seemed to me that the best way to help the militia of Canada was to let daylight into the working of the system.

I realized, moreover, that the new militia bill would soon be discussed in Parliament, and that it was my duty to give a warning of certain dangers before it was too late.

I might have lodged an official protest with the Government. I cannot see that this would have been of any avail. It would have been simply one more document in a pigeon hole.

A course offering many attractions was to resign and issue a public statement giving my reasons. So far as I personally was concerned it would have been by far the easier and more pleasant course. The objection was that by so doing I would give neither the Government nor the people of Canada any real opportunity to pass judgment upon the matter brought to their attention. My protest would have been made, it is true, but not in a manner that would have attracted attention to the evil.

It seemed better to make a public protest and to leave with the Government the option of heeding it, or of upholding the system which is destructive to the efficiency of the national defence.

I was in this frame of mind when Mr. Fisher's interference with the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons came to a head. It precipitated my resolution to speak out, no matter what the consequences.

Report Suppressed.

I may now pass from the general aspect of the matter to a few particular instances, where not I but Canada has suffered from autocratic and unusual interference with the machinery which I was supposed to control.

One extremely serious case of interference was the suppression of the important parts of my first annual report on the militia. After studying the situation with great care, I came to certain conclusions, and thought out certain plans. For convenience of reference I divided my report for the year 1902 into two halves. Part 1 was a simple diary of events. Part 2 contained my description of the condition of the militia, and an outline of a comprehensive scheme for reorganizing the force upon lines suitable to the country. This part was fully intended by me for publication. It contained nothing that could be described as a military secret. It covered matter such as is constantly made public in Great Britain and the United States. In my judgment it was information as to the actual condition and possibilities of the militia which it was desirable for the people of Canada to know.

This part of the report Sir Frederick Borden suppressed against my protest. In the House of Commons at various times he described this part of the report as "private," "confidential" and "secret." It was marked neither "private," "confidential" nor "secret." When the Minister made these statements he had been explicitly informed by me that I desired its publication. He went so far on one occasion as to compare the report to the secret report on Canadian defence. With that report my report had no analogy.

Condition of Permanent Corps.

When I presented my report for 1903, Sir Frederick Borden told me that certain portions were too strong, and might embarrass him. I modified it, and again sent it in. Without further reference to me he struck out whole pages and seperate paragraphs, all of which I had intended should be made public. Among the portions eliminated were references to the condition of the permanent corps—which I pronounced in many respects unsatisfactory.

Last year, for instance, the permanent corps, with an establishment of 995, were 207 under strength, had 277 enlistments and 154 desertions. The two small instructional batteries at Kingston were practically reduced to one. The dissatisfaction in the permanent corps, and its urgent requirements, had been pointed out by me upon the Minister ever since I came to the country.

A more recent instance occurred in connection with the organization of the ordnance corps. The establishment of this corps was fixed at a colonel, a second in command—with the rank of lieutenant-colonel—and three lieutenant-colonels. This was a larger establishment than I would have recommended had I been unhampered; but Sir Frederick Borden was anxious to have a number of senior and highly paid posts, and the scheme which he desired was carried out.

Soon after this I went to the Northwest. As soon as I had left Ottawa the Minister of Militia ordered the adjutant-general to prepare an order increasing the number of lieutenant-colonels to five, thus giving seven officers of the rank of lieutenant-colonel and upwards to a corps of about 100 men. In this connection it must be remembered that the most elementary requirements of the militia were neglected for want of money.

T. A. S. SCORED AN EASY VICTORY.

Defeated Lindsay on Saturday by a Score of 20—6.

In a Kawartha League Game—Visitors Played Poor Ball—Winners are a Strong Team.

Nice day on Saturday. Great weather for baseball, also. Speaking of baseball, did you ever see the Lindsay Kawartha League team play? Lindsay, you know, is a fine ball town,—turns out all manner of stars and things. Sometimes stars fall, and a bunch of these ex-stars, or would-be stars — or, better, won't ever be stars— came down here on Saturday to tie the T.A.S. ball team into a double Chinese knot. Next time, Lindsay, please send a team from the Sidewalk League. They couldn't be worse. When the visitors were warming up before the contest, there were those who thought the score board would read like this: —

T. A. S. ....000000000—00

But that wasn't right. The score after the scorers had taken ten minutes to add it up, read in 'his wise: —

T. A. S. ....24072?21x—20
Lindsay ....210001002— 6

The game was a poor exhibition. It was poor in reference to both sides for the first two innings and then the T.A.S. braced up and played a good game. But the visitors were content to remain in their previous frame of body and played very poorly. Errors, big juicy ones, were made and some awful mistakes perpetrated. The Lindsay catcher, would mistake the left and right fielders for his first and third basemen respectively, and every time he threw the ball to the former players a score resulted. Bad judgment was also a feature of the losers work. Individually they had some good players who caught well and weren't so bad at the stick, but their team work was away off. Cullen who had a motion like a sewing machine, pitched a fair game and had a number of struck outs to his credit. His support behind the bat was not the best ever.

Quinlan, for the locals, pitched a splendid game. He should have had a "warm up" before the game as he was steadied down and was master of the situation. Latremonille had difficulty in holding him at times. The infield work nicely together, while the outfield caught difficult flies. The T.A.S. are a splendid bunch of players and stand a good chance of winning out.

Lindsay went first to bat. Wilson a trifle wild at the start, but soon got a base on balls, stole second and third; McMillan hit to Quinlan who tried to catch Wilson off third, but the throw was wild and Wilson scored and McWilliams went to second, stole third and scored on Hall's hit, Walker fanned, Seaton did likewise and Hall was caught off third by Quinlan's snap throw.

For the T. A. S. Callahan hit to third and died at first. Fitzpatrick fanned and Latremonille got a charity and scored when Wilson tried to catch him at first by a very bad throw. Trainer hit to McWilliams who threw wide and the former went to third and scored on another bad throw. Grady grounded to Cullen.

In the second Cullen singled to left, stole second and third and came home on a passed ball. Williams fanned and Brooks grounded to Callahan. For the T.A.S. Craig got a pass and Derocher struck out. H. Latremonville got four wide ones and Quinlan's single to left scored Craig. Callahan missed three, but the catcher dropped the ball and Latremonville scored. Fitzpatrick got to first on Wilson's error and Quinlan scored. A. Latremonille's hit to left garden scored Fitzpatrick. Trainer pounded to pitcher.

Quinlan retired the side in the next fielding Wilson's grounder, making a great catch of McWilliams' line drive and fanning Hall. For the T. A. S. Grady hit a long fly to Williams; Craig missed three but Walker dropped the ball and threw wild to first, but "Josuha" was caught at second and Derocher flew to Brooks.

In the fifth, Walker flew to right. Seaton grounded to Craig and Cullen fanned.

The T.A.S. did a few things in their half. H. Latremonille hit to McWilliams who fumbled, and stole second and third. Quinlan got a pass, stole second, and on Callahan's single, both Latremonille and Quinlan went over the pan. A wild throw put Callahan on third and he scored on Fitzpatrick's hit to third, giving McWilliams a chance to make a wild throw to first. A. Latremonille fanned and Trainer hit to right, scored Fitz. Grady singled to centre, sending Trainer to third and he scored on a wild throw. Grady went to third on Craig's hit through Brooks' legs and both scored on Derocher's corking two bagger. Latremonille hit to McWilliams, who caught Derocher going to third and Quinlan grounded to short.

In the fifth, Callahan dropped Cameron's easy fly, and the latter stole second, but was caught off the bag by a pretty throw from Quinlan. McWilliams hit to third but Trainer stepped off the base before catching the ball and the runner was declared safe. Quinlan, who watched the bases very closely, caught him a moment later by a snap throw. Brooks threw to left For the T.A.S. Callahan hit to McWilliams who threw wild to first and the runner scored. Fitzpatrick and A. Latremonille fanned. Trainer singled to left and scored on Grady's three bagger to centre. Craig fanned.

In the sixth Wilson missed a trio of shoots. McWilliams grounded to Callahan and Hall hit to the same player, who fumbled. Hall went to second, and Quinlan made a wild throw to catch him napping and the runner scored. Walker struck out, For the T.A.S. Derocher flew to short. H. Latremonille singled to left and scored on Quinlan's two bagger. Quinlan was caught stealing third. Cameron fumbled Callahan's hit and the latter stole second and third, scoring on a wild throw of Walker's to catch him at third. Fitzpatrick fanned.

In the seventh, Seaton struck out, Cullen hit a two soaker to left but was caught stealing third by some very raw base running.

Cameron grounded to Quinlan. For the T.A.S. A. Latremonille swatted the sphere to the left field fence for a home. Trainer flew to third. Grady punched out a two base hit to right, stole third and scored on a passed ball. Craig flew out to Cullen and Derocher did likewise to Seaton.

In the eighth McWilliams flew out to Grady. Brooks grounded to the same player and Craig made a nice catch of McWilliams' fly. For the T.A.S. H. Latremonille hit a grounder to Cullen and was out. McWilliams fumbled Quinlan's grounder and Quinlan stole stole second and third and scored on Cullen's throw to McWilliams', who was fast asleep. Callahan hit to third and died at first while Fitzpatrick flew to right.

In the last innings, Hall fanned, got to first on a slow one to Craig, Seaton was hit by a pitched ball and Walker scored on McWilliams' sacrifice. Cameron's single scored Seaton. Trainer fumbled Brooks' grounder but Cameron was caught at the plate ending the agony.

The teams were:—T. A. S.,—Callahan, 3 b; Fitzpatrick, c f; A. Latremonille, l f; Trainer, 1 b; Grady, 2 b; Craig, s s; Derocher, r f; H. Latremonille, c; Quinlan, p. Lindsay.— Wilson, 2 b; McWilliams, 3 b; Hall, l f; Walker, c; Seaton, c f; Cullen, p. Cameron, 1 b; Williams, r f; Brooks, s s.

Manager Whitcroft of the Peterborough's made an impartial umpire.

THE T. A. S. TWELVE AND HASTINGS TIE.

A Closely Contested Game in the T. V. L. Series.

The T.A.S. lacrosse club journeyed to Hastings on Saturday to play a league game with a team of that place, the game resulting in a tie, three to three. Hastings had some of the old time warriors of the lacrosse arena, on hand and these with a few of the younger aspirants for lacrosse honours, put up a pretty fair article of lacrosse, but the best they could do was to tie the cold water aggregation, and were indeed, lucky in doing that, for one of the goals was very doubtful, being scored just as time was up.

For the home team every man played hard and played to win, but Welsh at centre and Rice on the home were the particular stars. Clapper at point played his usual steady game and was always conspicuous.

The T.A.S. players, one and all excelled themselves, and from Boyle in goal who played a grand game, to McCoy at outside home, every man was a star. Excellent combination work of both defence and home was a feature of the game, and time and again were they applauded even by the Hastings spectators, for the quickness and accuracy in passing. It would be unfair to particularize any of the T.A.S. players, but the running combination of Parnell, F. McCoy and H. Donovan was indeed a treat to witness. Time and again would they bring it down on Hastings' goal but either luck or Clapper was in the road.

The game, although it could not be called a rough one, was not a bit too sociable at times, and quite a few of the boys are to-day nursing a few cuts and bruises, but thanks to Referee Dineen of Havelock, he kept the game pretty clean.

The Hastings team are running an excursion here on Saturday next when the return game will be played, and they will make a determined effort to win out, so that those who wish to see a good game should be on hand next Saturday afternoon. Posters and further particulars will be out later during the week.

The following was the T.A.S. line up:—Goal, Boyle; point, Derocher; cover point, Mahony; 1st defence, W. Donavan; 2nd defence, Meagher; 3rd defence, Whaley; centre, H. Donavan; 3rd home, Parnell, 2nd home, F. McCoy; 1st home, Morris; outside home, O'Connor; inside home, L. McCoy. Goal Umpire, Joe. Muldoan, Havelock.

CHARTRAND CAUGHT

Murderer of Constable Irving Taken in the Spanish River.

WAS UP TO NECK IN WATER

Fugitive From Justice Was Run Down Just After He Attempted to Cross the River Eleven Miles South of Webbwood—Was Eating a Raw Rabbit—Long Tramp Without Sleep.

Sault Ste. Marie, June 20.—Joseph Chartrand, who shot and killed Provincial Constable Irving at Webbwood on Friday, was captured at noon yesterday. He was seen making an attempt to cross Spanish River, 11 miles south of Webbwood, by which he could have gotten into open country, and one of the numerous posses which had been scouring the country continually since the shooting surrounded him. Chartrand made a dash to get away and followed it up by a novel attempt to hide by going into water up to his neck. It took the men of the posse some time to discover him in this position, but when they did he was taken without resistance.

He was in a very weakened condition, as he had been tramping the woods without sleep from Friday morning. He had been eating a raw rabbit, which he had shot. One leg was quite badly injured. The prisoner was immediately taken to the lockup at Webbwood, and will be given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Brodie to-day.

The funeral of the late Constable Irving was held from his late home in Webbwood Saturday. It was the largest ever held in the district, nearly 2,000 people being in attendance.

NEW DEPARTURE IN FARMING METHODS.

Agricultural Societies Own Thoroughbred Stock.

Experience of Two Societies in Which the Plan has Been Tried—The Results Satisfactory.

A great deal of interesting information has been gathered lately by H. B. Cowan, Provincial Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, regarding the ownership of pure bred breeding stock, by several societies in the Province. A number of these societies, it has been found are doing excellent work. It is believed that, if many of the societies in the Province which are holding small exhibitions, were to give up this work and own and circulate pure bred stock, they would accomplish much more good for their sections. On Saturday, June 11, Mr. Cowan visited the home of Mr. A. M. Stewart at Dalmeny, Russell County, who is secretary of the township of Osgood agricultural society. This society has been owning pure bred stock since 1897. The Directors are unanimous in the belief that their society has done more good than it could possibly have done had it endeavoured to hold annual exhibitions. Mr. Stewart states that it is the general opinion in the county that the county of Russell won the banner offered by the Ottawa Valley Journal to the county in Eastern Ontario owning the best stock, largely as a result of the excellent work done by this society.

The Osgood Society owns three bulls, two of which are Ayrshires, and one a Shorthorn; twelve rams and four boars. The sheep are mostly Shropshires, but include two Leicesters and one Oxford Down. The hogs include one animal each of the following breeds, Tamworth, Yorkshire, Berkshire and Chester White. These animals are located in five different sections of the township. Any twelve farmers in the township, who will agree to pay $2 each for three years and take proper care of stock, will, on request be furnished with a pure bred bull, ram or boar, by the Society, or with all three, if they ask for them. Generally one animal is asked for the first year, more being taken after this sub-division of the main society has become well established.

If the Society has no animals on hand, a committee is appointed to purchase them. Some bulls have cost the Society as high as $100. According to Mr. Stewart, the Society has never secured a good bull which did not cost at least $100 laid down at Dalmeny. The Society has purchased bulls that have won the gold medal at such exhibitions as Toronto.

"In the past," continued Mr. Stewart," we have always been able to furnish all the animals asked for. If a local section asks for three animals, the Society loses money, but if they only ask for one animal, we generally make a little. The $24 received each year from the twelve farmers forming one of these sections, together with the Government grant we receive and a little extra funds, which come in in other ways, generally enables us to meet the expense of keeping the animals. Some times we have been forced to go into debt, while at other times we have had as much as two or three hundred dollars to the good. At present, we have over $100 on hand, with the Government grant coming due. Our grant is usually about $63. Some years we have had as many as eight bulls, thirteen rams and six boars. At the end of a couple of years, these breeding animals are changed around from division to division to prevent inbreeding. When the breeding stock has passed its usefulness, it is sold to the butcher and the money comes back to the Society.

Members have the use of a ram for all their sheep and of the boar for two animals twice a year. Each member is entitled to breed four cows during the year, and if the bull is not used much, members are allowed to take more cows. The man who keeps the bull, has the use of him for all his stock. The same privilege is allowed the man who keeps the ram and he also gets the ram's fleece extra. Twelve to $20 a year is allowed the man who keeps the boar. 'At one time our Society paid members as much as $10 a month for keeping the bull. Members also had the use of the bull free. This was found to be too much of a good thing for the man keeping the bull, and the society soon got into disrepute and the membership fell off, until the society was partially dead. About ten years ago we changed this method, and adopted the present system, which has worked admirably. We pay about $20 for our hogs when they are six months old and $20 to $35 for our rams."

"I am satisfied," continued Mr. Stewart, "that if most of the societies which hold exhibitions were to give them up and keep pure bred stock instead, the way our society does, it would be a great improvement over the present system, where there are so many fairs that they conflict one with another. We have a sort of unwritten law that any man who keeps any of our stock must do so subject to inspection by some member or members appointed for that purpose. There have been occasions where it was found necessary to take animals away from members, but not of late years."

This same line of work is also being conducted by the Drummond Agricultural Society, located near Perth, in Lanark county. In the evening a meeting was held at the home of Mr. P. M. Campbell, of Balderson, the secretary, at which a number of well known breeders and officers of societies were present. This society has been keeping pure bred stock since 1868, and owns two bulls, a short horn and an Ayrshire. During the winter, two hogs were kept, a Berkshire and a Tamworth; more hogs will be bought in the fall. Up to two years ago the Society kept pure bred rams. The Durham bull cost $140 at the auction sale of stock held in Ottawa, and the Ayrshire cost $90 bought from a private dealer. The bulls are boarded around at the rate of $3 per week during June and July, and for $3 a month during the rest of the year. The keep of these animals thus costs the society about $54 each per year. The men boarding them have the use of them for their stock. The bulls are kept at three different places in the township, and about every three weeks they are moved around to suit the convenience of the members. Members are charged one dollar each to join for which fee they are permitted to breed two cows to one bull, four altogether. For four more cattle an extra dollar is charged. The society has a membership of 67 and receives a government grant of about $67, as well as a county grant of $30. For their dollar members can take a sow to each boar. Members holding stock can collect membership fees. The parties keeping the rams are allowed to charge members 12 1-2 cents a week for each ewe, which is kept at their place. No member can take more than two ewes to a ram. In this way members of the society for their membership fees are allowed to breed four ewes, four cows, and two sows, all for $1. Boars are kept at a cost to the society of $10 for the season.

For a number of years this society has bought seed at wholesale prices and furnished it to members who have thus received a reduction equal to about 14 per cent on all the seed they buy through the society.

At the meeting held in the evening the opinion was unanimously expressed by those present that great good would be accomplished were the societies to receive a government grant on the basis of what they actually expend for agricultural purposes instead of largely on the basis of membership, as is done at present.

JAPS LOSE 1,000 MEN

In Taking One of the Inner Forts of Port Arthur.

SKRYDLOFF REPORTS HIS RAID

A Third Transport Was Sunk By the Vladivostock Squadron—Naval Battle in Progress—Roar of Cannon Can Be Heard From Sasebo—How the Jap Artillery Silenced the Russian Batteries.

Che Foo, June 20.—There is current here a Chinese rumor that the Japanese have captured one of the inner forts of Port Arthur, losing 1,000 men in the engagement. It cannot, however, be confirmed.

Skrydloff Reports His Raid.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following despatch, dated June 19, from Vice-Admiral Skrydloff:

"On June 15 our cruiser division encountered in the Strait of Corea a Japanese transport steaming from the south, in the direction of the Japanese coast, which was visible on the horizon. The vessel proved to be the Izumi, with troops on board.

"On the expiration of the time given those on board to lower boats and leave the ship, permission to do which was taken advantage of by part of the crew, the transport was sunk by our guns. Shortly afterwards two more transports were sighted to the southeast. They proved to be the Hitachi and the Sado, the former with troops and the latter carrying coolies, horses and a railway plant. The transports refused to surrender, and at the end of the period granted those on board to take to the boats, the two vessels were sunk by torpedoes and shells.

"Losses on the three tranports, the tonnage of which aggregated about 15,000 tons, consisted of a portion of the troops and crews, a large quantity of war material and of railway plant.

"On June 16 our squadron met the British steamer Allanton, which was proceeding south with a cargo of seal from the port of Mourorun. The lack of clearness in her papers and the irregularity of her log excited suspicion concerning the neutrality of her cargo. The steamer, therefore, was sent to Vladivostock in charge of a detachment of soldiers. She has arrived at Vladivostock, where a prize court will consider her case."

Naval Battle in Progress.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—The latest report gives the assurance that a big naval battle is in progress. The roar of cannon can be heard from Sasebe.

The governor of Vladivostock has summarily ordered all women and children away.

General Nogi's army is marching upon Kaichou, where a force of fifty thousand Russians is said to be.

Details of the fighting at Wafangow, which have arrived, show the engagement was much more important than was imagined. Splendid heroism was displayed by the Russians during two days of the hardest fighting. They were beaten by superior numbers of the enemy, whose tactics are acknowledged here to be the most skilful.

The Russians were in constant danger of being surrounded and had to retire to prevent this. They fought every foot of the ground. A special despatch to The Russ says more than two thousand Russians were wounded. In some cases all the men at the batteries were blown to pieces by falling shells.

The Japanese made the combat purely an artillery battle, concentrating all their fire on the Russian batteries until they had been silenced. Then the Japanese infantry advanced.

The Grand Duchess Marie Feodorovan's hospital train conveyed 474 wounded Russians to Mukden, and that of the Grand Duchess Anastasia Nicolaievna 190, while a great number more are reported to be on the way.

COLOURS PLACED IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Interesting Ceremony in Connection With Depositing Old Colours of 57th Regt.

CHURCH PARADE OF 57TH.

Sermon by Rev. J. C. Davidson, Chaplain of the Regiment—The Message of the Flag.

"Colours of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, presented by the Ladies of Peterborough, 1868.

Placed in Sanctuary, 1904."

Inscription on the brass tablet unveiled yesterday in St. John's church.

The church parade of the 57th Regiment, "Peterborough Rangers," yesterday, at St. John's church, was one of peculiar significance, since in connection with it the old colours of the regiment, presented to it in 1868, and consecrated by Rev. V. Clementi, and replaced by a new stand, presented on Victoria Day, by the ladies of the town, were deposited in the church, with the usual ceremony incidental to such an occasion. It is claimed that one chief reason why St. John's church should be selected for this honour is that it is the historic church of the town, the oldest existing church structure standing with the same walls as the first church erected in Peterborough.

This is the first time in the history of Peterborough when a similar ceremony has been held, and because of this fact the event was one of special interest, which fact was attested to by the large number who sought admittance to the sacred edifice in which it was held, and in which from this time forth military men in general, and members of the 57th Regiment in particular, will have a special interest, because of the fact that hanging on the walls are the colours behind which the 57th Regiment has marched for thirty-six years, during which time the Regiment, as is natural to suppose, has passed through many different experiences, all of which is represented by the flags which now adorn the walls of St. John's church, which in this respect at least, is similar to old St. George's chapel, in London, Eng., in which the old colours of the British Regiments, as they are replaced by new stands, are deposited, and the walls of which are covered with flags of regiments, many of which have attained prominence in Britain's wars. The silken folds of these flags, as they hang there, some of them for scores of years, are stirred by the strains of the music as it is sounded by the old organ, which also has seen service for a lengthy period.

That the congregation of St. John's church appreciated the honour done it by the Regiment, in thus depositing in it the old colours, goes without saying, and it is safe to say that in showing visitors their beautiful edifice, the members of the congregation will point with pride to the colours of the 57th, as they hang upon the wall, over a handsome brass tablet erected by the officers of the Regiment in honour of the old colours.

The regiment turned out yesterday 300 strong, with both bands, and presented a very smart appearance, their marching being exceptionally good. Accompanying the Regiment were a number of veterans of 1866, officers of the 14th Durham Field Battery, and the Third Prince of Wales Dragoons.

The route of parade from the drill hall, to the church, by Brock, George and Hunter streets, was lined with citizens, and it is doubtful if on any previous occasion a church parade in Peterborough has been witnessed by as large a number of citizens, the perfect weather, no doubt, contributing largely to the result.

Prior to the entrance of the Regiment, the public officials, and representative citizens, ladies of the colours committee, and friends of the officers of the Regiment, were given places in the church, and after the Regiment had been accommodated, the general public was admitted, the church being crowded.

Upon arrival at the church, the Regiment, with the exception of the colour party, and No. 1 Company, which formed the escort, entered the church, the band and drums taking up positions on either side with the colours and escort before the door. Adjutant D. Walker then knocked upon the door with his sword, for admission, which was granted, the doorb eing opened by the Church Warden, Col. H. C. Rogers and Capt. Clurton. The Adjutant then, accompanied by the Church Wardens advanced to the front of the church and after saluting the Rector, said,—"I have been commanded by Lieut.-Col. Miller, Commanding the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, to inform the authorities of this church that he has repaired there to-day with the old colours of the Regiment, and desires admission for the purpose of requesting that those colours may be placed in the sanctuary." The Rector replying said that on behalf of the congregation of St. John's he had much pleasure in saying that they might be admitted and welcomed for that purpose. The Adjutant then returned to the door, and the procession was formed in the following order:—

The Choir.
The Clergy.
The Church Wardens.
The Colonel and Majors of Regiment.
The Colours and Escort.

As the colours entered the church the bugle sounded the "Last Post." With the escort lining the centre aisle, the Commanding Office addressed the Rector saying:—

"I have come here with the old colours borne by the 57th Regiment for thirty-six years and request that the authorities will permit these cherished Emblems of Loyalty, Christianity and Civilization to find a permanent resting place within the walls of this sacred building." To which the Rector replied:—"In the name of the Blessed Trinity I accept these colours and will assign to them a permanent resting place within the walls of this Church of St. John." After which the colour party faced the escort who gave the colours their last salute, and they were handed to the Majors, and by them to the Church Wardens, who handed them separately to the Rector, who placed them upon the altar as the organ played "Home, Sweet Home." The service was then proceeded with, the lesson being read by the Commanding Officer.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, the Chaplain of the Regiment, and Rector of St. John's, preached the sermon, in which he dwelt upin the call which the colours gave to every man to do his duty. The Rector prefaced his sermon by expressing the welcome of the members of the congregation to the members of the 57th Regiment, the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, the 14th Field Battery, especially the veterans of 1866, and all persons, young and old who had gathered to do honour to the colours presented to the Regiment in 1868, and consecrated by Rev. V. Clementi.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON,
Chaplain of the Regiment, who preached the sermon yesterday.

He referred also to the dismissal of Lord Dundonald, saying that as a military man he wished to express the deep sense of loss which the militia felt at the conclusion of the services of Lord Dundonald.

The text upon which the Chaplain's sermon was founded was found in Hebrews 13; 7:—"Remember them which have rule was you;" and Deuteronomy 32; 7, "Remember the days of old." The speaker referred to the fact that those present were there with thoughts united upon one thing, two objects, the flags which for 36 years have been carried at the head of the 557th Regiment, and which yesterday were being shown their last honours, and were thus resting in the most sacred place in the sacred building.

No honours shown the flag are too great for them. They are not ordinary symbols, but are sacred religious symbols. The first ensign of the British Army was the sacred symbol of the Holy Communion, hoisted on top of a British mast, and ever since the British flag has been consecrated as a sacred symbol of duty. What is duty? The very word thrills us. Duty is something which God calls us to, and which He also gives us power to perform. Duty is a splendid thing. Men who are not trained to do their duty are of little use in the world. They are poor miserable creatures, and cannot be depended upon, but men who do their duty can be depended upon to be in their place when they are required.

We speak of conversion, said the reverend gentleman, and we all understand it pretty much alike, with some few minor exceptions. If we are to be converted and are in doubt there is one thing we can do; let us fly to the right thing, if we cannot have right feelings, and say "I give up myself to please God, and to do my duty. This the flag calls us to. The salute given to it is simply an answer to the God-given call. Soldiers respect and obey the call of the flag, and give this obedience with their whole being.

The second call is that to bravery and heroism, and self sacrifice. In Corea and Manchuria the response to this call is being made, and under the rising sun of Japan and the Black Eagle of Russia, deeds of heroism are being performed. But, said the speaker, we do not have to go to foreign countries to find examples of bravery. An English soldier furnished an example in the battle of Alberman, when Lieutenant Latham, seeing that the flag was in danger, tore it from its staff, and, when his left arm was severed by a French sabre, made his way to the rear, with his last diminishing strength, at last falling dead on the field, but the flag was not lost, it was found afterwards by the British, under

DISASTROUS FIRE IN SMITH TOWNSHIP

House and Barns on Farm Rented by Mr. Amos Jones, Destroyed.

On Friday about noon the residence and barns of Mr. Amos Jones, of the 8th concession of Smith, were totally destroyed by fire. The fire originated about noon in the house, when Mrs. Jones was alone, and where or how the blaze started is not known. It spread with great rapidity, and in a short time was beyond control, and both buildings were destroyed, with most of the contents. Some of the furniture was saved, however.

The buildings belonged to Mrs. Stubbs, of Lakefield, who had $1200 insurance on them.

FLOWER SERVICE AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The Rector Preached an Appropriate Sermon to the Children.

The Flower Service at St. Luke's church last evening, was one of a delightful and impressive nature, and was attended by a crowded congregation. The rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, preached an appropriate sermon to the children, giving them valuable advice as to the best course for them to pursue in fighting the battle of life before them. During the opening hymn the children marching through the church, each carrying a bouquet of flowers, adding significance to the occasion.

The Rector chose for his text the words of Samuel, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth." I Sam. 3, 10. It was a little child who said these words, one who had just been dedicated to the service of God's house to minister to Priest Eli. Samuel did not kno wat first that it was God's voice he heard, until told by Eli. All you children, said Mr. Langfeldt, have been dedicated to God, and bear not know at first that it was God's If you love the Lord Jesus, your greatest wish will be to hear Him speak, because we all love to speak to and hear the voice of those whom we love. All of you should be as Samuel, and hear the voice of God when He speaks. He speaks to you, because He loves the little children of the present day as much as He did in the days of Samuel. God's own house was the best place to hear Him speak, for Samuel was in God's house. It was often the case in this life that people refused to speak to one another, but to keep from speaking with God, and neglect to attend His church was far worse. Many kept away from His house ,and consequently never heard Him speak.

When in the church, continued the speaker, your mind and thoughts should be in the service, and you should hear God speak in every part of the service. God speaks to us also when we pray, and it was while praying that Samuel heard His voice. We are best able to hear God's voice when we are praying, and He gives us comfort and assures us of rest, and that He will be with us to protect and guard us from every evil and temptation. We should never neglect our prayers if we wish to hear the voice of God.

The little children were as the moss growing on the wall around a beautiful garden. The moss was lowly and humble and but a poor relation of the mighty trees, but it was of use to do the small portion of work alloted to it, and so the children, while unable as yet to do great things which God asks and delights to see them do. The higher the moss grew the more beautiful and bright in colour it became, and so we learn that the higher we are lifted the more pure and lovely would our lives and characters become. The moss grew most brilliant also in the most stony and exposed places, and in the same way all that is best and brightest in our lives would be shown in times of trouble and adversity.

The beautiful ivy which we notice so frequently growing on church towers and on walls, was at first only a little sprig. Just as the ivy grew and flourished, the children should learn to grow in grace, gentleness, obedience and love. The ivy reached the top by sticking to the wall, and so those who desire to succeed in life must adapt themselves to their work, and stick to it, for it was not always the most brilliant and clever which reach the top, but those who are conscientious workers. We should always hold fast to our religion, and persevere in overcoming the difficulties and temptations which would crowd our pathway. Hold fast to prayer, the Bible and the church. In closing the speaker exhorted the children to remain true to their parents in their old age, when their strength was spent in the long journey of life.

The choir sang very acceptably, "O Clap your Hands Together," Mr. J. Legge taking the tenor solo.

This morning the flowers were sent to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto. The bouquets were beautiful ones and will no doubt bring cheer and pleasure to many of the unfortunate children at the Hospital.

CHANGES IN NAMES WERE SUGGESTED

Origin of Many of the Present Names of Streets in Town

And Origin of the Changes Proposed by the Committe of the whole Council.

At a meeting of the council on Tuesday evening, the Committee of the Whole brought in a report suggesting that the names of several streets in the Fifth and other wards be changed, to avoid, in most cases, the present duplication of names. The changes proposed and the origin of many of the names now in use, and those suggested by the Committee, will be found below:—

Brown street to Mark street. — Mark street is a street already in Ashburnham, named after Rev. Mark Burnham, and comes up to the south side of Elizabeth street, and Brown street is practically a continuation of Mark, running north from Elizabeth street. There is also a Brown street north of Smith street, and by calling the Brown street in the Fifth Ward Mark street, a duplication will be avoided.

Dickson to Hazlitt. — Dickson street was named after the late Samuel Dickson, and so was the Dickson street in Peterborough. The committee proposed to call the street Hazlitt, naming it after the late T. G. Hazlitt, son-in-law of the late Samuel Dickson.

Lake to Burnham, Stewart to Rogers, John to Birdsall, thus introducing in the nomenclature, three of the oldest names of members of families prominently connected with the Fifth Ward. From the earliest history of the village the Hon. Zaccheus Burnham and his descendants have been connected with the village, and the late R. D. Rogers was the first reeve of the village, while the late Mr. Birdsall was connected with the first survey made of the town.

Elizabeth street, which it is proposed to change to Hunter, was named after Elizabeth Burnham, who married Mr. R. E. Birdsall, and in dropping the name of Elizabeth, compensation is made in this connection by using the names of both Birdsall and Burnham for other streets.

Queen to Peck, after the late treasurer of the Fifth Ward, and the present warden of the county.

Crescent to Knox. — Knox is a short street connecting Carlisle and Munroe avenues, and in calling the street Knox the committee recommend perpetuating another name belonging to the same family.

In Ward Four there is a Victoria avenue running along the property purchased by the town from the Hilliard estate, and another in the territory that is being annexed to the town. The proposal of the committee was to call Victoria avenue in the north Hilliard street, in honour of the late George Hilliard, M.P.

It was proposed to change Mill street, near Jackson Park, sometimes called the Emily Road, to Fairbairn street, after the late Mr. Fairbairn, M.P.P.

It was proposed to change the name of Maple street in the north to Cluxton street, after the late W. Cluxton, who was identified for so many years with the business interests of the town.

Shortt street to Stevenson street, after Mr. Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P., and in former years Mayor of Peterborough, chairman of the Board of Education, chairman of the Town Trust Commissioners. Mr. Stevenson is the only one of the present Town Trust Commissioners who was appointed to the office in 1861. It is thought by many of the admirers of Mr. Stevenson that his name is worthy of being attached to a more important street.

SUDDEN DEATH AT STONY LAKE.

Mrs. John A. Robb Died after a Short Illness.

On June 13th, at her late home near Stony Lake, in the township of Dummer, the death occurred of Mrs. John A. Robb, after a few hours' illness. Louisa A. Grant was the youngest daughter of the late Jos. Grant emigrated with his family from England in 1831, and settled in the township of Dummer, where the deceased was born on 14th of August, 1860. Early in her girlhood she became a member of the Methodist church, of which she still remained a true and consistent member, and always worked for the advancement of the church.

On the 29th of September, 1885, she was united in marriage to John A. Robb, eldest son of Jas. Robb, Esq., ex-reeve of the township of Dummer. Although she had been in poor health for some time she had still been attending to her household duties until within a few hours of her death.

She leaves to mourn her demise a loving and sorrowing husband, two brothers, William J., and George A., both of Dummer, and three sisters, Mrs. Robert Kirkland, of the County of Bruce, Mrs. Samuel Edwards, of Peterborough, and Mrs. Frankland Jory of Dummer.

The funeral which was very largely attended, took place from her late home to the Warsaw cemetery. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. H. McQuade of the Warsaw Circuit. The pall bearers were her two brothers, W. J. Grant, George A. Grant, and her four brothers-in-law, Samuel Edwards, Frankland Jory, James G. Robb and Wm. Robb. The relatives and friends have the sincere sympathy of the whole community.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST.

Yesterday five were received into the Murray street Baptist church, by baptism, and the prospects are that there will be many more additions in various ways in the near future. The feeling between the pastor and people is very cordial, and there is no likelihood that the coming separation between them will lessen in any degree the friendship existing between them during the pastorate of Mr. Bastow.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION.

Last night at St. Paul's Mission Rev. J. A. Wilson preached an earnest sermon on the text "Choose you, this day, whom ye will serve—but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." At the conclusion of the sermon Miss Winnie Anderson sang in excellent voice, "The Golden Pathway." Miss Anderson possesses an exquisite soprano voice and is one of Peterborough's rising vocalists.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

At the Charlotte street church last evening Rev. J. Bruce, of the Northwest, who has been attending the World's Sunday School Convention at Jerusalem, preached. He told in a most interesting manner of his trip to the Holy Land, describing many of the cities and points of Biblical interest. The convention was a great success in every particular.

In the morning the choir gave an excellent rendition of the anthem, "Send out thy Light," and during the offertory Miss Belleghem sang very expressively, "When Life's Work is Ended." In the evening the anthem was "No Shadows Yonder," while for the offertory selection Mr. Frank Turner sang most acceptably "The Lord is my Light."

PARK STREET BAPTIST.

Yesterday large and devout congregations assembled for worship. The ordinance of baptism was observed, when five candidates were accepted. A reception service followed, when the hand of fellowship was extended to nine new members.

Teachers met in the afternoon and decided that Flower Sunday should be in August and the pic-nic in July, the place chosen being Jubilee Point.

In consequence of the Associational gatherings at Belleville, from Tuesday til Thursday, the order of the week night services will be reversed. Prayer meeting will be held to-night, and Young People's on Wednesday, when two papers will be read by Miss Enon and Miss Johnston.—Com.

The case of Col. Gregory of the 2nd Dragoons has been placed before the public. The excellent work done by him during his command showed itself in the fine state into which he had brought his regiment. I was anxious, for the sake of the regiment, for reasons into which I need not go, to extend his command for another year. Recently Major Glasgow was gazetted second in command. Immediately afterwards the Minister of Militia, sent me a short minute to say that he did not desire Col. Gregory's command extended for another year. This was a most unusual procedure for a Minister to adopt, as it was entirely within the scope of my duty to recommend to Sir Frederick Borden what I considered best in the interest of the 2nd Dragoons, from a military point of view. The action taken by him certainly was not conducive to the interests of the regiment.

It is perhaps here necessary to say how difficult it is to get qualified officers for the militia. This difficulty was accentuated in the comparatively small area of the Eastern Townships, where the number of cavalry officers had been increased from 26 to 192, and the number of squadrons from 4 to 20 since May, 1903. The only possible way to get the new corps officered was to get local support and trust the opinion of the commanding officer entrusted with the duty of raising the regiment.

The whole details of the interference with the officers entrusted by me with the duty of organizing the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons have already been made public.

Mr. Fisher's Motives.

That Mr. Fisher's motives were political he himself admitted in his second speech in the House of Commons on June 10. This admission, I may observe, was singularly at variance with his earlier speech on the same day. In that speech, which was a prepared statement, he distinctly stated that his objections to Dr. Pickell were of a military nature, and that his interference was not due to political motives.

I may also note the peculiar coincidence by which Mr. Fisher was acting Minister of Militia on the very day on which this case came up. I do not remember any previous instance of his acting for the Minister of Militia. The case of the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons was pending. On the 18th of May the Minister struck out from The Gazette the list of names submitted to him by me on the ground that further consideration was needed. On the very next day that further consideration was given—by the very man whom Sir Frederick Borden knew to be pressing to have The Gazette altered in the direction of his own wishes. The effect of Sir Frederick Borden's unusual step in asking Mr. Fisher to act for him was to make the strong opponent of Dr. Pickell the arbiter by whose decision the council would be guided.

It has been stated that my proper course on the matter coming up before Parliament was to send a statement of facts to the Minister of Militia, and not to an Opposition member of Parliament.

Although statements condemning my course were being prepared to be read in the House, I received no intimation from Sir Frederick Borden that this was being done, and no invitation to prepare a memorandum setting forth the facts as far as I knew them. All that I received from Sir Frederick Borden was a request to know whether a paragraph in a newspaper represented what I had said in Montreal.

Had I volunteered such a statement I had no assurance that the Minister of Militia would read it to the House. On the other hand, Col. Hughes, M.P., a brother officer and a member of the headquarters staff, asked me for information on the subject. I do not think that I did wrong in complying. But for my doing so, a one-sided version would have gone uncorrected to the country which half an hour afterwards was universally seen to be untrue. I took pains to place a copy of my memorandum in the hands of Sir Frederick Borden by the same messenger who gave it to Col. Hughes.

These few instances which I have quoted are sufficient to show how my reports have been suppressed or manipulated, how my hands have been crippled in my endeavors to promote the efficiency of the militia.

Neglected Suggestions.

Having dealt with matters appertaining to my administrative duties, I desire here to place on record the fact that in my opinion much injury has been caused to the militia by want of sympathy with its improvement. I will instance here the educational scheme for the promotion of officers and non-commissioned officers. One has but to turn to the pages in the militia list to see the vast number of names of officers who are professionally unqualified. The training-ground necessary to qualify these officers on a scheme prepared by me and approved of by council could have been provided for a comparatively trifling sum of money. An adequate artillery range is urgently required. A recommendation by me that local camps be provided suitable to modern conditions of war training was struck out of my second annual report, though it is notorious to every thinking militia officer that several of these camps are urgently required.

There being no central camp this year, I applied on May 23 to be permitted to hold this September two short courses of instruction, accompanied by staff rides, for a limited number of field officers. This I hoped would in some slight measure qualify urgent cases requiring promotion. My recommendation was rejected by Sir Frederick Borden, no reason being given.

One of my plans for the improvement of the militia has been the issue of large illustrated placards for their instruction. Recently I desired to bring these up-to-date, according to the latest ideas. Though I had got the new plates and letter-press prepared ready for the printers, my application to have them printed was returned, endorsed, "Postponed." No reasons accompanied the ruling.

A Fool's Paradise.

It may be a matter of indifference to some whether the militia lacks guns, rifles, ammunition, equipment and all that is necessary to make a fighting force efficient. It may be a matter of indifference to some whether the great Northwest with its splendid fighting material be left in a defenceless state and without a gun, with patriotic offers to organize urgently-needed corps ignored. Above all, it may be a matter of indifference to some whether other considerations besides military considerations influence the choice and advancement of the military leaders of the people, but as I am now free to speak more openly on matters, I have often referred to in public, I desire here emphatically to warn the people of Canada that though they may be indebted for the integrity of their territory, and indeed, their national existence, to the forbearance of others, they are, as regards their preparation for war and their state of readiness to successfully resist aggression, living in a fool's paradise.

Farewell.

I take leave of the Canadian militia with great regret.

My relations with the officers and men of the force have been exceedingly pleasant.

My observations of the force have confirmed the high regard which I formed in South Africa of the soldierly qualities of the Canadians.

From my brother officers and fellow-soldiers of the rank and file, I have received loyal and ungrudging support, which I can never forget.

Had I been able to help to place these troops of such fine natural qualities in that thorough state of preparedness which is their due and which the nation desires, it would have been an achievement of which I should ever have been proud.

As matters have turned out, I can only hope that my protest may have some weight in lessening the unfair restrictions under which they labor. The circumstances of my dismissal make it impossible for me to issue a farewell order, I can bid them goodby only in this informal manner.

Dundonald.

No Interference.

London, June 20.—(C. A. P.)—The Daily Mail, commenting editorially on Lord Dundonald's statement that an Imperial officer should continue to command the Canadian force, declares that there should be no interference on the part of the British Government.

Larger Statement Suggested.

London, June 20.—(C.A.P.)—The Daily Chronicle commenting on Lord Dundonald's statement, says that charges of that kind seldom bring conviction, but generally only suggest loss of temper. The incident has done much to disturb the good feeling between Canada and the Mother Land. If Lord Dundonald had taken a larger estimate of a very difficult situation he would in the end have secured his object equally as well.

Honeymoon Hints.

Do not forget, little wife, to pack up a goodly store of books and work, as well as your pretty trousseau.

Do not, because it is just for once in your lives, spend more than you ought to either on the trip or for incidental expenses. Many a young couple after the honeymoon bitterly repent their reckless waste of money.

Do not, even at this eventful stage of your life, expect "the dear boy" always to be by your side. The love which he has for you, and which has caused you to make him "the happiest fellow on earth," will not admit of him neglecting you, and his little attentions to others in public must be accepted as mere conventionalities. Do not forget that you have left others behind you to whom your marriage has been almost as great a matter of moment as to yourself—those whose happiness depends upon yours. In spite of this new existence, in which two lives are as one, you should find time to write to them.

Do not fail to remember that in nine cases out of ten the keynote of the after married life is sounded during the honeymoon.—Boston Traveler.

After Twenty Years Suffering From Kidney Disease and Dyspepsia. a Perfect Cure is Made by

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

A medicine which will cure such a severe form of kidney disease as that described below can certainly be relied upon for any ordinary case of this ailment.

It seems folly to experiment with new and untried remedies when there are thousands ready to certify that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have positively cured them of this painful and fatal malady.

Mr. John Gearin, an old resident of Thorold, Ont., states: "For twenty years I was badly afflicted with kidney troubles, indigestion and bladder derangements. During that time I was a great sufferer and had to get up six tot welve times nightly to pass water. I tried different doctors and used all sorts of medicines to no avail.

"Finally, I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and soon found relief. Thus encouraged I continued to use these pills and after having taken twelve boxes was again in perfect health and vigour. I can now sleep undisturbed, the pains in the kidneys and back are gone, and I am feeling well and strong. I consider Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills a great boon to suffering humanity and had I known about them when I was a young man could have escaped suffering all the best years of my life."

HINDOO FANATICISM.

Self Inflicted Tortures of Religious Zealots of India.

Self inflicted torture by Hindoo zealots is common in India. One man will lie upon his back, place a piece of soil upon his lower lip, plant in it a mustard seed and not rise from his position until the seed has become a plant of size. Another will make his couch upon spikes; a third walk with his boots filled with similar delights; yet another keeps his hands clinched until the nails grow through his palms and out at the back of his hands, while others distort their legs and arms into atrophy. The extent to which Hindoo fanaticism will go, or native belief extend, was shown by a case reported in the Civil and Military Gazette of Lahore a year or so ago. The natives of Trevandrum were found worshiping as a god come among men a man who had taken up his residence under a tree on the bank of a river. For the first week or so he ate a plantain and drank some milk twice or thrice a week. Then he gradually enlarged the intervals, till after three or four months he took no food at all, but passed his time huddled before a fire, seeing no one, hearing no one. Exposed to cold and wet, to heat and dust, he sat thus without food for three years, "wrapt in divine contemplation." At the end of the three years he died, never having spoken to, or heeded, a soul from the time he first appeared until the spirit passed from his body.

IN QUAINT SEATHWAITE

LIVED THAT "VERY EXTRAORDINARY PARSON," REV. ROBERT WALKER.

The Duddon River, on Which Is Seathwaite, Divides Cumberland and Lancashire for About 25 Miles, and Has Been Immortalized by Cowper in a Series of Beautiful Sonnets—Charming Link With England's Past.

No river flows through more picturesque scenery than the Duddon. It rises on Wrynose Fell, dividing for about twenty-five miles the counties of Cumberland and Lancashire, till it enters the Irish Sea. The stream would possess distinction were it only for its commemoration by Wordsworth in a series of beautiful sonnets.

One of the quaintest and most primitive little villages on the Duddon is that of Seathwaite. In its peaceful churchyard, near an ancient yew and a sun-dial, is a gravestone, a plain blue slab, with the inscription: "In memory of the Reverend Robert Walker, who died the 25th day of June, 1802, in the 93rd year of his age, and 67th of his curacy at Seathwaite. Also of Anne, his wife, who died the 28th of January, 1802." Born in 1709 at Undercrag, in Seathwaite, the youngest of twelve children, Walker obtained the rudiments of his education in the consecrated building where he afterwards officiated as pastor and schoolmaster. After ordination he obtained the curacy of Seathwaite, which had a house attached to it, and married a domestic servant.

In 1754 a writer on The Annual Register describes the life of the Rev. Robert Walker, regarding him as "a very extraordinary parson." The correspondent, out for pleasure in the Lake country, had heard so much of him obtaining happiness out of small means that he resolved to pay him a visit. He found Walker in the parsonage sitting at breakfast at the head of a rough, square table, dressed in a coarse, blue frock with black horn buttons, a check shirt, a leathern strap about his neck for a stock, a thick apron, and a pair of wooden-soled shoes, plated with iron, having a child upon his knee. Mrs. Walker and some of the children were waiting upon each other; the rest spinning and teazing wool. In the trade the clergyman was a great proficient. When it was ready for sale, Mr. Walker related, he laid it, whether sixteen pounds or thirty-two pounds, upon his back, set out on foot even in the depth of winter, and would sell it in the market. The interviewer was greatly struck by the energy and good humor alike of parson and his spouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker reared a large family. A son, by the father's extraordinary economy and ingenious management of a very small income, went to Trinity College, Dublin, and afterwards was ordained. Other sons were put to trades. The income of Seathwaite Chapel was for years only £15 a year, but as its curate grew in age it was increased. In his poorer days Walker was not only parson and schoolmaster, but weaver, shoemaker, tailor, gardener, and farmer "rolled into one."

Never was there a clergyman more kind to the poor and more generous in his hospitality than "Wonderful Robert Walker." Every Sunday were served by the host at his table messes of broth for those of his congregation who lived at a distance. Fresh animal food, too, was cooked on the Sunday for the wayfarers, and the clergyman and his wife had the remains during the week. In one of his letters to a son he writes when over ninety: "We (the wife and himself) are in our wonted state of health, allowing for the hasty strides of old age knocking daily at our door, and warningly telling us, we are not only mortal, but must expect ere long to take leave of our ancient cottage, and lie down in our last dormitory."

In the Duddon sonnets Wordsworth on "Seathwaite Chapel" describes Robert Walker:

This low pile a Gospel teacher knew
Whose good works formed an endless retinue,
A pastor such as Chaucer's verse portrays:
Such as the Heaven-taught skill of Herbert knew,
And tender Goldsmith crowned with deathless praise.

BARGAIN BABIES.

If babies were for sale the most inveterate bargain-hunting woman in the world would not look for a bargain baby. She would want the best baby that could be bought, regardless of price.

Every woman naturally craves a healthy, handsome child, and her craving can be gratified if she will but remember that the child's health is her own gift, and to give health she must have it to give. Mothers whose babies have been weak and puny have nursed in strength their first strong child after using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the best preparative for maternity, encouraging the appetite, quieting the nerves and inducing refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to give her child, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"My wife had been sick nearly all her life," says Mr. E. E. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Illinois, Box 367, "and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I got six bottles, which my wife took, a tablespoonful three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and when baby was born he weighed nine and a half pounds. Today he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also says the use of your 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for the use of delicate women.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

Accidents in Mines.

Last year there were 1,061 fatal accidents in the mines and quarries of the United Kingdom, entailing the loss of 1,172 lives. Compared with the previous year there is a decrease of 14 in the number of fatal accidents, and of 57 in the number of lives lost. Three-fourths of the fatal accidents by explosions of fire damp or coal dust were due to naked lights, the illegal use of matches, or the illegal opening of a safety lamp.

Japan In the Eighth Century.

As early as the eighth century a university had already been established in Japan that included such modern divisions as schools of medicine, ethics, mathematics and history, and some of the text books employed at that remote period dealt with such subjects as the diseases of women, materia medica and veterinary surgery, types of text books which appear to have been unknown in European countries until about 1,000 years later.

Unreasonable Conductor.

Conductor—You ought to have known better than to get off the car in that way. You should always step forward in leaving a car. Passenger (who has picked himself up)—But, my dear sir, I wasn't going that way; I live on the street we have just passed.

A Logical Deduction.

Bright Boy—I'm a chip of the old block, ain't I, pa? Fond Parent—Yes, my son. Bright Boy—An' you're the head of the family, ain't you, pa? Fond Parent—Yes, my son. Bright Boy—Then you're a blockhead, ain't you, pa?

The Climber Bittersweet.

The bittersweet manifests a decided preference for the cedar, which it seldom strangles, but twines about in a helpful way. Perhaps it is because the dark, palm-like sprays of the evergreen afford the finest constrast for its glowing orange and scarlet. Nowhere does it seem so well to deserve its common name "waxwork" as when drooping between the shelving foliage of a snow-decked cedar. There it shows that the season of fruition can reveal beauties surpassing the bloom of spring, beauties unmarred by obtrusive utility and free from the persistent and oppressive sense of evanescence.

Fish Slides Should Be Compulsory.

A large number of speckled trout of large size have been caught in Clarksburg and up the river this year, which old fishermen say is due to the Thornbury dam being out. When rebuilding it would be much easier to put a proper fish slide on than to do so afterwards. We mention this, as we understand a movement is on foot at Heathcote and Kimberley to compel owners of dams to make provision for fish to get up and down, and it's better to have it settled without delay one way or the other.—Clarksburg Reflector.

FASHION HINTS.

Much Purple and Lavender Are Worn—Voiles Checked and Plain.

A great deal of purple and of lavender are being used for street wear.

The fashions of the moment are not a little trying to the woman of generous proportions, but still she may have this consolation—the fullness beginning below instead of at the waist line rather takes away from the width of her hips and that also the plain front panel gives her a flat, straight front effect.

Plaid effects in voile are among the latest. Small pin checks are being imported in voile as well as in taffeta, and these are trimmed with rows of trimming in plain silk to match. A black and white checked voile seen recently was trimmed with chantilly lace and made up over apple green silk.

The favorite sleeve of the moment is the half sleeve made in one piece with the shoulder. This is worn with or without a tight fitting undersleeve, and the inside is filled in with a lace ruffle.

The little loose gathered bolero of ample width, which has loose sleeves, is the smartest model for all thin silk or mohair costumes. It is short enough to allow a wide belt to be seen. This is usually of a darker shade than the costume.

The cut shows a tailor made dress of lavender mohair trimmed with tiny black buttons and a white chemisette.

MACHINE TELEPHONES FOR KINGSTON.

The Canadian Machine Telephone Company Applies for a Franchise.

Clerk of Peterborough Writes that the new Arrangements here are Satisfactory.

The Canadian Machine Telephone Company is applying for a franchise from the City Council of Kingston, and a despatch to the Toronto World says that the Company, in a letter to the mayor, offered to instal their automatic system (the Lorimer) at the rate of $20 for business phones and $15 a year for house 'phones, a decrease of $10 a year from the Bell rates. For both a business and house 'phone the Canadian Machine Company charge only $30.

A communication was received from the clerk of Peterborough, stating that the new company, the Canadian Machine Company, would begin business there in six months, and the city felt their new arrangements would turn out quite satisfactorily. The rates in Peterborough will be the same as offered to Kingston.

The committee decided to ask the two companies to submit in writing their offers and these will be dealt with as soon as received.

The present exclusive franchise of the Bell Company expires on July 1, and it is probable that some action will be taken in the near future in the Council.

BIG BASEBALL GAME TO-MORROW EVENING

The Examiner and Review Teams will Clash at Murray St. Grounds.

Thunder and lightning! Break it gently. Everybody attention. The Review has consented to play the Examiner at baseball to-morrow evening and the collision will come off at 6.15 o'clock at the Murray street grounds, which have been secured for the great event. The Review with their new man from Rochester, Alfie Smith, Sammie Moore and others expect to do great things. Their battery, alone, Smith on the slab and Moore behind the bat is said to work like a well-oiled charm. The latter says he can catch anything—even a girl. Special accommodation is being made to handle a record crowd and big doings are anticipated. The Examiner will line up as follows:—Hutchinson, c; Jolliffe, p; Paxman, 1b; Begley, 2 b; Glover, 3 b; Gilman, s. s.; Long, l. f.; Richeau, c. f.; Graham, r. f.;

The Review will line up like this:—Smith, p.; Moore, c.; Wilson, 1 b; Henley, 2 b; Caniff, 3 b.; Hubbs, s. s.; Lewis, c. f.; Barringer, r. f.; Pearson, l. f.

R. H. R. Konner, the popular umpire has been asked to handle the indicator.

BASEBALL.

At the Murray street grounds on Saturday afternoon the Young Quakers added another victory to their present long string by defeating the Victorias by 7-5 in a five innings game. Both teams had several errors and the play was somewhat listless throughout. The pitchers each did excellent work and with better support the score would have been small. The teams were:—Quakers,—Quinlan, p and r f; Swanston, p and r f; Heaslip, c; Conroy, 1 b; Wilson, 2 b; McMullen, 3 b; Gilman, s. s.; Morphet, c f; Weller, l f. Victorias,—Cahill, p; McFadden, c; O'Brien, 1 b; McKnight, 2 b; Laing, 3 b; Mulhern, s. s.; McGill, r f; Carmichael, c f; Dobson, c f.

Umpire,— W. Waram. There was considerable kicking on both sides throughout the game.

The winners had 7 runs, 9 hits and 8 errors, while the losers scored 5 runs, 6 hits and 5 errors.

FORMER PETERBOROUGH MEN'S SUCCESSES

Captian James Beauvais, for 23 Years in the Service of the U. S. Government.

Many of the older residents of Peterborough remember Mr. James Beauvias, who lived here as a boy, and paddled in many races in Little Lake against Geo. Fitzgerald, and won the championship against all comers at that time. Since leaving Peterborough his home has been in Detroit, and he has ever since retained his love for the water, and has been captain of a number of steamers. The Detroit News publishes a half-tone cut of the Captain, with the following comment:—

With the close of the big marine strike many of the captains find themselves without positions and will be obliged to divert their talents to other channels in order to live. Among those who will not apply to the vessel owners for aid is Capt. James Beauvais, who has hit upon a unique plan to keep himself employed during the summer months.

The captain proposes to organize a school on a Detroit steam yacht and take a cruise through Georgian bay and the north shore of Lake Superior or up the gulf of St. Laurence. He wants to get 20 or more students, after commencements are over, and give them a finishing course in the engineering work and other studies, combining business with pleasure.

Capt. Beauvais has served constantly on the lakes in the employ of the Government for the past 23 years. He resigned last May, and after his election as harbour captain of local harbour No. 47 devoted his time to the interests of the association. The captain began life as a deckhand in 1867, and soon after left to work for the Government as a surfman in the life saving department. He worked his way up to captain of a station and was obliged to resign in '89 from sickness contracted while going to the steamer Argonaut on a false alarm. He then went into the engineering branch of the government service, and has commanded the old Gen. Gilmour, the Gen. Williams, the Gen. Hancock, and his last boat was the Search.

She had been ailing for some time, old age being the cause of her demise. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the corner of Mark and James street, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery.

Colours Placed in St. John's Church.

Lieut. Latham's tunic, where he had placed it for safety. At Inkerman, when there were no officers left to command, the rank and file sprang forward and carried victory before them, saving the flag. Isandwana furnished another splendid example of British bravery. Two lieutenants, whose names are worthy of being handed down to posterity, Melville and Cahill, broke through the enemy's ranks, and swam the river, the flag was found tied around Melville's body. The scene which is represented by that famous picture, "The Last Stand," when at Maiwand, 166 British soldiers were surrounded by a whole Afghan army, and everyone of them perished before surrendering, is another brilliant example of this bravery.

These examples abound in the British army, and thousands of similar instances of personal bravery and devotion to the flag, might be quoted. This is the flag, those are the colours, and this is what they call men to do, said the reverend speaker. If it were not for the military spirit, and one or two other agencies we would become enervated and self-pleasing, and become mere calculating machines. The man who questions himself to find whether he is giving his life for a thing of less value, is making a mistake. The instinct in the heart beneath every uniform tells you this. The world needs the splendid witness that we can give, and in no better way can this be shown than in times of danger.

The Chaplain remarked that he hesitated to speak as he did, because he was afraid that if the opportunity offered itself to him he might be found too weak, but there may be some who listened to him who would be able to do the duty, and to place their life on a higher plane.

The call of the colours was not only to duty and self sacrifice, but also to remember the days of old. In the case of the 57th Regiment, this memory is a pleasing one. He might mention many of the men who had in the past served the Regiment, and whose names will always be remembered with respect. The first of these was Colonel McDonald, Col. Brown, and Col. Poole, the first Colonel of the regiment, were also names held dear by it. In 1837 when there was a call to arms under Sir Francis Bond Head, there were more applicants than places, and at last 200 men were chosen from among the many who offered themselves. These 200 men marched to Port Hope, and afterwards to Toronto. In 1866 when a call was again made to defend their country a hearty response was given.

Captain Kennedy, the first adjutant of the regiment, was afterwards made Lt.-Col. of the 91st Regiment, Winnipeg, and so impressed Lord Wolseley that he placed him in command of the Canadian Voyageurs on the Nile expedition.

Captain Brown, whose monument was passed in the parade yesterday, fell in the North-west Rebellion, and Dan Spence, one of the 50 men from the 57th, died for his country in Africa.

The colours from their place on the walls of the church, will whisper the message, "Remember the Days of Old," and he believed that they would be cherished by the citizens of Peterborough. He hoped that all the citizens would look upon St. John's as their church, and at any hour of the day they would be welcome to come to it. He did not wish to take anyone from any other church, but he wished all to have kindly feelings for each other.

At the conclusion of the services, the flags were taken from the altar by the church-wardens on placed on the wall of the church, over the vestry door, and a brass tablet erected by the officers of the regiment was unveiled by Lt.-Colonel Miller, who addressed the gathering briefly, referring to the occasion 36 years ago when the colours now laid away with honour were presented to the Regiment. Many of those present on that occasion had since passed away, but the colours had been kept unsullied, and he hoped that the new stand would never be disgraced by the Regiment.

At the conclusion of the service the Regiment marched back to the Armouries, where it was dismissed.

GREAT CARNAGE AT TELISSU

Estimated Russian Loss in the Battle is 10,000.

JAPS BURY OVER 1,500 DEAD

8,000 Killed or Wounded Admitted by the Russian Authorities —Russian Officer Estimates the Loss at 7,000—Japanese Artillery Fire Marvellously Effective—General Engagement on Near Kaichou.

Tokio, June 21.—Further reports received here show that the blow inflicted by Gen. Oku on the Russians in the fighting at Telissu (Vafangow) on June 15, was more severe than was at first believed. The number of Russians killed in this battle will probably exceed 2,000, and their total loss, including prisoners, is estimated at 10,000. The Japanese losses are less than 1,000, or about one-tenth of the Russian total.

Up to June 17, Gen. Oku had buried 1,516 Russian dead, and he reports that many more dead have been found. Chinese who watched the fighting from the Russian side report that the Russians removed many dead to the trains with their wounded, and that they buried or cremated many corpses in the village of Huasungkou before they retreated.

The number of prisoners and trophies taken by the Japanese is increasing. Gen. Oku is not yet able to report the total number of prisoners.

Russians Admit 3,000.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—A detailed report of the Russian losses at the battle of Vafangow, given out yesterday, places the total at 3,000 killed or wounded, mostly men who constituted the Russian right flank.

Kuropatkin's Report.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—General Kuropatkin has telegraphed to the Emperor, under date of June 18, as follows:

"General Stakelberg reports that the enemy has not advanced beyond Vafangow.

"It is reported that three bodies of troops are extending their front between Vafangow and Techonjon.

"After two days of fighting and two tiring night marches by difficult mountainous roads, the troops have been able to rest. Their morale is excellent. It had not yet been possible to procure precise details of our losses. Accurate numbers are only procurable in the following regiments'

"First division East Siberian Rifles, 715 officers killed and 49 wounded, 12 of whom remained on the battlefield; 336 soldiers killed and 992 wounded, 568 of whom remained on the battlefield, but some of whom, however, were picked up by the ambulance train. In the 35rd and 35th and 36th Regiments 1 officer and 36 soldiers were killed, and 16 officers and 640 soldiers wounded. Ninety-six of these soldiers remained on the battlefield.

"The 1st Artillery Brigade lost three officers and 103 soldiers killed, the 9th Brigade of Artillery, 1 officer and 25 soldiers killed; the Tobolk Regiment, 1 officer and 3 soldiers killed, 1 officer and 40 men wounded, and 8 missing; the Marschanak Regiment, 6 officers and 131 men wounded, 11 men killed and 8 missing."

There was a rumor in St. Petersburg last night that a battle at Haicheng is actually proceeding, and that there have been heavy losses on both sides. There is, however, no confirmation of this rumor.

It has developed that the Japanese at Vafangow had an accurate topographical map of the whole battlefield and that their batteries were connected by telephone.

Another Russ Estimate.

London, June 21.—The correspondent of The Central News agency at Mukden says it has been officially announced there that the Russian losses at the battle of Vafangow were about 17 officers and 519 men killed, 97 officers and 1,988 men wounded, and 12 officers and 793 men missing.

Great Artillery Fire.

Newchwang, June 21.—A Russian officer, who was wounded in the battle of Vafangow (Telissu), told an Associated Press correspondent that the losses on both sides were severe. He placed the Russian casualties as at least 7,000. He says no soldiers in the world could withstand the Japanese as they have been fighting lately. Their artillery fire, he claims, is marvelously effective. The Russians fought stubbornly, but they were unable to withstand the enemy's dashing persistency.

Vladivostock Fleet Again.

Nagasaki, June 21.—A report has been received from Moji, on Shiminoseki Strait, that firing has been heard at sea to the northwest. Vessels are being detained at Moji.

General Engagement.

Liaoyung, June 21.—A general engagement is proceeding near Kaichou. The first train bearing wounded men has passed through here going northward.

One Battalion Annihilated.

Simuchen, Manchuria, June 21.—The Japanese artillery at the battle of Vafangow included heavy siege guns using lyddite and sweeping the whole battlefield. The Japanese suffered tremendous losses in turning the Russian right. One battalion of the 26th Regiment was annihilated.

Admits His Forgeries.

Owen Sound, June 21.—At the Police Court yesterday morning, Francis L. Harrison pleaded guilty to two charges of forgery and two of theft. A fifth charge, which constitutes a breach of the Postal Act, was held over until Saturday for a hearing. The young man's parents in Birmingham will be communicated with in the meantime.

WILL 57TH REGIMENT GO TO BARRIE?

Invitation has been Received to Visit that Town on Dominion Day.

The Advance Praises Regimental Bands —The Programme of Proposed Visit

According to the following statement from the Barrie Advance, the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, may visit Barrie on Dominion Day. The Regiment, apparently, has been invited, and the Advance writes on the assumption that the invitation will be accepted. It says:—

"Barrie will in all probability have a big day on July 1st, as the Bowling and Tennis Club is arranging to have a field day of sports, and the crack 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, have been invited to visit the town on their annual outing of three days' duration. The Peterborough Rangers and their two bands are known all through Ontario, as each year they make a practice of spending a few days in camp at some pleasantly located point, and so congenial are the relations they have established everywhere that they are always earnestly urged to revisit the towns where they have spent their outings. The 57th would come to Barrie about 500 strong, and the men would be quartered in the buildings at the Agricultural Park, while the officers would camp in tents. If the invitation is accepted the visitors will arrive on Thursday evening, June 30, and remain until the following Monday morning."

When seen this morning concerning the truth of the above article, Lieut.-Col. Miller stated that the regiment had been invited to visit Perth, Belleville, Stratford and Barrie. It had been decided at first to visit Perth this year, but it was learned later that it would be impossible to take this trip because of the fact that the Government had requisitioned all the available coaches of the C.P.R. to transport the troops to camp at Ottawa, consequently a trip will have to be arranged by the G.T.R. A meeting of the officers will be held to-night, when the objective point of the trip this year will be decided upon. Three places are left to be chosen from, Belleville, Stratford and Barrie, in either of which places no doubt a royal welcome would be given the regiment.

LINDSAY WELCOMES THE NEW RAILWAY.

Advent of the C.P.R. Received With Joy by Citizens.

Lindsay, June 20th. — The construction trains on the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Pontypool Railway, arrived in Lindsay to-day from Burketon. Two C.P.R. engineers are with the construction party. The track is laid as far as the Lindsay station. Immense crowds of delighted citizens were on the scene and loudly welcomed the arrival of the track and C. P. R. connection to the town. It is universally conceded that the advent of the C. P. R. in Lindsay will fill a long felt want. The construction trains will push on rapidly to Bobcaygeon, the present terminus of the line. It is hoped that the railway will be open for traffic early in August.

BYE-ELECTION FOR REEVE IN SMITH TOWNSHIP.

Mr. R. N. Scott Resigns from Council—is Elected by Acclamation.

On Monday at the Town Hall, at Bridgenorth, the nominations and election of a reeve to fill the vacancy, for the unexpired term, caused by the resignation of Mr. E. M. Elliott, to accept the office of County Clerk and Treasurer, were held.

The only nominee for the office of reeve was Mr. R. N. Scott, who, there having been no further nominations, was elected by acclamation.

Mr. Scott was a member of the township's council, and having resigned to accept the reeveship, his place was filled by the election, by acclamation also, of Mr. Thompson Braden, as councillor for the unexpired term.

Miss Alice Bailey, of Atlanta, Ga., escaped the surgeon's knife, by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for the restored health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought into my life.

"I had suffered for three years with terrible pains at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation.

"I felt so weak and sick that I felt sure that I could not survive the ordeal, and so I told him that I would not undergo it. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper of your Vegetable Compound in such an emergency, and so I decided to try it. Great was my joy to find that I actually improved after taking two bottles, so I kept taking it for ten weeks, and at the end of that time I was cured. I had gained eighteen pounds and was in excellent health, and am now.

THE GLOBE'S DIAMOND JUBILEE

The Toronto Globe on Saturday last celebrated its sixtieth anniversary, and the congratulations of the Examiner are extended with all the cordiality so remarkable and so gratifying an occasion calls for. The Globe, even on the verge of three score and ten, realizes the idea of the phrase "a green old age," and it also realizes the Shakaperian idea, "age cannot wither nor custom stale its infinite variety." For three score years the Globe has been a power in the land, and now on its sixtieth birthday, with evidences of material progress abounding in every part of its wide constituency, with one of the happiest, most prosperous, most governed people in the world as its readers, with a people enjoying the best laws, the outcome, or, at least, the accompaniment of, the highest constitutional privileges and national rights of any country anywhere, the Globe has reason to rejoice and be glad. It is largely due to its energetic and persistent fight in the struggle for retaining and gaining the privileges and rights, and creating the conditions, upon which our happiness and prosperity are based, that the conditions mentioned so largely prevail. The Globe's voice has always been raised on behalf of popular rights, always heard in condemnation of bad administration and public wrong-doing. It has done its work well—in a big and broad-minded spirit, and it is reaping its reward. While for two thirds of a century, it has been a journalistic power in the land, that power, the influence its wields, and has wielded, has never been greater than it is to-day. The Examiner does not see eye to eye with the Globe in many matters of detail — even the sun has spots — but it has willing commendation and admiration of the broad principles of its policy—an unwavering loyalty to the interests of teh people of Canada, and a steady and well balanced attitude of loyalty to the Empire. Faithful as it has been to the interests of the party whose principles its supports, the Globe has been broad enough to bring about a saner, fairer and more moderate treatment of political subjects, and a more dignified tone of discussion. Loyal to the interests of one great party, it is not blind to a generous recognition of the place an opposing party occupies in the national economy. This broader view, this wider range of vision, has had its influence in modifying and moderating the tone of Canadian journalism, and, resultantly, softening the harsher tone of the political and other relations of our composite population. Long may the Globe roll on, and in an ever-widening orbit.

"TORY" INCIDENT OF LONG AGO

Recalled by the Dundonald Episode.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

'Tis a story of long, long ago, though no doubt Hon. Mackenzie Bowell will recall it.

Should he forget, the Hansard reports for the Parliamentary session of 1869 will refresh his memory.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell was then plain Major Bowell, M. P., editor of the Belleville Intelligencer, then a struggling weekly town paper.

Adjutant General McDougall, a British officer, who was commander-in-chief of Her Majesty's Loyal Militia, made a public attack upon Major Bowell, similar to that made upon Hon. Sydney Fisher by Major General Lord Dundonald. Adjutant-General McDougall held the position corresponding to that recently held by Lord Dundonald.

Major Bowell attacked General McDougall in Parliament and that officer was given the choice of two courses—to resign or be dismissed. He resigned.

This was a Conservative precedent, if any were needed.

The reason given by Adjutant-General McDougall for his resignation was the interference of the Government with his appointments.

With but little difference the incident bears an exact similarity to the one just closed by the dismissal of Lord Dundonald.

There is this difference: General McDougall resigned rather than be dismissed. General Lord Dundonald refused to resign and courted dismissal.

Lieut.-Col. Jarvis, then Deputy Adjutant-General at Kingston, gave authority to Lieut.-Colonel David Brigade Major, Kingston, to make certain appointments. In a letter to him he named the day for making the appointments.

Upon Col. Jarvis' return to Kingston he declared the appointments had been made too late.

A court of enquiry was held and resulted in the suspension for several months of Lieut.-Col. Shaw.

The Macdonald Government intervened and removed the order of suspension, at the same time condemning the action of Adjutant-General McDougall, to whom the Deputy Adjutant had reported.

For this the Adjutant-General made an attack on Major Mackenzie Bowell, then a member of the House of Commons, for what he had said upon the subject in the House.

In Parliament Mr. Mackenzie Bowell said that he had liberty to say what he liked to the House about even his superior officer in the militia.

The action of the Government in upholding the subordinate led to the resignation of the Adjutant-General.

The Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, then leader of the Opposition, asked that all correspondence relating to the matter be given to Parliament. He stated the case to be that Col. Shaw had been dismissed by the Adjutant-General, but that the dismissal was disallowed by the Governor-General, or, as the Premier, Sir John A. Macdonald, had said, the commander-in-chief. He considered it a public grievance that an officer who disobeyed his superior should be allowed to retain his position.

The Conservative Government had thus interfered to uphold an act of insubordination. They did it because Shaw was a Conservative.

Sir George E. Cartier, Minister of Militia, refused to bring down the papers, as they related to a court of enquiry.

The Adjutant-General, in 1869, discharged the duties also of General Officer Commanding. The Adjutant-General who resigned was Colonel Patrick Leonard McDougall, appointed May 13th, 1865, and resigned May 6th, 1869. He was succeeded by Colonel Patrick Ross. The whole trouble was over the reinstatement of Lieut-Colonel Shaw as Brigade-Major in Kingston.

NOT A SCHEME TO INFLUENCE VOTES

Trent Valley Canal a National Waterway of National Benefit.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, who is one of the most energetic exponents of the Trent Valley Canal has the following letter on the canal in the Montreal Witness:—

Sir,—Referring to my letter on this subject which appeared in your paper on June 11, your paper intimated that it might have an effect in influencing voters in the canal district and minimized its usefulness by comparing it to the Rideau. Can it be that preconceived opinions have unfairly prejudiced your conclusions? Surely it is hardly consistent to intimate that the most effective argument in the Trent's favour is the number of voters to be influenced and yet conclude your editorial: "We have not sufficient data to weigh his (Mr. Kerr's) arguments, but shall be glad to learn the views of others on this subject."

I would remind your readers that the people of the Midland district of Ontario are a unit in support of the project and that Conservatives as well as Liberals are one in urging its completion. The people of this district know the rivers and lakes and the abundance of the water supply and naturally they are found to be the most actively and intelligently interested in supporting its claims—simply because they are so situated that they know whereof they speak. Surely it is not the part of a great newspaper to hastily conclude and to practically charge the people of the Midlands with being actuated by sordid motives and with being possessed with the smallest spirit of parochialism Does it not rather show that the project is a worthy and a practicakone?

A comparison with the Rideau canal is no comparison at all. The Rideau is only five feet on the lock sills, while the Trent will have eight feet four inches of water on the sills. The Rideau is not on the line of through traffic, while the Trent system is really the gateway between the east and the west.

Even in the matter of local traffic the Rideau, with boats of four and one half feet draught is in no position to compete. The question is not whether the canals are revenue producers but whether they so promote trade as to make them profitable from the national standpoint. France, Germany, Belgium and the United States have given an unhesitating answer in the affirmative. The St. Lawrence canals are not revenue-producing investments, but they not only carry commerce and create traffic but above all they regulate and control railway rates in a way, no other agency can.

The State of New York notwithstanding all its railways, with all the advantages of paralleling lines and double tracks, has decided, after the fullest investigationm by engineers, shippers and business men to spend a hundred and one million dollars on a thousand-ton barge canal to bring trade to New York state and the port of New York. Should we not expect therefore that your paper should command rather than condemn without investigation an incomparably better water way capable of carrying eight hundred ton barges by a shorter and more direct route to the port of Montreal, and only five million dollars required for the purpose?

Will it promote through traffic? Let me refer your readers to the evidence of the American Cereal Company, manufacturers of Quaker Oats, before the Transportation Committee at Peterborough. They stated they could and would bring wheat by the Trent Canal from Georgian Bay, manufacture it into flour in the heart of the Province of Ontario and ship it via the Trent Canal to Montreal for the markets of Europe. They stated that with the waterway in operation this became a practical business proposition — without the Trent system it was an impossibility.

ADVANTAGES OF ELECTRIC SMELTING.

The Results of the Royal Commission's Appointed to Investigate the Subject.

In the last issue of the Canadian Engineer, reference was made to the result of the visit of Dr. Haanel, and those associated with him, who were sent by Mr. Sifton as a commission to inquire into the question of of electric smelting of iron in Europe. Dr. Haanel's report has not yet been given to the public, but some of the results of his observations are known and from these it may be inferred that smelting by electricity can be successfully and economically carried on. The most important experiments witnessed were at Livet, in the Pyrenees, where some ninety tons were put through to illustrate the process. The furnace there employed is of the resistance type, and consists of two iron castings of square cross section, forming two shafts communicating with each other at their lower end by means of a lateral canal. The cases are lined with refractory material. The base of each shaft is formed by a carbon block. These blocks are in electric communication on the exterior of the furnace by means of copper bars. The carbon electrodes to which electric current is distributed pass two-thirds of their length into the shaft. The electrodes are prisms 72 centimeters in diameter and 135 centimeters long. Three sets of experiments were made as follows:—(1) Electric reduction of iron ore and obtaining different classes of pig, grey, white and mottled. (2) Electric reduction of iron ore containing a definite amount of carbon in the charge with a view of ascertaining the amount of electric energy absorbed in the production of one ton of pig iron. (3) The manufacture of ordinary steel of good quality from the pig manufactured in the preceding experiments. The electric energy absorbed per ton of pig was found to be 226 horsepower years. The processes were quite satisfactory to the commission.

The question of cost is, of course, an important factor. The following are the figures which make up the approximate cost of producing a ton of pig iron (1) Ore (hematite) metallic iron 55 per cent., 1.842 tons at $1.50 per ton, $2.76 (2) Coke for reduction .33 tons at $7 per ton $2.31. (3) Consumption of electrodes at $5 per 220 pounds, 77 cents. (4) Lime 80 cents. (5) Electric energy 226 horsepower years at $10 per e.h.y, $2.26. (6) Labour at $1.50 per day, 90 cents. (7) Different materials, 70 cents. (8) General expenses, 40 cents. (9) Repairs, maintenance, etc., 20 cents. (10) Amortization, machinery and building, 50 cents. Exclusive of royalty, $10 60.

In his conclusion Dr. Haanel points out that the results obtained at Livet were the results of experiments in furnaces not specially adapted to the work required to be done. With the improved furnaces, of which the commission has secured detail drawings, better figures can be obtained. He remarks that the process of electric smelting must yet be regarded as in the experimental stage, no plant existing at present where pig iron is commercially reduced to pig by the electric process. The more remarkable therefore, it appears that experiments made off-hand, in furnaces not at all designed to be used for the production of pig should give a figure of cost which would enable an electric plant properly designed and managed to compete with blast furnace.

As experience is gained better and cheaper methods will be introduced, and it is reasonable to suppose that as the electric process is applicable to the smelting of all other ores, such as copper, nickel, silver, etc., it can be successfully applied to the production of iron and steel. The full text of Dr. Haanel's report will be awaited with much interest.

Canadian Mills Close.

Fredericton, N. B., June 20.—Cotton mill officials here say that they are not in a position to estimate the extent of the curtailment by Canadian mills which has been decided upon. The employes of the Gibson mills in Marysville, the largest in Eastern Canada, were notified Saturday that after next week there will be no work for two weeks. Similar orders will be issued at the cotton mills in St. Stephen, Moncton, Halifax and elsewhere, and it is expected that at some of the plants the curtailment will be prolonged. The St. Croix mills in Milltown are running on short time. The mills affected employ 10,000 men.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The discourse given by Rev. Mr. Butler of Cartwright, last Sunday, in the Methodist church, from the words, "Give ye them to eat," was highly edifying and calculated to impress on those who heard the sermon the necessity of doing their duty, although placed in a position that might seem to them as almost an impossibility. How often our imagination leads us to believe that there is a lion in the way of duty!

The sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Whitelaw was on a subject that has caused a considerable amount of discussion. When the union of the different Protestant bodies takes place we hope that the basis of union will be as found in the 6th chapter of Micah, verse 8th, "And what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with they God,"—no necessity for dogmas or creeds if this verse is adopted as a basis of union. We were very glad to see Rev. Mr. Whitlaw in the pulpit again.

Kingston, June 20.—Rose McCartney, aged 28, a domestic, drowned herself in the harbor early yesterday morning. She left her home in her night-dress. MILITIA MINISTER

Sir Fred Borden Replies to Statement of Lord Dundonald.

WAS AVERSE TO MAKING IT

Deals in a General Way With Some of His Lordship's Criticisms—Scores the Tactics of Lord Dundonald and Throws Light on Some of His Complaints—The Case of Col. Gregory.

Ottawa, June 21.—(Toronto Globe Special.)—The Minister of Militia, who yesterday morning returned to the city, was interviewed in regard to the statement issued by Lord Dundonald. Sir Frederick Borden was at first much averse to taking any notice of the statement for the present, but eventually dealt in a general way with some of his Lordship's criticisms.

Discreditable Policy.

"From his own admission," observed the Minister, "Lord Dundonald has not pursued a very proper course. Having, according to his own story, made up his mind that he could not succeed, he pursues the rather discreditable policy of remaining in the Government's employ, and under the control of a Minister, simply and solely to watch for an opportunity to do that Minister the utmost injury that he could. That was the object he had in view, and which he avows almost in so many words; at the same time professing loyalty to the chief of the Department, and pretending to be on the best possible terms with him."

The Gregory Case.

"What about the Gregory case?"

"In regard to that case, there is, as you know, a provision of the regulations limiting a commanding officer's term to five years. Under extreme and unusual circumstances, and upon the recommendation of the district officer commanding, however, the term of command may be extended three years. It does not follow that the limit shall be three years; it may be two or even one. The circumstances which usually determine an extension of time are usually influenced by the fact of whether the next in command is qualified, or likely to be qualified, to take the command. It so happens that in this particular case when an extension was granted to Lieut.-Col. Gregory the second in command was a son of the late Senator Ferguson, for many years a prominent Conservative member of Parliament. This young man was suffering from an incurable complaint of the throat. He had not attended camp for two years, but was kept on in the hope that his condition might improve.

The Colonel's Term Extended.

"The recommendation that Lieut.-Col. Gregory's term be extended came to me, and I took all the care I usually exercise in all these matters. I sent for all the papers and read them carefully, and after going carefully into the case I concluded that there should be an extension of one year at least, saying that when the twelve months had expired it would be a very easy matter, if necessary, to grant a further extension. In so saying, I was desirous of not doing an injury to any officer who might be qualified. That is what I have always wanted to guard against. There are a lot of officers who get to the top and want to remain there. I broke down that system."

"Is it true that the next in command, Dr. Glasgow, is not qualified?"

Dr. Glasgow Is Qualified.

"Colonel Otter and Colonel Lessard, the inspector of cavalry, both joined in a memorandum, stating that Dr. Glasgow was qualified. Lieut.-Col. Gregory stubbornly and obstinately refused to recommend Dr. Glasgow, because he wanted to hold the commission himself. Col. Otter, finding this out, decided that he would make the recommendation for the appointment of Dr. Glasgow, and did so.

"This talk of Lord Dundonald's about seven lieutenant-colonels to a corps of one hundred men is intentionally misleading. There are a less number of lieutenant-colonels now than formerly. This ordnance corps is not a homogenous one, but is scattered all over the country. Districts were created, and officers appointed to command them, but the pay is not according to rank, but according to the importance of the district. When the list was organized Lord Dundonald reduced two of the proposed lieutenant-colonels to the rank of major. When my attention was drawn to it I thought it invidious to deal with these two on that basis, more particularly as one was the only French-Canadian on the list, and both had the rank of lieutenant-colonel formerly.

The Annual Reports.

"In regard to Lord Dundonald's report of 1902, which he complains was not published, the whole matter was discussed in the House and has been largely discounted. In 1903 changes were made in his report, because it was an improper one to publish as a Departmental one, and Lord Dundonald agreed to the changes.

Orders Were Violated.

"The facts will all come out," said the Minister in conclusion, "and I shall be able to show that Lord Dundonald has not only disregarded but violated my orders on certain occasions."

Dundonald Too Autocratic.

Montreal, June 21.—(Toronto Star Special.)—Sir Frederick Borden said yesterday before leaving for St. John in reference to Lord Dundonald's statement:

"I have seen a synopsis only, but I understand from it that Lord Dundonald lays particular stress upon the fact that part 2 of his first official report was not published. This matter was threshed out in Parliament in the session of 1903. The proposals contained in part 2 were largely questions of policy, which, of course, would have to be decided upon by the Government before being placed before Parliament. I explained this very fully to Lord Dundonald, but, to my surprise, in his next report he made frequent reference to this expunged part 2. I pointed out that it was unadvisable to make references in a Parliamentary report to other reports not before Parliament, and that while I did not accuse Lord Dundonald of having such a purpose in view, his references to part 2 were equivalent to appealing from my decision to Parliament.

"I had therefore to request him to expunge these references. He took the report away, and, to my surprise, when it was returned I found that he had excised a few words, but not the objectionable references. I accordingly marked out these references and sent one copy so marked to Lord Dundonald and one to the printers. If the occasion demands it, I may have to give to Parliament other illustrations of the difficulties that have arisen through Lord Dundonald's somewhat autocratic attitude."

Britain and Dundonald Case.

London, June 21.—In the House of Commons yesterday, replying to O. Devlin, Hon. Mr. Lyttelton said no representations were made by His Majesty's Government to Lord Minto in the Dundonald case. The mode of appointing general officers commanding the militia of Canada has not been the subject of discussion, and no suggestions as to the change of procedure have been made by the Canadian Government.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

Chamber of Agriculture of Staffordshire is Opposed to It.

London, June 21.—At a special meeting of the Staffordshire Chamber of Agriculture at Stafford the chairman said he had convened the meeting in consequence of a communication received from the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, in which he was asked to express his opinion with regard to the proposal to allow Canadian cattle to be admitted free into England and Scotland.

The council of the Chamber had met, and Mr. Patterson, on behalf of the council, moved: "That the Chamber regards the proposal of an alteration in the Diseased Animals Act of 1869, so as to admit the importation of live Canadian cattle as likely to be injurious to agriculture as a whole, being of the opinion that the advantage to a section is quite inadequate to compensate for the risk of importation of disease."

The motion was unanimously carried and the Secretary directed to send a copy to the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Cattle Association, the president of the Board of Agriculture and the Central Chamber of Agriculture.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

Accused of Murder.

Toronto, June 21.—Dr. Harrington yesterday said that the post-mortem on the body of the infant, for the death of which Kate Sharpe is held responsible, showed that death was due to criminal withholding of nourishment. Magistrate Kingsford remanded the woman until to-day.

ANTI-CIGARETTE BILL,

Reported to the House and Stands For Its Third Reading—Proposal to Limit Preferential Tariff.

Ottawa, June 21.—Two matters of considerable importance figured in the proceedings in the House yesterday. The first was the passing of Mr. Logan's resolution, that in the opinion of the House the preferential tariff should only apply to importations through Canadian seaports. The second was the reporting of the bill to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of cigarettes. Mr. Logan's resolution received general endorsation, Mr. Heyd and Mr. Wright offering some objections. Hon. Mr. Fielding and Sir Wilfrid Laurier endorsed the principle, and the Premier pointed out that the way to accomplish it was to improve our facilities so as to divert trade as far as we can. It will be noted that the passing of the resolution is merely an expression of opinion, and carries no legal weight, but it may be a guide for future legislation. The cigarette bill was not adopted in committee without a long, running fight, but after half a dozen votes, one of which was a tie, it was eventually reported. It stands now for third reading, after which, if it passes, it must run the gauntlet of the Senate. A number of other bills promoted by private members were dealt with.

The House adjourned at 1.45 a.m.

Admitted Illegal Practices.

Montreal, June 21.—When the Election Court opened yesterday afternoon at Sweetsburg the counsel for Hon. J. C. McCorkill, M.P.P., for Brome and Provincial Treasurer, admitted that illegal practices had been committed without the knowledge of the respondent, consequently Hon. Justice Archibald declared the seat vacant. This result had been expected.

Hon. Mr. Stephens Dead.

Montreal, June 21.—Great surprise was expressed here yesterday when news reached the city that Hon. G. W. Stephens, ex-M. P. for Huntingdon and formerly a member of the Marchand Government, had died suddenly at one of the northern fishing resorts. Deceased was once a strong figure in municipal affairs, and was several times a millionaire.

The Dumping of Italians.

Ottawa, June 21.—Judge Winchester has been instructed by the Government to investigate the dumping of Italians in Montreal. He will take this up in addition to the other enquiry connected with the bringing into Canada of engineers from the United States to work on the Grand Trunk Pacific line.

Not Yet Accepted.

London, June 21.—(C.A.P.)—Sir Percy Girouard's resignation has not yet been accepted.

Lifebuoy Soap—disinfectant—is strongly recommended by the medical profession as a safeguard against infectious diseases.

DORMITORIES ARE VERY MUCH NEEDED

Was the Opinion of the Y. M. C. A. Members Last Evening,

Members Night Proved Very Enjoyable —The President's Address and Other Speeches.

Last evening a most enjoyable event took place in the Y.M.C.A. Assembly Hall, the occasion being the annual members' night in connection with the Association. It was the seventh anniversary of the dedication of the building. There was a fairly large turnout of the membership and during the evening much hearty enthusiasm in the work was manifested by all present, and judging from the spirit of the members and directors the prospects for the Association is very bright. Several interesting questions were referred to by the speakers and some of the recommendations may be carried into effect in the near future provided there is sufficient financial backing to carry out the plans suggested. One of the requirements is that of having dormitories in connection with the building, and the opinion of the meeting was that it was becoming a necessity in this flourishing and growing town, with its numerous advantages and attractions for young men who were constantly, and would continue to be constantly coming in our midst, to provide something to take the place of boarding houses which were taxed to their utmost, and it was thought that were thirty or forty rooms built on a proposed third storey on the present Y.M.C.A. building, that a great deal would be accomplished for the benefit of the many incoming young men.

The President, Col. E. B. Edwards, was chairman of last evening's meet which was opened with devotional exercises after which the chairman gave an address. Exactly seven years ago, on June 20, 1897, the speaker was present at the dedication of the building when all looked forward with feelings of hope yet not without some misgivings regarding the future of the Association which was then launched under such favorable circumstances, and with such an excellent building in which to carry on its work among the young men of the town. The work had been done with faithful resolution and courage, and the members should now not be content to rest on their oars, but go ahead and promote a forward movement. To stand still was to die in this work, and it was necessary always to advance in order to prosper. Col. Edwards was one of those who had the privilege of attending the International Y.M.C.A. Convention in Buffalo recently and he gave a short description of a few of the most important features at this great gathering of men, representative of all the Protestant churches. The meetings were of great interest not only in solving vexed problems and in spirited debates but the addresses on Y.M.C.A. work were masterly discourses, showing that the great work was being more and more taken hold of by the whole country. The local delegates had brought back from the convention, the promise of a new physical director, Mr. Percy K. Holmes, one who comes with the highest recommendations from the spiritual, mental and physical standpoint. The necessary for building up the physical in man was being more and more recognized. A great deal of extra expense would be incurred in securing a man of the stamp of Mr. Holmes, and the Board would look to the members to give every support possible in increasing the membership of the Association. At present there were about 800 members and the number should be increased by at least 300 to provide for the extra expense.

A boys' building and dormitories were also badly needed, was the opinion of those who visited Buffalo, and this opinion was shared by those at home also. The idea that more missionary work should be done in the Y.M.C.A was also brought back from the convention. The members should be workers for the Y.M.C.A., the Master, and the young man, not only of Peterborough, but throughout our fair Dominion. There was need of a more united effort on the part of the members to place many more new members on the roll.

Mr. W. D. Campbell spoke very interestingly in reference to the physical side of the Association work. The gymnasium was a necessity, and was a branch of vital importance to the Association. The first object of the Y.M.C.A. was to come in touch with the young men of the town—not only those who were Christians, but others who might be tempted to spend their time in questionable surroundings, and the best way to reach most of these was through the gymnasium. It should be seen to that the gymnasium was the best equipped and the best directed that it was possible to secure, so as to make it attractive, for the higher side of one life was sure to improve by associations of a helpful nature in the gymnasium.

Mr. R. Dormer, who represented the Strangers' Fellowship Club at the Buffalo convention, gave a series of excellent views of the points of interest at the convention, showing views of the Y.M.C.A. buildings, and the manner in which they are equipped in that city. Mr. Dormer's remarks were of a very interesting nature and much valuable information was gathered. It was shown also that seven years ago the membership of the local association was 406, while at present it was 615. Last year's gymnasium attendance was 7500 as compared to 5620 seven years ago.

A vocal solo, "The Bandolero," by Mr. Frank Turner was very heartily applauded.

Mr. R. E. Harding, president of the Strangers' Fellowship Club, gave a very interesting address, in which he dealt with the necessity of having dormitories. He gave figures showing the cost and revenue of these dormitories in other Associations.

Mr. Harding read some figures regarding places where there were dormitories in connection with the Y.M.C.A. buildings, and in every instance the plan had been successfully worked, and was a profitable one. In Norwich, Conn., with a population of 26,000, there were 13 rooms, size 12 x 15, with an annual income of $1400; at Oscaloosa, Iowa, there were 22 rooms, 11 x 13, costing for equipment $1800, and a total annual income of $1872; at Ashville, N.C., with a population of 18,000, there were 17 rooms, 12 x 18, with an annual income of $2040; at Kenosha, Wis., with a population of 13,000, there were 19 rooms, size 9 x 12,, 13 double, with an annual income of $1800.

The opinions of several prominent men throughout the continent were read in reference to the dormitory system, and all reported very favourably and recommended the idea very strongly. Some suggestions to associations planning for dormitories were also read.

After a short discussion refreshments were served and a social time spent.

Mr. Richard Hall, one of the trustees of the building, was unable to be present, owing to a business engagement, and sent regrets.

BROKE PAROLE AT NICHOLLS HOSPITAL.

Scarlet Fever Patient Leaves Hospital Grounds Before Stage of Contagion had Passed.

A young girl, aged about 18 years, was under treatment for scarlet fever in the contagious diseases wards of the Nicholls Hospital. She made a good recovery, and was allowed to take a walk in the grounds, but with the understanding, or, rather strict injunction, that she was not to leave them, as she was at that stage of convalescence, when infection is said to be most readily communicated. Being of the age of reasonable discretion, it was not thought that the young woman, knowing the danger resulting from contact with others, would have broke her parole, which confined her to the more secluded part of the grounds, and therefore no attendant was with her, as would have been the case with a patient of fewer years and less supposed discretion. But she disappeared, and though over twenty four hours have elapsed, her whereabouts is not yet known. The young woman left the precincts of the hospital against express orders, and is herself responsible for whatever untoward results may come to herself, by others, by her injudicious conduct.

MURRAY STREET MISSION BAND

Held Annual Picnic Saturday After noon at Jackson Park.

The members of the Mission Band in connection with the Murray street Baptist church, held their annual birthday picnic at Jackson Park on Saturday afternoon.

The weather was ideal for the purpose and the park never looked lovelier. Needless to say the young people took full advantage of the occasion, and spent a very happy time. It might be added that this Band sets the pace for all the bands of Ontario and Quebec, and contributes the largest amount to missions of all the Bands in the country.

The guests were received on their arrival by the president, Mrs. G. K. Martin, and the treasurer, Miss Cochrane, and were shortly afterwards photographed in a group by Mr. Raddon, the pastor, and Mrs. Bastow, being prominently seated in the midst. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bastow have always taken the greatest interest in the affairs of the Band, indeed it is largely owing to the constant care and support of Mrs. Bastow that the Band has attained its present gratifying position.

The usual sports were then indulged in, Mr. James Ellis making a splendid starter, Col. Edwards, a capital clerk of the course, and Mr. Geo. Cochrane and Mr. G. K. Martin officiating as handicapper and judge respectively. These offices were not sinecures by any means.

During the tea the president referred in feeling terms to the loss the Band is sustaining in the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Bastow, and Miss Ada Bradburn from town. Miss Bradburn has rendered faithful and greatly appreciated service as secretary of the Band for the past nine years, and was presented by the members of the Band with a handsome glass water set and set of berry dishes, as a token of the love and esteem in which she is held by all connected with the Band. Although taken by surprise and evidently deeply touched the young lady made an appropriate reply.

After more races and fun, the young people separated, all voting this year's outing as the best yet in every respect.

JUNE SESSION OF COUNTY COUNCIL

Opened This Afternoon at the County Buildings.

WARDEN PECK'S ADDRESS.

All the Members of the Council Present —Warden Refers to Important Matters.

The regular June session of the County Council of the County of Peterborough, opened this afternoon at the county buildings, with Warden E. A. Peck in the chair, and the following county councillors present:—Messrs. Moloney, Fitzgerald, Monogue, Curtis, Buck, Shaw, Hunter, Johnston and Moore.

Warden Peck delivered his address as follows:—

To the members of the County Council:—

Gentlemen,—As is expected of your Warden at this, the regular June meeting, I address you upon the more important matters which will probably occupy your attention during the session.

Before doing so I wish to express my gratification at the material progress made by this county in the past few years, and the bright prospects of an abundant harvest, meaning so much to all those residing within the jurisdiction of this county.

The separation of Ashburnham from the county jurisdiction by the annexation of that village to the Town of Peterborough, and the annexation also of a portion of the township of Smith to the town, renders it necessary that there should be an adjustment of the account between the town and county. Some steps have been taken to arrange these in an amicable way, and possibly some substantial progress to this end may be made before the end of this session.

Apart from the differences caused by the transfer of territory from the county to the town, the progress that the town has made in population should entitle the county to receive a larger annual payment by the town in respect of the administratoin of Justice than is now made, and it would, in my judgment, be advisable, to have the amount of the annual payment again made the subject of arbitration at the end of the year, when the period of the existing award will terminate.

The Engineer's report on the condition of the county bridges will, as usual, be laid before you for consideration.

The Pigeon Creek Bridge, which was broken into sections during the high water of the recent spring, has again been put into fair condition. There are other bridges which will soon need considerable repairs, or to be replaced by new structures.

My attention has been called to the presentment of the Grand Jury at the General Sessions, held a week ago, in which they refer to the plumbing and heating of the Court House as being unsatisfactory. This report will be laid before you, so that you can consider the matters complained of.

As you are aware, the Legislature by an Act passed last year has made it compulsory for every county to erect and establish a House of Refuge before the first day of January, 1906. To comply with this requirement, it would be necessary to commence the construction early next year, and I would suggest that steps be taken this year to procure a suitable site and make other preparations to proceed with the erection of the building. One-fourth of the cost of the building, up to $16,000, will be paid by the Province, provided the plans are approved by the Government, and the land procured upon which to erect the building contains at least 45 acres.

Your Committee appointed to confer with the Town Council regarding a site for the proposed new Armouries had a meeting with a Committee of that body in April, and a resolution was then adopted in favour of offering the Government a portion of the Central Park grounds as a site. I trust this will meet with the approval of the Council in the event of the Government looking upon the suggestion with favour. The proposed building is very much needed by the different corps having their headquarters in Peterborough, and will do much to stimulate a military spirit in the district contiguous to the town.

I regret to notice that the new Assessment Act makes no change in the mode of collection of non-resident taxes. The present law involves the preparation by the assessors of separate assessment rolls, one for resident, and the other for non-resident lands, and the preparation by the clerk of the local municipality of two collector's rolls also, namely, the resident, and non-resident rolls; the collection of the taxes on the resident rolls being by the local collector, and on the non-resident roll by the County Treasurer. I can see no reason why all the taxes should not be placed on one roll, and collected through local channels, the County Treasurer being chargeable with the collection of arrears of taxes only. The present system only tends to embarrass the officials, and to complicate the work.

The Act respecting the mode of election of County Councillors, which was passed last year, has been amended by an Act of the recent session of the Legislature. Last year's Act directed that in the event of a majority of the Councils of the local municipalities adopting resolutions to that effect, the County Councils should be composed of the Reeves of the local municipalities. The amendment requires that the question shall be now determined not by the Councils, but by the electors, if the Councils should see fit to refer the matter to them. If a change be made it would have the effect of increasing the number of County Councillors from ten to sixteen. In my opinion, any increase in the number would be a mistake, and legislation should be directed rather to reduce the number—which could be done by electing one only instead of two from each division—than to increase the number. Whatever feeling there may be on the part of a municipality which may happen temporarily not to have a County Councillor resident in its bounds, that they are neglected, I am sure the rights of every municipality have been fully guarded in the past and will be in the future, under the existing system.

MISS CLARK FATALLY BURNED

Miss Eva Hart of Toronto Attempts Suicide at St. Louis—Dean Henry of Toronto Drowned at Sherbrooke, Que.—School Girl Takes Carbolic Acid By Mistake—Brantford Boy Drowned.

Winnipeg, June 21.—Lightning wiped out the home of T. Kaczuk at Beaver Hills, near Edmonton, last Friday. During the storm a shaft struck the house, killing Mrs. Kaczuk and three children. Neighbors found the bodies in the ruins of the home next morning. Kaczuk, who is a Galician, is away working on a railway.

Young Lady Fatally Burned.

Napanee, June 21.—At Enterprise on Saturday morning Miss Ida Clark, aged 21 years, daughter of Willis Clark, lost her life. The young lady was heating oil on the stove to oil the floor, when it boiled over, igniting her clothing. She was so seriously burned that death relieved her terrible sufferings about two hours afterwards. The house and contents were consumed by the fire, only a very small portion of the parlor furniture being saved.

Eva Hart Attempts Suicide.

St. Louis, Mo., June 21.—Miss Eva Hart, aged 19, who recently eloped from Toronto with John Willis, yesterday attempted suicide by swallowing two bichcloride of mercury tablets. She is at a hospital recovering.

Saw His Son Sink.

Montreal, June 21.—A Sherbrooke, Que., despatch says Dean Henry of Toronto was drowned here Sunday. He jumped into the river to swim and was carried over the falls in sight of his parents and twenty others, who formed a picnic party. His friends tried to save him by poles, but he could not reach them. His body was later recovered in 12 feet of water, and will be interred in Sherbrooke. Henry was employed in Toronto, and was spending his vacation with his parents.

Carbolic Acid Taken By Mistake.

Clinton, June 21.—A very sudden death occurred here last night, when Bessie, the bright and pretty daughter of D. A. Forrester, died from the effects of carbolic acid. She rose early yesterday morning to pursue her studies, and, not feeling very well, took what she thought was a dose of pain killer, but which proved to be carbolic acid. When her father got up shortly after he found her unconscious on the sofa, with her books open beside her, evidently quite anxious to prepare for her examination to come off next week. Doctors were immediately called and about four o'clock yesterday afternoon she regained consciousness, and was thought to be gaining, but her heart was affected and she died at ten o'clock.

Little Boy Drowned.

Brantford, June 21.—Yesterday morning Robert McFarlane, a lad about eight years old, went into the river, saying he could swim. He got into deep water and was drowned. His body was recovered by a fireman in about ten minutes, and efforts were made to resuscitate him, but without effect.

THERE IS HOPE FOR EVERYONE

No Case of Dyspepsia Too Far Gone to be Beyond the Reach of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

If your indigestion has turned to Dyspepsia, and you have come to look on it as incurable, you are making a mistake. No case of Dyspepsia is hopeless so long as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are on hand.

Let the discouraged read the experience of Jackson Johnston, of Warkworth, Ont., and try again. Here it is:—

"My case was an exceptional one of Chronic Dyspepsia. I doctored for nearly twenty years, in which time I spent a large amount of money on doctors and medicines. About 20 years ago I was taken with Diarrhoea which became chronic. I continued to grow weak and was confined to bed for a time.

"A friend persuaded me to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and I have steadily improved up to the present time. I feel sure that anyone suffering from Dyspepsia who will give Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial will join me in praising this wonderful remedy.

Suprise to Doctors.

By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine.

A PRESENT FOR THE OLD FOLKS.

FOR THE STOMACH'S SAKE.

An eminent physician says, "human life should last five times the years it takes to mature"—thus if twenty-one is maturity we should live over a hundred years, but there are not many reach the century mark. A great deal more longevity would exist if the stomach did not get crippled and played out—That organ gets plenty of abuse, and is deserving of attention—It is the starting point of most ailments, and it needs the first attention when symptoms of sickness appear. If an elderly stomach can be kept working right, you may be sure of a ripe and contented old age, comparatively free from physical burdens. The great new discovery, ANTI-PILL, the Great System Treatment, has a grand effect in helping old and deranged stomachs. Any aged person who will address a Postal to Wilson-Fyle Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., will get a free trial bottle by return mail.

ROPEWALKER JENKINS

"THE CANADIAN BLONDIN" TELLS OF WONDROUS TIGHT ROPE FEATS.

Andrew Jenkins' Fame as an Aerial Performer Is Wide as America—Crossed the Niagara Gorge on a Velocipede in August, 1869—Difficulties Before the Accomplishment—Now Lives Retired in Prettiest House in Branchton.

In the pretty little village of Branchton, the prettiest home is that of Andrew Jenkins, and there he lives in quiet retirement, a man who in his day occupied a position very conspicuous in the public gaze. In Canada, from Montreal to Windsor, and in the United States from Portland to the Gulf of Mexico and west to the shadow of the mountains he was known, a fact which makes the seclusion of his later life all the more notable. But his retirement is one with all the earmarks of quiet content, and showe no longing for a return to the days so far distant, so far different.

"The Canadian Blondin" is the name by which Andrew Jenkins is best known, for he was a rope walker, an occupation which he followed for many years, and one in which he gained an international reputation. Treading a hempen pathway, he has crossed many a deep and dangerous ravine. An interesting record of the history of daring entertainment is the story of his performances, and the greatest of these was his bicycle ride on a rope suspended over Niagara gorge. This was in 1869, at a time when the bicycle had few adepts, and when men were less familiar with the perils of the gorge than now.

Taste for Adventure.

Born in Lincolnshire, Andrew Jenkins came to Branchton in 1851. He early showed a taste for travel and adventure. In 1862 he went to Cariboo, the first of British Columbia's gold fields. His next trip was to the comparatively unknown Isthmus of Panama.

He had returned to the Branchton home in 1865, and an event of that year decided his life work. That summer the great Blondin walked a rope across Niagara gorge. In the vast throng present was one young man, who was seized with the idea that he, too, could walk a rope. That man was Andrew Jenkins. He practiced for a time at his home, and not long after gave his first public performance at a country picnic. He was given the sobriquet "The Canadian Blondin," and the name stuck to him ever since. On Aug. 18 he gave an exhibition in Galt, which won him such high praise from the local papers that he soon arranged a list of over a dozen bookings. The tour started at Berlin and Waterloo, and all the important towns were included up to Walkerton and Owen Sound, and the closing engagement was at Fergus, where he walked over the gorge below the bridge with a rope forty feet above the rocks. The modest sum of $400 was all that the tour realized, but it was enough to make the young man look to rope walking as a permanent occupation.

For the two years following he confined his engagements to Ontario towns and cities, but in 1868 he extended his field and gave a series of exhibitions extending from Detroit to Milwaukee. At the latter place he opened with a private performance in St. Quentin's Park, at which his audience was wholly made up of civic officials and newspaper representatives. The public performances that followed were a tremendous success. On the 4th of July he gave an exhibition at Haas Park, Chicago, and here he got his first really great recognition. The reputation he won was such as to ensure his success. His Milwaukee performances, by the way, were repeated for seven consecutive seasons.

Crossed Gorge on Bike.

It was in August, 1869, that he came most prominently to Canadian notice. He resolved to cross a rope over the gorge by means of a bicycle, a means of travel then almost unknown. The loop-the-loop and flying leap were of course utterly unheard of; in fact, in his use of the bicycle as a means of aerial travel he was most assuredly the pioneer.

He made out plans of his machine and went to the Goldie & McCulloch Co. of Galt to have it made; but that firm, learning the purpose for which it was intended, refused to accept the contract, believing if they made the machine, they would be aiding in an extremely hazardous undertaking the outcome of which was more than likely to result fatally. After peddling the proposition, Prof. Jenkins at length had his bike made by a Hamilton firm. When he got home he proceeded to test it on a rope stretched from the ground to a tall tree top. He was able to mount the incline, and felt sure he could do the Niagara trip.

Great were the preparations. All the central portion of Ontario was billed, together with the border cities of New York. In the newspaper advertising, considerable difficulty was met. The Globe and other newspapers refused to accept the contract for the same reason that the Goldie & McCulloch Co. had refused to make his machine. Some journals commented editorially on the professor's undertaking, and they called upon the authorities to stop the foolhardy young man from riding to the certain death that awaited him. The Galt Reporter of Aug. 27, 1869, said of his performance:

Description of the Feat.

"Prof. Jenkins has for some time been making preparations to cross Niagara Falls in a manner the most astounding that has yet been attempted—that is, on a velocipede driven across a tight rope. This feat he successfully accomplished on Wednesday last in the presence of an immense concourse of spectators. He was announced to start on his journey at 8 o'clock, but a delay of half an hour took place owing to the desire of the 44th Battalion Volunteers to be present. In the meantime the professor mounted and submitted to the ordeal of photography. Several good pictures of him were obtained. It was not until twenty minutes to four o'clock that he set out on his bicycular journey.

"His departure was signalized by three shots from a revolver. The Galt brass band performed a short and lively air as he left the shore, at the conclusion of which all noises were hushed, and all eyes were turned on his movements. He progressed very rapidly and steadily down the Canadian grade, stopping in the middle to wave his hand to the people on the bridge. His signal was answered by the waving of hundreds of pocket handkerchiefs. As he commenced the ascent of the American grade, having a rise of one foot in ten, a gust of wind caught the bicycle and gave it a swinging motion which nearly upset it. But by a sudden and firm movement of the feet Jenkins succeeded in keeping his balance and stopped until the swaying had subsided. The ascent seemed to be a work of no little difficulty, for whether obliged to do so or not, he took three rests in its accomplishment. The whole time occupied was nine minutes."

It might be said that this machine was the first geared bicycle to be made in Canada, and long preceded the "safety," which it much resembled in construction. Prof Jenkins was the third person to cross Niagara Falls on a rope. Blondin and Leslie preceded him. He made a second journey over the Falls in 1870.

Fame in the States.

His performances in the States were given from Buffalo, Toledo and Cleveland in the north to New Orleans and Galveston in the south. At Rocky River he walked 100 feet above the rocks. It was at Taughannock he gave what he considers his most noteworthy performance. His rope was 1,000 feet long, and at the centre 865 feet above the earth. His longest engagement was ten weeks at the National Theatre, Cincinnati.

The carrying of people on his back was one of his favorite tricks, no less than 60 persons having submitted to the ordeal, 20 of whom were women. He once carried a man on one of his aerial tours who weighed 205 pounds, a feat the more astounding in that the professor is not a large man himself.

An unfortunate accident to his eyes ended his career as a rope walker. Though he sees very dimly, his intellectual eyes are bright and he looks back on the old days with a keen zest. His treasures are all mementoes of his past professional life.

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

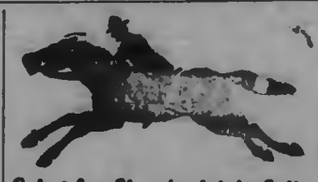
The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety. He cares nothing for the means to that end.

There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose hollow cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians—"There is no cure possible." Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what has cured thousands of suffering men and women?

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Uinta Co., Wyoming. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it had helped her so much she insisted on my trying his 'Golden Medical Discovery'—which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 185 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.



Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

And what do you s'pose
He dreamed about?

Perhaps you might Discover what

The dream could be.

And if you could

Don't.

Don't eat a pie with your knife. It might rust it. Borrow your neighbor's.

Don't sleep with your mouth open. Flies with a suicidal intent should not be encouraged.

Don't smoke cheap cigars—if another man is paying for them.

Don't wink at a girl. She may take it as an invitation to eat ice cream.

Don't laugh at your own jokes. Hire a man to laugh at them. It looks better.

Don't read your poetry to a gentleman friend. He may have had a notion to ask you to marry him.

Don't swear. It is not original.

NOVELTIES OF THE SEASON.

The Baby Hat—Long Shouldered Effects In Everything.

The baby hat made of lace ruffles has been so much copied in cheap materials that it will not be worn this summer by really smart women. In its place are semi-French sailor hats of shirred tulle lace and net combined with bands of tiny roses and French satin straw. These come with an accentuated roll, which is greater on one side to allow for a feather, which is fastened under the brim. In some cases this feather passes over the crown and is then run through a slit in the brim, so that the tip rests on the hair.

The long shouldered effect is more conspicuous than ever and is seen even on shirt waist costumes. A recent example in checked silk had the upper part of the sleeve run into a broad strap, which was then extended into the collar.

CREPE DE CHINE WAIST.

The cape effect has practically gone out of fashion, although a few modified forms are seen on imported gowns principally, though in the designs of yokes stitched down to within an inch or two of the edge.

The Dutch lace cap for night wear is quite the latest fashionable fad, which must not be confounded with the nightcap of our grandparents. It is composed of silk brocade finished round the face with a ruching of ribbon, while the lower part has a frill of old lace, one of its special features being that it gives to the hair the subtlest fragrance imaginable, merely a suggestion of a perfume. The scent comes from a special oil, the preparation of which is a secret, and is laid on a specially treated thin material, which is placed between the two layers of silk of which this cap is composed.

The picture shows a waist made of Irish lace and bias bands of crepe de chine. JUDIC CHOLLET.

QUAKERS MADE A CREDITABLE SHOWING.

Held Fast Deseronto Team Down to a Low Score on Saturday.

The Quaker football team, after going through the primary series of the Midland League, with a record of four wins, one loss and one tie to their credit, played Deseronto on Saturday at Tweed in a sudden death game in the semi-finals for the League championship, and lost by the score of 2-1. That a team organized this year, and many of the players in the game for the first time should have held a team like the Deseronto eleven down to such a close score is highly creditable. The Deseronto team comprises a number of players who have been in the game for years and know it perfectly, and the team as a whole is considered to be the best in Eastern Ontario. When these facts are remembered it is to the credit of the Quakers team that they made such a good showing. The team has played good ball, and the example set by it might be emulated with profit by older teams in the business. An account of the game furnished the Examiner reads as follows:—

The Quakers left on the 11.35 C.P.R. Saturday, for Tweed to play a sudden death game with Deseronto. The boys arrived in Tweed about 1.30 and at 2.30 before about 300 spectators, referee Pettigrew lined up the teams and the fun began. The Quaker line-up was as follows:—Goal, Belleghem; backs, Simpson and Doris; half-backs, McEwen, Fitzgerald and Guerin; forwards, Renton, Fitzgerald, Crowly, Guerin and Brooks; spare, Cundall.

For the first ten minutes of the game it looked as though it was Deseronto's game, both teams playing good ball, but the play was in the vicinity of the Quakers' goal, but still Deseronto failed to score until after 20 minutes' play, when a hot shot from the side managed to get through. Both teams were now playing fine ball, the Quakers playing the finest game of the season. After half time both teams went out to do or die and in five minutes' play J. Guerin scored the Quakers' only goal on a neat pass from C. Fitzgerald, making the score a tie, 1-1. From this on the game was pretty to watch from a spectator's standpoint. Until about 7 minutes before full time the score remained 1-1, with the Quakers playing all round the Deseronto defence, and as one of the Deseronto players expressed himself after the game, "We thought we were done for, as your forwards were setting a terrific pace, and your defence seemed impregnable." However, Deseronto secured a foul a short distance from goal and Richardson placed the ball through after a big skirmish in front of goal and to Richardson is due the winning of the game for Deseronto. Even with the score 2-1 against them, the Quakers played even better ball, but the Deseronto bunch knew their game, the whole team playing an entirely defence game, holding the score to 2-1 until time was called.

The Quakers have every praise for the treatment they received by the Deseronto team, every member of which acted like gentlemen and it was a pleasure to meet them either on or off the field.

NOTES.

You are good sports Quakers, win or lose.

An old Deseronto player remarked that it was the fastest and cleanest game he had ever witnessed.

The sensational play of the day was J. Guerin's rush from centre through the entire Deseronto defence.

The playing of the team individually cannot be particularised as every man played the best game put up this season.

The treatment of the Quaker boys at the Huyck House was all that could be desired.

The Deseronto eleven are good sports and gentlemen every one of them.

Although considerably handicapped, the Quakers saw the schedule to a finish and are now after the City Championship.

Ben and Mac say they can play flinch now.

Crowley and Sullivan expect a free bid to the picnic in Tweed on account of their excellent work after the game in the ticket line.

Peterborough may lose Jimmy, the wise old owl, as he has some intentions of removing to Tweed.

Moore and Brooks, it is reported, have already caused the Tweed Postmaster considerable extra work.

GOLF.

The fourth round for the Stratton Trophy is as follows:—
Garvin vs. Mulholland.
Neill vs. Burnham.
Dean or E. H. D. Hall, a bye.
The round must be finished by a week from to-morrow.

• • • •

The draws for the Innis Trophy will be published to-morrow.

• • • •

The Secretary of the local Golf Club, Mr. R. M. Hamilton, has received notice from the secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association that the annual general meeting of the Association will be held at the Club House of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, Montreal, on Saturday, July 2nd.

The privileges of the above named Club have very kindly been offered to all intending competitors from 25th June to 3rd of July, inclusive.

There will be the usual weekly tea at the club house on Thursday afternoon of this week.

LAWN TENNIS.

The fifteenth annual tournament of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, will be held on the Courts of the Queen's Royal Hotel, Niagara-on-the-Lake, on Tuesday, July 12th, and following days. The winner of the tournament will be called upon to play Mr. B. C. Wright, the present holder of the now historic Canadain Challenge Bowl, which has been up for competition since 1890. It is probable that some tennis players from Peterborough will attend the tournament, which is the great event in lawn tennis in Canada.

FOOTBALL.

The secretary of the Deseronto football team writing the secretary of the League says:—"We had a very fine contest, and found the Quakers to be very worthy opponents and perfect gentlemen."

• • • •

The Quakers will have a full practice to-morrow night at 6.45 at the Oval.

• • • •

According to a notice in last night's issue of the Examiner, a meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. to-night for the purpose of considering the advisability of arranging a series of past-season games in the Midland League, between the three teams from Peterborough to decide the City Championship. This was suggested to the Examiner by one of the teams, and the idea seems a good one. It will not entail any expense on any of the teams taking part in the series, and will increase the interest in the game. The three town teams in the League were in separate districts, and consequently did not meet in a League game, hence this series will give them an opportunity of testing their relative abilities.

BASEBALL.

There will be no admission fee to the Review-Examiner game to-night. It is merely an exhibition for the benefit of the general public who desire to see baseball played as it should be played.

In the Guild League last night Charlotte street won from St. Luke's at the latter's grounds by a score of 4—0 in the first half of the return game. Three innings were played. St. Luke's did good work in the field, but could do nothing with Roddy who pitched superb ball, shutting out his opponents without a hit or a run and striking out six of the nine men. He was given errorless support. Swanston also pitched good ball for St. Luke's. The return game will be played next Thursday. The teams were:—
St. Luke's—Swanston, P; Crane, c; Gibbs, 1b; Tighe, 2b; Crowe, ss; Gillespie, 3b; Armstrong, lf; Long, cf; Graham, rf.
Charlotte street — H. Roddy, p; Thornton, c; Jolliffe, 1b; Squires, 2b; E. Roddy, 3b; McWilliams, ss; Sanderson, lf; Carr, cf; Ryan, rf.
Umpire, H. R. H. Kenner.

All Saint's and George street teams played the first half of the return game in the Guild League last night, on the Benson street grounds, and the Methodists turned the tables on their opponents. In the first game All Saint's led by 10—0 in the first three innings, and the second half went to them by default, but last night a different tale was told. George street won in three innings by 7—1, and played gilt-edge ball, giving their pitcher, Mulhern splendid support, for the most part. Adamson, who did the twirling for All Saint's was batted freely, but the team did not accord him good support. Bullen was hit by a ball thrown to him at first and had to retire from the game.

The teams were:—
All Saint's—G. Campbell, c; Rickey, cf; C. Gilbert, lf; Bullen, 1b; Dusty, ss; L. Campbell, 3b; Nicholson, 2b; Adamson, p; Coleman, rf.
George street—Metheral, rf; Humbers, ss; Robertson, 1b; Mulhern, p; Parnell, cf; Dobbin, c; Mann, 2b; Miller, lf; Curtis, 3b.
Mr. Browne umpired, giving good satisfaction.

The fans in Toronto will now rejoice, Bill Massey, the veteran first baseman, will rejoin the team.

A. S. have been given to the teams for the occasion.

Flaherty, Manager Whitcroft's protege, who is now pitching for the Galt team in the Western League, is playing a great game. Since his advent on the team, it has reached the top of the ladder. Saturday, his team won by 7-6, with Flaherty in the box for the winners. The Reformer says:— Flaherty pitched for the locals, and although not letting himself out, owing to a sore arm, allowed only five hits, walked two and hit one man. His strike outs numbered 10." It adds that in no innings did more than four men face Flaherty.

• • • •

The return game between the George Street team and the B.A.C.A. nine will be played to-morrow night at the Benson street grounds. The Methodists are playing a good game now and the B.A.C.A. will have their work cut out to defeat them, but they are still confident.

LACROSSE.

The Executive of the Trent Valley Lacrosse League met here yesterday morning to consider a protest entered by Havelock against Madoc on the ground that a Madoc player was on the line-up who had not been granted a certificate. Evidence showed that Madoc had played a man by the name of Kirk, who had been refused a certificate by President Crowley, and had failed to put up the deposit of $25. As a consequence Havelock was given the game and Madoc was thrown out of the League.

The lacrosse game next Saturday between Hastings and the T.A.S. in the Trent Valley League should be a great contest. These teams played a tie game at Hastings last Saturday and another close struggle should result when the teams meet again. Keep the date in mind. A full turnout of T.A.S. players is asked for every evening this week.

"Reddy" McMillan whose name is not unfamiliar to those interested in sports in this vicinity is shining on the Cornwall Lacrosse team this summer, playing inside home. Regarding his work in a game with Montreal on Saturday the Herald says that "McMillan played a sterling game but he is really hot tempered."

Speaking of the work of Jack White, of last year's Port Hope team, in the game on Saturday between Tecumsehs and Brantford, the Telegram says:—"Irreverent youths made sundry noises, alleged to be an imitation of a warwhoop, every time big Indian John White neared the grand stand. But he heeded them not. His long reach and his long strike accomplished much work, and at times, in desperation, he ran down himself, in an effort to score. He was the one eastern star who earned his money."

RETURN OF THE RUSSIAN CRUISERS

Arrive Back in Vladivostock After a Successful Raid.

DETAIL OF THE WORK DONE

Japs Continue to Advance from Sulyen—Continuous Skirmishes Between Outposts—No Further Advance of Gen. Oku's Army Reported—Well Informed Russian Authority Places Vafangow Loss 6,500.

Vladivostock, June 22.—Lying in the harbor are the three Russian cruisers which have just returned from their successful raid in the Japan Sea and Straits of Corea. Vice-Admiral Besobrazoff took the squadron out on June 12. The first day the warships were fog-bound. They reached the Corean Straits, June 15, and were sighted and watched by a fast three-masted Japanese cruiser. Off Tsu Island the Russians pursued a vessel resembling a yacht, which escaped in shore.

They sank the Japanese transport Idzumi off Kotsu Island. The Idzumi was bringing back invalided soldiers from Port Dalny, 105 of whom were rescued by one of the Russian cruisers.

The Japanese transports Hitachi and Sado were next sighted, and soon after the Hitachi, which was filled with troops, disregarding the signal to stop, put on full speed. The Russian cruisers thereupon opened fire on the Hitachi, crippling her engines and setting her decks on fire.

Russian Loss 6,500.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—The reports of heavy fighting at Haicheng are denied by the general staff. The Japanese are continuing to advance from Siuyen, and there are continuous skirmishes between outposts, but no further advance of General Oku's army has been reported.

The Russian losses at the battle of Vafangow are turning out to be heavier as the reports of the various regiments come in. They are now placed by conservative official estimates at four thousand, but a usually well informed authority expects the total to be no less than 6,500.

War Correspondent Shot.

New York, June 22.—A cable message to The World, which was unsigned, but which The World says probably was forwarded by the American Legation at Pekin, announces the shooting of Col. Edwin Emerson, jr., one of The World's correspondents in the East, and conveyed the impression that he had been killed. The cable stated it was reported that Col. Emerson had been shot by retreating Russians who mistook him for a spy.

Garden Party.

PETERBOROUGH VERGING ON RAILWAY CENTRE.

Traffic Conditions Here Will Demand This in a Very Short Time.

The history of every large city either in Canada or the United States shows that the possession of railway and shipping facilities enter very largely into that growth and prosperity of those cities.

Peterborough is slowly, but nevertheless, surely becoming a railway town, not because of a desire on the part of any one particularly to make it so, but primarily because of the fact that the conditions demand it, and there are not wanting, those who make the claims that it will only be a matter of time, and not a long time either, before Peterborough will be made a divisional point on one, if not both of the railways now entering it.

Already the railways have recognised that the growing importance of the town, and its ever increasing business, demands greater railway accommodation, and the Grand Trunk System has made a step in the right direction in putting on the fast express between this town and Toronto, the terminal point for this service being Peterborough.

Not only do the railways find that in the matter of passenger traffic does Peterborough lead all other towns of anything like an equal size, but in the freight traffic this predominance is even more pronounced, and there are many cities in Ontario of a much larger population, which do not contribute nearly as largely to the freight carrying trade as Peterborough, and this fact alone, will doubtless have no inconsiderable influence in determining the railways to make Peterborough a divisional point, something that is bound to come sooner or later, by the very demands of the situation. Take a map and find on it the "railway towns," those in which divisional terminals are located, and you will find in every case that they are prosperous communities, the reason being that as a general thing railway employees are well paid, and they spend their money freely, not alone for the necessities, but also for luxuries, consequently in railway towns merchants are prospering, and tradesmen do a large business. St. Thomas, the city in Canada, in which a greater number of railway lines enter than in any other, is pointed out as one of the most prosperous and progressive of the smaller cities, and its success is wholly attributable to the fact that it is a railway town.

Peterborough is now served with two railways, and it does not seem probable that in the near future, at any rate, this number will be increased, at least, as far as steam railways are concerned, and there is no particular reason why a multiplicity of railways should be sought, so far as traffic conditions are concerned. The two lines can serve the town fairly well, and with only two there is a greater probability of one of them making Peterborough a divisional terminal. There are many advantages from a shipper's point of view in having this town made a division point, apart from the fact that it would bring a number of employees here. In divisional points through cars may be held for for loading without having to pay extra for them. Cars for shipping may be more easily procured, and numerous other advantages.

In the meantime Peterborough is growing, commercially, at a rapid rate, and it is only a matter of a short time until this town will be one of the railway centres of the province.

LORD DUNDONALD'S DEFENCE.

(The Globe.)

When the ordinary common-sense citizen has read Lord Dundonald's statement it will only increase his amazement that one who professes to have had his heart in the Canadian militia should have done it the damage of his defence. His Lordship informs the public that his attack on the Government was a line deliberately adopted by him in the spirit of a martyr to bring about reform. It was a curious thing, therefore, that he allowed his friends to run about the Montreal newspaper offices begging that all references to his speech should be suppressed. What his Lordship describes as grievances are mainly points upon which the responsible Minister and he had failed to agree. Lord Dundonald complains that Sir Frederick Borden did not adopt suggestions for the institution of an educational scheme for the instruction of officers; for the procuring of an artillery range; for purchasing training grounds; for the establishment of several training camps. Well, what of it? The Minister is not bound in hot haste to put into practice every suggestion that the General Officer Commanding may make. Some of the matters which his Lordship cites are, unless we are much mistaken, in process of being realized. As to training grounds, for example, has not Sir Frederick Borden actually had proposed sites under advisement? It is possible that such things do not move as fast as Lord Dundonald would desire, but there is a steady improvement in the militia force, and if his Lordship had even a modicum of administrative qualities he would have recognized the conditions which no Minister of Militia can ignore and been content to move along the path of progress as rapidly as circumstances will allow.

How little Lord Dundonald understands this country appears in his references to Sir Frederick Borden's refusal to make public the whole of his first annual report as General Officer Commanding. The right of the Minister of Militia to say how much of his subordinate's report shall see the light is surely not brought in question. Reports of the General Officer Commanding have frequently been published pointing out serious defects in our militia. Such reports serve a useful purpose. They help to awaken public opinion and lead it to be ready to support more liberal appropriations for the purposes of defence. But the Minister is responsible for what shall be published, and would be blameable if anything were published that would not be helpful, but quite the reverse. As to what passages Sir Frederick Borden decided to treat as confidential we, of course, have no official information, but it was quite apparent from a debate which took place in Parliament last year that several members of the Opposition had been favoured with intimations of what the report contained. From these sources it has leaked out that Lord Dundonald advised an expenditure on armaments and armouries that aggregated a sum which was variously estimated at from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000. As we understand it, Canada was to assume a most aggressive attitude. Great fortresses were to be built along our borders, and if his Lordship had had his way, we may presume that the jingoes in the United States would have replied with fortresses five times as formidable, so that within a few years the borders between these two peaceful nations of this western hemisphere would have resembled that between France and her neighbours in the time of Louis XIV.

It may be admitted that owing to Sir Frederick Borden's suppressal of these extravagant proposals the public has no accurrate information as to what the General Officer's proposals were, but enough was elicited in the debate in Parliament to show that they called for an expenditure which at present the Canadian people would never sanction, and which, if issued under the apparent approval of the Minister of Militia, would have led to serious doubts as to his judgment and general sanity. Now that the matter has been brought up by Lord Dundonald himself it may be useful to publish the suppressed paragraphs, and thus afford the people an opportunity of judging whether Sir Frederick Borden or Lord Dundonald was the safer person to have the supreme word in the management of our military affairs. When that is done it may be easier to decide whether it was not necessary that some cool head should keep a sharp supervision over his Lordship's recommendations and proposals.

As a final word, let us strongly draw the attention of the reader to the fact that the original charge against the Government, was that it is striving to run the militia on a political basis. What proof does Lord Dundonald furnish of this? Absolutely none whatever. His defence or indictment, or whatever it may be called, is mainly concerned about the fact that the Minister of Militia would not adopt all his suggestions, and when we consider that in the first year of his incumbency of his office he jauntily proposes to expend thirty millions of dollars or thereabouts on armaments and armouries, we may be thankful that we have somebody not only to blue-pencil his reports, but to hide them altogether when necessary. Sir Frederick did Lord Dundonald a service when he pigeon-holed that report, and it shows how little he has learned of the temper of this country during his two years residence in it that he should now drag it into the light. The Canadian people may not do all that some people expect of them in the way of military outlays, but those of them who think that thirty millions expended in canals and railways would make the country stronger than if sunk in cannons and fortresses may be nearer right after all.

EFFECTIVE ADMINSTRATION.

The St. Thomas Journal says:—"The administration of the Provincial License Department is no easy task, but from all appearances, Hon. J. R. Stratton is satisfying those persons anxious to have the law enforced. We have heard several very active temperance workers declare recently that Mr. Stratton has been the best man in charge of this department in Ontario's history. Mr. Stratton is eager to administer the law without fear or favour. He has been changing inspectors in a good many ridings recently in order that he may secure men who will be fearless in their efforts to have the law fulfilled. In Collingwood only the other day, he appointed Mr. Spencer, who was recently a prohibition candidate in West Simcoe, as license inspector for that town. Temperance people cannot very well criticize a cabinet minister who is eager enough to enforce the law as to appoint a Prohibitionist as an official.

"Where an official is not diligent, once Mr. Stratton's attention is directed, the individual either becomes more active in looking after the law or quits his position. This has been the case in more instances than one. Not long ago at the London Methodist Conference, Rev. Dr. Chown, the leader of the church's temperance forces, commended very strongly Mr. Stratton's administration of the law. "It is quite apparent the license law is being enforced more effectively now than at any other time."

Second Gibraltar Bought.

Madrid, June 21.—Various papers state that they understand the Spanish Government has sold to an English official the Island of Fraile, which lies opposite Aguilas, in the Province of Murcia. The island has a superficial area of ten acres, and is bombastically called the second Gibraltar, and is a fine strategic position. It is stated that the place is to be fortified. The Government is to be asked for an explanation.

Not Favorable.

London, June 21.—Earl Percy, the Under Foreign Secretary, replying to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, said that representations had been made to the United States regarding the disadvantage under which West Indian sugars labored in the markets of the United States, as compared with Cuban sugars, but no reply had been received indicating a prospect of any arrangement more favorable to British trade.

Canada's Taxidermist Dead.

Victoria, B. C., June 21.—John Fannin, founder and for many years curator of the Fannin's Natural History Museum in Victoria, died yesterday, aged 66 years. He was a native of Kemptville, Ont., and one of the earliest pioneers of British Columbia, having walked across the plains in 1862. He was reckoned the most skillful taxidermist in Canada, and had no superior on the coast as a hunter.

POLITICAL OPPONENTS BACK HON. MR. FISHER

Say Minister Did not go far Enough in Dundonald Case.

Hon. Mr. Fisher's Action Influenced by Interest in the Regiment.

One of the chief points of attack by Conservatives upon Hon. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, in connection with Lord Dundonald and the organization of the Eastern township regiments, have consisted in charges of interference for political purposes. As a matter of fact Hon. Mr. Fisher's "interference" for political effect consisted in his declining the recommendations by Lord Dundonald ,and himself recommending in his place of a Conservative in politics. It also appears that in the spot where local opinion is best informed, prominent Conservatives uphold the Minister of Agriculture's position on the matter, as will be seen by the following despatch:—

Montreal, June 18.—In this end of the country there appears to be little interest taken in the dismissal of Lord Dundonald. That was regarded as inevitable from the outset. Interest lies in the question, will this agitation lead to the disruption of the entire regiment, or will the Sweetsburg squadron be transferred back to Brome County? This query is so important that Lord Dundonald is relegated to a second place. Interest in the new regiment is not a one-party affair. The people of Bedford district are pleased as a rule with the thought of having a cavalry regiment of their own, and would not want to see the organization fall through.

Local feeling sides with the Minister of Agriculture. The blame for the present trouble is not placed on him. It is safe to say he will not lose one vote either in Missiquoi or Brome for the stand he has taken, and there are many Conservatives who state that if this militia incident is made a party fight they will support Mr. Fisher.

FISHER DID RIGHT.

How local feeling runs is best shown by the following opinions of leading Conservatives. Mr. J. A. Cameron, who is the leading Conservative worker in Adamsville, said: "The one fault I have to find with Mr. Fisher is that he did not interfere more. I have always opposed him politically, and expect to do so again, but in this case I am compelled to admit that he did nothing wrong, and any attempt to make political capital out of the incident in Brome would be a mistake. When the squadron was being organized in Brome, there was no politics mentioned. I was offered second in command. We didn't canvass the list until a few days ago, and we found there were four Liberals and three Conservatives. Mr. Fisher would have been justified in blocking the transfer of the squadron from Brome and Sweetsburg, and if he had done so, this trouble over the family compact would not have arisen. That he tried to avoid unnecessary political friction is shown by the fact that he proposed a leading Conservative to take the place of Dr. Pickell."

SCRUPULOUSLY FAIR.

Dr. Crothers, Stanbridge East: "I have been a life-long Conservative, but I am prepared to admit that Mr. Fisher's course was dictated by the best interests of the regiment. In any case, when the Conservatives were in power for nearly twenty years, the chief military appointments went to Conservatives, as a matter of course, and the Liberals stood their medicine well. We should not object if things went the other way for a while now. But Mr. Fisher has been scrupulously fair. He let five Conservative names pass while he knew they were strong opponents of his, and always had been. He was doing nothing amiss, and the Conservative press is making a mistake in attempting to make campaign material out of it."

NERVOUS TROUBLES

Promptly and Permanently Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is no torture more acute and intolerable than nervousness. A nervous person is in a state of constant irritation by day and sleeplessness by night. The sufferer starts at every noise, is shaky, depressed, and, although in a constantly exhausted state, is unable to sit or lie still. If you are nervous or worried or suffer from a combination of langour and irritation you need a nerve tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are absolutely the best thing in the world for you. You can only get rid of nervousness through feeding your nerves with rich, red blood, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. There is no doubt about this—thousands can testify to the blood-making, nerve-restoring qualities of these pills. St. Vitus dance is one of the most severe forms of nervousness, and Mrs. H. Hovenor, of Gravenhurst, Ont., tells how these pills cured her little boy. She says: "At the age of eight my little boy was attacked with St. Vitus dance, from which he suffered in a severe form. His nerves twitched to such an extent that he was almost helpless, and had to be constantly watched. He was under several doctors at different times, but they did not help him, so I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these have completely cured him, and now not a sign of the trouble remains."

When you buy these pills always look at the box and see that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is printed on the wrapper, and refuse to take anything else. You can get these pills from all medicine dealers or they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Coronation Oath.

London, June 21.—The Duke of Norfolk will move a resolution in the House of Lords to-day expressing the opinion that the declaration against transubstantiation should be expunged from the coronation oath, as being "deeply and needlessly offensive" to the King's Roman Catholic subjects.

HE ASKS TO RETIRE

Auditor-General Applies for Superannuation.

ELECTION ACT AMENDMENT

Premier Makes Statement Which Brings Prorogation Within Measurable Distance—No Legislation Regarding Voters' Lists—Intention to Start a Naval Militia—Canada's Flag Ordered Down in Argentine.

Ottawa, June 22.—Mr. J. Lorne Macdougall, Auditor-General of Canada since August 1, 1878, yesterday sent an application for superannuation, to take effect July 1st. In the preface to his last annual report the Auditor-General suggested a number of changes to the audit act, and forecasted his approaching retirement in the following paragraph: "The magnitude and number of the transactions going through this office are now so increased that I feel Parliament should seriously consider also the amendment of the audit act along the other lines suggested in a former report to enable this office to cope with the expansion of the business of the country. I feel so strongly on this point that if Parliament does not see its way to bring the matter up this session I shall at the end of this session ask to be superannuated." Last night Mr. Macdougall said that he had embodied in a letter to the Government his reasons for asking for superannuation. "They were substantially as set forth in my report," said he. "I asked for changes that would enable me to cope with the growing business of the country, and stated that if these were not granted I should ask to be superannuated at the end of the session. It was quite evident from the remarks of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fitzpatrick during the debate on Mr. Lennox's motion that the Government do not propose to introduce any legislation on the lines suggested by me, and therefore I have asked to be superannuated on July 1st."

AUDITOR-GENERAL J. LORNE MACDOUGALL.

ELECTION ACT AMENDMENT.

No Legislation Respecting Voters' Lists—End of the Session Near.

Ottawa, June 22.—Prorogation was generally regarded as within measurable distance last evening, as a result of the announcement of the Premier yesterday afternoon in reference to the legislation which the Government still have to bring down. Sir Wilfrid intimated that the proposed amendments to the election act would be of a very light character, and that it was not the intention to introduce legislation respecting the voters' list in any of the Provinces. This announcement dissipated the threats which have been heard in the corridors that the House would be kept in session until the snow flies. Mr. Prefontaine, Minister of Marine, in supply, reiterated the intention of the Government to establish a naval militia, and affirmed, in reply to a question by Mr. Bourassa whether the Government would see that the Canadian flag was recognized, that if there was any remedy for such cases as recently occurred in an Argentine port this Government would see that it was applied. A number of Government bills were disposed of, and the remainder of the day was spent in supply on the estimates of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

The following bills were introduced:

Respecting the New Brunswick Southern Railway—Mr. Gibson.

Respecting the Rio de Janeiro Light & Power Company—Mr. Alex. Johnston.

The bill amending the Exchequer Court Act was read a third time. It was amended at Mr. Fitzpatrick's suggestion to give the Crown the right of appeal from Exchequer Court judgments to the Supreme Court in all cases.

The bill amending the Steamboat Inspection Act was amended to make the inspection of gasoline and naptha launches optional. The inspector may be required to make the inspection, but no compulsion is imposed on the owners.

The House rose shortly after midnight.

Premier Needed a Rest.

Toronto, June 22.—Premier Ross leaves this afternoon for Hot Springs, Virginia, where he will remain till Aug. 1. "Whether my visit will be extended beyond that time remains to be seen," he concluded. Hon. J. M. Gibson said that the statement attributed to him about the Premier's health was rather too strong. Except for his rheumatism, and the natural fatigue following the hard work of the session, Mr. Ross was in fairly good health.

SHOT HIS FATHER DEAD,

Northwest Farmer Named Stewart, Beating His Wife, Killed By His Son After Due Warning.

Winnipeg, June 22.—A special despatch from Saskatoon, N. W. T., says:

A man of the name of Stewart, living at Eagle Creek, thirty-seven miles from here, has been shot by his young son. A fatal dispute was the cause. The father in a fit of anger started beating his wife, and his son threatened to shoot him unless he desisted.

Stewart took no heed, and the boy, maddened by his mother's screams, grabbed his father's shot-gun from the rack on the wall and emptied the whole charge into him at the distance of a foot. Stewart died almost at once.

The neighbors brought word to the police, who have gone out to the scene of the tragedy for the purpose of arresting the boy.

An inquest will be held immediately on the arrival of the coroner.

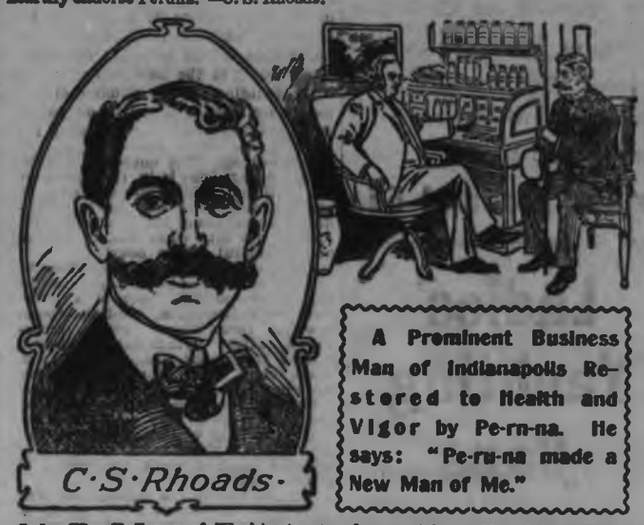
FOR SYSTEMIC CATARRH

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

C. S. Rhoads, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"For the past two years I have hardly known what it was to have a sweet, restful night's sleep. Cares and overwork seemed to weigh me down more than it should or would had I been able to get my proper rest. My doctor was unable to help me and ordered me South for a complete rest and change. As this was simply out of the question, and as I had heard several of the men under me speak of how much Peruna had helped them, I decided to try it and am glad indeed that I did. Six bottles made a new man of me. I eat well, sleep well and get up feeling refreshed and rested.

"My official duties are not half so hard and I certainly have good reasons to heartily endorse Peruna."—C. S. Rhoads.



A Prominent Business Man of Indianapolis Restored to Health and Vigor by Pe-ru-na. He says: "Pe-ru-na made a New Man of Me."

Judge Wm. T. Zenor, of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital street, Washington, D. C.:

"I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions."—Wm. T. Zenor.

Mrs. Amanda Morrill, 120 Reid street, Elizabeth, N. J., writes:

"I have been sick over two years with nervous prostration and general debility, and heart trouble. Have had four doctors; all said that I could not get well. I had not walked a step in nine months, suffering with partial paralysis and palpitation of the heart every other day, and had become so reduced in flesh as to be a mere skeleton, weighing only 85 pounds.

"Up to this date I have taken Peruna for seven months. It has saved my life as I can safely testify. I have not felt so well in five years, having walked over one mile without ill result, and have also gained thirty pounds since commencing to take Peruna. In fact, I cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. Amanda Morrill.

Peruna never fails to prevent systemic catarrh or nervous prostration if taken in time. Peruna is the most prompt and permanent cure for all cases of nervous prostration caused by systemic catarrh known to the medical profession.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

I. W. C. A. BUILDING WILL BE RUSHED.

New Strucuure on Simcoe and Aly mer Streets to be Completed Early in 1905.

The Public and Home Departments will be well Equipped—Accomadation for Fifty Young Woman.

The Young Women's Christian Association building to be erected on the corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets, has been begun, the contract having been let to Messrs. McIntyre and Hartley. The contractors promise as rapid progress as is possible in the construction of a building of thorough workmanship, and it is hoped that it will be ready for occupation early in the new year.

The building will be situated eleven feet from Simcoe street and seven from Aylmer, its dimensions being 119 by 63 feet. Both entrances are of Simcoe street. The entrance to the public department is in the centre of the building, while the entrance to the boarding home is from a verandah running along the east side, and looking out into what will be a large and beautiful tennis court.

The public and home departments are of course entirely separate. In teh public portion there si a large hall with fire-place, reading room, drawing room, class rooms, secretary's offices, gymnasium, domestic science equipment, etc., while in the home department there is a cosy drawing room, commodious dining room and kitchens, and accommodation for at least fifty young women.

The building will no doubt be unusually complete and admirably adapted for the work for which it is intended.

Any friends of the association who would care to examine the plans of the building may always do so at the rooms on George street.

ALL KINDS OF MONEY AT THE POLICE COURT

A Fine of two Dollars and Costs in all Dog Tag Cases.

The police are doing a great stroke of business these days in the line of looting after the delinquents in purchasing dog tags. This may seem an old story but there is a different story to tell now for all cases come before the Magistrate and it costs the parties just $5.60 instead of $1.00 had they bought their tag at the propert time. This morning there were four cases up for consideration, and in each instance a fine of $2 and $2.60 costs was imposed with an order that either the dog must be disposed of or a tag purchased. This it will be seen is a rather expensive piece of business, but as the police have now launched into the business every case in future will receive a similar dose and each canine who is seen minus a tag will be traced to its owner, and its owner traced to the Magistrate.

TAKING TOO SHORT A CURVE CORNER GEORGE AND SMITH

The Turn of the Street Car tracks at this Point Said to be too Close to Pavement.

The attention of the Examiner has been directed to an undesirable matter in reference to the position of the tracks of the electric railway at present on the corner of Smith and George streets. It is stated that the turn of the track from George on to Smith street is laid too close to the curb, leaving barely space enough for a team to pass between the track and the curb. This is held to be dangerous, and it is suggested that when the tracks are being gone over, the road might be shifted to the middle line of the street. A street railway is sufficiently trying to nervous horses when the largest space for the play of their excited movements is left on each side of the line. When readjusting the old track at the point mentioned, the undesirable condition complained of might be remedied.

PETERBORO FAIR ASKS FOR GRANT

Proceedings of the County Council—No Sessional Clerk Appointed—A Deputation

TUESDAY AFTERNOON'S SESSION.

The reading of the Warden's address at yesterday afternoon's session of the County Council, occupied the greater part of the time of the session.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved, seconded by Mr. Moloney, that the Warden's address be referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.—Carried.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved that Mr. R. P. Watt be appointed Sessional Clerk for the session, Mr. Moore moving in amendment that Mr. R. F. McWilliams be the clerk.

Mr. Curtis asked whether it was not the duty of the County Clerk to attend to the sessional work, and the Warden replying, said that if the Clerk could give his whole time to the work of the session, the duties of the session could be attended to by the clerk, but at it was at present, when deputations waited upon the council the duties of the Clerk required that he give attention to them.

Mr. Fitzgerald thought that the county must be getting poor if it could not afford to pay a sessional clerk.

Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was not seconded, and it was withdrawn.

Mr. Moore then moved that Mr. R. F. McWilliams be appointed sessional clerk at $3 a day.

Mr. Hunter moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Fitzgerald, that the present clerk be required to do the sessional clerk's work without any additional salary.

The amendment was carried.

A deputation from Emily and Ennismore waited on the council. Mr. Wm. Harrison presented a petition asking that a union school section be formed out of portions of Emily and Ennismore. Mr. Harrison stated that the Ennismore council had refused their request, although the Emily council had signified its intention of granting the request, if Ennismore were willing. He stated that some of the scholars had to go five miles to the school, and they wished a new school built.

Mr. Hunter moved that the petition be referred to the Committee on Schools, which was carried.

The council then adjourned and went into committee.

At the Wednesday afternoon's session of the County Council, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles addressed the Council on behalf of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, asking that a grant be given to the Exhibition by the Council. This year no subscriptions are being asked from private parties, and since this was the case he hoped the Council would double the grant made last year, which was $100. This year the prize list is being increased, and he thought that no county fair in the province offered as liberal prizes. Last year the Society came out ahead, but the expenses were very large, and the attendance was not as large as it should be. Special attention is being paid to breeders, and he thought that he was not asking too much when he asked for $200 from the county.

The request, on motion of Mr. Curtis was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Committee on the Warden's address then presented the report through Mr. Hunter, as follows:—

The Committee on the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:—

Your Committee recommend (1) That the matter referred to in paragraph 4 of the address be referred to the committee on Appointments. (2) That paragraph 5 be referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee. (4) That paragraph 6 be referred to the County Property Committee. (5) That paragraph 7 be referred to the Finance Committee. (6) That paragraph 8 be referred to the Joint Committee. (7) That paragraph 9 be referred to the Committee on Petitions. (8) That paragraph 10 be referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Hunter was recommended as Chairman of the Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Moore asked that the Council grant $50 towards the improvement of the 9th line in Dummer, on condition that the Provincial Government grant $200, and the township $50 to this purpose, and the grant was authorized on vote of the council.

The Council then adjourned and went into Committee.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Nuptials of Miss Marie Lajeunesse and Mr. A. M. Dorris. This Morning

At St. Peter's cathedral this morning at nine o'clock a pretty wedding was solemnized when Miss Marie Lajeunesse, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lajeunesse, 15 Louis street, was made the bride of Mr. Albert M. Dorris, of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

The bride who entered the church on the arm of her father, was very handsomely attired in a gown of cream loiseine over cream taffeta silk and wore a tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses with long silk streams.

The bridesmaid, Miss Maud St. Denis, of Toronto, was attired in a gown of silver gray tamolene silk, and wore a white chiffon picture hat. Her bouquet was one of pink roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. Archibald Barbeau, of Sault Ste. Marie, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony about forty guests sat down to a delicious wedding dejeuner.

The many beautiful presents, of which the bride was the recipient were evidences of the high esteem she enjoys among a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorris left on the 2.05 G.T.R. train for Kingston and Cape Vincent, and will reside in Peterborough on their return.

EXAMINER WON DECISIVE VICTORY

Defeated the Review at Baseball Last Night by 18—1.

Losers were Never in the Hunt—Only Three Innings were Played—Some of the Features.

Is there anything at all the Review can play? If so, whisper it gently for it isn't baseball. No, ye Gods, for it was demonstrated to the hearty satisfaction of the two thousand or so spectators which thronged the Murray street grounds last evening, that the Review has about the punkest bunch of would-be baseball players that ever attempted to toss a spheroid. What was the score? It's really cruel to say it, but the score was 18-1 in favour of the Examiner. Looks better like this EIGHTEEN to ONE. This was the score at the third innings when the winners were at bat, swatting the leather all over the lot; the gentle rain began to decend and Umpire Kenner bawled out "The game is over, the Examiner wins." There were two men out and the bases full and a heavy hitter at bat, and the dear only knows how many more runs would have crossed the pan before the side had been retired. But the winners were content with their lead and needless to say, the Review rejoiced that the agony was concluded.

The Examiner team first decided to shut out their opponents, but in the last innings had compassion on their contemporaries who looked so dreary, downcast, disheartened, disorganized, dismal, disappointed and all the rest that a run was presented to them just to show there was no ill-feeling. During the game only two of the losers saw what first base even looked like, and one of these was soon retired by a fast double play. As Moore put it "Our fellows couldn't hit a flock of barns with a hay rake" and he wasn't far astray.

It was easy picking for the Exams, yea, mighty easy.

The winners team was simply fit for National League Company. Hutchinson behind the bat fully electrified the fans by his great work in this capacity; while at the bat and in running bases he was the whole thing. He gave the pitcher noble support as did all the rest of the team. Paxman gathered in everything at first bag and soaked the spheres with a vengeance every time he came to bat. Richeau played a star game at second, grabbing up all kinds of grounders, while Gillman at short played a perfect game, batting like a fiend. Glover was a host in himself at third, covering all kinds of territory; while on bases he was like a whirlwind. The outfield, Long, Graham and Scriver had no chance in the field, but each batted and stole bases like veterans, punching the leather right on the nose for keeps. In fact the whole team was a swell one.

The Review team was awfully amusing and is looked upon as the highest joke ever sprung. Alfie Augustus Smith essayed to perform on the slab, but he says once is enough for him,—so there. His curves (??) come floating in like a sweet summer breeze, and when he managed to throw the ball in the vicinity of the plate, the Examiner stalwarts slugged it all over the community, and the outfields had a heartrending time. Sammie Samanthia Moore didn't see why he couldn't catch as well as anyone else so he tried his luck with the mask and big mit. But when one of Hutchinson's fouls landed on the region of Sam's solar plexus, he refused to continue and Wilson exchanged places with him. Wilson it must be said did good work at both positions. The rest of the bunch contented themselves with chasing the long hits and were seldom heard of otherwise.

The Review went first to bat but went out in order. Then the fun began. Glover singled neatly to left and Richeau banged out a hot one to centre field. Jolliffe followed with a hit and two runs went in, the latter scoring on Paxman's corking drive for two sacks. Hutchinson laid down an elegant bunt and Scriver waited for two wide ones. Long cracked out a neat hit and everybody crossed the plate on Gillman's beautiful smash for three sacks. Graham followed with a line drive to deep centre and scored on Glover's second hit. Richeau came along with another hit and Jolliffe did likewise and everybody scored. As the score was now 11-0, the Exam got out.

The Review again went out in one, two, three order, and the winners started in again. Paxman laced out a sizzler, Hutchinson planted a safe one into left garden and Scriver brought them both home by a long hit. Long made a nice sacrifice to vary things and Gillman followed with another hit, scoring Scriver. Graham punched the leather for two bases, sending in another run. The score was now 13-0, so the Examiner got out.

For the Review, Hulf, the Modern Printer, the Review's dark horse, got to first somehow and scored eventually as the losers said they wouldn't play if they didn't get a run soon. The next three, Smith, Moore and Caniff were easy victims.

For the Examiner, Glover beat out a hunt, Richeau followed with a hit and Jolliffe reached first by a similar performance. Paxman banged out a daisy and Hutchinson made a three bagger and three runs came in. The rain then began to descend after the next two were out and the game was called. Some say the score was 18-1, but 18-1 is good enough.

The teams were like this:—

Review,—Moore, c. and 1 b.; Smith, p.; Wilson, 1 b. and c.; Caniff, 2 b.; Henley, 3 b.; Jones, s. s.; Hubbs, r. f.; Pearson, l. f.; Hulf, c. f.

Examiner,—Hutchinson, c.; Jolliffe, p.; Paxman, 1 b.; Richeau, 2 b.; Glover, 3 b.; Gilman, s. s.; Graham, l. f.; Scriver, c. f.; Long, r. f.

Score by innings:—

				R.	H.	E.
Examiner	4	3	11	18	23	0
Review	0	0	1	1	0	8

Mr. H. B. H. Kenner, baseballically known as "Silk" handled the indicator to the entire satisfaction of both teams. He says he has umpired some pretty fast games but never saw such a fine bunch as the winners. We refrain from quoting his opinion of the losers.

A WORD OF CONSOLATION.

Doesn't it look nice in print—Examiner 18, Review 1.

Most of the Review team are to-day able to sit up and notice.

That score was even worse than the hockey matches last winter.

The date of the return game will be announced later,—in the Review.

Moore says he never did like baseball. Croquet is far more to this taste.

The "Rochester" man on the Review team created a favourable impression.

Hutchinson's coaching and sliding to bases had a great deal to do with the victory.

The teams wish to thank the T.A.S. for the kind use of their grounds for the occasion.

The game was late in starting, owing to the slow arrival of Moore, who was out for tea.

The batting average of the Review resembles a row of doughnuts. Something like this:—0000.

An interview from Manager Moore of the defeated nine appears in another column.

Smith has his arm in plaster Paris to-day. The poor boy did look distressed during the game.

"If I could only have reached first, I'd have shown you a thing or two about base running" remarked Moore, heaving a deep sigh.

The Examiner has been asked not to mention the fact that the Review sold the complete baseball outfit to some kids after the game.

A Review man never got farther than second base. It was Hulf, the Modern Printer, who got their only run —or rather to whom the Examiner presented a run.

The Review boys had lofty ambitions. Their strongest forte was in hurling the ball anywhere between 18 and 31 feet over the baseman's head.

Exactly two home runs, eight three-baggers, four two-base hits and five singles were made off Smith's delivery in three innings. This was outside of six bases on balls.

It is reported that the Review nine after the brilliant showing of last evening, has issued a challenge to the Kindergarten of the Central School to play a game of "Tick-tack-too." They are after "Moore" worlds to conquer.

FOR SALE.—A baseball outfit — a mask, a bat, a finger mit and a ball (with the cover knocked off). Outfit has been used only once. The owners have no "Moore" use for it, and don't know why it was ever invented. Will be sold dead cheap. Apply at the Review office.

LACROSSE TEAM STILL IN THE GAME

Will Play Lindsay a League Match Here on Friday.

Decided Last Night to Continue in O. L. A. Series—Will Play a Home-brew Team—Revival in Lacrosse

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club held a revival meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last evening, and the results were most gratifying. There was a large turn out of members and players and it was the general opinion that the team should continue playing in the Intermediate Series of the O. L. A., as there was plenty of material in town to make a creditable showing, if not to win out this district, at least. The fact that the boys played such a good game against Orillia on Thursday last was very encouraging to the team, and the boys now feel that with a little strengthening and some practice they could give the fast northern team a warmer argument. The team will be much strengthened by the addition of two or three of the best local players who were not in the game on Thursday, and with some hard consistent practice, there will be a team representing Peterborough which will be a credit to the town.

The team will play its first League game here with Lindsay on Friday

THE FRUIT GROWERS

Present Their Grievances to the Railway Commission.

FARMERS' CASE GENERALLY

Basis of Freight Rates—Farmers Want Them Based on Railway Properties—Losses Caused By Delay and Lack of Equipment—Fruit Growers Must Have Better Treatment or Go Out of Business.

Toronto, June 22.—Yesterday's sitting of the Railway Commission was practically monopolized by the farmers and fruit growers of the Ontario peninsula, who presented a long series of complaints regarding the excessive freight rates charged by the railway companies and the lack of proper service and equipment. The fruit growers and farmers sent the following deputation: Ontario and Niagara District Fruit Association—W. H. Bunting, president Fruit Growers' Association; E. D. Smith, M.P., H. W. Dawson, A. H. Pettit, Robert Thompson, Mr. Vandusen. International Apple Shippers' Association—Mayor R. J. Graham of Belleville. Dominion Grange—Past Master George E. Fisher. Farmers' Association—J. Lockie Wilson, president.

Farmers' Case Generally.

Their case was opened by W. D. Gregory, who began by referring to the district represented by these organizations as the garden of Canada and as providing agricultural traffic equal to that of any other section of the continent. The progress made by the Canadian roads was greater relatively than that of any American line. The geographical position of Ontario enables a large share of what might be called international traffic to be obtained. Traffic rates should therefore be lower here than in the United States. But the rates there, instead of being higher, are lower. Not only so, but Canadian roads actually give lower rates to American traffic carried through Ontario than they do to Ontario traffic. This discrimination extends not only to rates, but also to cars.

Basis of Freight Rates.

Mr. Gregory asked for information as to special rebates given to certain individuals, but this the chairman explained was not included in their duties. A change of law might, however, be suggested, and there was no doubt the publication of similar statistics in the United States had proved very valuable.

In conclusion Mr. Gregory said he desired to lay before the board the opinions of the organizations he represented as to the basis on which railway rates should be fixed. They did not desire to confiscate property, but they did not think it fair to pay interest on fictitious capital or capital that has been dissipated by mismanagement in the past.

Under Three Heads.

Mr. Bunting, president of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, proceeded to deal with the matter under three heads—equipment, despatch and rates. The railways had practically admitted that the equipment and despatch was not what it ought to be. There was no justification for incurring the extra expense, which this better service would entail. The express service was not the proper outlet for tender fruit and resulted in the gross return from the fruit being about equally divided between the grower on the one hand and the express company and commission men on the other.

Mr. Bunting then gave various instances showing that in many cases during 1902 growers did not even realize the carrying and selling charges incurred, and in numerous others only a fractional return was received. Dealing with the volume of traffic the speaker then showed that it was enormous now and steadily increasing. From St. Catharines' cold storage depot alone 256 tons of fruit were shipped in 1898, 1,001 in 1899, 1,264 in 1900, 2,088 in 1901, 1,200 in 1902, and 2,465 in 1903. This was merely a small part of the whole.

Railway officials said they should not be put to the expense of supplying improved equipment, but all that was asked was clean, well-ventilated cars, which could easily be used for better class merchandise all the rest of the year.

Delays Serious.

Referring to prompt transit, Mr. Bunting said there was no commodity in which rapid despatch was so essential. He gave various instances showing the serious results of delay in the case of such perishable goods. The worst delays occurred on shipments to Winnipeg, where in some cases eight, ten and even twelve days have been consumed on the road, instead of four, five or six, and resulted in very great loss to the shipper.

Turning to the question of rates, Mr. Bunting declared that a reduction was absolutely necessary. The pressure of the present tariff was aggravated by the steady increase in production and consequent decrease in prices.

What is the amount of increase during the last ten years? asked the chairman.

Cost Has Increased.

In some cases 300, 400 or 500 per cent., replied Mr. Bunting. The cost of producing is at least 100 per cent. more than it was ten years ago. What they wanted was a change in the classification of rates, but in the case of car lots and less than car lots the average value of mixed fruit shipped from St. Catharines to Winnipeg is from 1c to 1½c. a pound and the reduction proposed would equal ½c a pound, which would give the grower a reasonable profit. He believed with such a reduction a great impetus would be given to production.

Mr. Bunting then stated they objected to the rule by which pears are charged a higher rate than apples. At one time there may have been a reason for the difference; there is none now. Pears did not require any more careful handling. It was peculiarly unjust that a mixed shipment of pears and apples was charged all over at the higher rate. Dealing with the complaint as to the icing of cars. Mr. Bunting pointed out that up to 1900 shippers iced their own cars at the starting point and paid the cost of re-icing along the route. Now a flat rate of $16 or $19 more was charged, whether the cars are actually iced or not. Only the actual cost should be charged.

Praise From Chairman.

In conclusion, Mr. Bunting apologized for the manner in which he had presented his case.

"Speaking both for myself and my associates," said the chairman of the commission, "I have rarely heard a case more clearly or more tersely put, nor with greater modesty.

"I may add," said Mr. Bernier, "that I consider this a very important subject. We, in Quebec, use fruit such as you in Ontario produce, and we would use more of it if sent to us in better condition."

E. D. Smith, M.P., then spoke as a shipper of twenty-five years' standing, and handling from 300 to 600 cars annually. His special point was the delay in furnishing cars, and to give facts and figures in support of the strong case he presented.

"I found these delays a particularly serious matter for me in the shipment of early apples last fall," said he, "I have, on occasions, waited three weeks for cars, and quite frequently two weeks, the result being in some cases to push the early apples into the winter apple market, when their value was depreciated.

"The general complaint is in shipments in less than cars lots. Shipments that should be made in forty-eight hours in such cases often occupy five, six and seven days. A run of 800 or 400 miles would occupy ten or twelve days."

Mayor Graham of Belleville spoke on behalf of the International Apple Shippers' Association, specially in the matter of equipment. His association, he said, handled 90 per cent. of the fruit not consumed in local markets. He took issue with the statement that the apple trade only lasted two months. Last year 146,960 barrels of apples left Canadian ports between August and April. The whole Canadian export trade was 1,000,000 barrels, and as much might be allowed for the inland trade.

Mr. Graham then said the getting of their fruit to the market was a serious proposition. All that they asked was that cars should be shipped within one week of the order, and that they should be delivered at their destination in a reasonably fair condition. The cheese trade had been supplied with properly ventilated cars, and they asked to be put on the same footing. Many of the cars sent them could only be ventilated by leaving the door open on the chain, and in that case the railway companies would not listen to any claim for damages for short delivery. Faulty cars resulted in frequent cases of damage—the steamships signing for the goods as frozen, perhaps frozen and chilled. He submitted description and plan of a ventilated fruit car in use on the New York Central, which has given great satisfaction. It did not matter to him what the rate was, as they took it into account in settling the price to the farmers, and it was up to them to fight the rates.

The Apple Trade.

Apples were charged 6½ cents per 100 pounds; cheese only 2 cents per 100 pounds. They asked that the apple rate be that for cheese.

Mr. Bosworth asked whether the apples could not be stored at the shipping port.

This, the Mayor said, was impossible, as personal attention had to be given the fruit, and they did not know where it might have to be despatched. He then referred to the refusal of the local railway agents to give clean receipts and the difficulties attending the tracing of lost cars.

H. N. Dawson spoke on the difficulty in getting the railway companies to take up and dispose of claims of damage, and gave various illustrative examples. At the conclusion of his remarks the Commission adjourned.

Application Granted.

During the sitting yesterday the Commissioners, having previously examined the Massey-Harris premises, granted the application of the G. T. R. to lay a siding across Strachan avenue. But the siding shall be put down so that those using the street will find the means of crossing as practicable as heretofore, and not experience the difficulties of the past. Mr. Blair said that the board had several suggestions to make in that regard.

W. H. D. Miller also concluded his argument on behalf of the Wallaceburg Cooperage Co. and the Sutherland-Innes Co. for lower rates for carrying cooperage stock. Mr. Pullen, representing the G.T.R., asked that the railways be given an opportunity to give their exact figures. Mr. Bosworth, for the C.P.R., suggested that the railways present their case as a whole. They will be heard later in the week.

Yesterday morning the Railway Commissioners made an inspection of the crossings of the Esplanade, traveling over the C.PR. tracks completely around the city with stops at Toronto Junction and Leaside. Returning they took carriage at the foot of Brock street and drove through the burned district.

Doctors Said There was no Other way to Cure me of piles —In one Week I was Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Besides the pain and expense there is an enormous risk to life itself accompanying every operation for piles and you are not by any means sure of a cure then.

Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief, and is the most certain cure for piles you can possibly obtain. Take this case for instance: Mr. J. Mawer, Roden, Man., says: —"Dr. Chase's Ointment is a wonderful preparation. I had itching piles for five or six years and though I tried two doctors' prescriptions and used many other preparations, could not obtain much relief. The doctor told me that there was no cure for me, and that I would have to undergo an operation.

"I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and was completely cured in one week. As this was six months ago, and there has been no return of the old trouble I believe that the cure is a permanent one.

"Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the best medicine we have ever used for constipation, stomach troubles and kidney disease."

Dr. Chase's Ointment ,60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto.

JAMES BAY RAILWAY.

Order-in-Council Guaranteeing the Company's Bonds Passed.

Toronto, June 21.—The Ontario Government has passed an Order-in-Council preparatory to guaranteeing the bonds of the James Bay Railway Company to the extent of $20,000 per mile from Toronto to Sudbury. The Provincial guarantee will date from the completion of the road and will run for a period not exceeding thirty years at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum.

The guarantee is to be secured by a first mortgage on the railway—a first charge upon the line, right of way, real estate, buildings, rolling stock and equipment, present and future, also upon the revenues and franchises of the company.

Under the act passed last session, it is provided that the construction of the railway shall be commenced within one year, that it shall proceed with the utmost despatch, and shall be completed within four years from January 1, 1904, unless prevented by causes beyond the control of the company, when the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may grant an extension. The line is to be of the same standard as the Ontario branch of the Canadian Northern Railway, with 80-pound rails.

ALL GOOD THINGS must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for.

A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

REV. G. M. MILLIGAN, D.D.

New Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly Is a Man of Notable Figure in His Church.

George Macbeth Milligan, D.D., LL.D., Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, is a notable figure in the church at large, as well as in Toronto, where for almost thirty years—since 1876, to be accurate—he has been pastor of Old St. Andrew's Church. Dr. Milligan is a man of rugged intellectual strength, knowing the delights of controversy with a worthy opponent. That the pulpit has to do with this world, as well as the next, is one of Dr. Milligan's working principles, and strong, uncompromising words may be expected from him, whether the subject be gambling, political corruption, luxurious living, the grinding of the poor, or any other of the outstanding vices of the times.

REV. GEORGE M. MILLIGAN, D.D., LL.D.

Not altogether of the study and the forum is Dr. Milligan. He handles a golf stick with discrimination, and is passionately fond of tramping over out-of-the-way corners of his native Scotland, where his summer holiday is usually spent.

Dr. Milligan was born at Wick in 1840, and educated there and at Queen's University, Kingston, where in 1862 he graduated. His theological studies were completed at Princeton, and he was ordained in 1868. He served for a short time near London, Ontario, and from 1869 to 1876 as pastor of the Scotch Church, Detroit. He has been a delegate to most of the great religious gatherings of recent years.

Dr. Wm. Saunders.

Dr. Wm. Saunders, who has just received an honorary degree from the University of Toronto, was born in Devonshire, England, in 1836, and has been director of Dominion Experimental farms since 1886. He was for two years President of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, and was President of the Entomological Society of Ontario, 1883-86. He has also been President of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association. In 1881 was one of twenty fellows who formed the biological section of the Royal Society of Canada. He was also a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In 1896 he received the degree of LL.D. from Queen's, and was previously awarded the Mantua medal for distinction in scientific knowledge.

DR. WM. SAUNDERS.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrheal drain a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 85 cents in stamps. Send 50 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

THE LADIES' TAILOR.

He Flourished in France Three Centuries Ago.

The ladies' tailor does not belong to this century or to the last; 300 years back he flourished in France. The court beauties employed him during the reign of the last of the Valois. Mme. de Sevigne gives an elaborate description in one of her letters of a gown made for Mme. de Montespan and mentions the name of the tailor Langlee, the son of one of the servants in the household of Anne of Austria. Indeed, women were not allowed in those days to enter into competition with men in the production of outer garments, even for their own sex. It was Louis XIV. who looked favorably on woman's work for her own sex and granted letters patent to the sempstresses to form themselves into a corporation, though it was not made easy for them, and they only, after all, made up ladies' own materials, even as far back as that. By the aid of the poupees which went the round of society exhibiting the passing modes Le Roy found favor with the belles in the beginning of the seventeenth century, and when we see, as we may do now at the Crystal palace, even the silk bodices that were made then we cannot but very much wonder that they were more fitted for a tailor's board than for feminine fingers, so hard, so thick, so heavy were they.—London Queen.

A Useful Feature.

Two New York women went apartment hunting and were pleasantly surprised to find at the end of their first day's search an apartment which seemed to be exactly suited to their needs. It was new, desirably situated and inexpensive—three rooms and bath, said the janitress, all with outside exposure. The prospective tenants walked through the rooms, examining every feature.

"But where is the bathroom?" they inquired.

The janitress pointed to an alcove which was furnished with gayly colored hangings and an awkward looking divan covered with pillows.

"There it is," she explained. "My last tenants said it was in the way, so they made a cosy corner out of it. Of course if you want to use it as a bathroom you can take the cover and pillows off the tub."

A Chance For Promotion.

"Here, my man," said the citizen to the messenger who had delivered his suit of clothes, "is a check in payment."

"But," said the messenger, "I am not allowed to collect money."

"I know, but this isn't money."

"Yes," remonstrated the messenger, "but it's the same thing."

"My dear, misguided boy," said the citizen, with tears in his eyes, "your confidence touches me. Leave, I beg you, the employ of this soulless corporation. And if I can persuade the banks of this city that my checks are the same as money your fortune is made!"

Rochefort Cheese.

Rochefort, that most individual member of the cheese family, gains its distinction and its flavor by ripening six months in a cave in the mountains near the little village of Rochefort, in southern France. Part of process which it undergoes is the pricking full of little holes, into which the air of the cave penetrates. This air remains of the same temperature the year round. Only sheep's milk is used for making Rochefort.

There may not always be enough glory to go around, but the islands of the sea think there is enough Old Glory.

Charged With Forgery.

Ottawa, June 21.—John Walsh, a Water street youth, aged 19, was arrested yesterday, charged with a series of forgeries. His method was to draw on the accounts of prominent firms at the Bank of Commerce, several cheques having been honored. He sent the cheque which trapped him by a newsboy. He has made a confession.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced.

EIGHT DOCTORS

And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good.

"About five years ago I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would very nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything that I was told to use for fully three years, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none of them seemed to do me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I first began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings when I got up, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, and I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work mornings I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves in bed. In fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, the greatest of all great skin cures. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a small box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

LATEST SPORTS.

of this week, and it is up to the citizens to turn out and show their appreciation of the efforts of the lacrosse boys to uphold the name of the town in our national game. The team will be entirely home brews, and is deserving of every encouragement.

The team will go to Orillia on Dominion Day to play the return exhibition game, and the two League games with this team will be played in July.

There is much enthusiasm being shown over the action of the team at last evening's meeting, and lacrosse should boom in Peterborough this summer. We're after the championship, and have got the team to do the trick.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT THE GAME

Opinion of Two Experts on Last Evening's Slaughter

The Examiner office boy, with the enterprise he has absorbed by his associations interviewed the snake editor of the Examiner, who said in the words of Shakespere, in his Elegy in a Country Churchyard—"It was a Glorious Victory." "In this age of rush and progress, my boy, slow-coach journalistic methods either in the arena represented by the sanctum or in the arena of sport, have no place. Our back-door contemporary, in the field of sport lives nobly up to his title. In the matter of baseball—or hockey either, after last night's exposition, —or rather exhibition, for our contemporary's team made a "holy show" of itself—the Review nine should play baseball in its own back yard —its pitcher might get a ball over the plate if the fence were used for that purpose; its batsmen might hit a fence post if somebody held it quite still. The Review nine last night made the most brilliant exposition of how not to play ball ever recorded or known. They might have had some show to win against a team picked from the Sick Children's Hospital or the patients in an orthopodic infirmary. Last night's score was 18 to 1, and that's the only "won" that will ever be bracketted with the record of the losing team in contact with the stalwarts of the Examiner. And this solitary run was no credit to them—it was a concession suggested by the characteristic management of the Examiner team, who had the power but not the heart to shut out these incapables altogether. And it is to be noted with regret, but not with surprise, that that solitary unearned run was permitted to be made by a ringer, who has no typographical connection with the Review. This statement is made in deference to the ringer's feelings of self-respect, who, from a baseball point of view must have been humiliated by his sporting associations."

Pitcher "Alfie" Smith, swearing at the rank support he received.

"What's your opinion of the Examiner's style of play?"

"It was supberb. It was an educative exposition of ball. The Examiner pitcher—Jolliffe—is not a singer for nothing. He struck the right pitch at the go-in and kept up a well sustained tone throughout. Paxman is an all-round peach. He knocked out double yolked hits with the facility of one of his pure bred Barred Rocks. I really think the Examiner nine should challenge the Toronto or Rochester baseball nine—next to the Review they are the snidest bunch I know of."

The office boy also sought an interview with the manager of the Review nine, Mr. Short Stop Moore.

Mr. Moore was found busy concocting an explanation of how it happened and told the interviewer—"I've nothing to say. I believe in action, not words. When the Review can do nothing so brilliantly, to say anything is superfluous. Do you see that?" pointing to a placard on the wall of the Snake Editor's den, which read "Nothin' doin' in baseball now and hereafter".

Manager Moore, when the Ringer brought in the one run.

"Good day."

CITY FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

Was Formed Last Night Comprises Three Teams.

A meeting was held last night in the Y.M.C.A. building attended by representatives of the Y.M.C.A., Wanderers and Quaker football teams, the object of the meeting being to arrange a series of post season games to decide the city championship. Dr. Morgan, president of the Midland League, was in the chair, and Mr. J. E. Sullivan acted as secretary. It was decided to form a City League, to be known as the Peterborough Football Association, and the officers elected were:—

President—S. S. Moore.

Secretary—R. N. Jolliffe.

The Executive Committe is to consist of the officers and one representative from each club, viz.:—O. C. W., R. Hay; Y.M.C.A., G. Morgan; Quakers, J. E. Sullivan. This committee shall have authority to settle all disputes between the teams. The laws and constitution of the Midland Football League were adopted, as the laws governing the new Association, and it is probable that

The Real Thing

For all round summer wear, nothing is so serviceable and comfortable as FLANNEL or HOMESPUNS.

For the next three months you will want clothes that will be cool, airy and light, and our new importations will fill the bill perfectly. We believe you will be quite satisfied to entrust your order with us.

trophies in the shape of medals will be given to the winning team.

A meeting of the executive will be held to-night to draw up a schedule of games, of which there will be six, and it is proposed to play off two a week in order to end the series before the very (warm weather comes.

This organization should encourage the playing of football in this town, and since there is now no possibility of a town team winning the Midland League championship, it will keep the interest in the game alive, and next year a strong enough team may be gathered together to win back the Stratton Trophy.

BASEBALL.

The Young Quakers and St. Andrew's will play a game this evening. A full turn-out of players is requested. Game played on P.A.A.A. grounds, Fifth Ward, at 7 sharp.

• • • •

The fame of the Examiner baseball team is spreading. The Firemen are now out with a challenge to the press champions and the latter hereby accept and promise to make it hot for the challengers. It will be the greatest conflagration they ever tried to extinguish.

• • • •

The game arranged for to-night between the B.A.C. and George street team has been postponed to Friday night, and the George street team will practice to-night.

• • • •

St. Paul's Guild team won from the Quakers last evening at the latter's grounds in an exhibition game by a score of 4—0. The winners gave fine support to their twirler, Watt, who pitched in good form. The batteries were for the winners, Watt and Rosenburg; for the Quakers, Swanston Quinlan and Heaslip. The Quakers were minus Gilman and Wilson who were participating in the Examiner-Review game.

• • • •

At the Patterson street grounds this evening, St. Paul's will play an exhibition game with the Charlotte street team. Both teams will line up as usual.

• • • •

The employees of Cressman's store challenge the employees of all the other drygoods stores in town to a game of baseball and a reply is asked for early.

• • • •

The Peterboroughs and the T.A.S. meet to-night at 6.15 o'clock at the T.A.S. grounds. The former will line up as follows:

Doran p, Graham c, Pilling 1b, Whiteroft 2b, Sheridan 3b, Lamonte ss, Waram lf, Cawthorne cf, Simpson rf.

GOLF.

Following are the draws for the Innis Trophy, which have to be played off by the 29th inst. No scratch players have been allowed in this series, and the rules used will be those of match play:—

The remaining games in the MidlandFootball League have been arranged as follows: Locust Hill and Deseronto will meet in the last of the semi-finals games in Bowmanville on July 1st, and on the following day the winners will play the first of the finals with Bowmanville at the latter place. The return game will be played the week following.

• • • •

The Y.M.C.A. boys will practise at the Oval this evening as well as Friday evening at 7 o'clock. We must keep in shape for the exhibition game, which we have all along intended to give them ever since we were forced to default to them through no fault of ours. There is the City Championship League too, which is yet to be played off which will take two or three weeks. There will be a meeting of the members at 8.30 in the parlours at which a full attendance is requested.

A GREAT LAND BATTLE IMMINENT

Indicated by Correspondents at Liaotung and Other Points.

THE JAPS OCCUPY HSIUNGYAO

Rumored Russian Defeat in which the Japs Put 1,200 of the Enemy Hors de Combat—Engagement Took Place in the Vicinity of Kinchou—Admiral Skrydloff Busy—Battle Rumor Correct.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The imminence of a battle in the northern part of the Liaotung peninsula is admitted by the war office and is indicated succintly in yesterday's despatches from the Associated Press correspondents at Liaotung, Kaiping and other points on the railroad.

Without Opposition.

Tokio, June 23.—A division of the army, under General Oku occupied Hsiungyao yesterday without opposition.

Russians Lost 1 200.

London, June 23.—A despatch to The Daily Mail, under date of June 21, from Newchwang, says:

While a Russian force of 8,000, under General Kondratovitch, was traversing Wafungko Ravine, nine miles southeast of Kuichou, June 19, it was surprised by concealed Japanese artillery.

The Russians lost heavily, their casualties being 1,200 in number.

General Kondratovitch extricated his men and led them in good order to an entrenched position.

Rumors of Battle Correct.

Liaoyang, June 23.—The Japanese army base at Siuyen is evidently strongly established along a line from Kaichau to Yentai.

Rumors of a battle northeast of Kaichau are evidently correct.

The two Japanese armies threaten momentarily to attempt a juncture, assisted by a force on the north shore of the Gulf of Liaotung.

Skrydloff Busy.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The Emperor has received the following despatch from Vice-Admiral Skrydloff (the Russian naval commander in the Far East), dated June 21:

"A division of torpedo boats, under the command of Captain Venogradsky, aide-de-camp of the Grand Admiral, which was sent June 15 on an expedition along the coasts of Japan, returned to Vladivostock yesterday. The torpedo boats approached Port Esashi (south of Okoshira Straits), near Hakodate, but a fog prevented their entrance. Several trading and transport schooners were captured. One schooner was brought to Vladivostock. The majority of the schooners were conveying fish and rice to Sasebo and Shimonoseki."

Recovered War Material.

London, June 23.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says that thirty-one guns, three torpedoes and a large quantity of ammunition have been recovered from the Russian cruiser Variag, which was sunk by the Japanese at Chemulpo at the beginning of hostilities.

Russ Boats Sunk.

Tokio, June 23.—The Japanese captured a junk leaving Port Arthur Tuesday, June 21, and the Chinamen on board say that a few days ago two Russian torpedo boat destroyers and the steamer Shin Taiping struck mines at the entrance to the harbor and sank. One hundred and forty lives were lost, according to their accounts.

To Suspend Writers.

Mukden, June 23.—Major-General Pflug, chief of the military staff of Viceroy Alexieff, announces that on July 20 he will suspend the foreign correspondents whose papers have failed to send the Viceroy two copies of each issue containing their contributions. The suspension will continue until the copies are received.

Occupied Kaiung.

Washington, June 23.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from Tokio, dated yesterday: "General Oku reports that a detachment of our troops occupied Kaiung Yaochonz, 25 miles southwest of Kaiting, on the afternoon of the 21st of June."

The Grays Freed.

Toronto, June 23.—Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Col. Gray and his son, Frank, left the Central Prison, free men, after 74 days' confinement. Their release followed the judgment unexpectedly issued yesterday morning by the judges of the Court of Appeal quashing the conviction against them of misdemeanors in connection with the last municipal elections. The court was unanimous in the decision that the indictment had been irregular and the conviction of Judge Winchester void, and their immediate discharge was ordered.

W. D. Slater Missing.

St. Catharines, June 23.—W. D. Slater, a young married man of this city, has been missing since Monday. He went to Niagara Falls that day. Just before leaving here he told a man he intended to go over the falls in a barrel. He has not been seen or heard of since he stepped off the street car. He has four children.

To Be Released.

Tangier, June 23.—It is said on good authority that Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley will be released today, when the ransom ($70,000), partly in cheques and partly in silver, will be sent to Raisuli. The amount of the ransom has been advanced to the Sultan by a French firm here.

Gored By a Bull.

Winnipeg, June 23.—E. Rasmuson was gored to death by a bull at Dauphin yesterday morning.

—The funeral of the late Roxie Howson will take place to-morrow afternoon, instead of this afternoon.

THE SINGING FLOWERS SCORE A SUCCESS.

A Beautiful Cantata Presented Last Evening.

The T. A. S. Hall Filled with a Delighted Audience—A Triumph for all Concerned.

The large audience that assembled in the T.A.S. rooms last evening to listen to the presentation of the beautiful cantata, "The Garden of Singing Flowers," by the Mendelssohn Club, was treated to a delightful evening of music, and those who constitute this organization are to be congratulated upon the triumph they achieved in the handling of this beautiful composition. The success of the evening is a tribute to the directoress, Miss Maggie McCabe, who certainly is entitled to every praise for the high state of efficiency to which she has brought the singers, and for the brilliant results of last evening's effort. The cantata is replete with beautiful choruses, duets and solos, and is a composition that requires persistent practice in order to successfully bring its beauty and richness into prominence, but last night's work by the different performers demonstrated the fact that all had been diligent at the rehearsals and as a result the highest success has been achieved.

The evening's programme opened with an excellently rendered pianoforte duet by Misses M. McCabe and J. Quinn. When the curtain went up a pretty scene was presented to the audience. In the back ground of the stage proper was an excellent representation of a cottage from the brush of Mr. Fred Cook, with a beautiful flower garden in front, growing various flowers, according to the list of characters. The leaves and blossoms of each were of very large size, with the buds cut, admitting the head appearing in it. The scene was a beautiful one, and remarkably lifelike and natural. Mr. T. J. Begley acted in the capacity of gardener and did what is expected of every one in that position. The cantata opened with a beautiful madrigal, (unaccompanied) "Brightly Dawns," after which the flowers told in song their joys, desires and troubles. The sunflower's solo, (Miss L. Halliban) entitled "The Golden Sun," was very sweetly rendered, as was also the evening star's (Mr. Geo. Ball) greeting to the daisy closing with a sweet duet by the evening star and the buttercup (Mrs. Geo. Ball.) The man in the moon (Mr. Jos. Legg) from his lofty position told in excellent voice of great sweetness of the exalted position he occupied, and the pleasure it gave him to "Welcome the flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la." The rose (Miss M. Clancy) in her solo, "Come Look at My Beauty," sang with excellent taste and expression, and was followed by a duet, which can truly be characterized as a gem, by the buttercup and man in the moon. This selection was faultlessly rendered and proved a veritable treat, and was a fitting introduction to another treat, the unaccompanied rendition of "Oft in the Stilly Night," by the full chorus. This was a delightful number excellently handled. The daisy (Miss M. Moher) sang very sweetly and with great simplicity "I'd Choose to be a Daisy," and was followed by a recitative protest from the lily (Miss Loretto Clancy) and also a counter protest from the sister lily (Mrs. J. Lynch), which was greeted with a groan from the other flowers who drowsily sang "We Are A' Noddin'."

Then followed a chorus in unison, "Dying of Flowers," in which the performers sang their own requiem, each flower withdrawing one at a time from the curtain as indicated by words in the verses, but continuing singing the chorus behind the curtain. The finale, "Wake! Wake!" was a beautiful arrangement, and was a fitting close to a delightful evening of song.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien, at the close of the Cantata, addressed the audience. He bestowed warm praise upon those who had participated in the evening's programme, especially upon Miss M. McCabe, under whose direction the cantata was presented, and who displayed in its presentation rare musical ability. The reverend gentleman also briefly referred to the past season's work by the different auxiliaries of the T.A.S., and announced that he would give a gold medal to the young lady preparing the best essay during the next literary season of the society.

The following was last evening's casts:—

Rose—Miss M. Clancy.
Daisy—Miss M. Moher.
Sunflower—Miss L. Halliban.
Buttercup—Mrs. Geo. Ball.
Lilies—Miss Loretta Clancy and Mrs. J. J. Lynch.
Tulips—Messrs. W. Mackie, J. Cunningham and J. Plouffe.
Man in the Moon—Mr. Jos. Legg.
Evening Star—Mr. Geo. Ball.
Gardener—Mr. T. J. Begley.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

The report of Division registrars show further proof, if further proof were needed, of the excellent results flowing from the administration of the Public Health Act, through the Provincial Board of Health, which comes within the province of the Provincial Secretary's Department. This is especially demonstrated in the case of contageous diseases. The returns for the month of May show that in comparison with 1903 there is a marked decrease. In 1903 there were 63 cases of small pox with two deaths, and in 1904 the number of cases was 10, with no deaths. In In May 1903 there were 205 cases of scarlet fever and 42 deaths while in May 1904 there were 128 cases and 7 deaths. In diphtheria there was a less marked decrease, but in measles there was a very considerable increase in the number of cases, but a hundred per cent. decrease in the number of deaths. Whooping cough and typhoid fever also show gratifydecreases both in prevalence and fatality. Altogether the returns show marked improvement. In May 1903 there were reported 996 cases of contageous diseases with 343 deaths, and in May 1904 there were reported 713 cases with 291 deaths. A sad commentary on the fatal character of the dreadful disease, consumption, consists in the fact that in connection with the cases of this disease reported the number of deaths exactly corresponds to the number of cases. In 1903 there were reported 232 cases of consumption with 232 deaths and in May 1904, the cases reported were 219; deaths 219. The decrease in the prevalence of contageous diseases, and in their fatality, is due under Divine Providence, to two chief causes. The efforts of the Provincial Board of Health to carry out, or have carried out, the Public Health Act in the direction of procuring improved popular sanitary conditions, and to the efforts made for procuring isolation, as another and more tangible feature of prevention. A third cause contributory to lessening prevalence of disease, arising out of the other causes stated, is the educative effect of the administration of the Provincial Board upon the masses. The people are learning — all too slowly, it must be regretfully confessed — the importance of the relation of proper sanitary conditions and home surroundings to health, and there is a growing popular appreciation of the importance of isolation, as a practical prevention of the spread of contagious diseases. The further the Provincial Board succeeds in extending this educative process, the more gratifying the results will be. But there are still lions in the path in the shape of the carelessness of some local health organizations. It appears from the reports of the press that unreported cases of small-pox in the Temiscamingue district, have led to the spread of the disease beyond the limits that would have marked it, had a local official done his duty by complying with the law regarding prompt reporting of cases of contagious diseases.

To many unreflecting persons such a breach of duty may seem a trifling matter, but when it leads to the spread of a loathsome and dangerous disease, involving the risk of valuable lives, the interruption of business, and other undesirable results, its importance is emphasized. The average Board of Health official perhaps does not realize the dreadful consequences which may follow a neglect of duty, which may seem to him trivial, but be weighted with serious consequences. When we look at the matter properly, the preservation of the health of our citizens is more important than the fiscal question, the question of militia reorganization, or other of the great issues that engross the attention of the public and ands of dollars of national revenue, public men. The loss of a few thous- the defeat of a party, or a candidate of a party, sink into insignificance beside the invasion of a home by a preventable disease, and the resulting death of the humblest of its inmates.

SALEM PICNIC WAS A SUCCESS.

Large Crowd Attended an Outdoor Event Tuesday.

A very successful picnic was held yesterday at Mr. J. Crawford's grove under the auspices of the Salem Methodist church. There was a large attendance and the event was in every particular a most successful one. At three o'clock a number of sports were run off, including races, football games and other amusements. A platform meeting was then held, Rev. J. G. Lewis being in the chair. The programme included addresses by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, and Rev. J. A. Wilson, of Peterborough, and Mr. John A. Sexsmith, of Havelock. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Clara Bellegham and Messrs. J. Millar and F. Turner, Mr. Mr. Miller also playing a cornet solo. Recitations were also given by Misses Lillian Throop and Alberta White, making a very enjoyable programme. The accompanist was Mr. Geo. Schneider. Tea was served at the conclusion of the programme. The affair was in every particular most successful.

14th BATTERY AT FULL STRENGTH

Went Into Camp Yesterday at Cobourg for 12 Days.

The Port Hope Guide says:—The 14th Field Battery went into camp Monday on the grounds of the Cobourg Rifle Range. Sections of the Company from Peterborough, Bethany, Millbrook and other places congregated here to-day, secured their guns and proceeded by route march to Cobourg. The strength of the battery is 9 officers, 109 non-commissioned officers and men and horses with 6 guns and limbers, and 6 ammunition waggons. This battery is one of the most effective in the Dominion, as was evinced by the high stand taken in the efficiency and firing at Deseronto last year. Notwithstanding the fact that the several batteries camping at Niagara have found it impossible to fill their batteries up to full strength, the 14th is going into camp with full complement of men and horses. The company is composed of nearly all young men between the ages of twenty and thirty, from Campbellford, Peterborough, Bethany, Cobourg and a few from Port Hope. Lieut.-Col. McNachtan is in charge.

GREAT FLOWER AND HONEY SHOW

Will be Held This Fall in Toronto.

Great arrangements are being made for the Provincial, Fruit, Flower and Honey Show it is proposed to hold in Toronto during the second week in November. It will be the biggest show of the kind ever held in Canada.

The various associations interested include the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, the Ontario Bee-Keepers' Association, the Toronto Gardeners' and Florists' Association, and the Toronto Electoral District Society.

The two big rinks on Church street have already been secured for the purpose of this exhibition. The Fruit and Honey Exhibits will be shown in one rink, while the Flowers will be on view in the second. A display of machinery and implements used in the cultivation of fruit and flowers will be made in an open piece of land between the two rinks.

The prizes offered for the floral section alone amount to over $1200. The prize list is already in circulation. The Fruit Growers will expend over $1000 on their part of the show. Money has been reserved to provide for the collection of representatives exhibits of fruit from all the counties in the province. The fruit will be kept in cold storage.

A series of big meetings will be held at the time of the show. The Fruit Growers' Association will hold its annual convention, as will also the Bee-Keepers' Association. There will also be a meeting of delegates from all the Horticultural Societies in the province, as a result of which it is expected that a Provincial Horticultural Association will be formed. Cheap rates have been secured over all the railways.

It is expected to make this show rival in its way the Provincial Winter Fair held at Guelph. The management of this Show will be largely in the hands of H. B. Cowan, of Toronto, Provincial Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, to whom any requests for information may be sent.

PROOF IS STILL PILING UP

Dame Louis Provosts' Wonderful Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She had Rheumatism Bright's Disease and Heart Disease—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her Kidneys and they all Disappeared.

St. Magloire, Que., June 22, (Special.) — The case of Dame Louis Provosts of this place, shows once more that many different diseases spring directly from diseased Kidneys, and that the way to cure them is to cure the Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dame Provosts says:

"I suffered for years with Heart Disease, Bright's Disease and Rheumatism. I was so feeble I was unable to do anything. There were three months I abandoned all medicines and resolved to let myself die.

"Then I was led to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and the first box helped me. I have taken twenty boxes, and I am to-day a well woman. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it."

Good Kidneys mean good blood, and good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make good Kidneys.

On motion Mr. Geo. R. R. Cockburn was called to the chair, and Mr. McGill was requested to act as secretary.

Messrs. Henry Lowndes and F. M. Purdy were appointed scrutineers.

At the request of the chairman, the Secretary read the following report:—

The deposits have been increased since our last annual meeting by $1,089,735.06, and the general business of the bank continues to steadily improve, which in view of the fact that no new branches have been opened during the year, must be regarded as exceedingly satisfactory.

The Peterborough Branch has been enlarged and refitted at a considerable outlay, which has been provided for without increasing the Bank Premises Account.

All the offices of the Bank have been inspected during the year.

The baseball team leaves for Marmora on Wednesday to play the third game of the league schedule. The boys feel confident of winning.

The baseball match between Campbellford and Havelock played on the grounds here last Friday was a very good exhibition of ball playing. Campbellford, when they appeared on the field, looked like a hard aggregation to run up against, but after the first innings it was plain to be seen that Havelock had the superior team all through. The line-up was as follows:—

Campbellford,—Cassan p, Nadon c, Pringle 1b, Green 2b, Fowles 3b, Maynard ss, Platt rf, Fraser cf, Farrell lf.

Havelock — D. Ford, p, H. Tomane, J. Black 1b, E. Dorricott 2b, E. White 3b, W. Rose ss, J. E. Kelsey rf, R. Campney cf, W. Thompson lf.

The score was 17—7 in favour of Havelock.

The only triple play of the day was made in the sixth innings by one of the Campbellford men putting a pop fly out to Rose, who threw to Dorricott on second, who passed to first, making three out in one play.

Green and Nadoo were the conspicuous men for the Campbellford bunch.

H. Toman's work behind the bat was fine.

The game lasted one hour and fifty-five minutes—short time for amateur teams.

Those hit by pitched ball were Cassan, Fowles, Platt and Rose.

Ford only let three to bases on balls to Cambellford's six.

The gate receipts amounted to about $20.

Mr. Percy Lancaster, who had the cords cut in the game at Madoc, is out around with the help of a crutch. It is not yet known whether he will be able to play in the next match or not.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

LIFT LOCK OPENING SATURDAY, JULY 9TH.

Peterborough Will be Visited by Parliametary Party on That Date.

The date of the event to which Peterborough citizens have looked forward for years, has at last been set, and on July 9th the Peterborough Lift Lock will be opened with ceremonies appropriate to the occasion. The report that July 9th was the day set for the opening, was contained in last evening's Toronto papers, and to confirm this the Examiner wired Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, as follows:—

"Is report that the Lift Lock will be officially opened on July 9th, correct? Kindly rush answer. Daily Examiner."

To this the following reply was received:—

Ottawa, June 23, 1904.

Daily Examiner,
Peterborough, Ont.,—
Yes.
H. R. EMMERSON.

Later a telephone message from Mr. R. B. Rogers confirmed this, and it is now definitely decided that the greatest event in Peterborough's history, will take place on Saturday, July 9th.

The Hon. Minister of Railways and Canals, who is deeply interested in the Canal, and the Lock, will be present, and he will organize a party of Parliamentarians to visit the town on that day, and participate in the opening ceremonies.

The programme for the day has not been definitely decided upon as yet, but it is expected that in a few days it will have been completed. A committee from the Town Council has been appointed to represent the town on the Programme Committee, and it is likely that the event will be celebrated in a manner appropriate to its great importance, both as a local and a national affair.

On this day the citizens of Peterborough should exert themselves to place the town in a good light before the many distinguished visitors, who will honour the town with their presence that day.

Invite your friends to spend the day with you, and witness the consummation of one of the greatest engineering feats of the century.

Make Saturday, July 9th, the biggest day in the town's history. The completion of the canal, of which the opening of the Lift Lock is the beginning of the end, will mean a great deal to Peterborough, and the members of Parliament who visit the town that day, should be impressed with the fact that Peterborough citizens believe in the great advantages of the canal.

In confirmation of the above, Mayor Roger received the following letter this morning:—

Office of the Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer,
Ottawa, June 22, 1904.

Dear Sir,—

You desired to be informed of the day fixed for the formal opening of the Hydraulic Lift Lock, on the Trent Canal at Peterborough.

It has been arranged this morning that it will take place on Saturday, July 9th, when, it is expected, a large number of Members of Parliament, and others, will attend.

Yours truly,
COLLINGWOOD SCHREIBER,
Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer.

G. M. Roger, Esq.,
Mayor of Peterborough.

SERIOUSLY INJURED WHILE FIXING TROLLEY WIRES

Mr. Fennington Ferguson Broke His Hip Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. Fennington Ferguson, of the Fifth Ward, was the victim of a very serious and painful accident shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was working on the trolley wires on George street, in front of the Matthews Factory, and while engaged in joining two wires, one of them gave way, and he was thrown from the ladder on the cart on which he was standing, falling backwards, and alighting on his left hip with great force. He was thrown about ten feet backward from where he was working. The ambulance conveyed the injured man to the hospital, where it was found that the large hip bone was broken, and the flesh was very badly bruised. He was also internally injured. Drs Brown and Scott attended him, and set the injured limb this morning.

The injured man is doing as well as can be expected, but it will be a long time before he is fully recovered. He is a married man and was employed by the Light and Power Company.

A NEW FOUNDRY OUT OF THE ASHES

G. W. Green Preparing to Erect Building one third Larger.

Enterprise Show by Mr. Green—Commenced work at once—New Blast Furnace

Gangs of workmen are already at work digging out the foundation of Green's new foundry, on McDonel street. The size of the new building is to be one-third larger than the old one destroyed by fire and is to be a substantial brick structure. While the work is in progress a large wooden shack will be erected inside the walls of the new building, to enable the moulders to get to work without further delay. A powerful new blast for the furnace has already been made ready to put in operation.

Mr. Green's pump factory continues in full running order, as the fire was stopped before doing any serious damage to that portion of the building.

Mr. Green, although a heavy loser by the fire—the actual loss being over $4,000, with only $1,700 insurance—is not letting the disaster discourage him, but is making a big push to get his whole business in full operation again.

RE HIGH SCHOOL.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

A short time ago the school board advertised for land on which to build a Collegiate Institute, and parties owning lands submitted offers, with prices, etc.

Now all this advertising looked fair on the face, but the fact is that there is a scheme on hand and the matter of school site is cut and dried. The military element in the Board want an Armory more than a Collegiate Institute, and they are using the school wants to effect their military purposes.

The scheme is to give $30,000 for six half acres held by the Roman Catholic authorities, as a burying ground, and now used for their Separate School—that is, $5,000 for each half acre—or $44 per foot frontage, counting every foot on McDonel street, and every foot on London street, and to use this property for an Armory, a drill ground and a Collegiate Institute.

Messrs. Dumble and Bradburn, offered for the Institute for $10,000, two acres of land on McDonel street—the south acres of the Dumble and Bradburn homesteads. The town owns the unopened street between these, which contains more than half an acre. The school built on the roadway will occupy a commanding position. It can be approached on the level from London street, and on a lower story from McDonel street. The boys could have a splendid acre on the east for a play ground, and the girls a fine acre on the west.

The school and Armory will take up much of the Catholic grounds, and what is left will be bald bare ground, to be shared with soldiers and the public. At the Dumble-Bradburn property there will be a handsomer site—better and more private play grounds, and more privacy for our young girls—and for $10,000. It is said the Government will contribute $10,000, the town $10,000 and the School Board $10,000, for the Catholic grounds, but there is the fact that the school, in one case, will have exclusive ownership of finer grounds for $10,000, and why take the worst site at double the price?

When the vote was taken the Board had the card up its sleeve. Why was there such a withholding from the public? Is the school to be sacrificed to militarism?

Let the school site be settled on its merits. If the people are allowed to settle it they will never give $30,000 for site, when a better one, and almost as large can be had for $10,000.

It will be said I am interested and therefore I should not be heard. I am not anxious, though willing, to sell. I put the matter before the people, and they can judge the two schemes on their merits.

Yours truly,
D. W. DUMBLE.

STREET RAILWAY OPERATIONS

Work on the Tracks Progressing Rapidly—No Cars for Circus Day.

Excellent progress is being made on the street railway, and the road is fast becoming other than an underground one. The track on the business portion of George street was to-day uncovered, and it will not be long before all the tracks will be in shape. It has been rumoured around town to-day that the road would be in operation by July 2nd, Circus Day, as far as the Exhibition Grounds. This report, however, is without foundation. Mr. J. H. Learmouth, the general manager, was seen to-day in reference to the rumour and stated that the new cars would not be here before the last week in July, otherwise the road would be in operation before that time. There will be eight open cars in use, four new ones, and four of those previously made use of. Everything will be in readiness as soon as the cars arrive.

PRETTY WEDDING IN SELWYN CHURCH.

Mr. Milford Northey Married to Miss Flossie Graham

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday evening in the Methodist church, Selwyn, when in the presence of a large number of the friends of the bride and groom, and under wreaths of flowers, Miss Flossie Graham, daughter of William Graham, and Milford Northey, of Selwyn, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the officiating clergyman being Rev. J. W. Bunner, of Bridgenorth.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by the 16th line band, Smith, of which organization the groom is a member. Miss Gertrude Northey also played the wedding march on the church organ.

The bride was very prettily gowned in a dress of white voile, trimmed with cluny lace, and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lizzie Graham, of Toronto, who was similarly attired. Little Miss Margaret Herridge was a very pretty flower girl. The groom was supported by his cousin, Otto Northey of Selwyn.

After the ceremony the whole party went to the home of the bride's father, where refreshments were served on the beautiful lawn, and a pleasant evening was spent, after which the bride and groom went to their new home in Selwyn, followed by the best wishes of a very large circle of friends. That they are very popular with their many friends was evidenced by the large number of handsome presents of which they were made the recipients.

THE CANADIAN FLAG

The Insults to Be Laid Before Imperial Authorities.

$281,600 FOR MARINE PASSED

Votes For Ocean, River, Lighthouse and Coast Services—Franking Conservative Campaign Literature Cannot Be Prevented Under the Act—Increased Rates of Pay to the Militia—Dundonald Correspondence.

Ottawa, June 23.—Marine estimates engaged the attention of the House again yesterday, and votes to the amount of $281,600 were passed in connection with the ocean and river and lighthouse and coast services. Hon. Raymond Prefontaine was subjected to a constant fusillade of questions of a nature which would be extremely trying to the oldest Parliamentarian. Mr. Prefontaine's resourcefulness and good nature were equal to all occasions, and with the aid of his colleagues the questions were disposed of and fair progress made, considering the frame of mind of the Opposition. Sir Wilfrid Laurier made an important announcement earlier in the day, that the Government intended bringing to the attention of the Imperial authorities the matter of the recent insult to the Canadian flag in an Argentine port.

Exports to South Africa

In reply to Mr. Smith (Vancouver) it was stated by Hon. Wm. Paterson that the values of exports to South Africa, originating in Canada, in 1901-2, were: Farm products, $3,514,509; products of the sea, $9,990; products of the forest, $82,580; manufactured goods, $181,803. For the fiscal year 1902-3, the exports were: Farm, $1,264,684; sea, $12,796; forest, $246,839; manafactured goods, $362,111.

Sir Frederick Borden, in reply to Dr. Sproule, stated that the increased rates of pay recently gazetted would be allowed to the militia now performing annual drill, and would be given them at the completion of annual drill.

Franking Tory Literature.

In reply to a question by Mr. G. D. Grant, the Postmaster-General stated that the attention of the Government had been called to the fact that large quantities of campaign literature were being circulated free through the mails in North Ontario, so stamped as to indicate that it was sent by a gentleman not a member of the House, the envelopes bearing the frank of a member of Parliament. There was, however, nothing in the act to prevent the practice. The envelopes referred to by Mr. Grant were franked by Colonel Sam Hughes, but the documents they contained were marked with the compliments of Mr. Proctor, the Conservative candidate, who is not entitled to the franking privilege.

Insults to Canadian Flag.

Mr. Kaulbach (Lunenburg) brought to the attention of the Government several incidents in which Canadian flags had, he contended, been insulted. The first instance he related was that of Capt. Taylor of the Canadian schooner J. M. Taylor, who complains he was notified by the British Consul at a port in the Argentine Republic that he must not fly the Canadian flag and warned him he would be fined if he persisted. On the 8th May, 1901, Mr. Kaulback said he had brought to the attention of the House the case of the master of the Canadian ship Canada, who received similar treatment in the port of Bahaia, Brazil. He read the official notice dated the 2nd of February, 1902, thgt the Admiralty had authorized Canadian vessels to fly the red ensign with the Dominion coat of arms on the fly. Mr. Kaulbach said the action of the British Consul at Rio Grande de Sur towards Capt. Taylor was a very high-handed proceeding indeed. Canadian sentiment demanded that the Canadian flag be respected in every sea, and he asked that the Government communicate with the Imperial authorities and request an explanation, at the same time demanding that if the flag had been insulted the same panishment be meted out to the offenders as would be inflicted if it had been the British flag.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the matter referred to had been engaging the attention of the Government for the past two or three days. He was afraid they were not yet in possession of all the facts, but as soon as they had collected the information they would communicate with the Imperial authorities upon the matter.

The Military Correspondence.

Hon. Sydney Fisher laid on the table a copy of a memorandum referred to in Col. Smart's letter in reference to the appointment of officers to the Scottish Light Dragoons, which, he explained, had been overlooked when the fyle was copied for submission to the House. With respect to two letters of Col. Whitley, dated 14th and 15th of May respectively, the production of which Mr. Monk had asked for, Mr. Fisher stated that one was marked "private" and the other "strictly private"; therefore he could not produce them. Neither could he produce letters similarly marked, addressed to him by constituents.

Mr. Monk argued that every letter relating to public business was a public document.

It was arranged between the Premier and Mr. R. L. Borden that the matter should be taken up on Thursday.

Mr. Prefontaine's bill to amend the shipping casualties act was given its final stages.

The House went into supply, the estimates for the Department of Marine and Fisheries being again taken up. $281,6000 were passed, and the House adjourned at 12.50 a.m.

Second Reading Passed.

Ottawa, June 23.—The Senate last night gave a second reading to the National Transcontinental Railway Bill. It was 12.30 when the last speaker, Senator Sullivan, closed his remarks, and a division was called for. The previous speakers were Senators Ferguson, Bergne, Bernier, Gibson, Perley and Watson. The vote was 34 to 20.

CROPS IN THE WEST.

C.P.R. Weekly Statement Shows Conditions to Be Extremely Favorable.

Winnipeg, Man., June 23.—The Canadian Pacific weekly crop report for the week is favorable in the extreme. From every branch of the railway encouraging reports of the magnificent growth of the crop and of the very favorable weather conditions have come in. In every case the weather is marked "favorable." The largest number of hours of rain is reported from the Napinka branch, where, at Darlingford and Pilot Mound, thirty hours are given for the week. On the main line there has been plenty of rain, and the height of the grain varies from 8 to 15 inches. The height of grain at Minnedosa is reported as 15 inches, which is the highest in the report. Figures from all other points are equally satisfactory.

Father and Son.

Guelph, June 23.—Captain John Crowe, Staff-Sergt. Charles Crowe and Sergt. Wm. Goulds left last evening to join the Canadian Bisley team, which sails from Montreal on Friday for England via SS. Parisian. Probably never before in the history of the Canadian Bisley team have father and son qualified for places.

Escaped in a Trunk.

Montreal, June 23.—Hamel, the city cashier, who absconded with $10,000, is said, in a letter received by the mayor from Rouse's Point, to have escaped the vigilance of the Montreal detectives by being shipped in a perforated trunk from this city to New York. The story is being investigated.

Sir Percy Resigns.

London, June 23.—(C.A.P.)—Sir Percy Girouard has been granted six months leave of absence. The Right Hon. Alfred Lyttetton, Colonial Secretary, in the House of Commons, stated that Lord Milner had accepted his resignation.

No Competition.

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints both in children and adults has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival, and as everyone who has used it knows, is without an equal. For sale by all druggists.

Lieut.-Col. Gregory's Letter.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 23.—Lieut.-Col. Gregory, who was yesterday formally relieved of the command of the 2nd Dragoons, gave out a statement to the effect that his quarrel is not with Col. Otter, although the D.O.C. had written him that his attitude in relation to the promotion of Major Glasgow and replies to requests made were nothing short of insubordination, but with the authorities at Ottawa. His letter of resignation was as follows:

"As a protest against the system of political intrigue that compels my superior officers to interfere with the efficiency and discipline of the regiment under my command, by promoting without my approval an inefficient officer in my regiment, while knowing and acknowledging such inefficiency, and at the same time being aware of the fact that I was trying to compel the officer referred to (Major S. H. Glasgow) to improve his qualification before I recommended him for promotion to the position of second in command, I hereby tender my resignation as commanding officer of the 2nd Dragoons and further request that I be relieved of my command at once."

Dundonald in Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 23.—(Globe Special.)—It is reported that Lord Dundonald proposed an immediate expenditure on capital account for militia purposes of $13,000,000 and an annual addition to the ordinary expenditure of over $2,000,000. This would make, at the end of 20 years, $53,000,000. It is also said that he proposed to abolish the permanent corps. What His Lordship proposed to substitute in its place is not known, but he had some idea that was not fully developed. Lord Dundonald, accompanied by his aide-de-camp, arrived from Toronto yesterday morning. He refused to be interviewed.

Lord Aylmer's Opinion.

Toronto, June 23.—Lord Aylmer, adjutant-general and acting G.O.C. of the militia in Canada, passed through this city yesterday en route to Niagara camp.

In his opinion the forces are in splendid condition in every branch. The future will, he said, no doubt be marked by the establishment of many new corps.

Niagara commons, he said, was totally inadequate to accommodate the troops encamped. That at Kentville, N. S., is the best.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Cowchella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all druggists.

Demand Compensation.

Toronto, June 23.—At the annual convention of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association yesterday, in several discussions that occurred, strong grounds were taken against any legislation that would tend to wipe out licenses where no misconduct had been shown without due compensation. It was held that no authority, municipal, provincial nor Dominion, had any right to do this, and that both property-owner and tenant were entitled to compensation in such cases. The officers were nearly all re-elected.

AS A WORKING TOOL

for the student and the writer, as an authoritative reference book for schools, teachers, families, business and professional men, there is one book which offers superior advantages in the solid value of its information, and the ease with which it is obtained.

One's admiration for Webster's International Dictionary increases daily as it comes to be better known. It never refuses the information sought and it never overwhelms one with a mass of misinformation illogically arranged.

The St. James Gazette of London, England, says: For the teacher, the pupil, the student and the litterateur, there is nothing better; it covers everything.

The New and Enlarged Edition recently issued has 25,000 new words and phrases, a completely revised Biographical Dictionary and Gazetteer of the World, 2000 pages and 3000 illustrations.

Our name is on the title-pages of all the authentic dictionaries of the Webster series.

A U. S. COMMISSION.

Cabinet Appoints One to Investigate the Slocum Disaster.

New York, June 22.—Evidence of a startling nature, which doubtless will have an important bearing on the ultimate result of the coroner's inquiry into the Gen. Slocum disaster was forthcoming at the inquest yesterday.

Perhaps the most unexpected incident was the continued refusal to answer questions of Henry Lundberg, a United States steamboat inspector, who was supposed to have inspected the life-preservers and the hull of the ill-fated steamer. His refusal was based on the ground that an answer might tend to incriminate him, and he acted on the advice of his counsel.

The coroner committed Lundberg to the House of Detention, but accepted $500 bail for his appearance at the hearing to-day, which was satisfactory to the District Attorney.

A commission, consisting of Lawrence O. Murray, Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Labor; Major-Gen. John W. Wilson, U. S. A., retired; Commander Cameron McR. Winslow, U.S.N.; Herbert Knox Smith, Deputy Commissioner of Corporations in the Department of Commerce and Labor, and George Uhler, Supervising Inspector-General of the steamboat inspection service, has been appointed by the United States Cabinet to investigate the disaster.

Troops "Broke Even."

Victoria, B. C., June 22.—Shortly after daybreak Monday morning the militia regiments of Vancouver and Victoria, with the Royal Engineers and Royal Artillery, engaged in manoeuvres, which had for their object the capture of Esquimalt. The plans were worked out under the supervision of Col. English, R.A., Imperial officer in command of the regular troops. Two attempts were made by the attacking column. The first was declared by the umpires to be successful, and the last repulsed. The manoeuvres have been declared the most practical ever carried out 90 Cases of Smallpox.

Toronto, June 23.—The Board of Health inspector who went to Haileybury on the report of smallpox in the Temiskaming district has informed Dr. Hodgetts that there are twenty cases in New Liskeard. The local authorities are putting up a hospital and place of detention for suspected cases, and the Provincial Board has forwarded a tent and blankets for the unorganized districts.

Goderich Man Killed.

Winnipeg, June 23.—Fred Cuthbert, a merchant of Fernie, B. C., was instantly killed at Lethbridge. His team took fright, throwing the occupants out on their head and dislocating Cuthbert's neck. Deceased came from Goderich, Ont., in 1885, and was recently burned out in the Fernie fire.

Arrested After a Fight.

Hamilton, June 23.—Harris Cohen was arrested last evening after a stiff fight by Detectives Bleakley and Miller. The arrest was made at the request of the Chicago police on a warrant charging Cohen with stealing money from the Adams Express Company. No particulars were given.

To Go to the Bench.

Montreal, June 23.—It is reported here last night that Hon. J. C. McCorkell, Provincial Treasurer, whose election has been voided, will be appointed judge of the Superior Court for the district of Bedford, the treasurership to be taken by Hon. W. A. Weir, M.P.P., for Argenteuil.

Railway Crossing Again.

Galt, June 23.—Ben Bricker of Roseville and his daughter, while seated in a buggy yesterday, were struck by a C.P.R. train at the crossing of Blenheim road. Miss Bricker was uninjured, but her father was badly shaken up.

Canadians Defeated.

London, June 23.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian bowlers were yesterday defeated by the Upper Clapton Club, the score being 80 to 79.

THE AX of toughest steel becomes dulled by constant use and must have a new edge if it is to do good work. Constant work dulls a man as it does an ax, makes him sluggish of body and dull of mind. He needs a tonic, something that will restore the keenness of mind and activity of body.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery puts new life into weak, worn-out, run-down men and women. It strengthens the weak stomach, purifies the blood, and effectively stimulates the liver. The whole body is built up with sound, solid flesh by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I was confined to my bed for four months from January 1st, 1899, and commenced to take your medicine January 26th, 1899," writes Mrs. Hattie L. Sheppard, of Poplarbluff, Mo. "I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, four of 'Favorite Prescription,' two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and one bottle of Doctor Pierce's Compound Extract of Smartweed, as a blood-purifier. Indigestion, obstinate constipation, and hardening of the liver was my trouble. I am at this time able to do almost any kind of house work. Your medicine saved me from my grave. Thanks to you for the benefit. My case was hopeless when I began taking your medicine."

Don't be fooled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery," is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery," which no "just as good" medicine can show.

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

SIR C. H. E. ELLIOT.

Governor of East Africa Protectorate, Objects to Jewish Colony.

Mombasa, British East African Protectorate, June 22.—Sir Charles H. E. Elliot, British commissioner and commander-in-chief for the East African Protectorate, has resigned the commissionership because he is opposed to the proposed Jewish settlement in the East African Protectorate.

Sir Charles has cabled to Premier Balfour demanding a public enquiry of the circumstances of his resignation and adding:

"Lord Lansdowne ordered me to refuse grants of land to private individuals while giving enormous tracts in East Africa to a syndicate. I have refused to execute these instructions, which I consider unjust and impolitic."

To Prove what Anti-Pill, the Great System Treatment will do for you, Every Reader of this paper may have A Sample Bottle sent Free by Mail.

Derangement of the stomach is responsible for much sickness and suffering. Every organ of the body depends upon the stomach for its nutriment and strength—If the stomach is not working right the blood carries to the liver, heart, nerves and kidney tissue imperfect nutrition—They become weak and unable to perform their work—become clogged, diseased, and throw out their distress symptoms. Now you may get stimulative, temporary relief by the taking of a kidney, liver, nerve or heart specific, but the cause remains—The stomach is at fault, and so long as it keeps loading the blood with impurity—waste, so long will the blood transport and deposit disease breeding elements in the weak places—When you feel sick, help the stomach first. A well stomach means a well body. Anti-Pill, the Great System Treatment, is a new discovery that has a marvelous influence in correcting system ailments. Address, Wilson-Fyfe Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., for free sample. Regular size, a month's treatment, 50 cents at Druggists.

LATEST SPORT

LACROSSE.

A hot struggle is expected in the T.A.S.—Hastings game here on Saturday. The boys from the Trent are running an excursion on that date and are out to try and win. A full practice of T.A.S. is called for to-night. The locals playing fine lacrosse.

• • • •

The Lindsay lacrosse club refused to come to Peterborough to-morrow to play a scheduled game. The secretary of the local team had a telephone conversation with President Frank of the C. L. A. to-day and he stated that he would order the game to be arranged early next week, as it was rather late to order Lindsay to play here to-morrow.

• • • •

The Peterboroughs must get out to practice and get in condition if they expect to remain in the running for the district championship. In the game with Orillia here, the boys had the best of the argument in the first two quarters, but then their lack of condition began to tell and the visitors who trained to the minute finished in strong shape and won out quite handily. Every playing member of the club is urged to turn out every night to get into shape for future contests. If the material is only put to the proper use and developed by plenty of steady and hard practice, Peterborough could place a team on the field which should win most of their games, but get out to practice, boys.

• • • •

One of the best games of the season is promised for next Saturday afternoon, when the T.A.S. meet Hastings in a T.V.L. game at the Murray street grounds. Both these twelves are playing fast lacrosse and the match will be a speedy one from start to finish.

BASEBALL.

At Bobcaygeon yesterday, the Auburns won a Kawartha League game from the home team by a score of 14-4. The winners took an early lead securing 11 runs in the first three innings, but after that the losers braced up a peg and played good ball. McCorry twirled a good game for the Auburns and was well supported behind the bat by Belleghem. "Reddy" Lamonte was umpire.

• • • •

Last evening the Peterboroughs won from the T.A.S. in an exhibition game by a score of 14-1. The winners batted and fielded in fine form. McCabe on the slab did good work and showed that he has still a few shoots which will bother the best of hitters. The team will be in good shape for Saturday's game with Bowmanville. Waram played at short in place of Lamonte, who was out of town, and Earls played left field. The battery was McCabe and Graham for the winners, and Quinlan and Latremouille for the T. A. S. The umpire was Mr. Hulf.

In the Guild League this evening St. Luke's and Charlotte Street and All Saints and George Street will complete their games for this week.

In an exhibition game at the Patterson street grounds last evening, St. Paul's won from Charlotte Street in a four innings contest by a score of 8-1. The winners played good ball, while the Methodist youth had an off night and played poor ball. The batteries were, for St. Paul's Watt and Rosenburg; for Charlotte Street, Ryan, Roddy and Thornton.

Toronto beat Baltimore in a double header yesterday and astonished the baseball fans. One of the scores was 27-7. The difference between these figures is not unlike that of the Review-Examiner match.

Yesterday at Bobcaygeon in the Kawartha League the Auburns defeated the Bobcaygeon team easily by 14-4. Doran pitched for the winners and was invincible.

The Young Quakers will play Cressman's team to-morrow night in the P.A.A.A. grounds. On July 1st, the Young Quakers will go to Port Hope and Cobourg, playing in the former town in the morning and in the latter in the afternoon.

The Examiner has been asked to publish the following:—

The game between the "Young Reliables" was won by the "Kings Own" by a score of 25 to 7. It was played in the Central Park on Saturday.

We cannot give the line up of the Young Reliables, because they were changing men every innings. They put on 4 new pitchers—the first, Harold Hickery, then Jimmie O'Brien, and when his arm got tired they put on Flowerist Blade. He being up in the air, they put on the left hand twirler, Nummy Hawkins. They also put on three new catchers—the first was Harold Clancy, the second Joe Eano, and when he got tired they put on Frank Hayes. The line-up of the King's Own was as follows:—Gus Rose, pitcher;; George Hawley, catcher; Bruce Halpin, 1 b; Frank Cassidy, 2b; Russel Kirn, 3 b; Howard Kirn, s.s.; Maurice McIntee, l f; Kearns, c f; Bill Saxby, r f.

FOOTBALL.

The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, has the following report of the game played there Saturday:—

The Bowmanville Football Club is now in the finals, as a result of the game against Bridgenorth on Saturday. It was a game worth seeing as the kind of ball play put up was both clean and fast. The local boys won because they were the best team and had a combination that none but the best can equal. The game started sharp at 3.15 p. m. and for the next hour the visitors were kept on the hustle every minute. In a short time the ball was around the visitors' goal but their defence kept hammering it out in good style. The first goal was scored by Inch after a fast piece of combination work of the forwards. The next by a neat drop by Freeland. In the second half the home team again scored after a neat run. Inch and Dewitt doing the trick in a mix up in goal. The game was a good exhibition of football of the right sort, not a man on either side doing any rough work. The combination work of the local forwards was of the best sort and completely demoralized the defence work of the visitors, every man on the line played a star game. The forward line of the visitors got going some times but were unable to break through the half-back line of their opponents with any effect and when did manage to get through Heatlie and Baker met the ball every time with a kick that carried all before them. James in goal had not much to do but did it right. The visitors will always have a warm welcome to our town as they showed themselves good sports, gentlemen and clean, fast players.

On Wednesday night the King's Own football team defeated the West End by a score of 1-0. The teams lined up as follows:—King's Own.—Goal, B. Halpin; backs, J. MacIlwain, B. McNern; half backs, F. Cassidy, H. Kern, W. Spensely; forwards, F. Kearns, H. McNern, G. Hawley, T. Wilkins, M. McIntee. West End.—Goal, J. Eano; backs, N. Kirk, D. Hopkins; half backs, Florist Blade, Chicky Callahan, M. Dyson; forwards, R. Dobson, D. Robinson, Trater McNern, B. Robinson, A. Richardson. Referee R. Johnston, who acted fairly for both sides. Goal umpires, R. Halpin, J. McIntee. The King's Own soon expect to play again.

MISCELLANEOUS.

"Reddy" McMillan, who shone in hockey in this city last winter, is now playing lacrosse in his native town, Cornwall, and on Saturday took part in a match against Montreal. "Reddy" played on the home and, according to a despatch, completely outclassed his check. He was the victim of a serious accident just before time expired, getting his nose smashed while trying to carry the ball in on the Montreal home. The match ended in a tie, 3—3.—Belleville Intelligencer.

GALWAY

A sad accident, which may result in death, occurred last week when the eldest son of Martin McGee was shot through the eye while handling a .22 rifle. It seems that the two little children procured the rifle and not knowing the danger, in some way managed to get it off. The bullet is still yet extracted.

THE BAPTISTS OF PETERBOROUGH DISTRICT

One Hundred and Second Annual Conference of Baptist Churches

Now Being Held in Belleville—The Delegates in Attendance from Peterborough—The Mayor's Welcome

The Belleville Intelligencer says: The one hundred and second annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of Baptist churches opened in the Baptist church here yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. E. Trotter, Moderator, of Port Hope, presided. The opening devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. Bastow, of Peterborough. The first session consisted chiefly of reports from various branches of the church work.

Rev. H. C. Priest, B.A., gave a short address on Foreign Missions.

In the evening the session was well attended. The prayer and praise service was conducted by Rev. O. C. Elliott.

Mayor Chown, on behalf of the city, was present and gave an address of welcome to the delegates. He referred to the work of the church and the good it was accomplishing. He hoped their stay in the city would be both pleasant and profitable.

Rev. Mr. Elliott, on behalf of the local Baptists, extended a cordial welcome to the delegates.

The Moderator appropriately replied.

Miss A. Walton, of Peterborough, presented a report of the Directress Circles and Mission Bands, which showed that this branch of the church work was steadily advancing.

Rev. H. C. Priest, B.A., who for nine years was a missionary in India, gave an interesting account of what was being done in that far-off country. The population is 300,000,000, and there are only 3,000 engaged in missionary work, so that the laborers are few for such a field. In Northern Bengal, which has a population of two millions, there are only five Protestant missionary workers. The customs, religious ceremonies, etc., of the people were described by the speaker. In concluding his address, the Rev. gentleman made an earnest appeal for renewed efforts on the line of missionary work.

Rev. James Grant, of Cobourg, gave an instructive address in reference to Manitoba and the Northwest mission work. The pronouncing of the benediction brought the meeting to a close.

The out of town delegates in attendance at the convention are:

THE ONTARIO BANK

Satisfactory Reports Presented at the 47th Annual Meeting

For nearly half a century the Ontario Bank has been a factor in the field of finance and it still maintains a steady and gratifying progress. The annual meeting of the Ontario Bank yesterday was well attended. The reports gave much satisfaction to the shareholders present, all showing the good progress made during the past year. The net profits were $176,255, which, with the $73,606 carried forward from last year, enabled the directors to pay the usual dividends at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, transfer $100,000 to the rest, making that fund $600,000; add $5,000 to the officers' pension fund, and carry forward $54,862. The deposits have been increased since the previous annual meeting by $1,089,785, and the general business of the bank continues to steadily improve, which, in view of the fact that no new branches have been opened during the year, must be regarded as exceedingly satisfactory. The Peterborough office was enlarged and refitted at a considerable outlay, which was provided for without increasing the bank premises account. Feeling reference was made by the President, Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, to the death of A. S. Irving, who was a director of the bank. The old directors were re-elected, with the addition of Mr. John Flett to fill the vacancy. Mr. Cockburn was re-elected President, and Mr. Donald Mackay Vice-President.

JAPANESE MAKE A CONCERTED ATTACK

Assail Port Arthur with Their Fleet and Army.

RECONNOITRE PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Flotilla Heavily Engage with the Forts, but Apparently Suffered No Damage—Japs Repulse a Sharp Attack, and Enemy Retreated Toward Shintailing—Jap Success Due to Artillery.

Che Foo, June 24.—It is reported here that the Japanese made a determined attack upon Port Arthur from land and sea Wednesday, June 22, and also during the night.

Approached Port Arthur.

Chicago, June 24.—A special to The Daily News from Che Foo says: "A reconnaissance of the approaches to Port Arthur was made Wednesday by a Japanese flotilla of three destroyers and four torpedo boats, which ran in from the east about noon and cruised along the whole bluff, coming out past Laotheshan promonotory. As the flotilla steamed along it was heavily engaged with the forts, but apparently suffered no damage, although a single mast of one of the torpedo boats was knocked out of shape as if struck by a shell. The operation was backed at some distance by two cruisers, one of which appeared to be the Yakuma, while an auxiliary cruiser, an old San Francisco liner, the Nippon, or a sister ship, acted as sea scout in the rear. Shortly afterward heavy firing began on the land side, lasting intermittently until dusk."

Defeated the Russians.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, June 24.—Russians from Samimak attacked the Japanese outposts in force Wednesday for the purpose of testing their strength. The Russian force consisted of two regiments of cavalry, one of infantry, and one battery of artillery. The enemy were defeated and retreated toward Shintailing. They are supposed to have sustained considerable loss. On the Japanese side Major Kubotz was killed and nine men were wounded.

Superior Jap Artillery.

St. Petersburg, June 24.—A leading Russian military expert, reviewing the battle of Vafangow, attributes the Japanese success to their superior artillery.

GUELPH TO DR, MILLS.

Railway Commissioner Presented With a Cathedral Clock and An Illuminated Address By the Citizens.

Guelph, June 24.—Dr. Jas. Mills of the Canadian Railway Commission was honored last evening with a presentation of a handsome souvenir and an expression of the good feeling the citizens cherish towards him. The presentation took place at a large and representative gathering of the leading citizens in the city hall. Mayor Hamilton presided and made a brief address.

J. P. Downey, M.P.P., in words of eloquence and fitness extended a welcome to Dr. Mills. He spoke of his excellent work during the past quarter of a century as president of the O.C.A., which has placed the institution foremost among the agricultural colleges of the world. Mr. Downey also paid tribute to Dr. Mills as a citizen of Guelph and to the wise choice the Government had made in selecting him for the position he now occupies as Railway Commissioner.

Hugh Guthrie, M.P., in a pleasing speech referred to the nature of the commission with which Dr. Mills is connected and of his ability to fill the position. Dr. Mills was wisely chosen, he maintained, because he represented the farming community, which is recognized as the most important in the country.

G. B. Ryan, president of the Board of Trade, read to Commissioner Mills an address which was beautifully inscribed and richly bound in morocco.

The gift was a handsome grandfather cathedral clock and was inscribed by Ald. J. M. Struthers. At the same time B. W. Lyon assured Dr. Mills that the gift was a spontaneous expression from the citizens of Guelph towards one who had done much in the city's interests.

Dr. Mills acknowledged that he had received many kindly manifestations from the people of Guelph, but this had been the climax. It was needless for him to say he fully appreciated such an expression of goodwill, and he would cherish the gift and the kindly words accompanying it for the balance of his days. He referred then to his work in connection with the O. A. C., and his delight to see the institution being so well patronized.

Commissioner Bernier, who accompanied Dr. Mills to the city, followed in a brief address expressive of his high regard for Dr. Mills and of the wise choice made in his appointment on the Commission.

COMPLAINTS RE CLASSIFICATION.

Mr. Miller Contends For No. 11 Before Railway Commission.

Toronto, June 24.—Before the Railway Commission yesterday morning, W. H. D. Miller, of the C.M.A., continued his exposition of shippers' complaints re classification No. 11, being, he said, the only legal one, and any reductions or additions should be considered as having been voluntarily made by the railroads. Minimum weights in some classes had been advanced and the shippers of light or bulky articles were discriminated against because they wished to make a 36-foot car the standard.

Mr. Miller wanted a variation of ten per cent. above and below the minimum, where the minimum shipping amount and actual carrying capacity of the car corresponded, and objected to freight agents having the general power to refuse freight offered for shipment. The rule was too broad, he said. An improvement which was needed was the extension of the "cold weather" section beyond its present dates, October 10 and May 2. Mr. Miller will conclude his case this morning.

The Commission adjourned at half-past twelve and before doing so, Mr. Pullen, for the G.T.R., submitted the railway's defence in answer to the complaint of the Sutherland Innes Co. and Wallaceburg Cooperage Co. The rates of the United States lines south of Lake Erie could not be taken as a basis for Canadian rates, because they were affected by local conditions. The railways were willing to deal with each case on its merits and give as low rates as possible.

Railway Commission at Guelph.

Guelph, June 24.—Hon. A. G. Blair, Hon. Mr. Bernier and Dr. James Mills, constituting the Canadian Railway Commission, came in yesterday afternoon to look over the local situation. They were received by Mayor Hamilton and other representatives of the Council and Board of Trade.

It will be their duty in the course of a few days to decide whether the G. T. R. is to expropriate Queen's Jubilee Park, whether the C.P.R. is to have permission to cross the G.T.R. Company's track near the north-western limits of the city, in extending their line to Goderich, also whether the G.T.R. are to continue to compel the city to pay what is considered an exorbitant sum for the right to run the street cars over their line at Gordon street.

The Commissioners spent the most of the afternoon in their work and were entertained for a short time early last evening by President Creelman of the O.A.C.

DEATH OF MAJOR FORESTER.

Health Shattered Beyond Recovery From South African Experiences.

Toronto, June 24.—Somewhat unexpectedly Major William Forester of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, died in the Oakville Sanitarium yesterday morning. He had been ailing for some time, but took a sudden turn for the worse on Wednesday and passed away through syncope.

Major Forester was born about 1861 in Cumberland, England, and was employed in the Bank of British North America in the Maritime Provinces. There he married a daughter of the late Senator Temple of Fredericton, N.B. He subsequently joined the army and was popular in military circles. He was A.D.C. during the tour of the Prince of Wales. His experiences in the South African campaign shattered his health be-

Col. Lessard and T. C. Patteson undertook the charge of the funeral arrangements, and the interment will take place at the Temple family burying ground at Fredericton, where the remains lie of his wife, who predeceased him.

AN ELOPEMENT AT MIDNIGHT

Former Resident of Cobourg Elopes with Campbellford Girl—Married at Midnight

The Chicago Mercury, has the following with reference to a rather interesting matrimonial affair in which the principals were a Campbellford girl, Miss Irene Routh and a former resident of Cobourg, Mr. Funston.

A midnight wedding at Edwardsville, Ill., following a sensational elopement from St. Louis, in which Miss Irene Routh, aged seventeen years, of Chicago, (formerly of Campbellford,) and Fritzhugh Lee Funston, said to be a nephew of Brigadier General Fred Funston, were the principals, has completely prostrated the mother of the young bride who lives at her home 5939 Grand Boulevard.

Two weddings were performed at Edwardsville at midnight, both brides being staunch friends, and each witnessing the ceremony of the other, Miss Ona Wilson, 5142 Cannanne avenue, St. Louis, was the second bride with Leonard G. Kalloch, of Boston, Mass, the groom.

Miss Routh went to St. Louis three weeks ago to visit the fair and stayed with Miss Wilson, an old friend of her family. Here she met Funston, and wrote home on several occasions saying to her parents. "Do not be surprised if I return home an engaged girl."

The four young people met at the home of Miss Wilson on Sunday evening, and secretly arranged for a wedding in some near-by town. Funston and Miss Routh agreed to accompany them. Miss Wilson chose Edwardsville, and accordingly the party of four left for that city on the first train out of St. Louis. Reaching it they found all dark at the Leland Hotel they explained the situation to the night clerk Edward Chapman, who offered his services. He sent for County Clerk William Darch and Judge John E. Hillebetter. As the clerk was making out the licenses, young Funston said: "You might as well make one out for us too."

Miss Routh blushed, but made no reply, and the clerk did as he was directed.

The obliging Judge then tied the nuptial knots.

A telegram was received yesterday morning by Mrs. Routh announcing the marriage of her daughter. Hardly had the telegram been read when the telephone in the Routh house rang, and an anxious little voice at the other end said:

"This is Irene, mamma, Will you forgive us? We just couldn't help it for we really love each other."

"You must come home right away, and bring your husband with you," answered Mrs. Routh between her sobs, and the young couple promised to return to Chicago to-day. They are expected to arrive at the home of the bride's parents late this afternoon.

Frontenac Company's Dividend.

The directors of the Frontenac Cereal Co., of Kingston, have declared a dividend of seven per cent. on the preferred stock of the company. This is the result of the company's first year of business in the introduction of Orange Meat, the now famous Canadian Cereal. Orange Meat has rapidly become the most popular cereal food on the Canadian market. The Frontenac Cereal Company have displayed great enterprise in its introduction, and the declaring of their first dividend is an indication of the bright future which the company has before it.

COMMONS SPEND A DAY OF DUNDONALD

House of Commons Talk of Nothing Else Thursday.

A VOTE OF CENSURE MOVED.

Neither Mr. Borden Nor Mr. Monk Made a Serious Attempt to Justify Lord Dundonald's Actions—Mr. Fisher's Powerful Reply—Sir Fred. Borden Charges the General With Treachery.

Ottawa, June 24.—The Dundonald incident engrossed the attention of the House yesterday to the exclusion of all other business. That the question has aroused a great degree of interest was evidenced by the crowded state of the galleries in which up to the hour of adjournment last night many who were unable to find seats remained patiently standing.

Mr. Borden's Attack.

The debate opened with an attack upon the Government by Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, who offered an amendment censuring the Minister of Agriculture for interference in the appointment of officers and regretting the loss of Lord Dundonald's services. Mr. Borden spoke for two hours, reviewing the case. It was noticeable that Mr. Borden and Mr. Monk made no serious attempt to justify Lord Dundonald's actions, but based their attacks upon Mr. Fisher's interference.

Mr. Fisher's Reply.

Hon. Sydney Fisher made a most able and vigorous defence of his action which, he affirmed, was prompted by a desire to promote the interests of the militia and to prevent the introduction of politics into the organization of the new regiment. Mr. Fisher, who declared that the first portion of Mr. Borden's resolution expressed in words the principle which he had carried into practice, was accorded an ovation by the Liberals whose enthusiasm he aroused.

Sir Frederick Borden.

Sir Frederick Borden justified the Minister of Agriculture, and charged Lord Dundonald with insubordination, and professed himself at a loss to account for the mental and moral condition which would permit a man to act as Lord Dundonald had in meeting his chief day after day and week after week, proffering the hand of friendship, acting a double part, and all the time seeking to precipitate a crisis. Egotism and self-assertion were the keynote of that manifesto. Sir Frederick declared that the people of Canada did not want that class of man as public servants, and asserted that he had experienced great difficulties in keeping Lord Dundonald within bounds. Col. Hughes moved the adjournment of the debate.

Railway Bill Passes Senate.

The Senate spent the day yesterday in committee on the National Transcontinental Railway bill. The following amendment by Senator Macdonald, B.C., was put and defeated: The construction of that portion of the said railway within the Province of British Columbia shall be commenced at and from the place selected as the terminus on the Pacific Coast of the said railways on or before the first day of June, 1905, and shall be prosecuted with due diligence day by day until completed.

The National Transcontinental Railway bill was read a third time and passed in the Senate last night.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES.

Duncan Marshall of the Bracebridge Gazette Nominated For Muskoka.

Bracebridge, June 24.—The first Liberal nomination convention for the Muskoka district in the House of Commons since the new distribution, was held in the town hall, Bracebridge, yesterday, George Thomas presiding. The convention favored a local man, and the choice fell upon Duncan Marshall, Liberal organizer, a young man who six months ago purchased the Bracebridge Gazette. The names of Wm. Hanna, Port Carling; Dr. Shearer and Dr. Hart, Huntsville; George Thomas, Peter Hutchinson, Peter Smith and J. D. Shier, of Bracebridge, were also placed in nomination, but retired. A. F. Cockburn, former member, ran, and the vote was Marshall 42, Cockburn 27. The nomination was then made unanimous. The Conservatives of the district hold their convention on July 7.

South Bruce Liberals.

Walkerton, June 24.—A convention of the Liberals of South Bruce was held here yesterday to nominate a candidate to contest the riding in the approaching election for the House of Commons. All parts of the riding were well represented, not less than two hundred delegates being present.

Mr. A. W. Robb, the retiring candidate, was then called upon, and in the course of a fifteen or twenty minute speech explained why he had resigned.

Nominations was then proceeded with and resulted as follows: S. H. McKay, barrister, of Walkerton; J. B. Campbell, merchant, Pinkerton; J. G. Murdoch, Lucknow; Angus Martin, Ripley; R. D. Cameron, Lucknow; Neil McIntyre, Greenock; G. Murdoch, Lucknow, and P. H. Mackenzie, Kinloss.

Stirring addresses were delivered by the various candidates, all retiring except Mr. Mackenzie, who was made the unanimous choice of the convention.

JAPANESE MAKE A CONCERTED ATTACK

Assail Port Arthur with Their Fleet and Army.

RECONNOITRE PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Flotilla Heavily Engage with the Forts, but Apparently Suffered No Damage—Japs Repulse a Sharp Attack, and Enemy Retreated Toward Shintailing—Jap Success Due to Artillery.

Che Foo, June 24.—It is reported here that the Japanese made a determined attack upon Port Arthur from land and sea Wednesday, June 22, and also during the night.

Approached Port Arthur.

Chicago, June 24.—A special to The Daily News from Che Foo says: "A reconnaissance of the approaches to Port Arthur was made Wednesday by a Japanese flotilla of three destroyers and four torpedo boats, which ran in from the east about noon and cruised along the whole bluff, coming out past Laothieshan promonotory. As the flotilla steamed along it was heavily engaged with the forts, but apparently suffered no damage, although a single mast of one of the torpedo boats was knocked out of shape as if struck by a shell. The operation was backed at some distance by two cruisers, one of which appeared to be the Yakuma, while an auxiliary cruiser, an old San Francisco liner, the Nippon, or a sister ship, acted as sea scout in the rear. Shortly afterward heavy firing began on the land side, lasting intermittently until dusk."

Defeated the Russians.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, June 24.—Russians from Samimak attacked the Japanese outposts in force Wednesday for the purpose of testing their strength. The Russian force consisted of two regiments of cavalry, one of infantry, and one battery of artillery. The enemy were defeated and retreated toward Shintailing. They are supposed to have sustained considerable loss. On the Japanese side Major Kubotz was killed and nine men were wounded.

Superior Jap Artillery.

St. Petersburg, June 24.—A leading Russian military expert, reviewing the battle of Vafangow, attributes the Japanese success to their superior artillery.

GUELPH TO DR. MILLS.

Railway Commissioner Presented With a Cathedral Clock and An Illuminated Address By the Citizens.

Guelph, June 24.—Dr. Jas. Mills of the Canadian Railway Commission was honored last evening with a presentation of a handsome souvenir and an expression of the good feeling the citizens cherish towards him. The presentation took place at a large and representative gathering of the leading citizens in the city hall. Mayor Hamilton presided and made a brief address.

J. P. Downey, M.P.P., in words of eloquence and fitness extended a welcome to Dr. Mills. He spoke of his excellent work during the past quarter of a century as president of the O.C.A., which has placed the institution foremost among the agricultural colleges of the world. Mr. Downey also paid tribute to Dr. Mills as a citizen of Guelph and to the wise choice the Government had made in selecting him for the position he now occupies as Railway Commissioner.

Hugh Guthrie, M.P., in a pleasing speech referred to the nature of the commission with which Dr. Mills is connected and of his ability to fill the position. Dr. Mills was wisely chosen, he maintained, because he represented the farming community, which is recognized as the most important in the country.

G. B. Ryan, president of the Board of Trade, read to Commissioner Mills an address which was beautifully inscribed and richly bound in morocco.

The gift was a handsome grandfather cathedral clock and was inscribed by Ald. J. M. Struthers. At the same time B. W. Lyon assured Dr. Mills that the gift was a spontaneous expression from the citizens of Guelph towards one who had done much in the city's interests.

Dr. Mills acknowledged that he had received many kindly manifestations from the people of Guelph, but this had been the climax. It was needless for him to say he fully appreciated such an expression of goodwill, and he would cherish the gift and the kindly words accompanying it for the balance of his days. He referred then to his work in connection with the O. A. C., and his delight to see the institution being so well patronized.

Commissioner Bernier, who accompanied Dr. Mills to the city, followed in a brief address expressive of his high regard for Dr. Mills and of the wise choice made in his appointment on the Commission.

COMPLAINTS RE CLASSIFICATION.

Mr. Miller Contends For No. 11 Before Railway Commission.

Toronto, June 24.—Before the Railway Commission yesterday morning, W. H. D. Miller, of the C.M.A., continued his exposition of shippers' complaints re classification No. 11, being, he said, the only legal one, and any reductions or additions should be considered as having been voluntarily made by the railroads. Minimum weights in some classes had been advanced and the shippers of light or bulky articles were discriminated against because they wished to make a 36-foot car the standard.

Mr. Miller wanted a variation of ten per cent. above and below the minimum, where the minimum shipping amount and actual carrying capacity of the car corresponded, and objected to freight agents having the general power to refuse freight offered for shipment. The rule was too broad, he said. An improvement which was needed was the extension of the "cold weather" section beyond its present dates, October 10 and May 2. Mr. Miller will conclude his case this morning.

The Commission adjourned at half-past twelve and before doing so, Mr. Pullen, for the G.T.R., submitted the railway's defence in answer to the complaint of the Sutherland Innes Co. and Wallaceburg Cooperage Co. The rates of the United States lines south of Lake Erie could not be taken as a basis for Canadian rates, because they were affected by local conditions. The railways were willing to deal with each case on its merits and give as low rates as possible.

Railway Commission at Guelph.

Guelph, June 24.—Hon. A. G. Blair, Hon. Mr. Bernier, and Dr. James Mills, constituting the Canadian Railway Commission, came in yesterday afternoon to look over the local situation. They were received by Mayor Hamilton and other representatives of the Council and Board of Trade.

It will be their duty in the course of a few days to decide whether the G. T. R. is to expropriate Queen's Jubilee Park, whether the C.P.R. is to have permission to cross the G.T. R. Company's track near the northwestern limits of the city, in extending their line to Goderich, also whether the G.T.R. are to continue to compel the city to pay what is considered an exorbitant sum for the right to run the street cars over their line at Gordon street.

The Commissioners spent the most of the afternoon in their work and were entertained for a short time early last evening by President Creelman of the O.A.C.

DEATH OF MAJOR FORESTER.

Health Shattered Beyond Recovery From South African Experiences.

Toronto, June 24.—Somewhat unexpectedly Major William Forester of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, died in the Oakville Sanitarium yesterday morning. He had been ailing for some time, but took a sudden turn for the worse on Wednesday and passed away through syncope.

Major Forester was born about 1861 in Cumberland, England, and was employed in the Bank of British North America in the Maritime Provinces. There he married a daughter of the late Senator Temple of Fredericton, N.B. He subsequently joined the army and was popular in military circles. He was A.D.C. during the tour of the Prince of Wales. His experiences in the South African campaign shattered his health beyond recovery.

Col. Lessard and T. C. Patteson undertook the charge of the funeral arrangements, and the interment will take place at the Temple family burying ground at Fredericton, where the remains lie of his wife, who predeceased him.

AN ELOPEMENT AT MIDNIGHT

Former Resident of Cobourg Elopes with Campbellford Girl—Married at Midnight

The Chicago Mercury, has the following with reference to a rather interesting matrimonial affair in which the principals were a Campbellford girl, Miss Irene Routh and a former resident of Cobourg, Mr. Funston.

A midnight wedding at Edwardsville, Ill., following a sensational elopement from St. Louis, in which Miss Irene Routh, aged seventeen years, of Chicago, (formerly of Campbellford,) and Fritzhugh Lee Funston, said to be a nephew of Brigadier General Fred Funston, were the principals, has completely prostrated the mother of the young bride who lives at her home 5939 Grand Boulevard.

Two weddings were performed at Edwardsville at midnight, both brides being staunch friends, and each witnessing the ceremony of the other, Miss Ona Wilson, 5142 Cannanne avenue, St. Louis, was the second bride with Leonard G. Kalloch, of Boston, Mass, the groom.

Miss Routh went to St. Louis three weeks ago to visit the fair and stayed with Miss Wilson, an old friend of her family. Here she met Funston, and wrote home on several occasions saying to her parents. "Do not be surprised if I return home an engaged girl."

The four young people met at the home of Miss Wilson on Sunday evening, and secretly arranged for a wedding in some near-by town. Funston and Miss Routh agreed to accompany them. Miss Wilson chose Edwardsville, and accordingly the party of four left for that city on the first train out of St. Louis. Reaching it they found all dark at the Leland Hotel they explained the situation to the night clerk Edward Chapman, who offered his services. He sent for County Clerk William Darch and Judge John E. Hillsbetter. As the clerk was making out the licenses, young Funston said: "You might as well make one out for us too."

Miss Routh blushed, but made no reply, and the clerk did as he was directed.

The obliging Judge then tied the nuptial knots.

A telegram was received yesterday morning by Mrs. Routh announcing the marriage of her daughter. Hardly had the telegram been read when the telephone in the Routh house rang, and an anxious little voice at the other end said:

"This is Irene, mamma. Will you forgive us? We just couldn't help it for we really love each other."

"You must come home right away, and bring your husband with you," answered Mrs. Routh between her sobs, and the young couple promised to return to Chicago to-day. They are expected to arrive at the home of the bride's parents late this afternoon.

Frontenac Company's Dividend.

The directors of the Frontenac Cereal Co., of Kingston, have declared a dividend of seven per cent. on the preferred stock of the company. This is the result of the company's first year of business in the introduction of Orange Meat, the new famous Canadian Cereal. Orange Meat has rapidly become the most popular cereal food on the Canadian market. The Frontenac Cereal Company have displayed great enterprise in its introduction, and the declaring of their first dividend is an indication of the bright future which the company has before it.

COMMONS SPEND A DAY OF DUNDONALD

House of Commons Talk of Nothing Else Thursday.

A VOTE OF CENSURE MOVED.

Neither Mr. Borden Nor Mr. Monk Made a Serious Attempt to Justify Lord Dundonald's Actions—Mr. Fisher's Powerful Reply—Sir Fred. Borden Charges the General With Treachery.

Ottawa, June 24.—The Dundonald incident engrossed the attention of the House yesterday to the exclusion of all other business. That the question has aroused a great degree of interest was evidenced by the crowded state of the galleries in which up to the hour of adjournment last night many who were unable to find seats remained patiently standing.

Mr. Borden's Attack.

The debate opened with an attack upon the Government by Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, who offered an amendment censuring the Minister of Agriculture for interference in the appointment of officers and regretting the loss of Lord Dundonald's services. Mr. Borden spoke for two hours, reviewing the case. It was noticeable that Mr. Borden and Mr. Monk made no serious attempt to justify Lord Dundonald's actions, but based their attacks upon Mr. Fisher's interference.

Mr. Fisher's Reply.

Hon. Sydney Fisher made a most able and vigorous defence of his action, which, he affirmed, was prompted by a desire to promote the interests of the militia and to prevent the introduction of politics into the organization of the new regiment. Mr. Fisher, who declared that the first portion of Mr. Borden's resolution expressed in words the principle which he had carried into practice, was accorded an ovation by the Liberals whose enthusiasm he aroused.

Sir Frederick Borden.

Sir Frederick Borden justified the Minister of Agriculture, and charged Lord Dundonald with insubordination, and professed himself at a loss to account for the mental and moral condition which would permit a man to act as Lord Dundonald had in meeting his chief day after day and week after week, proffering the hand of friendship, acting a double part, and all the time seeking to precipitate a crisis. Egotism and self-assertion were the keynote of that manifesto. Sir Frederick declared that the people of Canada did not want that class of man as public servants, and asserted that he had experienced great difficulties in keeping Lord Dundonald within bounds. Col. Hughes moved the adjournment of the debate.

Railway Bill Passes Senate.

The Senate spent the day yesterday in committee on the National Transcontinental Railway bill. The following amendment by Senator Macdonald, B.C., was put and defeated: The construction of that portion of the said railway within the Province of British Columbia shall be commenced at and from the place selected as the terminus on the Pacific Coast of the said railways on or before the first day of June, 1905, and shall be prosecuted with due diligence day by day until completed.

The National Transcontinental Railway bill was read a third time and passed in the Senate last night.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES.

Duncan Marshall of the Bracebridge Gazette Nominated For Muskoka.

Bracebridge, June 24.—The first Liberal nomination convention for the Muskoka district in the House of Commons since the new distribution, was held in the town hall, Bracebridge, yesterday, George Thomas presiding. The convention favored a local man, and the choice fell upon Duncan Marshall, Liberal organizer, a young man who six months ago purchased the Bracebridge Gazette. The names of Wm. Hanna, Port Carling; Dr. Shearer and Dr. Hart, Huntsville; George Thomas, Peter Hutchinson, Peter Smith and J. D. Shier, of Bracebridge, were also placed in nomination, but retired. A. F. Cockburn, former member, ran, and the vote was Marshall 42, Cockburn 27. The nomination was then made unanimous. The Conservatives of the district hold their convention on July 7.

South Bruce Liberals.

Walkerton, June 24.—A convention of the Liberals of South Bruce was held here yesterday to nominate a candidate to contest the riding in the approaching election for the House of Commons. All parts of the riding were well represented, not less than two hundred delegates being present.

Mr. A. W. Robb, the retiring candidate, was then called upon, and in the course of a fifteen or twenty minute speech explained why he had resigned.

Nominations was then proceeded with and resulted as follows: S. H. McKay, barrister, of Walkerton; J. B. Campbell, merchant, Pinkerton; J. G. Murdoch, Lucknow; Angus Martin, Ripley; R. D. Cameron, Lucknow; Neil McIntyre, Greenock; G. Murdoch, Lucknow, and P. H. Mackenzie, Kinloss.

Stirring addresses were delivered by the various candidates, all retiring except Mr. Mackenzie, who was made the unanimous choice of the convention.

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months.

"I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered.

A Young Chicago Girl Saved from Despair.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more.—LILLIE E. SINCLAIR. 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1904.

WHEN YOU COME TO THINK OF IT.

(Montreal Herald.)

When you come to think of it, this Dundonald debate makes the Canadian Conservative Opposition look very small.

Here they have a most sensational incident, of which they might, if they knew how, take advantage, but they don't know how.

They are blazing away at the Government as if there was something terribly wrong in the organization of the militia, but they don't know what it is, and can't find out.

They are as angry as can be because Sir Frederick Borden saw fit to suppress part of a report made by Lord Dundonald when he had been only a few weeks in Canada, and which they fondly believe will give them the necessary information to go upon. But what can be in it they, in their innocence, seem to be unable to guess.

Here they have their political friends in every regiment, in every officers' mess, in every military institute in Canada, talking over all the problems of Canada's defence all the time, and yet, until this rocket went up, the Opposition had never a word to say in criticism of the Government's course, never laid down a policy of their own, never suggested any drastic measure or any other measure.

They have seen the expenditure on the militia going steadily up, until, to quote Lt.-Col. Hibbard, 4.7 guns have taken the place of cannon of the vintage of George III, which were good enough for the party of Sir John Macdonald. They have approved the change, and seem never to have dreamed that all the while we were owing our national existence "to the forbearance of others," as Lord Dundonald so graciously puts it.

When you come to think of it, political leaders who make so much fuss about the retirement of Lord Dundonald, and who are wildly indignant over the exclusion of Dr. Pickel, and who yet are unable to find out what is wrong about the country, deserve to be considered small potatoes, and few to the hill.

INCREASED PAY AT MILITIA CAMP

Extract from District Orders—Conditions of Efficiency Pay.

According to the District Orders by Colonel Buchan, D.O.C., there will be an increase of pay at the Militia Camp, Kingston, this year.

An extract from the General Militia Order reads as follows:—

Efficiency pay shall be issued to warrant officers, non-commissioned officers and private soldiers of the active militia, permanent corps excepted, at rates and under conditions as follows:—

First year, 20 cents; second year, 40 cents; third year and afterwards, 50 cents.

The conditions are as follows:—

(a) To have been duly enlisted in a corps of the active militia, other than the permanent corps.

(b) To have performed for any one annual training the number of days drill ordered for the corps to which they belong.

(c) To have while performing such drill or training become reasonably proficient in the duties presented for the arm of the service to which they belong, including a good knowledge of the efficient use of the weapon with which they are armed.

(d) Not to have received punishment, if a non-commissioned officer, greater than a reprimand, or if a private soldier than that of admonition.

(e) If at the expiration of any annual training, a warrant officer, non-commissioned officer or private soldier has failed to comply with the above conditions, he shall forfeit all claim to efficiency pay for such annual training, and shall be entitled only to the met pay of his rank.

(f) Members of corps performing the whole annual training in camp, after the first of June instant, (1904) will be eligible for efficiency pay.

Continuous service immediately preceding the date of the present order may be reckoned to qualify for the higher rates of pay, subject to the foregoing conditions.

From and after the first of July, 1904, the provisions of the order shall apply to all corps performing annual training, either in camp or at local headquarters.

The camp opens in Kingston next Tuesday, June 28th, and will continue for twelve days.

Medicines You Can Trust.

There are no family medicines that have such a firm hold on the confidence of the people as those of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous physician and receipt book author. HOW CANADIAN MILITIA HAS BEEN TRANSFORMED

In Seven Short Years, From a Neglected and Dissatisfied Body Into an Efficient

Best Tribute to the Government Efficient Management.

(Special to the Toronto Star.)

Ottawa, June 20.—The country is already tolerably familiar with some of the measures that have been taken under this Government's direction for the improvement of the militia forces, and the results that have been obtained in building what was almost a neglected and dissatisfied body seven years ago into an enthusiastic corps provided with a much larger measure of up-to-date equipment and with nearly all the departments of a regular army. The expenditure alone on drill, armament, and maintenance of the militia and in military works gives some idea of Sir Frederick Borden's task. In 1896 the total outlay on the militia was $2,173,816. This year it is $3,803,990. A vote which, moreover, was one of the most unpopular in the whole list of Ministerial expenditures, is to-day converted into one of the most popular, because the people can see for themselves that value is being obtained for their money. Upon a per capita basis this means an outlay of 68 cents a head, compared with 43 cents, in 1896.

THE MINISTER'S VIEWS.

"From my point of view," said the Minister of Militia last session, "it is very gratifying to find that we have made this increase, that we are getting nearer to what I believe, and what I think the best citizens of the country believe, is our duty with reference to military matters and questions of defence. How much farther we may be prepared to go I cannot say, but I feel sure that Parliament and the country will support the Government in expenditures of this kind so long as the militia is carried on under wise rules and proper directions." In asking for a capital vote of $1,500,000 last session, Sir Fredrick Borden explained that this is to be continued for four or five years more, till the force is placed on a proper and safe position, particularly with regard to armament.

INCREASE IN PAY.

Only this session the Government has sanctioned a substantial increase in the militia pay. The Opposition will find it hard to convict this Government of any desire to slight the militia. The attempt has never been made since Sir Frederick Borden took office, and it cannot be successfully maintained at this late day. The facts and figures all prove the very reverse. The strength of the force has been materially increased. The Government has picked the best lessons obtainable out of the experience of the South African campaign. Officers and men are called out for annual training, which in the days of the old Government had been subjected to open neglect. The spirit that characterizes militia work to-day has had the effect of attracting a better class of men to the ranks.

A WARNING

Testimonial Fakirs are at Work Throughout the Country

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., proprietors of Dr. Chase's family medicines, desire to warn the readers of this paper against having anything to do with these fakirs, as they positively refuse to accept any testimonials except directly from persons who have actually used their medicines.

This warning is made necessary on account of recent disclosures in Toronto and other cities where these parties are at work. Though the police authorities made an effort to put a stop to this fraud some days ago, it is still going on, and thoughtless persons are being induced, by the offer of a dozen free photographs, to sign fraudulent statements about medicines almost, if not entirely, unknown to them.

Every testimonial and every photograph used in reference to Dr. Chase's remedies is backed by a $500 guarantee that it is genuine.

The original, signed letters of persons recommending Dr. Chase's medicines are kept on file at the offices of Edmanson, Bates & Co., and will be cheerfully shown to anyone who doubts the truthfulness and accuracy of any published testimonial. You are also invited to call on the person whose name appears in the testimonial whenever possible.

As a matter of fact, so many people are ready and willing to certify to the merits of Dr. Chase's medicine that it is quite unnecessary to employ persons to solicit testimonials.

Day by day letters are pouring in direct from persons who have been freed from sickness, disease and suffering, and who, as a result, write with a heart full of gratitude for the benefits obtained from these great medicines. dw

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The discourse given by Rev. Mr. Butler of Cartwright, last Sunday, in the Methodist church, from the words, "Give ye them to eat," was highly edifying and calculated to impress on those who heard the sermon the necessity of doing their duty, although placed in a position that might seem to them as almost an impossibility. How often our imagination leads us to believe that there is a lion in the way of duty!

The sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Whitelaw was on a subject that has caused a considerable amount of discussion. When the union of the different Protestant bodies takes place we hope that the basis of union will be as found in the 5th chapter of Micah, verse 8th, "And what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God,"—no necessity for dogmas or creeds if this verse is adopted as a basis of union. We were very glad to see Rev. Mr. Whitlaw in the pulpit again.

GALWAY

On Swamp Lake while Mr. Geo. O'Brien in company with Miss Etta Collins and our esteemed school mistress, Miss M. Foley, were out for a row, the boat leaked to such an extent as to upset. Miss Collins managed to cling to the upturned boat, while Miss Foley being a good swimmer reached shore. Mr. O'Brien had a close call, and were it not for timely assistance would have drowned. This should be a lesson for others to remember.

Messrs. W. J. Cain and Ralph Byrne have arrived from the "Soo," after an absence of two years. Napolean Bodeau is also home.

John Doherty is doing a rushing business and intends to take in extra help in the near future.

Thos. Buckley is appointed road manager with C. Hickey and T. Hardy.

John Allen is home from British Columbia, and will remain a few days visiting his mother, brothers and sisters.

London, June 24.—Yesterday's Gazette contains the list of King's birthday honors. Included in it is the name of Sir Robert Finlay, the Attorney-General, who is appointed Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, in respect of the services rendered by him during the Venezuelan arbitration.

Another name appearing in it of special interest to Canadians is that of the Hon. George Alexander Drummond, one of the Dominion Senators, and president of the Bank of Montreal, who is nominated Knight Commander of the same order.

Alfred Harmsworth, proprietor of The Daily Mail and other publications, was created a baronet.

Knighthood was bestowed upon Thomas Barclay, the barrister, former president of the British Chamber of Commerce in Paris, who was one of the principal leaders in the movement for closer relations between France and Great Britain, out of which grew the Anglo-French Arbitration Treaty.

Edward Elgar, the composer, was also knighted.

The following other appointments have been made: To be a Knight Bachelor, Hugh Allan; to be Companions of the Imperial Service Order, Antoine Boucher, master in chancery of the Dominion Senate; A. Cobell, Deputy Minister of Public Works, Ottawa; Gustave Grenier, clerk of the Executive Council of Quebec; David Pottinger, of the Department of Railways, Canada; W. Pilot, superintendent of the Church of England schools, Newfoundland, and J. R. Wallace, of the Department of Finance, Ottawa. To be K. C.M.G., Henry E. McCallum, exgovernor of Newfoundland.

Senator Drummond.

The Hon. George A. Drummond was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1829, and was educated at the High School and university of that city. He came to Canada in 1854 for the purpose of entering upon the management of the extensive sugar refinery in Montreal, founded by the late John Redpath. After a period of five years spent abroad, Mr. Drummond returned to Canada in 1870, and founded the Canada Sugar Refining Co., becoming its president.

The Senator is notable for his love of art, is a councillor of the Art Association of Montreal, and owns one of the finest galleries of paintings on the continent. Sport also claims a share of his attention, and he was elected president of the Canadian Golf Association in 1895.

He is a Conservative in politics and unsuccessfully contested Montreal West for the House of Commons in the general election of 1872. In 1880 the Marquis of Lorne nominated him a Senator of the Dominion.

Sir R. B. Findlay.

Sir Robert Bannatyne Finlay, Imperial Attorney-General since 1900, and M.P. for the Inverness boroughs, was born in 1842, and is a son of Dr. William Finlay of Edinburgh. He was educated at Edinburgh Academy and University, is a graduate in medicine, and was called to the English bar in 1867. In politics he is a Liberal-Unionist, was appointed Solicitor-General in 1895 and at the same time created Knight Bachelor.

King Edward's Tact.

London, June 24.—Sir Henry and Lady Taschereau were among the few allowed special entree to Buckingham Palace, and after being presented, were permitted to remain in the throne room to witness the presentations.

Yesterday, on being sworn in as Privy Councillor, the Lord Chancellor asked Sir Henry if he were a Roman Catholic. On Sir Henri Taschereau replying in the affirmative, the Chancellor said there was a special form for Roman Catholics, as well as Protestants, who were being sworn in members of the Privy Council.

King Edward, when Sir Henri kneeled to kiss his hand, said, "Rise, with my congratulations; your name is well known to me."

It was feared there would be a repetition of Sir John Thompson's unfortunate incident, as Justice Bruce, who was being sworn in, collapsed, and was carried to a chair, but he recovered sufficiently to be sworn. King Edward graciously advancing to where Justice Bruce was seated and performing the ceremony.

30 GENDARMES DIE.

Bridge in Spain Takes Fire and Engine and Coaches Drop.

Madrid, June 24.—Thirty persons were killed Wednesday night in a train wreck in the Province of Teruel (one of the most mountainous in Spain, abounding in torrents). The train was derailed on a bridge over Jiloca River and the coaches were burned.

The bridge took fire and the engine fell into the river, dragging a number of rocks behind it. A terrific storm was raging at the time and the wind fanned the flames.

Some of the coaches were caught on the projecting parts of the bridge and hung in mid-air and by the light of the burning bridge passengers could be seen jumping into the river.

Relief trains have been sent from Teruel (capital of the province), 72 miles northwest of Valencia.

The victims were mostly gendarmes.

In addition to the large death list it is feared that many were injured.

FAMOUS FOREIGN ARTISTS.

La Famille Lecusson. Mons. Hubert, the Troupe of Hungaroat Magyars and Others.

The forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows, to exhibit at Peterborough on Saturday, July 2nd, have always been conspicuous in the strength and variety of their cricus talent, this year being even more notable by the first American introduction of the Bruin Lecussons, the French family of seven equestrians of both sexes, introducing their commingled bareback and four-in-hand park brake acrobatic performances, deserving special mention as the only entirely new circus feature known to the arena for the past fifty years. These remarkable originators comes direct from Paris, where their success has been prolonged and unprecedented. Mons. Hubert is still another French sensationalist, who also makes his first appearance in this country. In one of his equestrian acts, lifting a sulky by its thills, he leaps therewith on the bareback of his horse, and in another, after performing rarely original feats of jugglery in a park cart drawn around the race course, he finishes by balancing the cart on his chin. Then, again, the Szarvasi Frenck Troupe of nine Hungarian Magyars, make their first anywhere-away-from-home appearance in singularly emotional dances and wildly strenuous acrobatic performances, peculiar to the strange people to which they belong. More surprising strangers are the four male and female Martineks, the funniest and most original burlesquers that even Frogland can furnish. Nor is America a whit behind in the rivalry for arenic laurels, the Eddy Family, pre-eminent in their special line, both at home and abroad, now for the first time introducing their new and phenomenal aerial stage acrobatic act, the first and only one of its kind.

The Difference.

Oh, if a lady answers "Yes"
The question put by you,
Quite likely you will rather guess
That she is kind and true,
But let the same girl answer "No,"
And, though you are not hurt,
The simple answer goes to show
That she's an awful flirt.

THE SULTAN DECLINES.

But the Porte Has Yielded to the Powers Demand.

Paris, June 24.—The Foreign Office has been advised that the Porte has yielded completely to the demands of the powers for redress, as a result of the Armenian prosecutions.

Evicted Armenians will be returned to their old homes, indemnified for losses and protected for the future.

The Sultan, however, has thus far declined to ratify the Porte's decision.

The concessions followed a definite intimation that the powers were preparing to make a naval demonstration in Turkish waters.

HER BOY BADLY TREATED.

Mrs. Morse Will Demand An Apology From Guernsey Governor.

London, June 24.—The name, Mrs. Moss of Toronto, in Tuesday's cable, should have been Mrs. F. Morton Morse of Winnipeg. Stanley Morse, her son, was accused at Guernsey of photographing secret batteries there.

The sergeant who arrested him stated that he had been watching Morse for an hour. Young Morse denied the faintest idea of the existence of any secret batteries. He was detained a short time and then allowed to return to his hotel, where he had scarcely arrived before the sergeant, accompanied by a policeman, came and again arrested him.

He was taken before Colonel Campbell, the Lieutenant-Governor, and his mother at once offered to cable Sir Daniel McMillan, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Charles Tupper and several others in Canada, but Colonel Campbell did not even reply, and would not listen to her son's release unless the mother would sign a bond and put up £10 bail that her son would not leave the island until the case was investigated.

Mrs. Morse is most indignant at the brutal treatment of her son, who is a lad only 14 years old. Colonel Campbell was most discourteous, and exceedingly rough in the treatment of herself, and she intends to demand an apology from the Guernsey Governor through the Canadian Government.

TORONTO GIRL KILLED.

Varsity's Highest Girl Fell Between Cars at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 23.—Miss Fanny Gurofsky, a 20-year-old girl from Toronto, and a passenger on the Black Diamond express on the Lehigh Valley route, was killed at Sugar Notch, near here, last night by the train parting.

She was walking from one car to another when the coupling broke and she fell to the rails, several cars passing over her. Her head was cut off.

She told a woman whom she met on the train that she had left school in Toronto and was on her way to New York to meet a relative, R. Solomon, at the Hotel Albert.

Toronto, June 24.—Miss Gurofsky left Toronto yesterday morning for New York with the intention of spending a short time with her eldest sister, Mrs. Feinsod of that city. Miss Gurofsky was in her 21st year and had completed her second year at University College. The professors looked upon her as the most promising woman student at the college.

CONFEDERATE BILLS.

Tara Man Arrested in Guelph on a Very Serious Charge.

Guelph, June 24.—Wm. Francis Mitchell of Tara, a young unmarried man of 28, finds himself in no enviable position to-day, as the result of a scheme which he had been tempted into in order to make money quickly. He came here Wednesday and bought a watch from one Wolfberg, a Jew, who had some wares at the market in the Winter Fair building. He handed over a $10 Confederate States of America bill and received $3.50 change. Wolfberg grew suspicious of the bill, and made enquiries with indifferent success, but Sergt. Kickley confirmed his suspicions that the bill was bad, and Wolfberg and the sergeant located and arrested Mitchell. There were found on him other Confederate bills, one a $100 bill, and he subsequently admitted that he had bought a lot of this stuff for $1, with the object of passing it. He was remanded at the police court yesterday morning for a week, word having been sent to his uncle of his predicament.

THE COUNTY TO HELP IN THE ENTERAINMENT

That Body Will Participate in the Lift Lock Opening on July 9th.

THURSDAY'S SESSION.

The Council met in Committee yesterday morning, when Hon. Mr. Stratton addressed the members with reference to the case of indigents. Should the County not provide a suitable home, the Government will undertake their care, and the County may defray the expense. The provisions respecting juvenile offenders were also discussed, it being explained that the Councils will be responsible to a greater extent than heretofore for their keep by the Province.

In the afternoon no session was held. A number of the Councillors were at Pigeon Creek Bridge, and the remainder attended the Douro picnic.

This morning a deputation consisting of Mayor Roger, Aldermen Best, Rush and McWilliams; S. R. Armstrong, Town Clerk; D. Hughes-Charles, President of Board of Trade; R. B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Valley Canal; waited on the County Council in regard to the matter of a celebration in connection with the opening of the Lift Lock on the Trent Valley Canal, Saturday, July 9th. Mayor Roger said that it was the intention to open the lock on July 9th and that members of Parliament and Ministers would be present at the event. They would arrive by special train on Saturday morning. The members of the Board of Trade and Council of Peterborough attached great importance to the event which was one of general interest to the public who had been looking forward to it for years. It was an opportunity to give the party in power a realization of the importance of the Canal and everything possible should be done to make the event an auspicious one. The time was short to prepare an elaborate programme and to meet the occasion the unite effort by all concerned was essential to the marked success of the affair. It had been suggested that an excursion be run to Lindsay over the Canal. The importance of the manufacturing industries of the town should also be shown to advantage.

Mr. R. B. Rogers endorsed what was said by the Mayor as to the great importance of the event and that there should be a short programme and ceremony. A drive to Lakefield and a trip from Lakefield to Lindsay to show the points of interest along this route was suggested by the speaker.

Mr. Hunter brought up the question of entertainment for the large number of visitors who would be in town on thatd ay.

The Mayor thought that there might be an excursion arranged to Lakefield over the Canal.

Mr. Hughes-Charles said that the opening of the Lift Lock meant a great deal to the town and county of Peterborough; when the men from Ottawa would be here, it would be an excellent opportunity to show the importance of the project and show the importance of Peterborough as an industrial centre. He thought an excursion would do as well as anything in the line of entertaining the visitors. All should unite in making the ceremony as impressive as possible. The county should unite and appoint a committee to act with the Town Council and Board of Trade in dealing with the matter that the great event should be in every way a glowing success and an event which would prove of material benefit to the town and county of Peterborough.

Alderman Best thought that as the representatives of the Government desired information regarding the canal, a joint committee should make arrangements to provide every accommodation and facility for the opening day. The canal must be as a medium through which the cheapening of transport would increase the value of land in the county. The occasion of the opening of the Lift Lock should be fittingly observed, as it was indeed a great event.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong said that the interests of the town and county were identical and that they should work jointly in promoting the success of the affair.

Ald. McWilliams thought that the occasions should be taken as an opportunity of convincing the politicians of the importance of the canal, so that those outside the county who were antagonistic to the project, would be brought to see the matter in a different light. Every effort should be made to entertain the visitors in a fitting manner.

Ald. Rush spoke of the importance of the occasion, which was one being eagerly looked forward to by the public. He knew of many people outside towns who were awaiting this event, and would be present to witness the opening of the Lift Lock. He thought the town and county should make every effort to entertain the visitors royally.

The Mayor said that he had been in communication with the Mayor of Lindsay, and it was probable that a deputation would be sent from that town. The Peterborough town and county owe it to themselves to make the occasion a grand success. Vigorous and prompt action was necessary to make the best of the opportunity, which was a unique and suitable one to impress on all who should visit the town the importance of the canal, and of our growing and prosperous town. The town was continually at an expense in connection with showing visitors to the canal, but it was only on this special occasion that the county was asked to co-operate.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved, seconded by Mr. Moloney, that the matter of appointing a committee to act with the Town Council and the Board of Trade be referred to the Finance Committee with power to act.

Mr. Peck, Warden, was delighted to receive the deputation. He had always been deeply impressed with the importance of the canal, and would like to see a suitable celebration, in the promotion of which he would do all in his power.

COUNCIL GRANTS $250.

This afternoon the Finance Committee of the Council considered the request of the deputation, which waited on the council this morning, and it was decided that a committee consisting of the Warden, a d Councillors, Hunter, Johnston and Fitzgerald be appointed to confer with the Town Council. It was also decided to bear one third of the expenses incurred in the entertainment of the visitors on the occasion of the Lift Lock opening, the county's share, however, is not to exceed $250.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR PRESENTS REPORT.

County Council Considers Mr. J. Coyle Brown's Report.

Yesterday's Session of the County Council - Recommendations of the Inspector.

At yesterday morning's session of the County Council, Mr. J. Coyle Brown, County School Inspector, presented his report, which was considered in committee and adopted. The report follows:—

To the Warden and Members of the Council of the County of Peterborough:—

Gentlemen,—The past inspectoral season has been one of the worst. The severity of the winter and the great depth of snow made it difficult for children to attend school. Hence the attendance was very small, and the inspection of them unsatisfactory. This induced me to defer visiting until the spring opened. The inspection was chiefly of the upper school, that is, of third class and above. It was written and the examination of the papers was generally done in the evening. This entailed a good deal of labour, but I think the results will be commensurate. Never before was laid before you a better comparative statement of the various schools, than is embodied in my report for the first half of the present year. The two last columns give an excellent idea of the relative standing. When the percentage in the upper school is below twenty-five something is wrong. When the percentage of written work is below forty the pupils were promoted before they were properly prepared. The technical language of the various subjects was not made familiars. This is a great mistake. I hope it may be avoided.

Good reading goes far to make good citizenship. It includes method as well as matter. The method of teaching it might easily be improved. It consists chiefly of two parts, recognizing words and putting them together properly. The former depends largely upon spelling. Oral spelling is not as much practised as it ought to be. I have learned from the written examination that the proper spelling of words, with which children should be perfectly familiar is unknown. This often leads to imperfect pronounciation. Hence bad reading.

Some time ago vertical writing was introduced. It was unfortunate that the manner of introducing was faulty. The joinings were too lengthy, the position of the body was not attended to and the pupils are allowed to hold their pens as they chose. The result was bad writing, slow writing and general dissatisfaction. There is now a tendency back to the slant system, unless more attention be given to position and penholding, good writing will not be secured.

In the matter of arithmetic the simple rules are began too soon. Children should be taught to count, read numbers, write numbers, tell how numbers are written, where each is, what it is, distinguish odd from even, compare numbers, arrange them according to their size beginning with the largest, and tell anything remarkable about some of them. I find some in the fourth class, who are not acquainted with what is on pages eight and nine in the public school arithmetic. The text book is not systematically followed. Much that ought to be known in the book is thus omitted. Arithmetical terms are not sufficiently dwelt upon. The pupils are not enough drilled on the measures of numbers. In consequence advanced work is slow and results uncertain. Problems are not read with sufficient care. Hence often misunderstood.

As to Geography, map notation does not receive sufficient attention. How latitude, longitude, cities, towns, lakes rivers, mountains, etc. are shown on maps, is but imperfectly impressed upon the pupils' minds. The short time that the majority of teachers is at the business, makes it difficult to get them on the right track, in this as in other regards. A fair knowledge of Geography is necessary to enable one to enjoy history, books of travel, and even the ordinary newspaper. Without it one cannot be said to have a fair public school education.

Nature study should be carried on as far as to make the pupils acquainted with the names, ways of housekeeping, and many coloured coats of the more common birds; the ordinary flowers of wood, field and marsh; the stones of the locality; the milky way; and the way of milk. Great pains should be taken to induce the pupils to use their observing powers. Full employment should be given to both eyes and ears. However, reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, drawing, grammar, and geography should be the main subjects, and should occupy most of the pupils' time when in school.

Much more might be done by way of ornamenting the school grounds. Fences are often in bad condition. I may say that there is little use in putting a wire fence around a school plot unless a barbed wire strand be put at the top. The gate is often of fits hinges, and often left open unintentionally. Cattle, horses, sheep and pigs find their way into the school grounds to ornament them in undesirable ways. I would suggest a stile instead of a gate. The closets are in many cases not cleaned as often as they should. I have no doubt diphtheria, typhoid and other diseases are promoted in this way. Teachers should examine often and when necessary report to the secretary of the trustees. If attention is not given, a report to the health officer of the municipality should be made. The health of the general community should not be jeopardized through the carelessness or stupidity of the trustees.

The trustees' annual report is often very defective. The financial part is sometimes such as to show that bookkeeping was not taught during the school days of the secretary, and that the auditors are not accomplished accountants. Occasionally the teachers' part is not what it should be. The qualifications are not what the law requires. For example, a teacher who has a junior leaving certificate, and who has attended the model school, getting therefrom a third class certificate, represents himself as a second class teacher. This is first class deception, and ought to be punished. Trustees should see a teacher's certificate before signing an agreement. Some trustees appear desirous of running a private school by employing a teacher without legal qualifications. When they are compelled to pay such teacher out of their own pockets they will perhaps be more careful to comply with what the law requires.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. COYLE BROWN.

ANNUAL EXCURSION A DECIDED SUCCESS.

St. Andrew's Guild and Friends Went to Stony Lake

And Spent a Very Enjoyable Time Yesterday—Event was Very Largely Attended.

St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild has a reputation of making a glowing success out of every undertaking upon which they enter, and yesterday in their excursion to Stony Lake, they once again upheld their reputation in this respect. It was the sixth annual excursion of this flourishing society and those who have been present on previous occasions were strongly of the opinion, that yesterday's event eclipsed all its predecessors in reference to the thorough pleasure and general successful issue of the affair. Arrangements had been made that only a limited number would be taken so as to avoid the unpleasantness of over crowding. Every ticket was sold and several had to be refused, so great was the demand for tickets for this popular event. In fact it is doubtful if any annual excursion is looked for with more popular favour than the annual picnic of this, the oldest Guild in Peterborough.

The weather man smiled gravely yesterday and served up a style of weather just to the hearty relish of the excursionists. The sun shone brilliantly all day, the breeze was just sufficiently strong to be delightfully cooling and the day was in every way an ideal one.

The excursionists in a joyous mood bent upon making the best of every opportunity to enjoy th couting to the fullest extent, left on the morning train for Lakefield, where the steamer "Majestic" was waiting to convey the party up the lakes. The sail was an exquisite one and the characteristic scenic beauty of the landscape was at its height. A short stop was made at McCracken's Landing and Burleigh Falls, was reached about noon. Here many of the excursionists dined at the hotel, where an excellent meal was provided, while others who had brought their baskets, picniced under the shade of the trees. About two o'clock the boat left for Mount Julian, where a stop was made and after a sail to the head of the lake, the party disembarked at McCracken's where a two hours' stop was made and tea was partaken of. The young men ran off some sports, including a tug-of-war contest.

The sail down the lake was very pleasant being enlivened by fireworks and music. Lakefield being reached about 10 o'clock and a special train conveyed the excursion back to town.

The presence of the Maiorana Orchestra added much to the enjoyment of the affair, their playing being greatly appreciated.

The Guild was very largely represented on the trip, which to everyone was a pevent long to be remembered.

The booth on board the boat where was sold various descriptions of refreshments, was under the direction of Messrs. D. Hall and R. Reid, who gave excellent service throughout the day.

VERY SUCCESSFUL GARDEN PARTY HELD.

St. Luke's Rectory the Scene of a Pleasing Event Last Evening.

The garden party season was opened last evening at St. Luke's Rectory, when a most successful affair was held. There was an unusually large attendance, and the social evening was one which provided much pleasure for all present, and was conducive to most genial and cordial relations. The grounds were prettily decorated for the event. Several incandescent lights were distributed about while bunting was further used to enhance the attractiveness of the scene. There were two tents, where were sold ice cream, candies, lemonade, etc., and these received liberal patronage during the course of the evening. Music was supplied very acceptably by Mrs. Spence and Miss Kate Graham, while the graphophone selections were also much enjoyed.

The garden party was under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church, who are to be congratulated upon the success of the affair. The handsome sum of $45 was realized.

ESCAPED DEATH BY A MIRACLE

Lindsay Boy's Hands Mangled by G. T. R. Freight Train

Supposed to have Fallen Asleep on the Track—A Narrow Escape

(Lindsay Post.)

Fred Carlin, a young man about 22 years of age, son of Mr. M. Carlin, east ward, was maimed for life last night and had an exceedingly narrow escape from death, as a result of excessive indulgence in liquor.

The unfortunate young fellow, who is known and liked by almost everyone owing to his happy disposition and skill as a step-dancer, has been employed in the cookery of the L. B. & P. Ry. construction train, now stationed at Ward's farm, near Ops swing bridge for the past two weeks, and came into town last night to see his friends. It was almost twelve o'clock when he left to return to the camp by way of the G.T.R. bridge.

About 12.30 a Grand Trunk double header train, in charge of Conductor Hawdon and Drivers Tutten and Lytle, pulled out of the Lindsay yard for Belleville, and some time after it had passed Carlin made his appearance at the C.P.R. camp in a pitiable condition and aroused the men by his calls for aid. Both of his hands were horribly mangled, his head was gashed in several places, and blood was pouring from him in streams. Luckily steam had not gone down in the locomotive, and Conductor Jas. Batt and the engine man brought Carlin to the King street crossing and from that point assisted him to Dr. Shier's, where morphine was administered to ease his pain. A back was then secured, and Carlin was conveyed to Ross Hospital, where Drs. Shier and Gillespie amputated several of the fingers of both hands and sewed up gashes in his head. The hands may be saved but the medical men are not overly sanguine.

It is supposed that the unfortunate fellow stumbled on his way to camp, and, overcome by the liquor he had taken, fell asleep with his hands on the rail. His punishment is severe yet he has cause to be thankful that he was not ground to pieces under the heavy train.

THE DOURO PIC-NIC "SWELLEST EVER"

Celebration of Rev. Father Keilty's 25th Anniversary.

Beautiful Weather—Large Attendance—Good Speeches—Good Results.

"The Swellest Ever!" were the terms in which the great Douro picnic was advertised, and the realization yesterday quite corresponded to the style of announcement. It was in every way an immense success. The picnic was held in King Edward grove, and the weather was in sympathy — it was King's — royal — weather. There was an immense attendance from the township, from Peterborough, Ennismore, Asphodel, Otonabee and all the surrounding country. Among the guests were many of our most prominent citizens. The clergy was represented by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore; Rev. Father Brown, V. G.; Rev. Dr. O'Brien, and Rev. Father John O'Brien, St. Peter's cathedral. The County Council was represented by Mr. Warden Peck, and County Councillors Hunter, Fitzlerald, Shaw and Curtis. The occasion was dual in character — it served to commemorate the 25th anniversary of Rev. Father Keilty's services in the priesthood in the county of Peterborough, and the object was to raise funds to meet the expense of placing stained glass windows in St. Joseph's church. These are already in place, and as the church was thrown open yesterday these beautiful windows were inspected with interest and admired without stint by the many who took advantage of the privilege of seeing them.

Under the emerald leafage of the grove, booths for light refreshments had been erected, and near at hand abundantly laden tables had been spread to meet the more substantial demands of the inner man. A capacious dancing platform, with the services of an efficient orchestra, furnished an opportunity for dancing, which was by no means neglected. The platform was kept warm with the pulsations of "many twinkling feet," when not in use for which was brought on at an early hour in the afternoon. Mr. Wm. Rudkins, Collector of Inland Revenue, Peterborough, who seems by virtue of his excellent services in that capacity to have become chairman in-ordinary to parish picnics, presided and introduced the several speakers of whom the first was,

Mr. Warden Peck, who extended congratulations upon the beautiful weather and the great success of the picnic, adding congratulations to the farmers of Douro upon the evidences a drive through the township afforded of bountiful crops. He referred gracefully and in congratulatory terms to the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Father Keilty's priesthood in the county. The beautiful church in Douro was an evidence of the zeal and success of his pastoral work, and the speaker concluded by wishing the venerable parish priest of Douro many long years of usefulness and happiness.

Mr. J.A.Sexsmith, of Belmont, briefly addressed the gathering. He felt at home in Douro and extended his congratulations upon the occasion, which were due to both priest and people. Rev. Father Keilty had well earned the popularity he enjoyed amongst his flock.

Mr. John Finlay, of Norwood, received much pleasure from being amongst his good neighbours in Douro. He was no stranger to them for they were his next door neighbours. He was glad to see such beautiful weather so largely taken advantage of. He would not trouble the people with any lengthened remarks for he hoped soon to see them again.

Mr. J. H. McClellan re-echoed the the congratulations upon the good weather. He gave his hearty congratulations to Rev. Father Keilty and spoke of the splendid attendance which was not to be wondered at—"Douro picnic always brings the crowd." He referred to the presence of Hon. J. R. Stratton who faithfully represented West Peterborough and East Peterborough also, in a sense. He expressed the opinion that no representative had ever done as much for both East and West Peterborough as Mr. Stratton. (Applause.) Referring to the cry sometimes raised about some of the elements of population, there was room enough in Canada for all, but our motto should be Canada first, last and all the time.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick felt great pleasure in being present at another of Rev. Father Keilty's picnics. He had done a noble work in the past twenty-five years. He had built in Ennismore a beautiful parsonage and laid the foundation of a great moral structure, and in Ennismore he had carried on the good work and St. Joseph's beautiful church was a monument to his zeal and piety. West Peterborough, the speaker said, was represented in the Legislature as no other riding in the province. Mr. Stratton served his constituency faithfully and efficiently, and irrespective of creed or political faith. As a Minister of the Crown he had won a prominent place. The speaker gracefully referred to the presence of Mr. D'arcy Scott, son of Hon. R. W. Scott, a veteran parliamentarian and Liberal leader in the Senate. He had known Mr. Scott in his College days at Ottawa, and knew only good of him. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick reiterated his pleasure at being present, and again referred to the sterling worth and work of Rev. Father Keilty.

Mr. D'Arcy Scott, Ottawa, the next speaker, introduced as the most prominent young Irishman in Canada, gave his hearty congratulations to Rev. Father Keilty, and as in duty bound, as an Irishman, his compliments to the fair ladies of Douro, and if the crops would be as fair as the ladies they would have a bountiful harvest. Referring to Canada, he spoke of the necessity of unity, with a high tribute to Canada's natural resources and its just laws — no country on the face of the earth had better laws than Canada — and especially Ontario, the laws of this province were more just and fair than those of any other country. These conditions brought their responsibilities — we should use our franchise rightly. We should keep two principles always before us, the unity of the State — all should unite to forward its interests, and every individual should do his share. The speaker congratulated Sir Wilfred Laurier upon his success in bringing the two chief elements of our population together. Referring to Ireland, it was pointed out that its conditions had vastly improved. The influence of the large Irish party now in the British House of Commons, included two great Canadians — Hon. Edward Blake and Charles R. Devlin, who were doing a great work for Ireland, and were a credit to Canada. The speaker judging from the trend of events, felt satisfied that before long a measure of Home Rule for Ireland would be realized. In confirmation of this he sketched the progress that had been made in this direction, and hinted that before long it would be time to write the epitaph of Robert Emmet, which according to his dying request was not to be written till Ireland's freedom had been attained. The speker delivered a very eloquent and able address and concluded amid cheers by reiterating the congratulations suitable to the occasion.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, was very warmly received, being greeted with three cheers upon rising to speak. After a neat tribute to the charms of the ladies of Douro and a warm compliment for Mr. Scott. Mr. Stratton said he was glad to be present at the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Father Keilty; he knew of his work and hoped that he would live many years to continue it. There had been a good deal said of mutual toleration, but in no country was there greater mutual confidence than in Canada—all that was asked of a man no matter what his religious or political faith was, that he be a good citizen. Mr. Stratton said that as head of the Provincial License Department, he noted that Ennismore contributed nothing to the License funds. Rev. Father Keilty was to blame for that. It was he who had been instrumental in removing drinkplaces from Ennismore, and in regard to contributing to the license fund Douro was as bad as Ennismore. It was admitted by all that temperance and sobriety were best for the people. Reference was made to Rev. Father Keilty's work in Ennismore, as represented by the fine parsonage, as it was represented in Douro by beautiful St. Joseph's, now provided with stained glass windows, which he had had the privilege and pleasure of admiring. Rev. Father Keilty's heart was in the right place; he was a man of scholarly attainments and many of the young priests of the diocese had been greatly benefitted by his advice and counsel. A warm tribute was paid to the natural advantages and good laws, and high general intelligence of Canada and its people. We should make the best use of these. He was glad to hear a man of any nationality speak well of the place of his birth, but here we should all aim at the national unity which has been growing since Confederation. We should show respect for the religious convictions of others, for after all a man's religion was an accident of birth. There were good and bad in all denominations, and each would be rewarded accordingly in the future. The speaker wished Father Keilty a long life and happiness in the years to come, and hoped that the people of Douro would continue to prosper and enjoy good harvests.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, spoke in congratulatory terms, told a good story well, and congratulated Rev. Father Keilty on his long record of usefulness in the priesthood, and the people of Douro upon the great success of their picnic.

Mr. J. J. Crowe of Dummer, joined in the congratulations that had been offered. Rev. Father Keilty had done a good work and was well worthy of the honour that was being paid him.

Rev. Father Keilty, who was received with enthusiastic applause, concluded the speaking. He began by saying that he had been on the best terms of amity with his Protestant friends, for under the aegis of the British flag all had freedom to worship as they thought right. In explanation of the reason of calling the place 'they were assembled in King Edward Grove, the speaker told a touching story of how the late Queen had asked at a state gathering a beautiful Irish girl to sing "The Wearing of the Green," as showing her interest in the Irish people, and this interest had been inherited by her successor, King Edward, and on that account this grove had been honoured with his name. He is a good friend to Ireland — he has made friendship for Ireland the fashion. He spoke of the liberty guaranteed to every subject by the British Constitution, and could boast that he with a past distinguished statesman could say, "A British subject I was born and a British subject I will die." Speaking in reference to his career here, Rev. Father Keilty said he first heard of Peterborough as a boy through Rev. Father Kelly, parish priest of Peterborough, who was a most scholarly priest. It was due to the great work he had done followed by others that his Holiness decided that Peterborough was worthy to be the head of a diocese. The reverend speaker had come to Ennismore 25 years ago and found that there existed two or three dispensaries of "what had to be handled with great care." They were not felt to be necessary and they were removed. He came to Douro—a new church was needed and it was built. He had been able to do what he had done by the loyal support of his parishioners and by the help of his friends—he had many dear friends on both sides of politics. He was glad tow elcome them there that day. He was glad to see the Warden and members of the County Council present, and also his friend J. R. Stratton, who ably represented West Peterborough—the man we glory in. Of all the money that passes through his hands every cent of it was honestly accounted for, and the speaker hoped he would long live and prosper. We were a conglomerate people and must strive to understand each other. The phrase, "This Canada of Ours," was first used by the late D'arcy McGee, one of the great fathers of Confederation, a man whose services to the Irish people and Canada richly merited the monument to his memory which it was to be hoped would soon be raised. Reference was also made to Hon. John Costigan, who was at the picnic last year; he was fidelis inter fideles in the interests of the Irish and Home Rule, never shrinking nor losing hope in its darkest hour. After his services to the country the speaker felt there was nothing too good for him, and that a place in the highest body in the Dominion would not be too high a recognition of the services of Hon. John Costigan and all that John Costigan stands for. At the conclusion of his remarks, the people standing reverently uncovered, Rev. Father Keilty gave the well known Mosaic benediction.

After cheers for Rev. Father Keilty, the King and others, the company separated, the hungry, to the well laden dinner tables, and the dancing platform soon resumed its dizzy gayety, and on went the picnic. During the afternoon sports and games were indulged in, a delightful day was happily concluded and one of the most successful picnics in the history of Douro came to an end with the declining day.

The financial results of this picnic were as successful as its other features and that is not saying little, and the Examiner desires to add its own, to the other congratulations that were showered upon Rev. Father Keilty yesterday.

REPLY OF RAILWAYS

Increasing Disposition to Meet Demands of the Public.

ADMIT FAULTS IN DETAIL

Will Prepare a Specific Reply to Specific Charges—Damage to Freight Due in Some Instances to Dealers Failing to Provide Storage at Shipping Points—Large Sums Paid For Freight Claims.

Toronto, June 23.—Yesterday the Railway Commissioners resumed consideration of the case of the fruit growers, and heard the replies made by the railways. Some of their main grievances were frankly admitted and represented to be unavoidable. Others were denied or their edge turned by the statement that they were exceptional in character. The strongest profession was made that the railways were anxious to meet all the legitimate demands of their patrons and to remedy as far as was possible and reasonable all real grievances. As further information and statements are to be handed in it will be some time before any definite pronouncement is made by the Commissioners.

On resuming yesterday morning, Mr. Dawson continued his statement on behalf of the fruit growers, with special reference to the unsatisfactory method of dealing with claims for overcharges and loss and damage to goods.

B. B. Mitchell of Detroit, representing the Michigan Central, demurred to the statement that the increased railway earnings were the result of increased rates rather than increased mileage, population and traffic. Canadian shippers had not suffered from lack of equipment to a greater degree than United States shippers. No rebates, he said, had been paid for two years, and no discriminations are now made. Mayor Graham questioned this sweeping assertion, and Mr. Mitchell ultimately limited it with "as far as I know."

Case For the Railways.

After luncheon, John Pullen of the G.T.R. was heard in support of the railway companies. He admitted the cars provided were not always suitable, but they had secured many ventilated and refrigerator cars and were always adding. They had no cars with a mechanical system of ventilation. There was an increasing disposition to meet the demands of the public. No difference was made between competitive and non-competitive points. All the district was intensely competitive.

With regard to the supply of cars, Mr. Pullen explained that there was no attempt at discrimination, and if certain stations suffered it was not unusual at certain seasons and in certain weather conditions.

As to damage to freight it was due to some extent to the fact that dealers did not provide storage at shipping points, and in the case of small fruits to improper loading.

There was great lack of harmony among the fruit shippers, and Mr. Pullen suggested the formation of an association for the distribution of fruit. Another cause of damage was the modern appliances of air-brakes and automatic couplings. The sudden stoppages damaged the fruit packages. This was in a measure compensated by the quicker transit.

Referring to the unsatisfactory train service, Mr. Pullen admitted that with less than car loads the complaints were substantially true, but, he said, it was not reasonable to expect way freight trains to run with the same punctuality as passenger expresses. Facilities at stations had not increased in correspondence to the growth of the traffic, but much had been done in that way also.

Business Propositions.

Dealing with the statement of claims, railways were run as business propositions and they could not pay claims without investigation. Last year the Grand Trunk alone had paid out close on $2,000,000 on freight claims of all kinds.

With regard to the granting of clean receipts, their agents were instructed to do so whenever possible, but it was a physical impossibility to do so in all cases.

Considerable discussion took place as to the charges made for icing, and Mr. Pullen ultimately said that if the shippers preferred to pay according to the service rendered the companies would not object.

Mr. Bosworth of the C.P.R. spoke on the demand for arbitration in the classification of fruits, to which he strongly objected. What was asked was that perishable goods be placed in the same class as sugar, bar iron, soap and similar articles which could stand negligence. Thirty, forty or fifty thousand pounds of these could be loaded on a car, while the fruit shippers asked that the minimum car weight of their products should be reduced to 20,000. On this basis the charge of fruit would be 16 2-3 per cent. less than the charge for sugar, bar iron or soap.

He admitted the railways had been justly criticized for delays. If a charge was to be made it should not be by altering the classification, but by establishing a special rate.

Farmers' Complaints.

J. Lockie Wilson then opened the case for the Farmers' Association. They complained of the discrimination on cattle and grain products, and asked the railway companies to publish their rates.

The chairman—That will be done.

Mr. Wilson then proceeded to point out that the rates from points in Nebraska to Chicago had been reduced from 43 cents and 45 cents to 25 cents per hundred pounds within the last few years. The cattle trade was perhaps the greatest in Ontario, 673,000, of the value of $23,250,000, were sold or slaughtered in Ontario in 1902. The field crops of Ontario in 1902 were of the value of $146,421,000, and the yield of oats alone was 106,431,000 bushels—about one-quarter of the whole, and reached the value of $37,000,000. He complained of the special rate granted to the millers of Ontario by which they could send crushed oats to the city markets at 6 cents while the farmers had to pay 8 cents on the grain. From Chicago to Port Huron, in the United States, there was a graded rate, running from 28 cents to 21½ cents at Port Huron. Across the St. Clair River, two miles distant—at Sarnia—the rates to Canadian farmers jumped to 25 cents per 100 lbs. and off the main line, in Northwest Ontario, 27 cents was charged.

The charge for shipping wheat by lake and rail from Chicago to New York, and thence by ship to Liverpool was just about the same as the grain producer in the County of Bruce pays for shipping his grain to the City of Montreal.

Grain Rates Contrasted.

The grain rates from Ontario points to Montreal are: Clinton and Mount Forest, 12½ cents per 100 lbs.; Pinkerton and Walkerton, 13 cents; Kincardine, 13½ cents. From Chicago, by lake to Ontario ports, and from thence to Montreal, the rate is about half these charges. All the Canadian farmers asked was to be placed in as good a position by the Canadian railroads as they placed the United States farmers.

The board adjourned at 5.40, and will resume to-day at 10 o'clock.

Suprise to Doctors.

Most doctors are astonished at the results obtained by Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, salt rheum and itching skin diseases which are often considered well nigh incurable. By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparalelled in the history of medicine.

An Adirondack Tailor.

At a certain Adirondack cottage last season something disturbed things frequently. A jar of butter, set under the house to keep cool, was broken into; a tub of beef in process of corning was robbed; a jar of suet on the back piazza was tipped over, broken and some of the fat eaten, and many other depredations of like character were committed. Several times the robber had been seen in the evening by ladies of the family, and to them he looked so big that the male contingent determined to watch for the thief and stop his thieving. Opportunity came one moonlit night.

Seen through a window and stretched over a pail in the shadow, the animal looked big as a half bushel. But he could not be shot just there, and so the broken jar of suet was placed in the moonlight in range of an open window, and, gun in hand, the avenger waited. He did not have to wait long. Quietly and with great dignity, as though entirely within his rights, Mr. Coon came out of the woods again—right along the path to the house—and stopped to regale himself with the suet, so easily found in its new place. Accounts were squared when the shotgun spoke.—Forest and Stream.

A Sarcastic Parson.

During the crofter disturbances in Skye a British gunboat was sent up to Portree, having on board, among other people, the sheriff of Inverness-shire, Mr. Ivory. A clergyman who sympathised with the crofters took for his text on the following Sunday the words from Kings 10, 22: "Once in three years came the navy of Tarshish, bringing ivory and apes and peacocks."

LOVE UNALTERABLE.

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments; love is not love,
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove.
Oh, no! it is an ever-fixed mark,
That looks on tempests, and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken.
Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out, even to the edge of doom.
If this be error, and upon me proved,
I never writ, nor no man ever loved.
—Shakespeare.

Pineapple Souffle In Shell.

When pineapples are in their prime there is no more delicious dessert to serve at a social luncheon than one made after the following recipe: Select a pineapple from the crown of which the spines can be easily plucked, then you may be sure the fruit is ripe; scrub the fruit with a vegetable brush in cold water to remove all dust; wipe dry, then cut the crown end a little more than a quarter of the length of the fruit. With a sharp silver spoon scoop out the pulp, leaving the shell unbroken, and set on ice until ready to serve; chop the pulp fine and add two cups of fine sugar; let stand one-half hour, then press through a sieve, only using that which goes easily through; add one lemon; partially freeze one quart of cream, add the pineapple mixture and finish freezing, adding more sugar if needed. Place the shell on a cold plate, surround with spines and heap full with the souffle.

Sir George Turner.

When Sir George Turner, the Treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth, attended the conference of colonial Premiers in London in 1897, he took a great interest in the thieves' haunts in the capital of the Empire. Under the guidance of detectives he visited them, and had a pretty good insight into the methods of the cockney pickpocket. The knowledge then gained had apparently no application to the ways of Australia, for on Easter Monday Sir George was robbed, while standing on the platform of a St. Kildacable tramcar, of his gold watch and chain, sovereign purse, railway pass and other contents of his waistcoat. It was the very irony of fate that the man who is responsible to the people of Australia for the disposal of nearly £13,000,000 a year should fail to look after £60 worth of personal trinkets on a bank holiday.

Church Sold to Hotelkeeper.

It is safer to employ sculpture than heroes. That seems to be the moral of a curious incident recorded in the latest news from New Zealand. The Scots Church in Wellington, the metropolis of that colony, has just been sold to an Irish hotelkeeper, who intends converting it into a public hall. It was erected by public subscription as a memorial to the Scottish members of the New Zealand contingents who fell in South Africa. The inaugural ceremony was performed by Mr. Seddon, and the company included the late Gen. Sir Hector MacDonald.

TO SEND A MAN BY POST.

It Can Be Done in England by Payment of a Mileage Fee.

The limit of weight for a parcel per parcel post is, as we all know, eleven pounds. No doubt, then, some Tit Bits readers will be surprised that under certain conditions the postoffice will undertake to safely deliver weights many times in excess of that stated in the regulations.

One day last year a city gentleman called at St. Martin's le Grand with the object of consulting a directory and finding the address of a customer who lived in a remote part of Balham. He was not acquainted with the locality and was most anxious to see his customer at once. These facts he mentioned to an obliging clerk behind the counter.

He was at once informed that he could be sent to the required address "by registered post" at a fee of threepence a mile. The gentleman gladly accepted the offer, and in less than a minute found himself in charge of a smart messenger boy, who very soon guided him by the shortest route to his destination.

The boy carried in his hand a printed slip with a description of his charge under the heading, 'Article required to be delivered," and this he required the gentleman and customer to sign before he left the latter's house.

It is probable that very few people are aware of the regulation under which this curious postal transaction was accomplished. It reads thus: "A person may be conducted by express messenger to any address on payment of mileage fee."—Tit Bits.

Fun out Delineator of Children.

Hilda Cowham has been famous as a humorous delineator of children for a long time now. She possesses the unique distinction of being the only lady artist whose work has ever figured in "Punch." In this year's "Almanack" there is a full-page picture by Mr. G. P. Armour of The Punch contributors' meet, to "draw the covers" of 1904. There is only one lady among that famous "hunt"; and she is Hilda Cowham, on a fiery black charger. In private life Miss Cowham is Mrs. Edgar Lander. Her husband is also a black-and-white artist of repute, having contributed pictorially to Punch, besides scores of other well-known journals. Mr. and Mrs. Lander met at the Lambeth Art School, where they both served their apprenticeship to illustration work. Hilda Cowham is a slim young lady, with a clever face, big dark eyes, and an unusual wealth of dark hair. She is a rapid worker. "I prefer flat-color work and painting in oils to black-and-white," she says. "But I can't desert my spindle-legged children, because editors are continually asking for them."—London Star.

A Peerage Romance.

The Daily Mirror says: The strange complications of the Gradner peerage, which has been dormant since the death of the third baron without male issue, will shortly once more come before the House of Lords. In the early part of the last century, Stewart William Gardner, a grandson of Rear-Admiral Lord Gardner, lived in the southwest provinces of India, and contracted a marriage with a native woman, and begat numerous descendants. In 1884, soon after the third baron died, the eldest of these colored descendants sought to take his seat in the House of Lords, but the Lord Chancellor decided an enquiry must be held into his claims. On the death of his father, in 1901, Alan Hyde Gardner, who also claims the title through a collateral branch, proceeded to India to obtain evidence as to the validity of the marriage on which the title of the Indian claimant depends. He is advised that the result of his enquiries clears the way to the success of his own claim to the peerage.

CRUISE OF THE SEA GULL.

First Canadian Cargo to Natal, Africa, Was a $6,000 Loss—From Toronto to the Port of Durban.

This is the tale that was told to me
By a battered and shattered son of the sea,
To me and my messmate, Miles Green,
When I was a guileless young marine.

While the Transportation Commission is traveling about the country gathering information on this important question, many opportunities occur for reminiscences of earlier days of transportation in Canada, and few are better qualified to speak of these than Mr. Robert Reford of Montreal, says The Globe. On one of these occasions Mr. Reford gave a most interesting account of his experiences as a merchant in Toronto, where he conducted business in the Market nearly fifty years ago. At that time a line of four schooners of about 450 tons ran for three years between Liverpool and Toronto, continuing on to Chicago. Mr. Reford recalled the names of two of them, the Wirralight and the Jack de Mole.

Among Mr. Reford's possessions of that time was the schooner Sea Gull, of about 300 tons. In 1862 his friend Capt. Frank Jackman of Toronto suggested fitting this vessel out with a cargo for Port Natal, now Durban, South Africa, where the captain had a friend, through whom he felt confident a very profitable sale of the cargo could be made. "Well, but," said Mr. Reford to the captain, "what will we load her with?" and at the captain's suggestion lumber was the cargo, but 200 barrels of whiskey, at that time selling for about 25 cents a gallon, and a quantity of general merchandise were added. A seafaring commander was secured at Quebec and the voyage begun. After a long delay in the doldrums at the equator the Sea Gull reached Cape Town, where she had the misfortune of losing her anchors in a storm. A similar experience was also met at Port Elizabeth. The schooner finally arrived off Port Natal in a storm, which carried her 200 miles away. Returning she was again driven past the port, but made it on the third attempt, running straight into a little stream, which left her high and dry when the tide went out.

Now was Captain Jackman's chance to make a fortune by the sale of his cargo, but, alas, the population of Natal had little use for lumber or whiskey. The natives had risen, and the white population were in terror for their lives, their greatest desire being to be taken away. The lumber seemed useless for anything but coffins. It was unloaded, and sugar, rum, ostrich feathers and baboons shipped in its place, besides 50 passengers anxious to be taken anywhere else. With this cargo and the whiskey still on board the return voyage was made to Boston. Whether from the presence of the ripening whiskey on board or otherwise Mr. Reford did not explain, but the monkeys behaved so badly that only two reached America alive. And after discharging her cargo at Boston the Sea Gull returned to Toronto, where the baboons were turned over to delight the juvenile portion of the population.

Mr. Reford added that the loss on the venture was not more than $3,500.

Such was the tale that was told to me
By that modest and truthful son of the sea;
And I envy the life of a second mate,
Though captains curse him and sailors hate,
For he's not like some of the swabs I've seen,
As would go and lie to a poor marine.

CANADIAN LAW AND ORDER.

Element Not in Sympathy With Canadian Ideas Taught a Lesson.

A private letter from Fernie gives some interesting particulars of one aspect of the recent fire which destroyed a large portion of the town. Looting began while the fire was in progress, the town containing an element not in sympathy with Canadian ideas of law and order, and an unlimited supply of liquor being obtainable. Special constables were sworn in and the jail was soon filled. The situation still was serious. One of the higher employes of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company is Major J. G. Langton, late of Toronto, the commanding officer of No. 2 Army Service Corps, Toronto, formerly adjutant of the 20th Halton Rifles, and prior to that an active non-com. in the Queen's Own. Major Langton volunteered his services. He was given a number of men and took charge of the fire district, which contained much valuable salvage.

Major Langton converted the Police Court into a guard-room, procured distinguishing badges for his special constables, and persons authorized to be inside the fire lines, and then cleared the district of all others. That done, he established a cordon of armed sentries around the fire area. Going back to his non-com. days, he posted the sentries and took out the reliefs himself. This process began in the afternoon, and by night the place was very quiet, the moral effect on the foreigners being unexpectedly great. The Chief of Police then used the remainder of the special constables for patrolling the town outside of the burned district, and there was not the slightest trouble.

On the ensuing day there was some talk of mobbing the guardians of property. The precautions were renewed, and at 10 p.m. Major Langton doubled his sentries and placed a larger reserve in the guard-room; while the police kept the crowd moving. The night passed quietly, the only alarm being a fresh outbreak of the fire in some debris. The guard turned out and for two hours fought the fire.

"The people out here never realized before what a little display such as we made could do in the way of awing the lawless element," writes an eye-witness. It is expected that the events of the two nights will give a stimulus to the projected organization of an independent militia company.

A HOME CONVENIENCE.

A Tasteful Little Writing Desk, Inexpensively Made.

Letters would be more promptly answered by the majority of women if the necessary conveniences were close at hand—in fact, a writing desk invites one to be punctual in the performance of epistolary duties.

The desk shown in the illustration from the Ladies' World will be found to answer its purpose admirably, and any one at all clever with tools can make it at very little cost. The ornamentation may be omitted if desired, and the chief beauty lies in the brass or bronze handles, showing brilliantly against the dark ground of the wood. The moldings shown can be purchased by the foot at wall paper establishments or at the molding mill and glued in place.

There are three drawers in all, arranged as individual taste requires, each being divided with compartments. As to handles, either the knob or the drop sort may be used, but preferably the latter, as chastely simple as possible. Cheap handles are never pleasing.

Two boxes of the proper size are attached to the upright back to form receptacles for paper and envelopes. A stationary rack for pens and pencils is also arranged here on one side and a paper cutter on the other. A calendar, with a memorandum blank suspended convenient to the eye and on which one can jot down dates and all the various engagements, etc., for the week or day, is a great help to the housewife who is too busy to remember these things easily.

The wastebasket here shown is of dead black sheet iron, with outer bands studded with bosses of brass and ornaments of the same metal. In size it is ample, being fifteen inches high, twelve inches square at the top and seven inches at the base. An iron wastebasket very suitably accompanies a desk stained to an ebony finish.

This desk if homemade can be stained to look like any wood desired, provided new, unpainted material is used. If one has old mahogany furniture that is no longer in use its wood might be utilized to make a very handsome desk. The dimensions of the desk shown are as follows: Length, three feet; height to table top, two feet six inches; right opening to bottom of drawer, two feet. The top or table part is to be covered with leather, once finished preferably, secured by brass headed nails.

The stage manager catches one of the actors smoking behind the scenes.

"Here! You can't smoke on the stage!" he says.

"What's the odds? The scenery is fireproof."

"But you're not."

Mrs. Wick—What is the use of standing there and calling the stove names? That won't make the fire burn any better. Mr. Wick—I thought that maybe if I could insult the blamed thing it would get hot about it.

"To say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years; and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moser of Ovando, Deerlodge Co., Mont. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that to say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible.

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser.

"I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Doctor Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

Womanly diseases, as a rule, spoil the "disposition," because of the extreme nervousness and suffering they cause. Happiness as well as health is restored to the woman whose diseased condition is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

After eight years of suffering and two fruitless operations, three months' use of "Favorite Prescription" restored Mrs. Moser to perfect health. This great remedy for woman's ills, establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

NOT ONE TO SPARE.

"Which shall it be? Which shall it be?"
I looked at John—John looked at me
(Dear, patient John, who loves me yet
As well as though my locks were jet);
And when I found that I must speak
My voice seemed strangely low and weak.
"Tell me again what Robert said,"
And then I, listening, bent my head.
"This is his letter: 'I will give
A house and land while you shall live,
If, in return, from out your seven
One child to me for aye is given.'"
I looked at John's old garments worn,
I thought of all that John had borne
Of poverty and work and care,
Which I, though willing, could not share;
I thought of seven mouths to feed,
Of seven little children's need,
And then of this: "Come, John," said I,
"We'll choose among them as they lie
Asleep"; so, walking hand in hand,
Dear John and I surveyed our band.
First to the cradle softly stepped,
Where Lillian, the baby, slept,
Her shining curls, like cold alight,
A glory 'gainst the pillow white.
Softly the father stooped to lay
His rough hand down in a gentle way,
When dream or whisper made her stir,
And huskily he said, "Not her!"
We stooped beside the trundle-bed,
And one long ray of lamplight shed
Athwart the boyish faces there,
In sleep so pitiful and fair;
I saw on Jamie's rough, red cheek
A tear undried. Ere John could speak,
"He's but a baby, too," said I,
And kissed him as we hurried by.
Pale, patient Robbie's angel face
Still in his sleep bore suffering's trace,
"No, for a thousand crowns, not him!"
He whispered, while our eyes were dim.
Poor Dick! bad Dick, our wayward son,
Turbulent, reckless, idle one—
Could be spared? Nay, He who gave
Bids us befriend him to his grave;
Only a mother's heart can be Patient enough for such as he.
"And so," said John, "I would not dare
To send him from our bedside prayer."
Then stole we softly up above
And knelt by Mary, child of love.
"Perhaps for her 'twould better be,"
I said to John. Quite silently
He lifted up a curl that lay
Across her cheek in wilful way,
And shook his head. "Nay love; not thee."
The while my heart beat audibly.
Only one more, our eldest lad,
Trusty and truthful, good and glad—
So like his father. "No, John, no,
I cannot, will not, let him go."
And so we wrote, in courtrous way,
We could not give one child away;
And afterward toil lighter seemed,
Thinking of that of which we dreamed,
Happy in truth that not one face
Was missed from its accustomed place;
Thankful to work for all the seven,
Trusting the rest to One in heaven.

—Ethel Lynn Beers.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

Workingmen's Paper Wants Civic Beauty Conserved and Enhanced.

At great expense the civic corporation and private citizens have done much in recent years to beautify the city, and the result has been most gratifying and favorably commented upon, both by residents and visitors.

Still, more might be done in the line already adopted, with but little expense on the part of the city or individuals; but in a direction involving absolutely no expense no move has been made.

Who with an eye for beauty or an abhorrence of outrageous ugliness can have failed to notice the ragtown appearance the city presents for weeks preceding the advent of the annually-looked-for circus? Great flaming streamers are tacked all over buildings, even on the main streets, windows are disfigured with flaring pictures of impossible performances, and the billboards made so look so loud that they can be heard blocks away.

The result is unmitigated ugliness, without the slightest excuse therefor.

Billboards in their normal state are an eyesore, and should be done away with by a city bylaw, as was done in Cleveland. In that city the owners refused to remove their abominations in accordance with the city's orders, so Mayor Tom Johnston had them chopped down and carted away, and the result was less ugliness and more beauty.

Another feature offensive to good taste is the glaring advertisements of the patent medicine fakirs on the blank walls and buildings of business places and private houses. There is no reason why the city should allow these to be used for other than the announcement, in a decent and reasonable way, of the business of the occupant.

Then there is the overhanging sign nuisance and backwoods, huckstering way of displaying goods outside their windows and doors—sometimes the displays being disgusting to the sight as well as malodorous, and always looking out of place.

Occupants of property have a right to use their premises up to the street line, and not one inch farther. If one man appropriates a foot, another will take two and a third three, greatly to the inconvenience of pedestrians.

Why should all these things be permitted? The nuisance is apparent, the city gains no advantage, and the growing beauty of the city is marred.

What lover of decency in the City Council will take the initiative?—Toronto Toller.

First G.W.R. Engine.

The Galt Reporter states that the first locomotive engine on the Galt branch of the Great Western Railway arrived upon the line on Monday last with a load of rails for the track. The workmen are now engaged in laying the rails, and there is a prospect that the road will soon be opened.

The disastrous accident which took place a few days ago on the Great Western Railroad was occasioned by a cow attempting to run under the third car, which threw it off the track and precipitated it down an embankment of seventy feet, causing the death of seven persons, three fatally wounded and several severely injured. No blame attached to the conductor.—From The Globe, June 8, 1854.

"What is the harm in it?"

LATEST SPORT

CRICKET

To-morrow's match, Lindsay Collegiate vs. Colts, at Lindsay promises to be one of exceptional interest. The Colts have gone through the season undefeated and Lindsay has been but once vanquished. In anticipation of a hard game, the Colts are taking up their strongest team and with such representatives as Burritt, Moore, Main, Sheffield, Laing, Hall, Bull, Weller, Wood, Greer and Davidson, should give a creditable account of themselves. The above players are requested to be at the G.T.R. depot in time to catch the 7.20 train.

BASEBALL.

The George street team was mighty lucky again last night, when they played the second half of the game with All Saint's, and, although the score last night was 5—1 in favour of the All Saint's team, the Methodists won the game by 8—6, the lead of 6 runs gained in the first half enabled the George street team to win out. Parnell pitched for George street in the absence of Mulhern, and on the whole pitched a good game. The great trouble with George street was that they were unable to hit Adamson, who was very effective, and played a great game. The teams:—

All Saint's—G. Campbell, B. Rickey, C. Gilbert, C. Bullen, B. Dusty, R. Campbell, Nicholson, Adamson, Barker.

George Street—Metheral, Humbera, Robertson, Dredge, Parnell, Dobbin, Mann, Miller, Curtis.

Geo. McDonald acted as umpire, his decisions being satisfactory to both teams.

To-morrow the Peterborough team will go to Bowmanville to play the team there a game in the Midland League. The players will leave on the 7.12 train for Burkton, and will drive from that station to Bowmanville.

Charlotte street Guild won their third consecutive victory in the Guild League last evening. A four-innings game against St. Luke's at the latters' grounds resulted in a tie neither team scoring, but as the Methodists had a lead of four to nothing in the first half of the contest, they were declared winners. Last evening's contest was a splendid one each team playing fine ball, Roddy on the slab for the victors established a swell record for twirling, striking out nine of the twelve men who faced him. The first eight men to bat were retired on strikes, only eleven balls being pitched in the second innings. But one hit was secured off his delivery during the entire seven innings. Gillespie also twirled in fine fashion, and was accorded fine support. The St. Luke's boys are now out of the running, but have been playing splendid ball, being defeated in the last two games by the close scores of 4—2 and 4—0.

The batteries were, for Charlotte street, Roddy and Thornton; for St. Luke's, B. Gillespie and Crane.

Umpire, Alex. Gillespie.

Members of St. Andrew's baseball team are asked to be on hand at their field to-night to play the return game with the Quakers.

BASEBALL IN TRANSVAAL.

It's a far cry to South Africa, but Peterborough has been very creditably represented there, not only in the field of war, but also in the field of sport. The following from an exchange refers to the share taken in establishing baseball in the Transvaal by Dr. Brennan, well known in Peterborough, both as a physician and an enthusiastic officer of the 57th battalion, with a creditable record of active service, the extract says: —

It is more than ten years since the game of baseball was introduced in the Transvaal. In 1899 the Johannesberg Baseball Club was organized under the management of Mr. A. Worthington, who had associated with him Dr. Brennam, Messrs. Norris, Willis, Soden (Toronto) McKay, Spruce, Robbins, Warriner, DeBore, Dr. Worthington, The team was captained by the late lamented "Joe" Clement, who was killed in the war. The rival club, that year, was the May Stars, captained by Mr. H. Kyle.

During the war there were several games of a more or less loose character, which were played for gates for one or another of the charitable institutions. The best of these was one, America v. Canada, which was won by America in the last innings.

There are at present three teams in the league, viz., Johannesberg, Wanderers, and Internationals, with two more organising to take the places of the May Stars and the Rand.

The Johannesberg team won the 1903 championship by beating the Wanderers in the final saw-off in the series for the cup presented by the Wanderers A.A.C. by the score of 15 to 10.

The Johannesberg team hails from all quarters of the Globe. Dr. Brennam and Robinson come from Canada; Parfitt comes from California, McKay and McDavitt from Pennsylvania, Kyle and Norris from Ohio, the two Worthingtons and Wyatt from Virginia.

The article contains the teams averages for 1903, and Dr. Brennam captures first place in both batting and fielding averages with .425 and .864 respectively.

LACROSSE.

The great Grindley Forrester is living in Thessalon this year, and may play with the Soo team. The News says that he can be had for the asking, but they have such a good team, according to the News, that he may not be asked.

• • • •

To-morrow afternoon's game between Hastings and the T. A. S. should attract a record crowd. It is the second home game in the T.V.L. series and should prove one of the fastest games of the year. That the teams are very evenly matched was shown by the tie game which was played last Saturday and another close contest is assured for to-morrow. The game is called for 2.30 o'clock sharp at the Murray street grounds.

• • • •

It is understood that a photographer will be in attendance at the Hastings—T.A.S. lacrosse match to-morrow afternoon to take snap shots of the fence decorators, who refuse to help the boys along in a financial way, but prefer to sit on the fence and be the subject of comment by those inside the grounds.

FOOTBALL.

The Y.M.C.A. boys will practice on the Oval this evening at 7 o'clock. The team will be chosen to-night that will meet the Old Country Wanderers in the City League Series, which has been scheduled to be played to-morrow.

• • • •

A meeting of the executive of the Peterborough Football League was held last evening and a schedule was drawn up as follows:—

June 25—Y.M.C.A. at Wanderers.
June 27—Wanderers at Quakers.
June 29—Quakers at Y.M.C.A.
July 4—Wanderers at Y.M.C.A.
July 6—Quakers at Wanderers.
July 9—Y.M.C.A. at Quakers.

It was decided that each team deposit the sum of $5.00 as a guarantee of good faith. This money will go towards purchasing medals for the winning team at the close of the series.

THE PETERBOROUGH CANOEIST FAMOUS.

Boston Paper Uses His Skill as Text for a Sermon to American Would-bes.

Peterborough's fame is not confined to provincial or even national bounds, but, judging from the following clipping, from the Boston Transcript, supplied the Examiner by Mr. J. W. Wood, is international. In addition to paying a tribute to the aquatic abilities of Peterborough residents, the article gives some good advice to persons who indulge in the pleasures of canoeing — on the Charles River, of course, since everyone who will read this is an expert canoeist, the above need not be accepted. The Transcript says:—

"We are almost in the height of the canoe season. Reports from narrow escapes from death come from the Charles River district almost daily. Novices who go out in canoes usually come ashore soaked. Many an unwitting maiden has gone forth upon the placid bosom of the Charles undismayed and unafraid has returned to terra firma with her wet skirts transforming her into a beautiful Venus.

The canoe is a tricky animal to ride in the water. It is liable to buck and kick and roll and dive from under you when you least expect such a demonstration. It is a thing of varied moods and caprices, which require the knowledge of an expert to overcome.

No amateur is safe in a canoe, and four-fifths of those who go abroad upon the Charles in canoes are amateurs. This is easily told by the manner in which they handle their paddle, by the position they occupy in the canoe and by the ease with which they fall out of the canoe into the water on the slightest provocation.

Personally we do not know much about canoeing, but we happen to be acquainted with a folk who are. We refer to the natives in and around Peterborough, Ontario, the home of the American canoe. There are no better canoemen in the world than are found around Peterborough, and it is a significant fact, too, that the Peterborough canoemen, when alone in a canoe, handle it from the middle thwart. A Peterborough man will overturn his canoe in midstream purposely, cast his paddle from him, swim and get it, return to the canoe, right it, climb in, clean it of water by means of his paddle, and move gayly off.

Of course, this is spectacular, and amounts to little in the practical handling of a canoe, and a Charles River canoeman need not be able to do a showy stunt like this to be safe on the water. Some restrictions ought to be placed on men who rent canoes at Riverside to those who do not know how to handle them. Canoeing is a popular, a healthful and a delightful pastime, and many young men who know nothing about the art are often tempted to take their sweethearts out on the water. If conditions are right, if the moon is full of shine and the lovers are full of love, and if the air is full of the songs of nightbirds, there is a great temptation to exchange kisses in midstream, and—presto!—both are struggling in the water and "hollering" for help.

Do not kiss your sweetheart on the water—kiss her some place else.

Shorey's Best Clothing.

The hit of the season—one of the best purchases made this year by Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co., is a fine collection of Shorey's best clothing, which they bought at about 50c on the Dollar. These will be packed up quickly as they represent the smartest styles and best tailored men's garments made, always guaranteed. Among the lot is 175 excellent Canadian and Halifax Tweed suits in checks, mixtures and plain, genteel patterns, which are priced as low as $3.50, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 for the full suit. Also 35 nifty two-piece summer suits, coat and pants, which we can sell at $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50. Fashionable fanciers in summer vests for hot weather wear, at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. Last, but not least, 90 pairs of black worsted trowsers, neat solid black goods, with hair line stripe, which are to be sold at $1.50—actually less than it cost to make them. Pay you well to call and see these snaps for yourself. H. LeBrun & Co. dw

DISAPPEARANCE OF MRS. MARY MOONEY

An Old Lady Wanders Away from Home and is Lost

No Trace of Her Although Search is Being Made—No Cause Known for Her Disappearance

The residents of North Harvey are greatly disturbed over the strange disappearance of Mrs. Mary Mooney, an old lady about 70 years of age, who resided on the Government Road, about five miles from Buckhorn. She left home about two o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 18th, and although parties have been out every day since searching the woods and surrounding country, no trace of her has been found. In view of the fruitless search, it is supposed that she got a chance of a ride to Peterborough, where she has friends, but up to the present this has not been confirmed. The old lady has been well treated by her relatives and friends and no reason can be assigned for her leaving her home in such a manner. It is also thought that perhaps she may have wandered into the woods, and, not being very strong, has been unable to reach home again, and met death from exhaustion.

Any person who finds any trace of Mrs. Mooney will be doing a great kindness if they will communicate with Messrs. Walter Mooney, or S. J. Guthrie, Hall's Bridge P.O., or if they would have her conveyed to her home all expenses would be paid. It is to be sincerely hoped that the old lady will turn up safely, thus relieving her relatives and friends from the painful anxiety under which they now are.

DEATH OF FORMER PETERBOROUGH LADY

Mrs. Robt. Strachan Died in Fort William, Ont.

The Fort William Times-Journal has the following report of the death of Mrs. Robert Strachan, who was well-known here. The deceased lady was a daughter of Mr. John Glass, for many years freight master at the G.T.R. station here, now of Toronto. Mr. Strachan, before leaving here, five years ago, was employed in Sanderson's jewelry store for 11 years. The Times-Journal says:

"Edith Lillian, wife of Robert Strachan, died yesterday morning at ¼ o'clock after an illness of over a year. The primary cause of Mrs. Strachan's illness was appendicitis, and one year ago to-day she was ready to go to Toronto for an operation. The unexpected arrival of Mr. Strachan's sister delayed her arrival for a few days, but she went within a week. The operation was performed but she did not recover as her friends hoped to see, and after months of suffering she was brought back to her home. For weeks during the winter and early spring her life was despaired of, but with wonderful vitality she clung to life, and then for a period she seemed to rally and was able to sit up, and during a few of the warm spring days she was strong enough to be wheeled to the balcony. But she had not the strength to rebuild her wasted form, and for the past week it was evident to husband and friends that she would soon pass beyond all earthly help. On Saturday afternoon she began to sink rapidly, and at two o'clock on Sunday morning the end came. What Mrs. Strachan suffered and the patience with which she bore it, can be known only to herself, and those who watched with mingled hope and fear through all those months of sickness. The late Mrs. Strachan was 32 years of age and leaves three young children to mourn with her husband for her loss. The funeral was held this afternoon at the house on Donald street. Rev. W. L. H. Rowland officiating. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery."

SHAMROCKS REFUSE TO PLAY BRANTFORD.

Will not Meet Team Professionalized by the C. A. A. U.

The announcement made in the Montreal Herald that the Shamrock Lacrosse team will not play the "professional" Brantford team will cause a smile in some quarters. The article reads:—

"The Shamrock Lacrosse Club have unanimously decided to abide by the ruling of the C.A.A.U. and will absolutely refuse to play any Brantford professional team."

The official announcement was made to The Herald at the close of the directors meeting to-day, by Mr. W. P. Kerney, President of the Shamrock Lacrosse Club.

"We fully recognise that the Union are the law makers, regarding sports in this country and though we are materially affected by the ruling we believe that by taking our present stand we will be the strongest advocates of purely amateur lacrosse.

"If the Brantford Lacrosse Club desires to send down a team of amateurs we will willingly meet them in the matches for the Minto Cup, even though we know we are going to lose a big gate.

"Further we have decided that a delegation of the club should wait on Mr. P. D. Ross, the trustee of the Cup at Ottawa, to-morrow, and after submitting our decision to him will ask him his view on the matter.

"But now that the C.A.A.U. has come out and taken the first step against professional lacrosse we sincerely hope that the Union will act consistently and follow up its action by investigating the conditions under which the t[illegible] the eastern league are [illegible] an investigation sho[illegible] all clubs, Shamrock, Mo[illegible]als.

"The Shamro[illegible]tion has always been an amateur one and it is to live up to this standard that the directors have decided to take this strong stand against semi-professionalism."

A PLASANT PIC-NIC

Pupils of Madame Allo Enjoyed Themselves at Chemong Park

Last Saturday afternoon Madame Allo, and about fifteen of her French pupils, enjoyed a delightful picnic at Chemong Park. After refreshments had been served, a number of French recitations were given by Misses Madeline Wilson and Florence Burnham, and Masters Holden and Walter Blackwell. Madame Allo's practical instruction in connection with French conversation was shown to have been most efficient.

It is a pleasing feature to see such practical attention paid to so beautiful a language, one, that enters so largely into our national relations in Canada, and so largely interwoven with our language and literature.

Tokio, June 25.—Admiral Togo reports an engagement at Port Arthur last Thursday, in which a battleship of the Peresviet type, was sunk and a battleship of the Sevastopol type and a first-class cruiser of the Diana type were damaged.

The Japanese fleet were practically undamaged.

Battle Imminent.

Berlin, June 25.—Col. Gaedke, the correspondent of Tageblatt in the Far East, telegraphs from the Russian headquarters, saying that on June 22 the Japanese occupied Kaichou and that a decisive battle of the united armies of Gen. Oku and Kuroki with the Russian main army is expected shortly.

Oku and Kuroki United.

Liaoyang, June 25.—It is reported that Generals Oku and Kuroki have joined forces and are attacking the Russians from the direction of Vafangow.

There is talk of a serious engagement shortly. It is also rumored that the Japanese forces which were recently advancing in this direction have fallen back on Fengwangcheng.

Captain Von Lang and 26 volunteer scouts have rejoined the command, arriving here on foot after a hot skirmish with the Japanese rear guard.

Von Lang and his little command started out on horseback to investigate the numbers and movements of the enemy. They rode clear around the Japanese advance and gained important information regarding the Japanese position.

When in the rear of the Japanese main body they were discovered and surrounded by two squadrons of cavalry, but they cut through their way with sabards and poignards, losing five men. Nearly all their horses were scattered. They escaped to the hills, where the Japanese cavalry was unable to follow them, and they succeeded in rejoining the colors with much valuable information.

Reinforcements are constantly arriving.

BRITISH ENABLING BILL.

Ontario May Deal With Britain in Medical Degree Registration.

Toronto, June 25.—A bill has been introduced in the British House of Commons by a private member to enable the King to recognize any locally governed province, such as Ontario, as a separate British possession for the purposes of the Medical Act of 1886, so that the province can independently negotiate for reciprocity with Great Britain in the registration of medical degrees. This is one of the most important questions between Great Britain and the colonies, and it would appear that the Home Government are inclined to support the proposed bill if colonial feeling favors it.

The Lieutenant-Governor has received from the Under Secretary of State at Ottawa a cable despatch from the Right Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, Secretary of State for the Colonies, and Assistant Provincial Secretary Mulvey has notified Dr. Pyne, Dr. Primrose and other leading physicians with a view to obtaining the expression of opinion requested.

Britain's Questions.

The despatch, date May 28th, is as follows:

"Private member's bill introduced into House of Commons in following terms for the purpose of the Medical Act of 1886, where any part of a British possession is under a central and also under a local legislature, His Majesty the King may, if he thinks fit, by Order-in-Council, declare that the part which is under the Local Legislature shall be deemed a separate British possession. Ends: Object of bill to enable reciprocal arrangements to be entered into under Medical Act of 1886 with such provinces of Canada as desire them. Medical Council anxious to know views of your ministers at earliest possible date.

"Signed, Lyttelton."

A score of leading physicians here yesterday expressed themselves as favorable to the measure. Not one of those seen was opposed, though Dr. Pyne, M.P.P., on account of his official position, declined to speak for publication.

U.S. Cabinet Changes.

Washington, June 25.—President Roosevelt yesterday made the following announcements regarding changes in the Cabinet:

RESTORATION OF THE OLD RATES

Mr. Miller's Plea in Freight Rates Classification.

A COMPROMISE AGREED UPON

Mr. Bunting Concludes His Presentation of the Grievances of the Fruit Growers—Farmers and Grain Rates—Mr. Gregory Emphasizes the Discrimination Against Them—Railways to Put in Answer.

Toronto, June 25.—At yesterday's session of the Railway Commission W. H. D. Miller resumed his statement of the grounds of complaints against the railway company's classification of rates. What, he said, was immediately and urgently required was the temporary restoration of the old rates pending the promulgation of a final and definite classification.

The Chairman's Opinion.

The chairman expressed a strong opinion that the parties should come together and agree upon a temporary classification as a working basis until the Commission decided upon a permanent one. Under the pressure Messrs. Miller and McInnes held a conference and agreed on rule one of the new classification regarding minimum rates and compromised by making rule 2 of that classification regarding mine cars apply west of Fort William, and rule 2 of Classification XI. east of Fort William.

Fruit Growers Conclude Case.

Mr. Bunting, for the fruit-growers of the Province, then replied to the railway company's statements. They had, he said, practically admitted the deficient and unsatisfactory service. This the company had stated they were anxious to remedy and the fruit-growers believed this expression was sincere. Montreal had been referred to as a dumping ground. Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg were each consuming and distributing centres to which fruit is sent in large quantities and re-shipped in smaller lots. Mr. Allan had mentioned lack of harmony and rivalry between stations as adverse conditions. That might have been true in his experience, but was not accurate now.

As to the objection that too much fruit is produced, there were several reasons for the increased production. They were no longer able to compete with western wheat; the land was well suited to fruit and they had been trained in the business. As a matter of fact there was no great production.

Mr. Gregory pointed out that the southern market was absolutely closed to Canadian fruit-growers and therefore they occupied a position deserving special consideration, and then proceeded to conclude the case for the Farmers' Association.

Farmers and Grain Rates.

He referred to the changes in the tariff affecting grain rates and the discrimination made between the rates for grain and grain produce.

Mr. Gregory proceeded to emphasize the discrimination against farmers and in favor of the millers, a large part of whose products were not shipped outside, but consumed locally.

The chairman: Does it hurt the local grower that the outside grower has an advantage in rates?

Mr. Gregory: Yes, I think it does. A comparison of the rates showed that immediately in crossing the border line rates jumped up largely.

Dealing with the question of rebates Mr. Gregory said that he had himself seen waybills in which a rebate had been given of $11 on cattle shipped from Chicago to Montreal. Toronto buyers bought at Chicago in order to get the advantage of the rebate. What the farmers asked was that both should be put on an equality in Canada. They also complained that the rate on beans was higher than the rate on grain and grain products; grain being in some cases 8 cents, grain products 9 cents and beans 18 cents.

Mr. Pullen asked that the railways might have an opportunity of seeing and checking the statements and putting in a report later. It was finally arranged that the railway companies should put in their answers, and Mr. Gregory should reply in writing if necessary.

Board of Trade Complaints.

A deputation from the Toronto Board of Trade was then introduced. The secretary read a long memorial representing that the present rates charged on shipments from Toronto were too high and handicapped local manufacturers and merchants in competing with outside points.

Mr. Blain spoke on classification. He also requested the Board to issue an order that the delivering company should in all cases be responsible for overcharges and damage.

Mr. Howland also spoke in support of the memorial and emphasized the necessity for relief on the points raised.

The Board adjourned to meet this morning at 10 o'clock.

Saved From Drowning.

Fort Erie, June 25.—Eddie Wise, aged 12, son of John Wise, while playing on Hawkins' dock, fell into the river just forward of the ferry steamer Hope. His cries attracted the attention of Warren Eagen, purser, who, without waiting to remove his clothing, jumped in and saved the lad's life.

West Durham Conservatives.

Bowmanville, June 25.—John Henry Devitt of Cartwright, ex-warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, was yesterday chosen for the coming provincial election as Conservative standard bearer in West Durham.

CANADIAN GENERAL GETS BIG CONTRACT

To Supply Equipment to Toronto & Niagara Falls Power Company.

Six Generators of 7,500 Kilowatts Included in Contract.

Toronto knows the right shop to come to for enlightenment of its benighted condition. The Canadian General Electric Company has been awarded the contract for supplying equipment to develop electric energy, to supply Toronto, as will be seen from the following despatch to the Toronto News:—

New York, June 24.—The Toronto & Niagara Falls Power Company, of which Col. H. M. Pellatt, of Toronto, is president, has just awarded a large contract for equipment to be installed in its power-house to be constructed on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, from where energy will be derived to transmit electric current to Toronto and intervening towns. The contract calls for six generators of 7,500 kilowatts capacity each, or 45,000 kilowatts in all. The Canadian General Electric Company secured the contract.

GRATIFYING SUCCESS OF A CANADIAN GIRL

Miss "Dolly" Irwin Appointed Lady Superintendant of an Illinois Hospital

Miss Zella May (Dolly) Irwin, daughter of Mr. Thos. C. Irwin, Stewart street, has received the appointment of Superintendent of the McAllister Hospital in Waukegan, Illinois. Miss Irwin is a gold medal graduate of the Hamilton City Hospital, and at the termination of her course there some two years ago, came home and enjoyed a few months' pleasant vacation with her parents and friends. About a year and a half ago she decided to go to Chicago where she has since been engaged in professional nursing. Her fitness for the position of Lady Superintendent in the McAllister Hospital was strongly endorsed by influential persons, and she entered upon her duties about two weeks ago. The selection of Miss Irwin for so responsible a position emphasizes the superior qualities of good sense, steadiness and reliability possessed by Canadian girls and boys too, who seek a livelihood in the United States. Then these qualities secure prompt recognition from all who desire effective service. The Yankee boys and girls may be "smarter," but they do not possess in anything like so large a degree, the qualities mentioned. Miss Irwin's many friends wish her heartiest congratulations.

AN AUTUMN ELECTION

The Ross Ministry May Test the Country on the Prohibition Issue

(Toronto News.)

A gentleman who was present at the meeting of the Peterborough Baptist churches, now in session at Belleville, and who arrived in the city today, stated that at yesterday morning's meeting, during a discussion on the temperance question, Rev. Mr. Bastow, of Peterborough, declared he was told a few days ago by Hon. J. R. Stratton that it was the intention of the Ross Government to go to the country next fall in the interests of prohibition.

Mr. Stratton on being seen in regard to the above mentioned matter, said: "You know Mr. Bastow is a very enthusiastic temperance advocate. Some weeks ago on the train to Peterborough, we were discussing, in a very informal way, the temperance question, as to possibilities, probabilities and results of different forms of legislative action. Mr. Bastow thinks that a government that would appeal to the people on an advanced temperance platform, would succeed, I don't think Mr. Bastow stated that I said that the Government would appeal to the country next fall on prohibition. Mr. Bastow, you will find, has been incorrectly reported.

ITALIANS ON TRIAL.

Stabbing Case Being Dealt With at County Court To-day.

At the County Court to-day before His Honour Judge Weller, the three Italians, Francesco Tamboleno, Fidele Giacoma and Ettore Scatagline, who were on Monday last committed for trial on two charges, of unlawfully wounding Robt. Sheridan on the evening of Victoria Day, and of taking part in an affray on the same date. From the evidence taken this morning it seemed that there was a knife used in the affray, but it is hardly likely that it can be proved which of the three on trial used the knife on Sheridan. The prisoners admit taking part in the affray.

R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution and D. O'Connell for defence.

This afternoon an automobile party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Baillie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rolph, and Mr. E. Rolph, of Toronto, passed through town on their way to Toronto. They have been spending the week at Buckhorn.

And thinks of the doses that doctors prepare.
To her children when sick no doctor she'll bring;
She has proved beyond doubt "Abbey's Salt" is the thing.

ABBEY'S SALT is especially suited to children. It is made from fruit juices—contains no calomel, or other powerful drugs—and is pleasant to take. It is a tonic laxative— NOT a purge or violent cathartic. It may be taken every morning by children, as well as grown folk, without fear of ill-effects.

It corrects all the bowel troubles of childhood —prevents cramps—keeps the little ones fresh, rosy and healty.

Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, JUNE 25, 1904.

ABUSING A PRIVILEGE

In the abstract there is little harm likely to result from the circulation of the campaign literature prepared in the interests of the Conservative party and now being circulated illegally or at least, irregularly, through his Majesty's mails. The Examiner has received from several citizens a copy of a Conservative sheet of campaign literature evidently prepared by Ananias, but endorsed by the member for North Hastings, the successor in the representation of this riding of Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, for the envelope containing the campaign ammunition bore on it the frank of A. W. Caracallen, M.P.P. It is permitted to members of Parliament, during a session to send letters under their frank free of postage. This, however, does not apply to party campaign literature such as the sample sent us, which, while it bore on the containing envelope the frank mark of Mr. Caracallen, the poison itself — the document enclosed, was stamped, "with the compliments of J. A. Sexsmith." Mr. Sexsmith is the Conservative candidate in East Peterborough and in order to run this election contest "on the cheap" has persuaded a member of parliament to abuse the franking privilege and by so doing circulate "Tory" campaign literature at the expense of the people of Canada, Liberal and Conservative alike. The great Conservative party—"the party of gentlemen," as it has been described, seems to have fallen from its high estate—to be mighty "hard up" when it seeks to carry on its party campaign on pauper principles—"faking" charity from the country. From the tone of the campaign literature thus smuggled through the mails illegally one would think that the great Conservative party wouldn't do a wrong action to gain the Kingdom of Heaven—or office—convertible terms with the average hidebound Conservative, but here we find the great party coming down to playing the sneak act—smuggling its campaign literature through the mails free of postage. Its time to "pass the hat."

The Globe has the following:—"The Peterborough Review says:—'When Sir Fred. Borden appointed seven Lieutenant-Colonels to a force of a hundred privates it would be interesting to know how much he charged and put in his pocket for each of the bogus opera commissions.' This is not political criticism. It is criminal libel, and the Minister of Militia is a patient man if he does not give The Review an early opportunity of proving its charge.'

The Conservative newspapers have been busy quoting what the Montreal Witness said about the Dundonald case, but we have not seen them quote the following paragraph from the Witness:—"Meantime, it should be remembered that if Lord Dundonald is an unusually brilliant soldier, and if he has served Canada as no one ever did in the administration of his late office, Mr. Fisher is, for his part, the best Minister of Agriculture we ever had, and has served Canada in what is by far her largest and most intimate interest. It will never be possible to measure the debt of gratitude the country owes Mr. Fisher for the vvigour, ability and devotion which he has shown in increasing the production and wealth of his country."

LINES

In loving memory of little Isabelle Armour, who died from severe burns some time ago.

Jesus has summoned another little lamb
To rise to her reward,
Although young in this life
She has gone to dwell with her Lord.

She mounted the golden ladder
One little step at a time,
She bravely endured her suffering
Till she stepped over the line.

Who could describe the agony
Endured those six long weeks,
For Isabelle so patiently suffered
From those sore burns so deep

Ah, darling little sample of patience
To us older a lesson has learned,
When you are resting in Jesus
Your tiny life speaks in this world.

Just three days before the tiny spirit
Stepped upon the golden shore,
She sang in sweetest melody
"I'm going home to die no more."

Her last little request was
"Please give me a drink,
Then she laid back in her mother's arms
And quietly passed over the brink.

True there is one little jewel missed here
One little vacant chair,
But she is with Jesus in glory
She adds one to the number there.

We to the bereaved parents
Our deepest sympathy extend,
In the loss of their dear little home-flower.
Whom God did so kindly lend.

MABEL SHERWOOD.

Death Came Suddenly.

Toronto, June 24.—Death came quickly to Christopher Cuthbert Baines, the well-known stock broker, late yesterday afternoon. He was an enthusiastic bowler and, leaving his office, wheeled rapidly up Church street to the Granite Rink, to participate in the game. The hurry and exertion in going up grade caused acute dilation of the heart, and when he entered the rink he was noticed to reel. Dr. Widmer Hawke was near by and gave prompt assistance, but attempts at resuscitation were unavailing.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

Crushed By a Wagon.

Woodstock, June 24.—Joseph Gibbons, a farmer living on the sixth concession of East Oxford, received injuries at the city Wednesday afternoon, the seriousness of which cannot yet be determined. He was unloading grain at the mill, when suddenly his horse became frightened and made a dash forward. He was thrown out over the front of the wagon box and alighting on the ground the wheels of the heavily loaded wagon ran over his chest and shoulders. He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition, and a physician discovered severe injuries to the spine and shoulders.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

LIBERAL DEVOTION

Evinced For Sir Wilfrid Laurier in a Remarkable Way.

TRIUMPH FOR THE PREMIER

Scene at the Close of Sir Wilfrid's Eloquent Reply in the Dundonald Case—Col. Hughes Speaks First and Is "Reasoned" By Dr. Russell—Supremacy of Civil Over the Military Forces.

Ottawa, June 25.—If any further demonstration were needed of the triumphant leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and of the absolute unanimity with which he is followed by the Liberals, it was afforded last night, when the Prime Minister achieved one of his greatest personal successes in speaking in the Dundonald debate. Sir Wilfrid addressed himself briefly to some of the outstanding features of the debate, and for a few minutes, at the conclusion, he referred to the attempt to raise the race cry against him for his inadvertent use of the word "foreigner" in a previous discussion.

Justified the Word "Stranger."

After completely justifying his amended expression, when he used the word "stranger," he closed with a significant and powerful reference to one of the features of his life, his fight against the base attempts of his opponents to raise race and creed issues against him, using the following words in reply to an interruption by Dr. Sproule' "In my own Province the allies of the hon. gentleman, those who fight with him, have traduced me for years as a traitor to my race and religion. I think the cry is getting stale. Another one had to be invented. I have no more fear of this one than I had of the other. My experience has convinced me, my experience has proved to me, that in this good land of Canada, in all sections thereof, in all classes thereof, in all races thereof, in all creeds thereof, appeals to prejudice may create a flurry of excitement, but invariably they will end in producing nothing but contempt in the hearts and minds of all intelligent and honorable people."

Ovation to the Premier.

When Sir Wilfrid sat down he was the object of a demonstration from his followers, which has seldom, if ever, been equalled in the House. The applause grew into cheers, the members rose in a body and their voices filled the chamber with reverberating sound, which was heard throughout the entire buildings. Members waved hats and handkerchiefs and gave vent to their feelings of satisfaction for some minutes. The galleries were crowded to their utmost until Sir Wilfrid finished, while even the corridors held many who stood within sound of his voice. In the earlier part of his speech Sir Wilfrid raised the debate at once to a high plane, and, dealing with the constitutional phase, declared again his ideal of the supremacy of the civil over the military forces in the State.

A Masterpiece of Satire.

The other notable speech of the day was that of Dr. Benjamin Russell, the brilliant member for Hants, whose treatment of Col. Sam Hughes' record was a masterpiece of satire, which held the undivided attention of the House, aroused the Liberals to constant enthusiasm, and ruffled even the member for North Victoria himself. Other speeches were delivered by Col. Hughes, Mr. Jabel Robinson, Mr. Rufus Pope, Mr. Casgrain, Mr. A. Ingram and Captain Hackett. The division bell rang at 1.20. Hon. Mr. Fisher, though in the House, did not vote. Mr. Puttee, the Labor member for Winnipeg, voted with the Government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Frederick Borden and Dr. Russell were given hearty cheers when they rose to vote.

The Division.

Mr. Borden's amendment was defeated on the following division:

Yeas—Armstrong, Avery, Barker Bell, Bennett, Birkett, Blain, Bordes (Halifax), Brock, Brodeur, Bruce Carscallen, Casgrain, Clare, Cochrane Culbert, Donnelly, Earle, Hackett, Halliday, Henderson, Hughes (Victoria) Ingram, Johnston (Cardwell), Kidd Lancaster, Lariviere, Lennox, Maclean Morin, Northrup, Osler, Pope, Porter Rosamond, Sproule, Taylor, Thompson (Grey), Tolton, Vrooman, Wilmot, Wilson. Total, 42.

Nays: Angers, Archambault, Basinet, Blanchet, Borden (Sir Frederick), Bourassa; Bourbonnais; Bruneau, Bureau, Calvert, Campbell, Carbonneau, Champaign; Christie, Copp, Costigan, Delisle, Demers (Levis), Demers (St. John) Douglas, Erb, Ethier, Fielding, Fitzpatrick, Fortier, Gallery, Gauvreau, Geoffrion, Gervais, Gibson, Girard, Harwood, Hashard, Hughes (Kings, P. E. I), Hyman, Johnston (C. B.), Lapointe, Laurier (Sir Wilfrid), Laurier (L'Assomption), Lavergne (Drummond and Port Arthur), LEvergne (Montmagny), Law, Leblanc, Lewis, Loy, Macdonald, Mackie, Mackinnon, Macpherson, MacCool, McGugan, McInnan, Maloulin, Marcil (Bonaventure), Matheson, Maynard, Meigs, Migrault, Monet, Mulock (Sir Wm.), Murray, Oliver, Parmelee, Paterson, Prefontaine, Proulx, Puttee, Reid (Restigouche), Riley, Rivet, Roche (Halifax), Ross (Ontario), Ross (Rimouski), Ross (Victoria, N. S.), Russell, Scott, Sifton, Sinclair, Stewart, Sutherland (Essex), Tolmie, Tucker. Total, 84.

Waiting For Russia.

Mr. R. L. Borden asked whether the Minister of Marine and Fisheries had any information in regard to the recent negotiations between Canada and Russia.

Mr. Prefontaine replied that recent negotiations between representatives of Canada and Russia, in London, reached the point that a certain suggested settlement would be submitted to their Governments by representative delegates for ratification or otherwise. The delegates separated on the understanding that the conclusion of the Russian Government in the proposed settlement would be communicated to Canada through the ordinary diplomatic channels for consideration by Canada. Russia's decision has not yet been received by the Canadian Government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier laid on the table of the House the original of the Order-in-Council striking the name of Dr. Pickell from the list of doctors recommended by Col. Smart. He said it was most unusual to produce the originals of documents of this kind, but in view of the insinuations made against the Minister of Agriculture the request has been acceded to.

Suprise to Doctors.

Most doctors are astonished at the results obtained by Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, salt rheum and itching skin diseases which are often considered well nigh incurable. By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine.

HE'S BEEN WELL EVER SINCE

A. D. Miller has an Experience with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets That's Worth Remembering.

"I wish to state that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best medicine anyone can take for Dyspepsia." The speaker was A. D. Miller, of Tomstown, Ont., and when he was asked for his reason he continued, "I had been troubled with indigestion and Dyspepsia and during the summer of 1900 my doctor treated me for Liver Complaint but I kept growing worse.

"My appetite was very irregular, and I would bloat after eating and I also had palpitation of the heart. Sometimes I would not sleep at night on account of my heart beating so hard.

"I was hardly able to get around when I started using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. After using half a box I felt better; by the time I had used two boxes I was well and I have been well ever since."

You can't have Dyspepsia if you use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Decorated Wedding Cake.

Beat one pound (two cups) of butter to a cream, then gradually beat into it one pound (two cups) of sugar, then add the well beaten yolks of twelve eggs and two cups of molasses, then one pound (four cups) of flour, sifted with one teaspoonful each of soda and cloves and two teaspoonfuls each of cinnamon and mace; then beat in the stiff beaten whites of twelve eggs and, lastly, two pounds of seeded raisins, two pounds of sliced citron, two and a half pounds of currants and one-fourth of a pound each of candied orange peel and blanched almonds chopped fine. If the candied peel be hard, let soften in a few spoonfuls of boiling water before chopping.

The cake shown in the illustration is one-half of the recipe.

It is eight and one-half inches in diameter and three inches thick. A round cake is prettier for a table decoration than is the square loaf, but the latter will cut to better advantage when desired to pack in boxes as wedding favors. The cake is decorated in a very simple manner. In the center are the initials of the bride's name in German text. Outside of this and between two rolls of scroll piping are disposed small meringues shaped like bells, with pearl headed pins for clappers.—Boston Cooking School Magazine.

Fashion's Echoes.

There is no article of a girl's wardrobe more satisfactory for comfort and service than an easy fitting coat in long three-quarter or shorter length.

Another fancy of fashion is the dainty lingerie hat that is made from sheer mull or batiste preferably, though silk, chiffon or even lace is used.

Trimming makes the gown this season, above all previous years. There is no end to the various kinds of garnitures in vogue, and materials have grown to be without limit.

Nets printed in cloudy Dresden effects are new and attractive dress fabrics.

The flat "nun's tucks" from two to four inches in width are fashionable skirt decoration.

The new embroidered cotton nulls and batistes show artistic effects and are by no means restricted to youthful wearers, as one might imagine.

SWAYSE SHOT MISS ALVORD.

Then Plunged From a Window to An Awful Death.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—Charles A. Swayse, employed by a life insurance company and former assistant superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, yesterday shot Miss Effie Alvord twice, in the neck and waist, not fatally, while the couple were in a private office in the company's suite on the eleventh floor of the Chamber of Commerce building, and then jumped from the window himself. Swayse had attempted to throw Miss Alvord from the window, but failed. There was just a breath of life in Swayse's body when it was picked up.

A letter written by Swayse alleges that Miss Alvord and Swayse had been intimate; that the intimacy was responsible for Swayse's losing his position at the House of Correction, and that Miss Alvord had been hounding him. Swayse was 53 years of age and leaves a widow and two children.

Kaiser's Welcome.

Kiel, June 25.—Preparations in progress for the reception of King Edward indicate that His Majesty will be given a more magnificent welcome than any ever witnessed in the Kiel waters. The German Imperial yacht, the Hohenzollern, will present the appearance of a tropical palm garden, and will be entirely covered by an awning.

Mr. Eldridge Won't Answer.

Ottawa, June 25.—G. P. Eldridge, vice-president of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Assurance, having refused to answer certain questions as to the salaries of officers of the association in New York, Senator Cloran, chairman of the investigation committee, yesterday asked the Senate to take action. After much debate, a motion made by Senator De Boucherville to postpone consideration of the question of the matter till Tuesday finally carried.

General Booth Saw the King.

London, June 24.—Gen. Wm. Booth, accompanied by Staff Commissioner Pollard, was received Wednesday by King Edward and submitted to His Majesty information regarding the work of the Salvation Army.

Marconi at Last.

Montreal, June 24.—Saturday next the Marconi station will be in operation at Fame Point, Gaspe, and ten days later a second at Heath Point.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Cocohella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all druggists.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, Ga., and Its Pastor and Elder.

THE day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true today of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low stations, that no one hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men representing all classes and stations are equally represented.

A dignified representative of the Presbyterian church in the person of Rev. E. G. Smith does not hesitate to state publicly that he has used Peruna in his family and found it cured when other remedies failed. In this statement the Rev. Smith is supported by an elder in his church.

Rev. E. G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"Having used Peruna in my family for some time it gives me pleasure to testify to its true worth.

"My little boy seven years of age had been suffering for some time with catarrh of the lower bowels. Other remedies had failed, but after taking two bottles of Peruna the trouble almost entirely disappeared. For this special malady I consider it well nigh a specific.

"As a tonic for weak and worn out people it has few or no equals."—Rev. E. G. Smith.

Mr. M. J. Rossman, a prominent merchant of Greensboro, Ga., and an elder in the Presbyterian church of that place, has used Peruna, and in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, writes as follows:

"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys and tried many remedies, all of which gave me no relief. Peruna was recommended to me by several friends, and after using a few bottles I am pleased to say that the long looked for relief was found and I am now enjoying better health than I have for years, and can heartily recommend Peruna to all similarly afflicted. It is certainly a grand medicine."—M. J. Rossman.

Catarrh is essentially the same wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Seventeen new members were formally received into the church last evening.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF THE LIFT LOCK

To be a Great Day in Peterborough.

A Good Programme—Single Fare Railway Rates.

The Mayor and Council are energetically at work to make the occasion of the official opening of the Lift Lock on July 9th, a memorable day in Peterborough. The Mayor thinks there should be ten thousand visitors in town on July 9th, and he and the Council are doing their share to realize his expectations.

The Mayor took time by the forelock and wrote to the management of our two great railways, regarding special rates for July 9th. The following reply has been received from the district passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway:

"Toronto, Ont., June 24th, 1904.

Mr. G. M. Roger,
Mayor, Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—Referring to your letter of the 23rd inst., we are agreeable to authorizing rate of single fare for the opening of the Lift Lock, July 9th, from all points where the single fare to Peterborough does not exceed $2.50. Tickets will be good going on trains arriving Peterborough p.m. of July 8th, all trains July 9th; valid to return on or before July 11th.

I presume you will have this arrangment advertised and given as much publicity as possible so that we will be warranted in placing this rate in effect.

Yours truly,
J. McDonald, D. P. A.

It is more than probable that the C.P.R. will grant a similar rate, though up to the present no answer has been received from the Mayor's letter.

The Committee of the Council is arranging a programme for the day of which the following is a general outline. This is the programme for the reception entertainment and entertainment of the official visitors:

SUGGESTION OF PROGRAMME.

Drive about the town from 9 to 10 a.m., July 9th.

Official opening ceremonies of the lift lock, 10 to 11.30 a.m.

At 11 a.m. steamer excursion from Peterborough to Lindsay via Scott Valley Canal, leaving at $1.30—this will include dinner at Burleigh en route. Lindsay is generously and actively co-operating with Peterborough, and in all probability will take the party to visit Bobcaygeon and put up a supper for the party at Sturgeon Point. The official party is expected to be about 200 in number.

As the railway excursion tickets will be good for three days. Hotels and other entertainers as well as the citizens generally should prepare to look after the comfort of any number of guests. Keep the ball a-rolling.

AT POLICE COURT.

More Dog Tag and Sidewalk Bicycle Riding Cases Dealt with

Still the dog tag cases come before the Magistrate and still the fines are imposed. Three cases were dealt with this morning and in each a fine of $2 and $2.60 costs was imposed.

Two cases of riding bicycles on the sidewalk came up. In the first case, a fine of $2.00 was imposed and the second case was enlarged.

A wages case in which $3.35 was claimed by the plaintiff, was enlarged until next week.

A boy of nine years of age was given a very severe reprimand by the Magistrate for his bad conduct. He had been breaking into an office and causing much inconvenience besides refusing to go to school. He promised to be good henceforth.

UNION PICNIC

Very Enjoyable Event at Wallis' Grove Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon School Sections No. 1 and 2, North Monaghan, and No. 1 Smith, held their annual picnic at Wallis' Grove. A good representation of the parents and children from each section as well as a large number from town were present and heartily enjoyed the occasion. During the afternoon the pupils played baseball, football and indulged in other amusements. About 5.30 o'clock tea was served after which a number of foot races, jumping, hop, step and jump, running broad jump and high jump, were run off and suitable prizes given to the winners. The refreshment booth was liberally patronized during the day. A very enjoyable time was spent by all present. Mr. Helliwell took a photograph of all the pupils and teachers present; the teachers were Mr. W. D. Moore, Mr. A. D. Long and Miss Elmhirst.

BEAUTIFUL QUARTERS OF PETERBOROUGH ODDFELLOWS

Rooms Newly Fitted Up, Compare Favourably with Anything in Canada.

Oddfellows in Peterborough form no inconsiderable portion of the community, and the fact that the quarters where so many citizens of the town spend one evening each week, have been to a certain extent remodelled and transformed, will be of interest to a great many persons. In the membership of the Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges, I.O.O.F., is included a large majority of the business men of Peterborough; men who are used to comfortable, the majority of them luxurious, homes, and it is but natural that they should be anxious that their lodge room, which to many Oddfellows, after the home, is the place most sought, should be comfortably furnished, and made inviting.

This desire on the part of the members of these two lodges, has found eloquent expression of which fact, a visit to the suite of rooms, which Peterborough Oddfellows look upon as "Home," will fully convince one.

It hardly seems necessary to mention here, the location of the rooms occupied by the members of this Order, they are well-known to so many, but it may not be known by all, that the third and fourth floors of the Oak Hall Block, at the corner of Hunter and George streets, the busiest corner in this busy town, from the Oriental Hotel on Hunter street, to Schneider's on George street are occupied by the Oddfellows' Lodges. This is an immense area, and it is doubtful if any other town or city in the Dominion of anything like a proportionate size to Peterborough, has produced a fraternal society with a record equalling this. This fact is a tribute to Oddfellowship in general, and Peterborough Oddfellows in particular, and the local members of the Order have just cause for feelings of pride in the progressiveness evidenced by the local lodges.

During the past four months, the rooms have been in the hands of painters and paper-hangers, and the result is that a member who has not visited his lodge room since this work of re-generation commenced, if there is such a person in town, would hardly recognize them as the same rooms. Every room on the third floor, which is used by the members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges, the Encampments, Adiantha and Mount Hebron, having their rooms in the fourth storey, has been re-papered, and in most cases, a new coat of paint has been applied.

The result of this is that the rooms have taken on a new appearance, and their quarters, which even before were attractive, have become doubly so now.

A brief description of the rooms, for the benefit of those who have not been fortunate enough to see them since the transformation, may be pardoned. Entering from George street door, a wide stairway leads up two flights to the third floor, from which a hall leads into the outer ante-room, from which the lavatory and woodroom extend. The inner ante-room, furnished a little more pretentiously than that first entered, is adjoining the latter. In this room comfortable chairs are provided for those occupying it, and from it entrance to the main hall is effected.

This room, of course, is the one upon which the greatest amount of work has been expended, and the members of the Order may well feel proud of their handsome rooms. The walls have been covered with a crimson and green paper, of pretty design, and richly blended colourings, while the ceiling is of a lighter colour to relieve the sombreness of the walls. At the end occupied by the Grand, new tapestry hangings of of scarlet and gold have been hung while at the Vice's end, the colours are blue and silver. The beauty and harmony of the decoration scheme is still further enhanced by the rich Brussels carpet, also of red and green, to match the other fittings. This beautiful floor covering climaxes the plan of adornment, which in its execution, gives evidence of having been planned by a true artist. A canvas covering for the carpet is provided, to be used on the occasion of public gatherings, such as socials, etc.

This new hall is lit from three large brass electroliers, purchased through Messrs. Alexander & Miller. These electroliers alone cost about $200, and are the handsomest of their kind in Peterborough. The three links, the well-known emblem of the Order, hang from the centre of each, fitting in well with the room and its appointments.

On occasions when public gatherings are held in the hall, which is quite frequently, a wide entrance from the main landing admits one to the hall, and to the right of this entrance, facing on George street, just south of the main hall, two large rooms, connected with an arch, are situated. These are used for storage purposes at the present time, but the intention is to fit them up for club rooms, to be used by members of the Order, not necessarily members of the local Lodges. When these rooms are furnished, they will provide a very pleasant place in which to spend an evening, and will add very materially to the advantages contingent upon membership in the Order. Members of the I.O.O.F. now find considerable pleasure in meeting with each other in this lodge room, and this pleasure may be enjoyed every night in the week, with the equipment of these rooms for club purposes.

Oddfellows lay great stress upon the social side of life, and properly so, and in these rooms provision is made for the cultivation of this element. Leading from the main room, a hall connects with a large dining room, off which is a well appointed kitchen, such as many careful housewives might well be satisfied with, equipped with full sets of dishes, and all the utensils incidental to this department of the home. The dining hall is frequently utilized for dancing, when Oddfellows entertain their lady friends. Every one of these rooms of which mention has been made, has received new paper on the walls and ceiling, and in many cases new paint has been applied to the wood work.

The door leading to the paraphernalia room was pointed out to the Examiner, when the rooms were visited this morning, but, needless to say, the door was locked, and all the newspaperman's persuasive powers to learn some of the secrets hid behind that mysterious door, were unavailing, the only information volunteered being that the "Goat" was quartered there.

The improvement made to the rooms, of which the above is but a brief and wholly inadequate description, have been made jointly under the direction of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges, both of which occupy the rooms and the members are to be congratulated upon the good taste displayed by them, and it is quite within reason to believe that with the newly fitted up rooms the members will be at a still greater rate.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT SOUTH CENTRAL

Kindergarten Classes Gave a Delightful Programme

Yesterday Afternoon to a Large Audience—The Little Ones Did Remarkably Well.

The closing exercises in connection with the South Central Kindergarten were held yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of the parents and friends of the children taking part and the exercises were thoroughly enjoyable. The performance of the little tots whether in song or in their work and games was very creditable and gave great pleasure to those present. The school room was most elaborately and tastefully decorated with plants, leaves, and flowers of all descriptions. The predominating colours were green and white, the effect produced being most pleasing. Garlands of leaves, decked with daisies were strung from wall to wall, while the fancy work done by the scholars during the term was on exhibition on the walls and was generally admired.

The programme was one of much interest. After the opening prayer, Mr. D. Walker, Public School Inspector, addressed a few words of welcome to those present on behalf of the teachers. The following programme was then carried out:—

Chorus, "Wake, says the Sunshine."
Chorus, ... "Finger Song"
Chorus ..... "Easter Songs"
Chorus ..... "April Song"
Chorus ..... "May Song"
Chorus ..... "June Song"
Chorus ..... "The Blacksmith"
Chorus ..... "Dandelion"
Chorus ..... "Dandelion"
Chorus ..... "Star Song"
Chorus ..... "Moon Song"
Chorus ..... "Sandman"
Chorus ..... "Basket Song"
Gifts and Occupations ..... "Sailor Boy"
March .....
Games .....
Song ..... "Keitha Kidd"
Recitation ..... "Jean Anderson"
May Pole .....
Dolly Song, May Atkinson and Alberta Rehill.
Chorus ..... "Good Bye"
GOD SAVE THE KING

The singing of the children was very hearty, while the games were indulged in with true mirth and enjoyment and seemed equally enjoyable to the participants and the onlookers. The solo, "Won't you come to My Tea Party" by little Keitha Kidd was especially well sung, the singer possessing a remarkably sweet voice. The recitation by Jean Anderson was also very entertaining as was the duet "Dolly Song" by May Atkinson and Alberta Rehill. The May Pole in which twelve of the little ones took part was very well done, being one of the prettiest numbers on the programme. The names of those taking part are, Gladys Cox, Emma Cox, Jean Anderson, Daisy Stocker, Bessie Mather, Rene Johnson, Allen Lord, Jack Gibson, Joe White, Leany Hall, Alex. Thompson, Walter Hatcher.

Each of the children was provided with a basket of flowers, which was presented to the visitors during the course of the programme. A sample of the different kinds of work taught in the school was also shown. There was three classes of twenty in each. The children gave evidence of having been carefully instructed, showing a strong attachment to the teachers.

Much credit is due Miss Davidson and her assistants, Misses Harding and Rush for the splendid showing of the children yesterday. Miss Rush presided at the piano for the musical numbers.

MISSION BAND'S CLOSING MEETING

St. John's Mission Band Had Very Successful Gathering.

St. John's Mission Band held their closing meeting of the year yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members and the gathering was in every way an enjoyable and very successful one. Rev. J. C. Davidson addressed the young people briefly and asked several questions along missionary topics which were readily answered. He also spoke in appreciation of the part taken by the members in the devotional exercises. He referred to the persevering and painstaking work of the officers during the past year, the work having been carried on with most gratifying results.

At the conclusion of the meeting ice cream and strawberries were served by the generosity of the leader, Miss Dolly Comstock, and her assistants.

PETERBORO ASSOCIATION OF BAPTIST CHURCHES

The Salient Features of the Great Annual Gathering

Interesting Summary Prepared by one who Was There

The 102nd annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of Baptist Churches opened on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, 21st inst., and closed on the evening of Thursday the 23rd. The delegates were welcomed to Belleville, the place of meeting, by very sincere and pleasant words from Pastor Elliott and Mayor Chown, who was introduced by Pastor Elliott as a positive Christian, interested and aggressive in good works. Another interesting feature in connection with the Sunday School Session of these meetings was the visit and words of Mr. Johnson, Superintendent of the Bridge Street Methodist Sunday School. Mr. Johnston has just returned from the World's Sunday School Convention in the Holy Land, and spoke with very warm enthusiasm of his visit there and particularly of his fellowship with Dr. Bates, General Superintendent of Baptist Sunday Schools in Toronto, and that for these and other reasons he felt particularly at home in this Baptist gathering.

The attendance of delegates at these meetings and the deep interest in the services make it evident that that these annual gatherings have lost none of their power and influence for good. God is still with us, and, indeed, it seems to be a time of revival of the thorough going interest which is open-eyed and aggressive.

REPORTS PRESENTED.

The reports in the main from all departments of the work in which the churches are concerned were indicative of blessing and characterized by a spirit of hopefulness. The numerical increase was encouraging and the financial increase of the year over last was gratifying. Yet there is much room for improvement. The spirit of unity and love which pervaded the meetings was marked.

Rev. J. E. Trotter ably filled the chair of Moderator, and the Moderator's address on Wednesday morning as an important feature of the meeting was worthy of the occasion. His theme was "Christian Manliness." The greatest need of the day, he said, was honest men, truth-loving men, unselfish men, men "whom the lust of office cannot buy." These must be men of conviction, of courage and of consecration. This was a strong and timely deliverance and something which God among other things is seeking to say to our generation.

Another important feature of these gatherings is the annual sermon. The preacher this year was Rev. N. A. Whitman, of Brighton. His text wa in Acts II; and his theme, "Elements of Strength in the Apostolic Church." Quite impressively and lucidly did the preacher unfold these as,—regenerate church membership, purity of doctrine, unity of spirit, liberality, spirituality consisting in an abiding sense of the Holy Spirit's presence and power.

HOME MISSIONS.

Rev. J. B. Kennody, of Toronto, gave a stirring and captivating address on "Home Missions." It was a rapid and outline review of the history of our Home Mission work, particularly in Ontario and Quebec—a review stimulating, encouraging and instructive.

Rev. H. Priest, a returned missionary from Telugu, India, gave the addresses on Foreign Missions, both at the meeting of the Ladies' Mission Circles and the General Session. Bro. Priest knows whereof he speaks, and gave strong addresses. The address to the M. C.'s, was on the fourfold phase of missions in India, and by an appeal to facts and figures he urged the need of the Industrial, Medical, Educational and Evangelistic Phases of Missions. The Canadian Baptists have all these, though only $250 is spent annually on the industrial school at Cocanada.

Manitoba and Northwest Missions were represented by Rev. J. Grant, Cobourg. Bro. Green has special reasons for being interested in Manitoba beyond the fact that he has visited its broad prairies. There is there the grave of his brother, whose trumpet voice in Manitoba and for Manitoba shall not be forgotten by this generation.

Grand Ligne Mission was represented by Rev. L. A. Therrien of Montreal. Mr. Therrien spoke as a Christian worker for the Kingdom of Christ, but he added that the Gospel must contribute to the political solution of Canada. Mr. Therrien claimed that there was need for evangelism in Quebec and that no fear of the aftermath of persecution attending converts should hinder us from disseminating the pure Gospel light amid the spiritual ignorance, natural to the human heart here as there, and superstition, that the Roman system does not dispel.

EDUCATIONAL INTERESTS.

Dr. Cross, of McMaster University, spoke on behalf of our educational institutions, showing the influential relation of Christianity, to education in general, and to education in the truer higher sense in particular.

It was inevitable that church union should receive some passing attention. It was for the most part, however, only passing attention—not that the Baptists think lightly of it, nor unkindly of their brethren. They love them, but in so far as Baptists themselves are concerned, there are principles involved in their practices, particularly in regard to baptism, which must deter them from yielding their claim to a separate existence, until their brethren recognize not only those principles which they already do to a marked extent, but also the true symbolic mould in which they are cast. In this connection Rev. J. Bastow spoke on "Loyalty to our Distinctive Principles."

Sunday school and Young People's Work, received some earnest consideration.

The Association gave expression to its feeling of loss in the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Bastow, who have proved themselves such influential and efficient workers and helpers.

Miss A. Walton was re-elected directress of the Mission Circles for the ensuing year, while Mrs. Dr. Scott is president, and Mrs. H. Shaw of Colborne is vice-president.

The officers of the Association are Rev. L. McKinnon, Moderator, and Rev. O. C. Elliott, clerk.

THE OFFICAL OPENING OF THE LIFT LOCK

The official opening of the largest lift lock in existence, on July 9th, should be made the occasion of booming the Trent Valley Canal as it never was boomed beofre and incidentally of giving Peterborough a big advertisdment. The lift lock should be used to give Peterborough a lift in the eyes of the world, and it is to be hoped the authorities will continue in an energetic and intelligent way the campaign so well begun yesterday. It is probable that Parliament will be sitting at the date mentioned, and it is also probable that there will be a large representation of the members present. Not only should an effort be made to allow Peterborough at its best to these representative men, but the merits of the Canal can be more deeply impressed upon them by the presence of a multitude of people from the district along the route of the canal, which presence will serve to awe members who depend upon votes into taking a larger and more liberal view of this great national undertaking. The visit of these parliamentary representatives following upon the visit of the Transportation Commission last March, will do much to clinch their attention and arouse their interest. There are many who, through ignorance of the canal and of its important bearing upon the great problem of transportation, are opposed to its completion. It may require some effort to convince them of the error of their ways, and no opportunity should be missed and especially the great opportunity that presents itself in connection with the official opening of the lift lock. How this will best be accomplished will suggest itself to the Town and County Councils and Board of Trade, through earnest discussion and consideration. The necessity for prompt action is imperative, for there are many details that should not be neglected if the fullest and most profitable use of the occasion in the interests of the canal is made.

And, incidentally, the town of Peterborough should reap a rich harvest in the way of making known its commercial importance and advantages, not to speak of the more material advantage of the presence of thousands of persons from the outside. Prompt and energetic action should be inaugurated by our leading business men, who should organize to co-operate with the Council and Board of Trade, and assist them, for there will be need of every interest uniting to give Peterborough the advantages which should be derived from the occasion. In the first place, arrangements should be made to attract visitors, by advertising the Lift Lock, and the great sight it is, as the only one on this continent, and the largest in existence. Posters should be issued in large numbers, and widely distributed in the towns to the east, west, north and south of us; articles should be sent AT ONCE to the papers in the several towns, and arrangements made with the railways to secure excursion rates to cover a day or two, the rates to be good from a radius of at least one hundred miles. These means, or something like them, should be adopted. If the requisite energy is employed, there is no reason why the town should not be filled with thousands of visitors on the occasion of the opening of the Lift Lock on July 9th. Time is the essence of the matter, however, and whatever is done must be done AT ONCE. Let us all "Get a move on."

Since the foregoing was in type, a call from Mayor Roger informs us that energetic action has been taken. As will be seen by reference to another column a good programme is being prepared and a letter has been received from the traffic manager of the Grand Trunk Railway announcing single fare rates on that line within practically a radius of one hundred miles. It is now "up to" the Board of Trade to do their share. Literature should at once be prepared and articles glowing as they can be made consistently with the facts and that is easily done, should be sent to every newspaper in the region mentioned. Also send out descriptive posters by the thousand to give the people an idea—waken their interest and secure their presence. The local Board of Trade has communicated already with other Boards of Trade in reference to the matter, but that is not enough. Our own Board of Trade should flood the surrounding towns and cities with the right style of literature and do it at once. We have an interest and can push the interests of the occasion as no Board of Trade or other towns can be expected to do. "Sharp" is the pass word and countersign, and we expect our Board of Trade, helped by business men, to set the pace. The Council has enough to do in arranging for the entertainment of the official visitors in the interests of the canal. Let the Board of Trade and citizens take up the popular end, inaugurate and start the arrangements for getting the people here in the interests of the town. Let there be a big and quick rally of all concerned. Hotels and others who are to provide accommodations and refreshments should know the probabilities in time to prepare for a visit of ten thousand visitors, and let private citizens prepare for a big influx of their friends from a distance. Start the ball rolling to-night and keep it rolling.

ALL ABOUT CIRCUS SEATS.

Everybody, Says Manager Sells, is Entitled to a Good One.

"I notice," said a Philadelphia reporter to Mr. Peter Sells, manager of the famous circus, hippodrome and wild beast combination, coming to Peterborough on Saturday, July 2nd, "that your reserved seats are much fewer and occupy far less space than ordinary."

"That is true," assented Mr. Sells, "and shows that you make good use of your eyes, as we wish all comers to do."

"Why so in that particular regard?" asked the scribe.

"Because," was the emphatic reply, "we want them to see and know that we don't propose to be parties to the unfortunately not infrequently employed scheme resorted to for swindling and disappointing the great majority of our patrons. Everybody—old or young, rich or poor, posted or unsophisated — that pays the advertised price to see any kind of entertainment, is entitled to protection from imposition on the part of its management, and any despicable dodging of that rule involves both fraud and disappointment. Unfortunately there are shows which covertly and indirectly violate it, and indirectly swindle their patrons wholesale, by adopting a reserve seat system that virtually deprives the purchaser of a general admission ticket of more than the distant ghost of a chance to see and enjoy the performance. You can see for yourself that our reserved seats occupy less than three tenths of our seating capacity and are confined to one broad side of our canvas only, every seat in the immense space on the other side being unreserved, for and open to every holder of a ticket, without one penny's extra charge. So enormous is the seating capacity of our huge hippodrome tent, that it is very seldom necessary to utilize the end seats. With us the occupancy of a reserved seat is purely a matter of personal preference — not of gouging craft and calculation, practised upon a generous and confiding public."

MOUNT PLEASANT.

The discourse given by Rev. Mr. Butler of Cartwright, last Sunday, in the Methodist church, from the words, "Give ye them to eat," was highly edifying and calculated to impress on those who heard the sermon the necessity of doing their duty, although placed in a position that might seem to them as almost an impossibility. How often our imagination leads us to believe that there is a lion in the way of duty!

The sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Whitelaw was on a subject that has caused a considerable amount of discussion. When the union of the different Protestant bodies takes place we hope that the basis of union will be as found in the 8th chapter of Micah, verse 8th, "And what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God,"—no necessity for doctrines or creeds if this verse is adopted as a basis of union. We were very glad to see Rev. Mr. Whitlaw in the pulpit again.

Mrs. Eaton and daughter of Port Hope are enjoying the health giving air to be found in this village and vicinity. They are comfortably located with Dr. Dean and his wife.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a gummy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and no time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow unusually long, strong and beautiful. One 50 cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. DRESS AND FASHION.

MATERIAL, CUT AND GARNITURE OF SUMMER GOWNS.

A Fete Dress In Pale Rose Pink China Silk—A Dainty White Silk Bodice—Soft Old World Colors—Taffeta In Gowns and Coats.

A dress confection calculated to give rise to that sensation of self respect which even the great virtues sometimes fail to secure is the fascinating little fete gown of the first cut. It is built up in a pale rose pink china silk allied to a lovely white valenciennes piece lace, finished with hems of the silk. The many narrow frills at the hem of the skirt, together with the deep cape epaulets of lace, stamp it as a thing of the latest mode.

Another dainty garment of the season is a white china silk waist, finely tucked, the sleeves and pelerine inset with a narrow valenciennes insertion.

In summer materials fashion smiles on the tiny checked silks. Beautiful old fashioned colors—lavender, rose, cornflower blue and brown—are all daintily checked off with white. Soft flowered silks of an old time aspect are other favorites. We are still to revel in taffeta, which for the fashioning of the full skirts and pointed bodices of the day has no real rival. Instead of closely fitting the form skirts now spring right away from the waist line, though cordings and gaugings, designed to minimize any effect of bunchiness, are conceded for the use of some figures. Both the box plaited and the plisse skirts remain in vogue. In trimmings, however, the all round variety is the only thing and includes gathered frills, box plaited flounces, ribbon ruching, broad, graduated lingerie tucks and flounces quite up to the waist.

The pouch of the bodice continues to draw toward the vanishing point. The front of the bodice is still straight, but the sides and back more distinctly define the figure in attractive curves. The lower part of the bodice, as a rule, draws compactly in to the waist, and in evening dress the Louis XIV. pointed stomacher is in prospect.

The shirt waist still holds its own, and with it are worn the most delightful of soft kid and suede crush belts in the attractive art shades.

Pale dove colored or silver gray taffeta makes charming little coats, especially if trimmed with lace colored to match.

And for half mourning—for dull, chilly weather—for an afternoon gown

for a woman no longer young, the little taffeta coat in black, worn with a skirt en suite, in cloth or in any of the fashionable fabrics, cannot be surpassed in convenience and attractiveness.

GIVES TWO REAL GOOD REASONS

For Believing Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure all Kidney Ailments

Cured his Backache of Twenty-five Years Standing and Satisfied Everyone he Recommended them to Economy Point, N.S., June 24.—(Special.)—Geo. S. McLaughlin of this place gives two splendid reasons for his belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one remedy for Kidney ailments. Here are the two reasons in his own words:—

"I was troubled with lame back for 25 years or more, sometimes so severe that I could not turn myself in bed. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me and I have had no return of the trouble since.

"I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a number of persons who had Kidney Trouble. All who used them have been benefitted or cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills not only relieve all Kidney Diseases, from Backache to Bright's Disease, but they absolutely cure them. But sometimes where one or two boxes relieves it takes more to make a complete cure.

In the Future.

We hope some day to make a pile
And live in style, but, oh, meanwhile
We're glad enough to get the cash
To buy plain hash.

Matter of Experience.

"I don't like a sleeping car berth; it is so close and confined."

"Seems roomy to me. I was raised in a flat."

Head Work.

"Is her husband a college man?"

"Yes; he took a complete eight weeks' course in a barber college."

An Encouraging Message

I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the torture due to female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health, and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well-being. This change has been brought about wholly by the use of ORANGE LILY.

In addition, I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgements of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:

Truro, N. S., April 5, 1904.

Dear Mrs. Currah,—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it.

For several years I have suffered untold agony. This suffering was continuous, but I would have violent attacks every few weeks, each attack lasting several days. The first Sunday in November, I felt the pain increasing and so did not go to prayers. The rest of the family did go and soon after the forcing down pains seized me and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night, and was very sick for a whole week.

Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick to write myself. (My doctor could do nothing for me.) I have used 5 boxes of ORANGE LILY, have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going around and doing my own work. I can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could shout it to all the world. I cannot speak enough in its praise.

Your friend, MRS. E. H. P.

Receiving as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I felt impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It differs from the other so-called remedies in that it is not taken internally. It is a strictly local treatment, and is applied directly to the affected organs. Its curative elements are absorbed into the congested tissues, expelling the stagnant foreign matter which has been irritating the membrane and oppressing the nerves, and a growing feeling of physical and mental relief is noticeable almost from the start. It is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free trial Treatment you will be very materially benefitted.

FREE TRIAL OFFER.

I want every reader of this who suffers in any way from painful monthly periods, irregularities leucorrhœa, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pains in the back, etc., to send me their addresses, and I will forward at once, without charge, 10 days' treatment. If your case is not far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so earnest in making this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without a doctor's bill.

MRS. P. C. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT.

ORANGE LILY is recommended and sold in Peterborough by Mr W. H. Warne, Druggist, 345 George Street.

Are You in the Rush and Bustle?

While we join in the rush and bustle of this busy world, overtaxing our energies and racking our systems, many of us are morally culpable of reckless disregard of bodily strength and fitness. Then perhaps the health breaks down, and we seem doomed to long periods of pain and depression. Our whole life is darkened.

WHAT WOMEN SHOULD KNOW.

That the cause of a great deal of suffering, usually supposed to be on account of female disorders, is overcome by ANTI-PILL, the discovery of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt.

A great amount of womens' ailments are caused by the food that is taken being turned (through improper digestion) into poison instead of nutrition. This poison carried by the blood throughout the system, makes weak women—women who are hardly ever well—nerves in dreadful condition—limbs ache, back aches, head aches—billious, constipated. ANTI-PILL, the Great System Treatment, will correct these troubles—it starts its work by making a well stomach—it insures strength to weak women—It is harmless at any stage or condition of a woman's life, and there is no time ANTI-PILL cannot be used with safety. Any woman who cares to may use a bottle of ANTI-PILL free from any expense. If satisfactory results do not follow its use, mail us wrapper with name of druggist from whom purchased and get your money back by return mail. Wilson-Fyle Co., Niagara Falls, Ont. THE BEST IS ALWAYS THE CHEAPEST

A PIONEER'S EXPERIENCE.

Alex. McIntyre, of Egremont Township, Tells of His Early Life Cutting Out a Forest Home.

Alex. McIntyre of Egremont Township, came to Canada in 1851. Mr. McIntyre stayed a short time in Cheltenham, then he came to Egremont, took up the farm which he still owns, built a log shanty in the heart of the bush, moved in when there was only a canvas hung up for a door and the wolves would be howling around at night, like to tear it down, but he always kept the ax, "the sword of defence," near at hand.

There was then no neighbors, no roads; one did not know where the roads would be, as the land was not yet surveyed; the only way of traveling was by marking the trees with the ax, so that one could return the same way.

The nearest place where the newcomer could sharpen his ax was at a Mr. McDougall's, who lived where Mr. Dan Murphy lives now, three or four miles away, who had a grindstone.

The nearest place to get groceries was up the Owen Sound road; one Cochrane kept a little store there. It goes by that name yet. There is a small burying ground there.

Heard Wolves Barking.

The first winter he started off one day to get his ax sharpened, and also get some groceries. Striking across the bush, the crust on the snow would carry him. As he was about two miles from home, he heard a pack of wolves on his trail as he supposed. His first thought was that he would be killed, so he removed parts of his clothing and hung them up in a tree, his bonnet along with the rest. Perhaps somebody might come along and find them. Then he set his back against a tree, the ax in hand ready to fight to the last. To his great relief they took another route, being after a deer instead of a man. In going through the bush one could often see deer carcases where they had been killed by the wolves and partly eaten.

The next spring he bought two hundred of flour and fifteen bushels of potatoes from a person in Arthur Township. The next job was to get his purchase home, as the river was flooded and there was no bridge, only a tree chopped down across the water, which was very high in the spring, and the tree would be floating in the water. Still he had to face it. The farmer brought the stuff as far as Mr. Samuel Wallace's on the other side of the river, the farm now owned by Mr. Cantlon, about two miles away by the road; he had to take it, but there was nothing else for it, and to carry it all on his back. He had to make several trips across the river, expecting every trip would be the last, as the log was swinging so, but he got it all over. The next thing was to carry it all home, and he persevered until he got it all home, but he used himself up so that he had to take a rest on the broad of his back on the bed.

In the summer time he used to go down the country to work, leaving his wife and two little children in the bush. He worked in one place for eleven dollars a month, and now men have the cheek to ask thirty dollars a month.

In the winter time he used to cut down as much of the bush as the dull ax would allow him, until he had cleared a little patch, enough to sow a little wheat and plant some potatoes. It happened one bright moonlight night, when the grass was full grown, that he was aroused out of his sleep by hearing tramping about the house. Thinking it was a black steer that he had which had broken into the grain, he got up, partly dressed and went out. As he looked around he saw what he thought was the steer down amongst the grain. He picked up a stick, wanting to give him a good "whack" before he got out, there being only a slash fence in those days to protect the crop, and he hurried after him through the grain, the stick raised in the air ready to give him the full weight of it, but as they both got over the fence in quick succession the supposed steer stood up on his hind legs with his back against a tree, and his pursuer directly saw that it was Mr. Bruin he was chasing. So he called to his neighbor, he had one then, to come out with a gun, as he had a bear standing up against a tree, and there was a fine chance to put a ball through him. But the neighbor, thinking he was safest where he was said, "Well, Sandy if you knew Mr. Bruin as well as I do you would leave him alone." He also made the excuse that he could not find the powder or balls for the gun. After trying both coaxing and scolding the neighbor till he was tired he had to give it up. He backed to the fence, keeping his oye on the bear all the time. When he got near enough he threw himself over. Mr. Bruin at the same time letting himself down on all fours, disappeared in the bush.

His First Grist.

His first grist was the product of the first wheat he cut. He threshed some of it by spreading sheets and quilts on the ground, and by tying two sticks together he made a flail with which he knocked the grain off the straw, then he cleaned it by winnowing it in the wind, the way they used to do in olden times. When done he had three bushels. This he had to carry on his back all the way through the bush to Martin's Mills, which, as everybody knows, are between three and four miles away. The grist had to be got home again in the same way. When he had his first yoke of steers broken in his neighbor's wife took sick and he was asked to go for a doctor. So he hitched the steers into the jumper, a rig that was used instead of a sleigh, made with his own hands, not a nail in it or iron of any kind about it, and off he started away down to Arthur, just as anyone would do now with a horse and buggy. On the way he met an acquaintance. When he told his errand the other said: "Well, Sandy, if they knew in the old country that you were going after a doctor with a pair of stirks, they would have a good laugh."

Plodding Through the Bush.

Another time he and his neighbor's boy started off with the steers and the jumper, with two grists, one for each family. In going away they were all right, for it was daylight, but in coming home it was dark in the bush and they had a torch with them made out of cedar bark, but they had not proceeded very far when the torch went out and they were left in the dark. What was to be done but plod along the best way they could? Mr. McIntyre went on ahead feeling for the road, while the boy came behind with the steers and the load, with a rope tied to their horns to guide them. They traveled along that way for quite a while, but, when they went back to inspect, the jumper was empty, the bags had dropped off one by one till there were none left. That was another predicament. The only thing he could do was to find his way back and try and gather all the bags together again, so after charging the boy to keep the steers' heads straight ahead and not let them turn around, he started on his search for the lost. When he found them all he had to carry them one by one until he got them all on the jumper again, then make another start for home. When they got as far as Thomas Gardner's where Mr. Jerry Burk lives now, Mr. Gardner gave them another torch. They were all right then until they reached Mr. David Wright's hill, when the jumper went to pieces. Then he had to carry all the load back again to Mr. Gardner's and leave it till the neighbor came after it next day. It was daylight when they got home.

Another time he and the neighbor and his wife were coming home through the bush after dark with the steers and the jumper. The neighbor had a little pig that he was taking home, but the little fellow got out into the bush and the hunt began after the little porker. They left the woman on the jumper minding the steers, while they themselves took after the little rascal. Every time when they thought they had him he would slip away, and they would get a knock against a tree or tangled in the brush. In the meantime the woman was yelling that she was afraid of the wolves. Still they captured the runaway, declaring there was nothing like persevering to succeed in life.

Sheep Killed by Wolves.

When he had a few sheep one night the wolves killed some of them, and a night or two after, about dawn, the dog made an awful noise barking. His master got up, dressed, took the gun (he had one then) and went out to investigate. The dog went ahead till he came near the path (where the road is now, what they call Sandy's hill, and there down on the path was what he supposed was a wolf. He raised the gun and took aim. When a man stuck his head out from behind a tree, he let down the gun and went forward. Two men had been coming home with a jug of whiskey for a logging bee next day, so the supposed wolf was one of the men stooping over the jug, trying to take the cork out so as to get a little drapple to help them along on their long tramp away up to Proton. Mr. McIntyre put away the gun and never lifted it again, very thankful things turned out as they did.

In closing it might be said that to Mr. McIntyre is due a great deal of credit for making the road on the sixth concession, for when it was not passable for either man or beast, he used to make bees to make a way through the swamp. In those days they did not stand or sit till the whistle blew before starting, but they would begin as soon as possible after daylight and work till dark, sometimes not even coming home for their dinner, but taking it with them if there were no children to carry it to them.—Mount Forest Confederate.

Lord and Lady Dundonald.

Lady Dundonald and her children have arrived in London from Canada. Lady Dundonald was Miss Winifred Hesketh, only child and heiress of Mr. Robert Hesketh, of Gwyrch Castle, near Abergale, in North Wales, and her marriage with Lord Dundonald—then Lord Cochrane—took place in 1878. She is a tall, handsome, dark-haired woman, with a pleasant smile and a stately manner. Her time is spent between Gwyrch Castle—now her own property—and a fine residence in Portman Square. Lady Dundonald shows much interest in Welsh industries, and seldom fails to appear at their annual exhibition in London. The marriage of Lady Grizel Hamilton ended, for the moment her duties as a chaperon, but the lovely Lady Jean Cochrane is now seventeen, and will probably make her debut in 1905. Lord Dundonald's distinguished career as a soldier is known to all the world; but everyone may not be aware that, himself a clever inventor, he comes of a family of discoverers and scientists. The present peer has improved gun-carriages, thought out a means of storing water for troops on the march, and invented a useful article for [illegible] the hands called an instra. And his forbears have had the same tastes and talents. Archibald, the ninth Earl, made many chemical discoveries; and the tenth Earl, like his father, was a distinguished scientist, and invented improvements in engines, boilers, and screw-propellers. The Cochranes are one of the oldest Scotch families, and their gift for mechanics and invention is one rarely to be found among the ancient aristocracy of these islands.—M A.P.

Sickness steals more savings than the burglar. Slowly, coin by coin, the money that has been so hardly earned is paid out for drugs and doctors. Sickness is the worst enemy of the working man, and the common cause of the working man's sickness is disease of the stomach often involving the heart, lungs, liver, or kidneys.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will stop the stealing of the savings by sickness. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., when these diseases are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Wm. Connolly, of 325 Walnut Street, Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad I had to lay off quite often. You advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' Am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Pale, Anaemic Girls

Go Into a Decline—Usually Contract Consumption or Some Fatal Constitutional Disease If They Neglect to Restore Normal Vigor—The Blood Must be Enriched by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

MISS CAREY.

There is no trouble so frequent among young women as anaemia or thin, watery blood. During the physiological changes which take place an enormous amount of blood is consumed by the feminine system and many never seem to fully recover from the effects unless some blood builder is used.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is admirably suited to such cases owing to the fact that it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and so increases the richness of the blood very promptly. It is appreciated by young women because it improves the color, gives a healthful glow to the complexion, increases weight and rounds out the human form. This food cure is a system builder and nerve restorer of remarkable effectiveness.

Miss Lizzie B. Carey, 15 Foster Street, Chatham, Ont., states:—"I was all run down in health, my blood seemed thin and watery, and at times I scarcely had strength enough to get around. Since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my condition is altogether changed and my health very much improved. Though I was formerly quite pale, I find the color is returning to my face. I am strong and healthy, and in fact feel better than I have for years."

Mrs. R. Wareham, 267 Sherbrooke Street, Peterboro', Ont., states:—"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, and, in fact, was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles we attributed to overstudy and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her, as the color is returning to her face and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Because of its wonderful blood-forming qualities, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has established a remarkable reputation as a cure for the ills, weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to women. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his remedies.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced.

EIGHT DOCTORS

And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good.

"About five years ago I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would very nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything that I was told to use for fully three years, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none of them seemed to do me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I first began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings when I got up, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, and I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work mornings I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves in bed. In fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, the greatest of all great skin cures. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a small box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

No Reflection on Constable Adams Intended.

The secretary of the Children's Aid Society has asked the Examiner to state that a wrong impression has been created in the minds of some people by reason of a reference to the reward payable to a constable for the arrest and conviction of a horse thief made in our issue of the 18th inst., referring to the case of the Schwair boy. The constable who made the arrest, and is entitled to the reward, is Constable Adams, and the officers of the society wish it to be clearly understood that they make no reflection upon Constable Adams, who was justified in acting upon his warrant, and is entitled to the reward as a matter of law.

The Children's Aid Society has always received valuable assistance from the police, and must rely on their co-operation if the work is to be carried on successfully. They would, therefore, very much regret that any injustice should be done to any member of the force.

THE CLAN O'BRIEN BLOOMS INTO BASEBALL

A Strong Club Organized at T. A. S. Rooms Last Night—Officers Elected.

A notable event, in both nationality and sport, took place in the T.A.S. rooms last night, when a baseball club was organized, composed entirely of the Clan O'Brien. The O'Briens, as lineal descendants of Brian Boru, have a creditable record in Irish history, and there is no doubt that the Peterborough representatives of the clan will compile an equally glorious record in baseball. The baseball meeting last night developed as much enthusiasm as a Home Rule meeting, and the concrete result was the organization of a strong baseball club with the following officers elected:

Hon. President—Rev. Father John O'Brien.
President—Rev. Dr. O'Brien.
1st Vice-President—John O'Brien.
2nd Vice-President—Jas. J. O'Brien.
Manager—Wm. J. O'Brien, cigar merchant.
Secretary—Dick J. O'Brien.
Treasurer—Deacon J. O'Brien.
Captain—Shamus J. O'Brien.
Executive:
*D. J. O'Brien.
*W. J. O'Brien.
*B. J. O'Brien.
*Frank J. O'Brien.
*Jos. J. O'Brien.
*Harry J. O'Brien.

*The asterisk prefixed to a name indicates that its owner belongs to the Fifth Ward.

The team intends to get down to business immediately, and will soon be prepared to meet all comers. They have adopted green and white as their colours.

FOOTBALL.

The Examiner has been asked to publish the following:—

"A very interesting and exciting football match which was played on Simcoe street, between the "Young Queen's" and the "King's Own" and of course the King's Own won by a score of 3-1. The line-up of the Queen's Own was as follows:—Goal, Rusty Morfit; backs, A. Downie and Steve Holland; half backs, Cris Harbor, Rye Salter and Bolliver Holland; forwards, Eng Downie, Shinn Harbor, Dodds Holland, Fred Hall, S. Hall. The line-up of the King's Own was —Goal, B. Hailn; backs, J. Mcwailn, B. McNern; half backs, J. McNern, F. Causaday and B. Saxbory; forwards, F. Kearns, M. McEntee, B. Spensely, H. McNern and E. Kirn. The return match will be played Tuesday next on the corner of Downie and Smith and every lady is invited to attend."

The Sportsman containing the following account of a football match, played in Honan, China, in which the name of Mr. Fred. Lefevre, an old Lakefield boy, appears:—"The match played on December 6, in Taok'ou, Honan, China, was between some of the foreign staff engaged on the Pekin Syndicate Railways, and their Sikh police, and took place before a large crowd of Chinese. From the outset the Englishmen showed a better knowledge of the game, and quickly opened their score through Dr. Churchill (late of St. George's Hospital.) The Sikhs then played up strongly and nearly scored, but Gage cleared in fine style. Lefevre was next prominent in a tussle which upset a few of the Indians. Churchill was again prominent, and, getting past the Sikh back, put in the second goal. Amber next dribbled down the right wing, and centering to Churchill, the latter again scored with a good shot, so that half-time arrived with the Englishmen leading by three to love. During the interval the Sikhs discarded their European clothes and boots and continued the game in their own picturesque but somewhat scanty dress. Soon after the kick-off Lefevre and Gray worked the ball down, the former kicking a goal. The Sikhs now played up gamely, but Ambler on the right wing was constantly breaking through, and at length, after Gage had cleared dis agoal, Gray got down and scored. Shortly before the close Gray added another, the final score being six to love. After the match the Sikhs beat the Englishmen at a tug-of-war, but Lefevre put the shot further than the best put of the Indians."

BASKBALL.

Next Friday's game between Lindsay and Peterborough should be a great attraction for Dominion Day. The Scugog team has won every league game this season and the locals are very hopeful of breaking their winning streak.

* * * *

The Young Quakers would like to arrange a game with St. Paul's for Tuesday evening and with George Street for Wednesday evening, games to be played on P.A.A.A. grounds.

* * * *

To-day's Midland League games are Port Hope at Cobourg and Peterborough at Bowmanville.

* * * *

The Young Quakers will play in Port Hope and Cobourg on Dominion Day. They play in the former place in the morning and at Cobourg in the afternoon. The boys will leave on Thursday night and as there will be single fare rated, a number of supporters should accompany the boys and witness two good games. The Quakers will be represented by a very strong team.

* * * *

Young Quakers 8—St. Andrew's 1, was the result of the game played last evening on the latter's grounds. Both teams played great ball. Wait pitched fine ball and received good support from the Saints, while Quinlan was in his old time form and held the Saints down to three scattered hits and struck out three men. The feature of the game was a double play made by Conroy, who made a great one hand catch of a fly back of first and running to first put out a man who was running back to first. Teams were:—Quakers, Quinlan, p; Wilson, c; Conroy, 1st b; Heaslip, 2nd b; McMullen 3 b; Gilman, s. s.; Welker, l. f.; Morphet, c. f.; Swanston, r. f. St. Andrew's—Watt, p; McDonald, c; Elliott, 1 b; McNight, 2 b.; Glover, 3 b.; Foster, s. s.; Reid, l. f.; Miller, c. f.; Thornton, r. f.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE C. P. R. HOTEL

Mr. Jas. Allan, the New Proprietor. Overhauling the House.

The well-known C.P.R. Hotel on Simcoe street, formerly conducted by Mr. W. Overand, has been taken over by Mr. Jas. Allan, a live hotel man with ample experience, in the city of Ottawa, and other places. He has set to work at once redecorating and remodelling the house, and the improvements which he has inaugurated indicates his determination to have one of the most popular hotels in town. The front is getting a new coat of paint in good taste, and the interior of the house will be "treated" to new wall paper, paint and other decorations. Extensive improvements are to be made to the present large bar-room. The private rooms in front will be dispensed with, and a swell bar extending the whole width of the building, will be fitted up in tip-top style.

FRETTING CHILDREN.

When a child frets and cries almost continuously the root of the trouble in nine cases out of ten lies with the stomach or bowels. Fermentation and decomposition of the food means colic, bloating and diarrhoea — the latter is especially dangerous and often fatal during the hot weather months. Baby's Own Tablets are just what every mother needs to keep her little ones healthy. These Tablets gently regulate the bowels, cure constipation, prevent diarrhoea, cleanse and cool the stomach and promote sound, natural sleep. The Tablets can be given with safety to a new born babe. Mrs. J. Mick, Echo Bay, Ont., says:—"I think Baby's Own Tablets the best medicine in the world for the ailments of little ones. No mother should be without them." Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PAVEMENT AND STREET LEVELS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Much complaint has been made in regard to the comparative levels of the pavements and streets and in the majority of cases the complaint has been that the pavements are too low. This may be the case in some instances, But there are also many instances where the street is too high and requires a little adjusting to the walk. This is the case at several places on George street; one place being a little south of Peter Hamilton's agricultural works, another the block between Simcoe and Hunter, and also at other places.

The streets require some adjusting to the pavements and should be done at the time of laying, but never has been hence much of the fault-finding in regard to the levels of pavements.

Now that the street car rails are being laid, would it not be a very proper time to take into consideration the comparative levels of rails and pavements, so that whatever work may be done on the streets, will be at the proper level and a proper grade established for the future.

Yours truly,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

A $30,000 Fire at St. Kitts.

St. Catharines, June 25.—The large factories of the St. Catharines Box and Lumber Co. on Niagara street were completely destroyed by a fire last evening. The fire started mysteriously in the engine-room. The building burned with tremendous rapidity. The factory was surrounded by a lot of frame dwelling houses and the wonder is that they were saved. One of them which was occupied as an office by the company caught fire and was burned down. The loss will be over $30,000. It is partly covered by insurance.

ON ST. JOHN'S CHURCH GROUNDS on Monday, June 27th, from 4 to 10 o'clock, full Band of the 57th will render a special programme. Strawberries, Ice Cream, etc., served. Admission 10 cents. 1d

Tried to Pass Bad Cheque.

St. Thomas, June 25.—A respectably dressed woman, accompanied by a child in a baby carriage, called at the Dominion Bank yesterday afternoon and presented a cheque for $32, drawn in favor of Mary Fulton and signed by J. P. Martyn. Accountant Pease at once detected the document as a forgery, and told the woman of his opinion, whereupon she made a hasty exit from the building. Mr. Martyn was notified and says the cheque is a forgery. The woman is described as being dark and quite tall, and was dressed in dark clothes.

JAPANESE VICTORY IN NAVAL BATTLE

Jap Torpedo Boats Drove Port Arthur Fleet Into Harbor.

RUSSIANS LOSE A BATTLESHIP

Another Battleship and Cruiser Were Disabled—Rumors of a Russian Defeat—Japs Reported Victorious in a Land Battle —Jap Report of the Loss of the Battleship Suppressed in Russia.

London, June 27.—The Central News has received the following despatch from its Tokio correspondent, dated June 26: The account of the naval battle at Port Arthur has just been published here:

"The Russian battleships Peresviet, Poltava and Sevastopol, and the cruisers Bayan, Askold and Novik attempted to emerge from the harbor at dawn on June 23, led by steamers used for clearing the mines. At 11 a.m. the battleships Czarevitch, Retvizan and Pobieda joined the others.

"All the ships then advanced, endeavoring to dispose of mines laid by the Japanese, but they were hindered by two Japanese torpedo boat destroyers, which had been guarding the mouth of the harbor.

"At 8 p. m. the Japanese torpedo boats exchanged shots with seven Russian destroyers which were covering the clearing operations. One of the Russian destroyers was set on fire and retired inside the harbor.

"Subsequently the Japanese decoyed the Russians out to sea and awaited an opportunity to begin a general action, but between 8 and 9 p.m. the Russian ships made for the harbor. The Japanese torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boats chased the Russians, and at 9.30 delivered the first attack, in consequence of which the enemy was thrown into disorder.

"During the night eight separate attacks were delivered, lasting until dawn of Friday.

"In one of these assaults the Chirataka twice torpedoed a battleship of the Peresviet type and sunk her. A battleship of the Sevastopol type and a cruiser of Diana type were disabled and towed away.

"The Russian vessels re-entered the harbor during Friday night.

"The newspapers publish eulogistic articles upon Vice-Admiral Togo's prompt action."

Not Published in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Up to last night the Japanese report of the loss of a Russian ship at Port Arthur has not been published here, though the authorities have allowed to be printed a statement that the squadron had made a sortie and also the news of the loss of a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer.

An official explanation of suppression of Japanese report is that the Admiralty is unwilling to unnecessarily alarm the public by the circulation of such statements entirely on the authority of the enemy.

It is also suggested as possible that there has been a fight and that the Japanese have minimized their own losses and magnified those of the Russians with a view to affecting the new loan which it is understood Japan is negotiating.

On the other hand, according to a foreign naval attache, the Admiralty admitted to-day that Rear Admiral Withoft (the naval commander at Port Arthur) lost one battleship and two cruisers, but in the absence of details there was an inclination to believe that the ships struck mines.

Admiral Togo's Report.

Tokio, June 27.—Admiral Togo has sent a report on the naval engagement off Port Arthur last Thursday, when one Russian warship was sunk and two others were damaged in an attempt of the Russian fleet to escape from the harbor. The report follows:

"On receipt of a message sent by wireless telegraphy, from a picket ship off Port Arthur, at 11 a.m. of June 23, that the enemy's fleet had emerged from the port, I advanced to meet them with all my fleet except vessels on special mission.

"The enemy consisted of six battleships, five cruisers and 14 destroyers, which apparently attempted to move southward, but at nightfall they stayed outside of the port.

"That night a majority of our destroyers and torpedo boats attacked the enemy's fleet outside of the port and sank at least one battleship of Peresviet type and damaged seriously one battleship of Sevastopol type and one of Diana type, which were towed into the port the next morning.

"On our side the wardroom of the destroyer Shirakumo was damaged and three men were killed and one surgeon and two men were wounded. Torpedo boat Chidori received one shot in the aft engine room, but there were no casualties. Torpedo boats 64 and 66 were slightly damaged."

In Russian's Attack.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Under date of June 26 Viceroy Alexieff telegraphed to the Emperor as follows: "Our Port Arthur squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Withoft, consisting of six battleships, five cruisers and ten torpedo boats, put to sea at 8 o'clock on the morning of June 23.

"Our squadron attacked the enemy. Up to the present time I have received no news of the result of the fighting."

Russians Defeated on Sea and Land.

London, June 27.—Coupled with the report of the naval victory won by Admiral Togo off Port Arthur last Thursday comes the news of a most decisive battle on land on the same day, in which the Russians are now reported to have lost 16,000 men, killed, wounded and captured. The many reports of heavy fighting in the vicinity of Haicheng, it is believed, had their source in this engagement, which took place at Simenting, forty miles east of Haichow, the important town which the Japanese have entered without further serious fighting, according to Colonel Gaedke, the German correspondent in Liaoyang.

The defeat of Simenting is declared by Russian officers, who have reached Newchwang, to have been the worst the Czar's army has yet received in the Far East. That the Muscovite retreat was not a rout was due to the splendid work of the Ninth East Siberian Rifle Brigade, under General Kindratsvitch, who protected the rear of the shattered and demoralized Russian army.

The cablegrams received by the Japanese Legation from Tokio agree with the press reports except in one particular. They state "at least one battleship of the Peresviet type appeared to be sunk," which might indicate that Togo thought that more than one had been sent to the bottom.

Russians Lose 750.

Rome, June 27.—A despatch from Tokio to The Giornale d'Italia says that 750 men were drowned when the battleship Peresviet was torpedoed and sunk. The Japanese lost six killed. Four of the Japanese torpedo boats were damaged.

Reported Defeat.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—It is reported that a serious land fight has taken place near the Tatchekai, in which the Russians were defeated, but no confirmation of this report is obtainable.

Where Japs Lost 1,193.

Washington, June 27.—This cablegram was received at the Japanese Legation yesterday from Tokio: "Gen. Oku reports that our casualties at Telissu were 247 killed, including seven officers, and 946 wounded, including 43 officers."

Moving Forward.

Liaoyang, June 27.—Reports of fighting between the advance guard regiments are continually coming in. The battles are indecisive, but they show that the Japanese are moving forward regularly on each front.

Not to Join Kuroki.

Liaoyang, June 27.—The second Japanese army, under Gen. Oku, is withdrawing all along the line, having apparently abandoned the intention of effecting a juncture with Gen. Kuroki's army.

Tension Acute.

Liaoyang, June 27.—The armies of Generals Oku and Kuroki, aggregating at least six divisions, are confronted by the huge force under General Kuropatkin. The tension here is most acute at the approach of the important battle of the war, in which three times the number of troops engaged at Kiulienchang, Kinchau and Vafangow will take part. The proximity of the rainy season makes the battle unavoidable.

VICTORIA IN DANGER.

Dense Smoke Interferes With Work of the Firemen.

Victoria, B. C., June 27.—Fire broke out in the basement of the DIyard Hotel yesterday. Dense masses of smoke were interfering with the work of the firemen. The electric lights went out and all the guests have moved. The hotel is a six-storey building in the heart of the town.

Money in a Fire.

Kingston, June 27.—The house of Albert Hughes, Kitley township, was struck by lightning and the inmates had barely time to escape with little or none of their clothing. Besides all the furniture, Hughes had a considerable sum of money in a drawer in his room which he had not time to get.

Wind Caused Fire Near Maitland.

Brockville, June 27.—On Saturday in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. George McLean, who live near Maitland, in Brockville, attending market, their house caught fire from a defective chimney. High wind carried the sparks to the barns and outbuildings of Harold Jones, several rods away, and these, with their contents, went up in smoke. By strenuous efforts the house of Mr. Jones also the barns and residences of E. Keeler and Thomas Burns, were saved. They ignited several times.

PREMIER CRITICIZED.

London Morning Post's View of Canada's Military Situation.

London, June 27.—The Morning Post, referring to Lord Dundonald's retirement, says the Canadian Government has not yet grasped the fact that as long as Canada's defensive force is a plaything for professional politicians its duty to the Canadian people and to the Empire remains unfulfilled. Canada's invariable reply to any suggestion that she should contribute to the increasing cost of Imperial defence is that she is prepared to defend her own frontiers without the aid of the Motherland. Lord Dundonald's evidence shows this is incorrect. Throughout the Empire it is believed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's anti-militarism prevents Canada from ceasing to be a source of military weakness to the Empire.

Death of Ex-Mayor Kennedy.

Toronto, June 27.—Warring Kennedy, one of Toronto's best known citizens and ex-mayor, passed quietly away early Saturday morning at the home of his sister at 91 Spencer avenue. The funeral will be held on Monday at 2.30 to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and will be attended by the City Council. Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Dr. German, Rev Jos. Odery and Rev. R. J. Treleaven will be the officiating ministers, while Harmon Masonic Lodge will have charge of the funeral. The late Mr. Kennedy was prominent in Methodist life in the city.

MEETING OF UNCLE AND NEPHEW.

King Edward of England and Kaiser William Meet.

A NOTABLE BANQUET AT KIEL

The Emperor's Reference to the King's Efforts to Maintain Peace—His Majesty's Reply Hoped For the Certainty That His Royal Nephew Had the Same Object in View.

Kiel, June 27.—Saturday night there was a dinner at 8 o'clock on the Hohenzollern, which was attended by King Edward and the members of the royal family, many high officials of State and military and naval officers.

Emperor William, in proposing a toast to King Edward, said:

"It is a great satisfaction to me to welcome your royal and Imperial Majesty for the first time on board a German warship. Choosing your way by sea, Your Majesty comes to German shores as the ruler of a great Empire compassing the world through the sea and most kindly willing to participate in German yachting.

Kaiser's Guns For Peace.

"Your Majesty was greeted by the thunder of the guns of the German fleet, which is glad to see its honorary admiral. It is the youngest creation among fleets in the world, and an expression of the reviving sea activity of the German Empire, regenerated by the great Emperor of undying memory. It is intended for the protection of trade and territory, and it also serves, like the German army, for the maintenance of peace, which the German Empire has kept over thirty years, and which Europe has preserved with it. It is known to every one by Your Majesty's words and influence that Your Majesty's whole endeavors are directed to this very end—the preservation of peace—as I, too, am ever devoted to the wish that all may attain this end. May God lend success to our efforts.

"In unfading remembrance of the memorable hours spent together at Osborne at the deathbed of the great monarch of the world Empire now ruled by Your Majesty, I empty my glass to the health of Your Majesty; I drink the health of His Majesty the King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India."

King Edward's Reply.

King Edward replied as follows:

"In offering Your Imperial and Royal Majesty the sincerest thanks for the exceedingly kind words in which Your Majesty has drunk my health, I esteem myself happy to have the opportunity already to express the deepest gratitude for the brilliant reception Your Majesty has prepared for me, and I am especially glad that it has been possible for me to visit Your Majesty at a time of the year when I usually am most occupied by engagements at home. But the part which I have for many years taken in yachting exercised too great an attraction for me not to take the opportunity of convincing myself of Your Majesty's success in gaining over so many devotees in Germany to this sport. With this was coupled the wish, if possible, to knit more closely by renewed personal intercourse the intimate relations of kinship which have so long connected our houses.

The World's Peacemaker.

"Your Majesty's appreciative reference to my unremitting endeavors for the maintenance of peace deeply touch me, and I am happy in the certainty that Your Majesty has the same object in view. May our two flags float side by side to the remotest ages, even as to-day, for the maintenance of peace and the welfare not only of our own countries, but also of all other nations.

"I am proud to belong to Your Majesty's fleet as honorary admiral, even as my fleet esteems it a high honor that Your Majesty wears the British naval uniform given Your Majesty by my never-to-be-forgotten mother, whose memory is equally sacred to us both.

"I raise my glass to the health of Your Majesty. Long live His Majesty, the German Emperor and King of Prussia, and Her Majesty the Empress Queen! Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!"

A salute from the warships accompanied the Emperor's toast. When the King left the Hohenzollern shortly after 10 o'clock a signal rocket was fired, and all the warships burst into a blaze of light. Many small craft were illuminated, and some displaying "God Save the King" in electric lights traversed the harbor, where launches from the warships performed a series of evolutions.

Crowds on shore watched the brilliant spectacle despite the drizzling rain which was falling.

Helen Keller Breaks Down.

Boston, June 27.—Miss Helen Keller, the gifted deaf, dumb and blind student at Radcliffe College, has broken down and is reported to be on the verge of nervous prostration. She began to fail two months ago and was ordered by her physician to abstain from college work. It is believed she will get a degree with the class of 1904 in spite of her inability to fill all the requirements.

MORE LOYAL TO PARTY

The Belleville Intelligencer, a Conservative yellow journal — is its treatment of political questions — has the following. It says:—

"The dirty slurs of Hon. Geo. Borden against Lord Dundonald, is not helping the Government case any."

To show how free itself is from using dirty slurs, it follows the above paragraph with the subjoined:—

"This Dundonald affair is showing what a petty, mean, pin-headed fellow the Minister of Militia is. An acorn would easily make a helmet for him."

And this, too:

"That eminent foreigner, this King, made a fatal error when he neglected to hand out a peerage to his Chicken-Fattening Minister, the Hon. Syd. Fisher, the Alexieff of Alva Farm."

These typical paragraphs show that it is not the interests of the militia the Conservative yellow journals care for, their chief look out is to make party capital out of the question. Lord Dundonald is a great soldier, and dashing commander. Largely for the reason that he possessed qualifications that seemed to fit him for the work of assisting to reorganize the Canadian militia, the Government employed him and paid him a salary, like any other employee. Lord Dundonald was employed to give advice, but he took upon himself to issue commands to his employers, and because his extravagant recommendations, involving an expenditure of millions, were not adopted, he committed a double offence — he was disrespectful and arrogant towards his employers, the people of Canada, represented by the Ministers and the Crown, and he was insubordinate as a soldier. He set an example of insubordination to the whole militia, and by that very act did more moral harm than his impracticable recommendations, if they had been adopted, would have done good. He committed the same offence as General Buller, the cardinal crime of a soldier—he talked—and General Buller, great a soldier as he was, one of the greatest generals of British history, was cashiered—dismissed the service—after years of faithful and distinguished service, because of the wagging of an unbridled tongue. And the Conservative party journals are aiding and abetting Lord Dundonald, and overtly attempting to induce militia officers to do the same. The action of the Toronto News in sending reporters to the Niagara camp to induce militia officers to commit the unsoldierly crime of talking, was the yellowest streak yet developed in Canadian journalism. The Conservative yellow journals are more loyal to party, than to Canada, or the militia.

THE WINNIPEG'S BOAT.

Spark From Engine Set Fire to Its Covering.

London, June 27.—(C. A. P.)—While on the way to Euston by the London and Northwestern Railway the cover of the Winnipeg boat caught fire from an engine spark. As soon as it was noticed the train stopped as quickly as possible and water was played upon it, but considerable damage was done. Clasper, the well known boat builder of Putney, saw the boat yesterday, and thinks it very unlikely the crew will be able to use the boat at Henley. The Thames Rowing Club placed a boat at Winnipeg's disposal, in order to enable them to work on the river immediately.

Highgate Lady Struck by a Pere Marquette Train.

THREE DROWNED IN TORONTO

Walter Taylor and Wilfrid Smith Two of the Victims—Ralph Hurlon, the Supposed Name of the Third, Met His Death in the Don, the Others in the Bay—Bodies Recovered.

Highgate, June 27.—Saturday Mrs. I. Foster accompanied a lady, calling on a friend over the Pere Marquette tracks which pass directly in front of her door, a mile east of this village, stood chattering a few minutes, then bidding her friend, Mrs. Wm. Reycraft, goodby, turned to recross the tracks for home. Not noticing the train approaching she was struck by it and hurled 60 feet away and killed instantly. Mrs. Foster resided with her son, Hector, a prosperous farmer.

Small Boy Killed By Trolley Car.

Hamilton, June 27.—The coroner's jury met at Green Bros', morgue Saturday night and viewed the remains of Wilson Roy, the four-year-old son of Wilson Roy, Kinrade avenue, who was fatally injured by a street car Saturday afternoon, and adjourned till Tuesday evening. The little fellow was running across Barton street when he was struck. One leg was cut off near the hip and the other was broken. He died two hours afterwards in St. John's Hospital.

DROWNED IN TORONTO.

Bay Finds Two Victims and the Don River One.

Toronto, June 27.—Two chums were drowned near the Queen's Wharf Saturday night. They were Walter Taylor, 55 Wellington avenue, aged 9, and Wilfrid Selwyn Smith, 15 years, 56 Wellington avenue.

The lads were playing on a raft of logs, and slipped into the water and got in under the logs. Other boys who were playing with them gave the alarm; Alexander Baucham, caretaker of the National Yacht Club, recovered both bodies with a pike pole, but not until life was extinct.

The Taylor boy was recovered first. Everything was done to revive him, but he had been in the water too long. The other body was recovered an hour later. Another lad who fell in at the same time was rescued.

Drowned in the Don.

A young man who is supposed to be Ralph Hurlon, aged about 22, was drowned in the Don a half a mile north of the Winchester street bridge, yesterday afternoon. Up to an early hour this morning, the body had not been claimed, nor properly identified. Hurlon is supposed to be the name, from an envelope found in his pocket. The letter was signed "your loving mother," and giving as her address "Mrs. C. Hurlon, 21 Custer street, Boardmanville Olean, N. Y." The letter was not dated, but the postmark was dated Oct. 13, 1902. The letter was addressed to 227 Yonge street, in care of Mr. Seaton. Herbert Seaton is a butcher at that address. When seen last night, he said he did not know anyone by the name of Hurlon. He did not visit the morgue to view the body. Several Syrians who live at that address looked at the body but failed to recognize it.

Dived and Never Came Up.

About 5 o'clock a number who were swimming near the spot where the fatality occurred saw the young man approach by himself and undress. He was seen to dive. No one saw him reappear. A search was made by George Price, 612 Parliament street; William Corking, Salisbury avenue, and Harry Jones, 269 Victoria street. After searching over half an hour they recovered the body. Every effort at resuscitation was made without avail. In deceased's pockets were $21.20, a gold watch, silk handkerchief with an "R" embroided on the corner, a red tobacco pouch, pen knife and a bunch of keys. He wore a dark suit, with a thin white stripe. He was of rather dark complexion, with dark eyes.

1,031 SLOCUM VICTIMS.

Oil Barrels Where Fire Started—Minister Dies From Shock.

New York, June 27.—According to an exhaustive report made by Police Inspector Schmittberger on the number of dead, missing, injured and uninjured in the Slocum disaster, it appears that 938 bodies have been recovered and that 73 persons, absolutely known to have been aboard the vessel, are still unaccounted for, bringing the total mortality of the disaster up to 1,031. Those injured numbered 179 and of the throng fully 1,500 who embarked on the excursion steamer, but 236 escaped without injury.

A thorough examination yesterday of the hull resulted in the discovery in the locker in which the fire started of a number of barrels which had contained kerosene and lubricating oil.

In the death yesterday at Watchung, N. J., of Rev. Dr. Edward Frederick Moldenke, one of the best known Lutheran clergymen in this country, another name was added to the list of victims.

Dr. Moldenke was pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church in this city. Grief for twenty members of his own flock who had met death and his compassion for the bereft families of St. Mark's Church so affected him that he became ill.

He was born in Prussia, Aug. 10, 1836.

ELECTED ON 11TH BALLOT.

Canon Cody of Toronto, However, Declines the Proffered Honor.

Halifax, June 27.—On the eleventh ballot in the voting here to fill the vacancy for the bishopric of Nova Scotia on Saturday, Right Rev. Canon Cody of Toronto, was unanimously selected. The result followed a deadlock on the tenth ballot between Canon Cody of Toronto, and Provost Macklem of Trinity College. The name of Provost Macklem was then withdrawn.

Toronto, June 27.—Yesterday morning in St. Paul's Church Canon Cody told his congregation that he would decline the proffered honor, and announced that this decision has been communicated to the gathering at Halifax.

Provost Macklem was in Guelph yesterday. He returned late in the evening, but declined to discuss the situation.

The balloting to fill Bishop Courtney's place will be continued to-day.

CANADA'S FORESTS.

Yale Professor Says They Are Greatly Overestimated.

Bangor, Me., June 27.—Prof. Austin Cary of the Yale School of Forestry, in an interview here declared that the timber resources of the Canadian forests had been greatly overrated by the Dominion Government officials and others. He has recently made an extended tour of investigation through the Canadian forests, and says:

"Contrary to the boast of the Canadians that their country was practically an inexhaustible supply of timber, I find that the extent of the Canadian forests have been overestimated, and that the growth of timber there, even in the Northwest, is nothing like what it has been reported by Canadian authorities. Their forests are very disappointing, both in extent and character of the growth."

Run Down and out of Sorts

Suffered from Pains and Aches and was Discouraged and Despondent—Made Strong and Well by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When the nervous system becomes exhausted thre is suffering of both mind and body.

Even the pains and aches are not so hard to endure as the spells of blues and the gloomy forebodings.

New hope and confidence come with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. By supplying anabundance of rich, red blood it creates new nerve force and instills new vigour into body and mind, permanently overcoming weakness and disease.

Miss Minnie J. Sweet, Collingwood Corner, Cumberland county, N. S., writes: "I used five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food last winter, and it did me more good than any medicine I ever took. It is difficult to describe my case, but I felt all run down and out of sorts. I had headache and backache and dull pains through the lungs. I was so discouraged that I didn't seem to care what became of me.

"I hadn't finished the first box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food before I felt a lot better, and it continued to build me up until I became strong and well and was restored to good health and spirits. As I was once cured of a severe case of Kidney-Liver Pills I can strongly recommend these two great preparations."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 10

DAPPERLY'S GHOST

By F. B. WRIGHT

Copyright, 1903, by F. B. Wright

They had been telling ghost stories on the veranda of the clubhouse, and Wilson had just ended one wherein a man, taking refuge in an old house from a storm, had felt the presence of horrible, black draped figures moving about him and had seen during a lightning flash the face of a woman, hideously distorted, pressed against the window. Wilson said he knew this to be true, because the man was a chum of his and had gone insane from fright. There was silence after the tale, broken only by the clink of ice in the lemonade glasses and the sound of liquid passing down many throats.

"It's curious to know," commented Jerry Holden, "that ghosts are always so beastly dreadful. They are never amiable and chatty and familiar except in books."

Said Dapperly as he cocked his legs on the railing: "That's all you know. You ridicule ghosts generally because you only hear the highly colored stories of people who run away before they really get acquainted with the specters. They are not such fools as they look, and I know what I am talking about. I met one last March, and he was as pleasant and sensible as you please. You remember when Raeburn was married last spring? Of course I had a bid to his goodby dinner. I was living in Jersey then—Bathinghurst-in-the-Pines, nee Jonesville. It was after 12 when I caught the owl train from town and considerably later when I walked up the main street.

"There is a short cut to my house past an old church and a graveyard. I didn't particularly care for graveyards late at night—not afraid, you know, but they are sort of ghoulish and creepy, and I wouldn't have taken this cut only I was in a hurry to get home. However, the place seemed quiet and peaceful enough. The gravestones standing out white in the moonlight were the nearest to spectral forms that I saw until I reached the entrance gate. Near that is an old fashioned table stone—slab on four legs, you know—and I tell you, boys, the chills played tag up and down my back when I saw sitting on it the figure of an old gentleman clad in a bygone fashion and having a sort of white cloak gathered around his shoulders.

"The figure was translucent, with a shimmery whiteness caused by the reflected light from the stone beneath. Curiously enough, I could read the inscription on the stone right through it: 'Silas Stubbs, departed this life Dec. 2d, 1845.'

"He was rather short, was Stubbs. His legs were curled up and his arms folded about him as though he were chilly. Waves of cold were rippling over him just like wind over a wheatfield."

"Oh, come now!" interrupted Hurley. "You don't mean to tell us you noticed all that as you stood there?"

"Certainly not," returned Dapperly, "but afterward I recalled how he looked. At the time I was too paralyzed with fright to take any conscious inventory of these details, but just stood holding on to the gatepost and staring. The old man didn't like this a bit and bristled up like a turkey cock.

"'Well, sir,' he said, 'may I ask what you see strange in my appearance that you stare like that? In my day, young man, it was not considered polite.'

"I wasn't good for much, but I was able to mutter something about no offense being intended.

"'Oh, very well!' answered he. 'I'll say no more about it. I'm a bit testy perhaps.'

"'It is right chilly, and that's a fact,' he said, drawing his legs up closer and hugging himself the tighter, 'and I wish the directors of this city of peace would be a little more careful about the drainage. Last Friday the rain leaked in on me so that when midnight came I was positively glad to climb up out of the wet and sit on this stone of mine. If people only knew what a convenient form of monument this was there would be more of them put up, I can tell you. You can sit on it or under it, and the only improvement I can suggest is a cushion. When the only seat a man can call his is the sharp edge of a stone, why he wants all the trimmings. Then, too, it's often chilly,' he added, coughing violently.

"He seemed such a chatty old party that I felt quite easy with him by this time and suggested that it was rather imprudent in him to be out without an overcoat. 'I shouldn't think,' I added, 'that you ought to be out in the night air anyway at your age.'

"'I can't help it,' said he. 'You ought to know well enough that at 12 precisely "churchyards yawn and graves give up their dead." Shakespeare called it a witching hour, but I'll wager he's don't think so now—unless he's got hold of something good in the haunting line. It's the biggest piece of foolishness I know of,' he burst out impatiently. 'Just take my case. Sixty years ago I was a decent, respectable merchant; brought up to rise early and go to bed early. After I had my supper I read the paper and then locked up, put on my nightcap and slept. And yet here am I, by gravy, obliged to get out of a comfortable grave at the dead of night and sit around until an infernal rooster crows in the dairy around the corner. I'm getting sick and tired of it, I can tell you. I might get a doze here once in awhile if it were not for that blamed club yonder.' He pointed to a large family vault as he spoke.

"'Is that a club?' I asked. 'I thought it belonged to the Grogginses.'

"'It used to be, but the present Grogginses thought the place unfashionable and moved the old ones off to Cedar Hill, and there were no takers for the old vault.'

"'And who belongs to the club?' I asked.

"'They call themselves choice spirits, but I don't like such choiceness. They raise the mischief in there some nights, I've heard 'em say, and gamble their souls away. Don't you hear the rattle of the bones?'

"I listened and thought I heard a familiar sound.

"'I don't object to cards,' the old boy went on, 'though I never play myself, being a Presbyterian and a deacon, and I've often lent my stone for a quiet game of whist or casino, but further than that I don't go.'

"A cold breeze whispered through the weeping willows around us, and the poor old gentleman shivered so he became a mere blur.

"'I wish I was a hunter, I do,' he said when he had rectified his outlines, 'but I've no friends nor relatives living and no home in consequence.' He sort of choked here, and his tone was so sorrowful that even I could hardly keep from weeping. It seemed a sad and lonely thing.

"I hated to bother him in his sorrow, but I really wanted to know, so I asked him if he was compelled to haunt only relatives.

"'Unless you have an hereditary ghostship or a term of years,' he replied. 'We used to have some conditional limitation ghosts, but they've dropped off. Ghostships limited to end on the happening of some condition, such as finding buried money or burial of one's bones in consecrated ground or the'—

"Just then, way off somewhere, a cock began to crow, and as true as I am sitting here on this veranda that old boy grew mistier and mistier and fainter and fainter until there wasn't anything there at all. He just evaporated.

"The next I knew the town policeman was shaking me by the shoulder, and I found myself sitting on that slab, and it was broad daylight. And that's why I say that if you treat a ghost right it will treat you right. Of course I'm not saying that all ghosts are pleasant company. They are probably irritated by being sneered at or run away from. And now I suggest we drink," ended Dapperly, "to the memory of the ghost of Silas Stubbs. It's on me."

And the club as one man drank the toast.

Taming a Bull.

The Rev. Elijah Kellogg was a most unconventional minister. There are many stories of his daring on sea and land. So undaunted was he that his influence over sailors and other men of adventurous life was very great. When he was settled at Harpswell he had on his farm a bull that had become exceedingly trying and even dangerous to visitors, who liked to take a short cut across the pasture. The bull, said Mr. Kellogg, must be disciplined and taught some slight respect for humankind.

He therefore harnessed the animal to the front wheels of a heavy cart, preparatory to driving him over the road and showing him who was master. But before the guiding ropes had been adequately arranged the bull took to the woods in a mad rush, leaving fragments of the cartwheels and harness on his trail.

The little minister was not to be outdone. The next day at flood tide he lured the bull to the end of the wharf by a tempting display of fodder and, watching his opportunity, shoved him into the bay. Then he jumped astride his back and with the prowess of a "broncho buster" thrust his head under water until the creature was conquered. Thereafter he was a law abiding beast.

The Bird King.

King Frederick I. of Denmark gave the badge of a parrot to be worn by the best shot at the target of a green parrot on a pole with open wings, a golden crown and a gold ring in its beak. He who hit its breast plate was hailed as "bird king" for the year.

Very similar customs are recorded in other countries. In olden days in open competition the title of "king of the archers" was awarded to the most successful shot at a live parrot tethered to a pole, and the two next best became his lieutenant and standard bearer. They all enjoyed extensive privileges.

Sir Walter Scott describes similar public shooting at a popinjay in "Old Mortnilty," and Von Weber opens one of his operas with a scene of this sort. This custom can also be traced back in France so far as the year 1272.

What Converted Him.

This story regarding a converted barbarian is told in the English papers: A negro clergyman was entertained at tea by the president of a college. The guest, who came from west Africa, retailed some particulars of his early life, when a lady asked him how he became a Christian. "The story of Jezebel converted me," he answered. "You know, we are told the dogs did not touch the palms of her hands. Well, that convinced me of the truth of the narrative, for we never eat the palms of the hands in my country. They are too bitter."

Altitude and Voices.

Generally speaking, races living at high altitudes have weaker and more highly pitched voices than those living in regions where the supply of oxygen is more plentiful. Thus in America among the Indians living on the plateau between the ranges of the Andes at an elevation of from 10,000 to 14,000 feet the men have voices like women and women like children, and their singing is a shrill monotone.

Hadn't Seen Him.

The Vicar—Did you see a pedestrian pass this way a few minutes ago? Farm Hand—No, sir. I've been workin' on this tater patch more'n a nower, and notter thing has passed 'cept a solitary man, an' he was trampin' on foot.—London Telegraph.

How the Sun Burns the Skin.

The sun does actually burn the skin, and there is no difference between its burns and one produced from any other kind of intense heat. The oils and necessary moisture in the skin are evaporated by the sun. The sun burns the cuticle of the skin when exposed to its rays. The skin gets parched and is rendered apparently lifeless, and then it peels or dies away.

The following is an excellent preparation to allay the burning of the skin:

Milk, one pint; carbonate of soda, one ounce; glycerin, one ounce; powdered borax, one-half ounce. This can be used several times a day if required.

Custard Making.

When making custards for puddings and the filling for custard pies, if the milk is brought to the scalding point and then stirred into the beaten eggs and sugar and placed at once in the oven for baking it will require only half the time usually allowed for cooking. A custard pudding may be steamed and is oftentimes nicer than baked, being more delicate. A cup custard will be steamed sufficiently in fifteen minutes.

Household Brevities.

Use the potato ricer for cheese that is to be sprinkled on spaghetti, etc., instead of spending time grating it.

Ham soaked in milk overnight will be found exceedingly tender and sweet when used for breakfast the next morning.

Allow grass stained spots to remain saturated with alcohol for a little time, then wash in clear water.

When the fingers are stained in peeling fruits dip them in strong tea, rubbing them well with a nailbrush and afterward wash them in warm water, and the stains will disappear.

Any one who has been eating onions should eat a few leaves of parsley steeped in vinegar. After handling onions rub the hands over with raw potato.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN BRIDGENORTH

Mr. W. J. Kelly's Large Saw Mill Completely Destroyed.

A telephone message to the Examiner this afternoon, from Bridgenorth, gave the information that fire destroyed the large saw-mills owned by Mr. W. J. Kelly. The fire originated about one o'clock, by a spark from the boiler igniting a pile of shavings, and with a strong wind blowing the whole mill was in flames almost before the fire was noticed. The mill was completely destroyed, and the blacksmith shop and woodhouses were also burned.

A telephone message was received asking the assistance of the Peterborough brigade, but the fire was under control before there was time to get the brigade together, consequently their services were not required. The loss will be a severe one to the firm and to the business of the village.

Later advices give the information that the mill, blacksmith shop and wood-house and one dwelling were burned. The only means of fighting the fire was by a bucket-brigade of 100 men, who worked gallantly to save the property. The fire at the time of writing is under control, thanks to the energetic efforts of the entire male population of the village, who turned in to help fight the conflagration. Assistance was sought from Lakefield but it was impossible to procure the help needed.

The loss will be a heavy one, and and is only partially covered by insurance; $2,000 worth of new machinery was installed in the mill recently.

Unfortunately the mill was provided with little or no fire protection. About 25 men will be thrown out of employment. It is not definitely known, but it is expected that the mill will be rebuilt.

This is the third time it has been destroyed by fire.

FLOWER SERVICE AT GEORGE ST. CHURCH

A Beautiful Service for the Children Yesterday Morning

Rev. J. P. Wilson Spoke to the Sunday School—Beautiful Floral Decorations.

A very impressive and delightful service was that which was held in the George Street Methodist Church yesterday morning. It was the annual Flower Sunday, and the occasion was celebrated most royally, the display of flowers being very beautiful. At the opening, the children of the Sunday School with the teachers marched through the church each carrying a bouquet of flowers. On the platform had been erected a large cross, and as the scholars marched past the cross, their bouquets were attached to it and the floral cross thus made was one of magnificence. The platform was also profusely decorated with all manner of flowers. The church was crowded to the doors and everyone heartily enjoyed the service.

The scholars took part in singing exercises in a hearty manner, the hymns being "O Worship the King," "A Better Day is Coming" with solo by Mr. Mulligan", "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" and "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

Before the sermon the following address was read to Rev. Mr. Wilson, by one of the junior members of the school:—

Rev. J. P. Wilson.

Dear Pastor,—As this is the last session of the Sunday school of this church, which you will attend as its pastor, the members of the school — officers, teachers and pupils — desire to thank you for the great interest you have shown in the work of the school. You have shared the work of the officers and teachers, being always ready and willing to do everything you could to relieve their anxieties or to lighten their burdens. Your timely and wise counsel and your active assistance, have made their duties lighter and their labours more successful. You have always shown a keen and kindly interest in the pupils from the oldest to the youngest and in this way have made the school brighter for us and it has done us more good. We like to see the pastor in the school for while the Sunday school is one of the regular church services at the morning or evening services you seem to belong to the older people rather than to us but at the afternoon services, which is better adapted for children, you are more especially ours. We have been greatly pleased to see you Sunday after Sunday with very few exceptions, with us in the afternoon and taking part in the school, and while we thank you from our hearts for this we are sorry that the time has come when you must leave us and give your time and attention to another school. But while we cannot in the future share with others your time and attention, we believe we will still retain a share of your interest and love and we will always remember you with gratitude, pray for the welfare of yourself, Mrs. Wilson and your family and welcome you heartily whenever you can come to see us.

Mr. Wilson thanked the school most heartily for the kind expression of this sentiment of good will and friendship. He had only been too pleased to do what he could to assist the school and it was a source of delight to him that the school was enjoying such prosperity as at the present time. Scholars had frequently come to him, asking to be taken into the school. He wished to address his remarks to the children as it would be his last opportunity to speak to them. It was Sunday school day and in connection with George Street school there were about 1,600 workers. The work was a noble one for the Sunday school army was the largest in the world, there being twenty-six millions of people engaged in it. Mr. Wilson was glad to speak to the children on his last Sunday. Jesus often spoke to the children whom He loved. He took them up in His arms and blessed them. The speaker referred to the beautiful flowers on the cross. No one but God knew how these flowers grew. But they grew pure and lovely and God desired the children to grow in this way, to grow clean and with characters pure and spotless and lives sweet and fragrant. We should have no fear of God as we do not fear our earthly parents. It was only sin which made us fear God. The children should try to cultivate a bright and joyful disposition for by so doing they would brighten the home and be a blessing to all with whom they come into contact. My last words to you, dear children, said Mr. Wilson in closing his remarks, "are that you may grow up pure and Christlike and be as these beautiful flowers which adorn the cross before you. May God bless you abundantly and keep you in His name.

The choir sang "Consider the Lilies" with tenor solo by Mr. A. L. Davis.

MINISTERS PASS STRONG RESOLUTIONS

Expressing Regret at Departure of two Members of the Association

At a special meeting of the Peterborough Ministerial Association held this morning, the following resolution of regret was passed in view of the approaching departure from our town of Rev. J. Bastow of the Murray street Baptist church, and Rev. J. P. Wilson, of the George street Methodist church:—

"That the Peterborough Ministerial Association, in session assembled, hereby expresses its deep regret at the approaching departure of Revs. Jonathan Bastow, M.A., and J. P. Wilson, B. A., former Presidents of the Association.

"We recognize with appreciation their valuable work for the cause of Christianity in the town, which we feel will lose two good citizens.

"They leave Peterborough with the best wishes of the Association for their future success and happiness in their new fields."

The other members who were present, all spoke in the warmest terms of the two brethren who were so soon to take their departure. Rev. J. C. Davidson, in a neat speech, then presented the resolution, and Revs. Bastow and Wilson responded in fitting manner. The relations of the various ministers in the Ministerial Association have been of the most cordial kind, and the loss of these two strong men will be keenly felt.

The next regular meeing of the Association will be held on Monday, September 19th.

DEATH CLAIMS A POPULAR YOUNG MAN

Geo. McWilliams Died This Morning After Long Illness.

Death came this morning to one of the most popular young men in Peterborough, in the person of George H. McWilliams, a young man known well and favourably by probably a greater number of persons than any other young man in Peterborough. His figure has been a familiar one on the streets of Peterborough for a number of years, and general regret will be felt at his untimely death. The deceased was a native of Peterborough, being the youngest son of Mr. John A. McWilliams, of the fifth ward, and was at the time of his death 31 years of age. He chose the printing trade as his life's work, and early in years commenced to work in a local printing office in which he learned his trade. He worked in the Examiner office for some time, and later went to Dakota, where he worked at the grain business with his brother, who is now general manager of the Canadian Elevator Company, of Winnipeg. Upon his return he was again employed on the Examiner staff, where he remained until he was taken ill with lung trouble, from which he never recovered.

He made a brave fight for life, and throughout his long illness always maintained a cheerful disposition, and although he recognized the fact that his life at best would be but short, and was prepared to die, he did his best to help himself as long as his waning strength permitted.

His indomitable will power undoubtably prolonged his life beyond what it would have been had he given in to the disease.

The deceased was a member of Court Peterborough, No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30, from the family residence, fifth ward, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Wells & Emmerson's Handsome Shop Entered by Thieves

Port Arthur, June 26th. — A burglar effected an entrance to Wells & Emmerson's hardware store last night and stole between thirty and forty dollars in cash, a revolver, cartridges and other articles. Entrance was gained by a rear window. The task was made comparatively easy by reason of there being no lights after 1 o'clock, the power plant being shut down at that hour to make repairs.

REV. J. P. WILSON'S FAREWELL SERMON

Popular Pastor of George Street Bids His Congregation Farewell

The Severance of Pleasing Relations—A Tribute to the Morality of Peterboro—The Parting Message.

Last night at George street church Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., who, for four years has ably fulfilled the pastoral duties over George street church, preached his farewell sermon before leaving for Belleville, to assume the pastorate of the Bridge street Methodist church in that city.

Rev. Mr. Wilson took as the text of his farewell sermon, II Cor. 13; 11, "Finally brethren, be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you." He gave this as a parting message to the members of the congregation, to which he has ministered so successfully during the last four years. He referred to his pastorate here, and thanked the people for the loyal support they had given him during his stay here, and in his work in the church. He spoke of the church debt, which, when he came here was the great burden. By the liberality of the members $9,000 had been paid off during the four years, and if the members continued in their present liberal attitude the entire debt would be liquidated. He had a good word for the Peterborough Ministerial Association, of which body he was President during the last year. His associations with the other ministers in town had been most pleasant and there is a brotherhood existing between the ministers in Peterborough which he had failed to find in any other place. He regretted leaving such a progressive and enterprising town as Peterborough, and prophesied that this town would continue to grow and become one of the greatest cities in the province. He paid a high tribute to the morality of the town, which he said, presented an example in this respect, which other places might, with profit, imitate.

The choir came in for some complimentary remarks by the farewelling pastor too. He said that this organization had been of great benefit to him in his work. He leaves on Wednesday for Belleville to which place he will carry the best wishes of not only the members of this congregation, but a host of others, whom he has made himself popular with during his four years' stay here.

The music was of a particularly enjoyable nature and was very well rendered. The anthems, "The Radiant Morn" and "Abide With Me," were tastefully sung. During the offertory Mr. A. L. Davis sang in good voice "Face to Face." The closing hymn was "Blest be the Tie That Binds."

WEDDING BELLS.

Interesting Event in Collingwood on Thursday.

The following despatch from Collingwood in reference to a wedding in that town will be of interest to many in Peterborough. The bride is a sister of Dr. Jessie Birnie of town:—

"A house wedding took place here yesterday, when Miss Katherine Birnie, one of Toronto's well-kndwn musicians, was married to Mr. Frank Sydney Wrinch, Ph. D., professor of California University, Berkley, California. The home of Mr. John Birnie, K.C., brother of the bride, where the ceremony was performed, was decorated with cut flowers and plants. The wedding party stood under a large floral bridal bell, composed of bridal wreath, syringa, and roses, swung in the bow window of the reception room against a bank of ferns and palms.

The bride was gowned in a creation of crepe de sole over white taffeta silk, with berthe and sleeves of duchesse lace, with bridal veil and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of bride roses. The maids of honour were the Misses Mamie and Muriel Birnie, nieces of the bride, who looked very pretty in their gowns of pale green silk collenne with filmy yokes of lace, ornamented with sprays of delicate ferns and rosebuds, and carrying shower bouquets of fragrant sweet peas. The groom was supported by Dr. T. McKenzie, of Toronto. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. T. C. Robertson, of Toronto, a college friend of the groom, in the presence of about one hundred invited guests, who later partook of the wedding breakfast. The bride's table was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and white satin ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wrinch left on the 10.55 train amid a shower of rice and old slippers, which was renewed as the train pulled out for Chicago. Thence they will go to their future home in California.

Peterborough Baseball Team Lost to Bowmanville—Other Sporting News of Local Character.

PETERBOROUGH TEAM PLAYED GOOD GAME

Lost to Bowmanville on a Close Score Saturday

Baseball Team Meets Defeat—Bowmanville Fans Pleased with Peterborough Boys.

One of the best games of baseball in which the local team has participated this season, was that played in Bowmanville on Saturday last, when the team representing that town won by the narrow margin of one run, the score at the end of the first half of the ninth innings being 3—3, but the home team scored one run in this half, winning the game. The game was a great exhibition of baseball, both teams playing ball from the start to finish, and until the winning run was made, the result of the game was in doubt.

It was a game characterized by some heavy hitting on the part of both teams, though in the stick line the home team carried off the honours, being credited with sixteen safeties. Sharp fielding, however, prevented a heavy score, and it is a remarkable fact that even with all the chances taken, only one error is marked against each. Hooper, who was batted freely by the locals in the game here proved a somewhat harder proposition on Saturday, but extra sharp fielding on the part of the home team, robbed some of the visiting players of hits. Martyn, the diminutive left fielder of the Bowmanville aggregation, made some sensational running catches, one of them being a one-handed catch, and practically won the game for the home team, scoring the winning run, after he had landed on Quinlan for a two-bagger.

If the Bowmanville team continues to play the style of ball dished up Saturday they should land pretty near the top when championship honours are being passed around, but they had to go some on Saturday to win, and the unanimous opinion of the spectators, was that the Peterborough team put up the best exhibition of ball played by a visiting team in the history of the game in the town, and this is a record of which the team need not be ashamed. The Peterborough baseball players stand high in the estimation of the Bowmanville baseball enthusiasts, and the interest in the team is evidenced by the fact that the Bowmanville team is trying to arrange a series of post-season games with the Peterborough aggregation, and it is highly probable that this will be carried through.

The visiting team started in like winners, scoring one run in the first. In the fourth another tally was made but in the last half of this innings the home team also brought a man home, and in the sixth two homesters crossed the pan, making it 3—2 in their favour. This was evened up in the seventh, and with the score 3—3 the ninth opened, and it looked during this innings as if the home team might be beaten. Pilling got his base, being hit by a pitched ball, Earls who followed hit safely to Osborne, who threw Pilling out at second. Wareham cracked a beauty to left field and it looked like a score, but Earls was caught stealing third, making two out. Quinlan was next up, and sent a hot one to left, which looked good for a double, but Martyn spoiled all this by his great running one handed catch, which retired the side, and Peterborough's chances were over.

This was the feature of the game, and Martyn, who went to bat immediately afterwards, was given an ovation by the crowd, who appreciated his work — saving the game for the home team.

Manager Whitecroft's aggregation played well enough to win nine games out of ten, however, and although they lost the game squarely, the loss should not be considered as one to their discredit. The presence on the home team of Morris, the captain and manager, greatly strengthened and no doubt contributed very materially to the win.

Bowmanville is not a particularly good baseball town, but the fame of Peterborough ball sluggers had evidently reached the town for there was a good crowd of spectators on hand to see the game, which certainly was well worth the fifteen cents which it cost them to see it.

The score, with the line up of the teams, follows:

Two base hits, Weekes, Williams, Martyn, Edick, Earls; three base hits, Gates; sacrifice hit, Quinlan. Stolen bases, Weekes, Morris, Lamonte, Whitcroft; base on balls, off Quinlan 0, off Hooper 6; left on bases, Peterborough 6, Bowmanville 8; struck out, by Quinlan 5, by Hooper 4. Double plays, Morris to Wilcox to Williams, Sheridan to Pilling to Lamonte. Hit by pitcher, Pilling 2. Time of game 1.45. Umpire, Jack Hambly, Port Hope.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The visitors were first at bat, Sheridan essaying to do the needful. He sent a beauty to left garden, which Martyn spoiled for a hit. Graham landed safely to deep centre but was caught stealing second. "Reddy" Lamonte, who speedily became a favourite with the Bowmanvilleites, cracked a grounder and beat the throw to first, and scored on Whitcroft's safety to left. Whitcroft stole second, but died there as Simpson flew out.

Only three men faced Quinlan in the second half. Weekes got away safely with a pretty hit to left. Morris, the heavy hitter of the team, lined a grounder to Sheridan, who threw the runner out at first. Pilling doubling up to Lamont, who covered third, the result being two out. "Grandpa" Wilcox, who made a "hit" with the Peterborough bleacherites, was an easy out on a little hit, which Graham fielded to first.

THE SECOND.

The visitors again nearly tallied in the second. After two men were gone Pilling got to first on a crack on the head from the pitcher, the spare man running for him. Earls hit to Osborne who fielded cleverly, catching Earls at first, and Pilling's sub. at second. Wareham and Quinlan both singled, and it looked like a score, with "Dodley" Sheridan at bat, but hopes were doomed to disappointment for the best he could do was a fly, which an outfielder got under. There was nothing doing in the second half. Osborne hit to Quinlan, and was an easy out at first. Williams fanned. Gates, a comer in the baseball world got a three bagger, but Martyn was out on the grounder, which Lamonte got to first in time to catch the runner.

A SHORT INNINGS.

Four strike outs were recorded in the third, each pitcher securing two. Graham and Whitcroft were the unfortunates for the visitors, while Lamonte grounded to Williams. For the home team Edick and Weeks fanned the air and Hooper lined one out at Lamonte, who threw him out at first.

DOINGS IN THE FOURTH.

The visitors again tallied in the fourth on Earls' two bagger. Simpson, who was first to bat fanned, and Pilling, who by the way is getting mighty handy with the willow, lined a beauty out to deep centre, which Gates failed to connect with. Earls followed and also secured a pretty hit in the left garden, bringing Pilling in. Wareham hit to Wilcox who threw him out at first, and Quinlan was out by the Morris-Williams route. Score 2—0.

The home team brought in one in their half. Morris shot a hot liner through Sheridan and Lamonte. Wilcox singled and Osborne's hit to centre scored Morris. The next three were out. Williams popping a fly to Pilling, Gates fanned and Martyn flew to Wareham.

MARTYN SPRINGS A SENSATION.

The visitors were easy outs in the fifth. Sheridan was out at first on a liner to Hooper. Graham made a daisy to left, but a two bagger was spoiled by Martyn's great catch. Lamonte retired the side by hitting a grounder and was out at first. The homesters were mighty near a score in their half, but Quinlan pulled himself out of a hole. Hooper went after one at Whitcroft, and got first, but was caught off the base. Edick was out on a grass-cutter to Lamonte, who threw nicely to first. With two gone, Weekes sent a nice one to deep centre for a two-bagger, and Morris singled, advancing Weekes to third. Wilcox, however, flew to Earls, and the side retired with the score at the end of the 5th, 2—1.

HOME TEAM'S LUCKY SIXTH.

Whitcroft's men landed on Hooper heavily in the first half, but the infielders prevented hits being made. Whitcroft and Simpson were each out on long flies and Pilling had one called on him after he had made two fouls.

Bowmanville got a lead of one run in their half, scoring two runs, and making it look like this, 3—2. It looked pretty blue for Peterborough for a while. Osborne started the trouble with a nice hit to centre, and Williams followed with a two bagger over the fence, advancing Osborne to third. Gates hit to Quinlan and was out at first, but Martyn laid a pretty double out to centre, scoring Osborne, Williams was caught trying to run home. Hooper made a two sack hit scoring Martyn, and Edick flew out to Quinlan.

EVENING THINGS UP.

The score was tied in the seventh. Earls hit to Morris and was out at first. Wareham singled, and Quinlan followed suit, but was caught stealing second; Wareham scored, however, on this hit. Sheridan hit to centre, but Graham flew out to Osborne and the former was left on base.

The visitors made short work of the home team in the second half, only three men being up. Weekes flew to Quinlan, Morris did the same to Simpson, and Wilcox was out by the Sheridan-Pilling route.

The eighth was unprolific of a score. Lamonte flew to Wilcox, Whitcroft was out at first on a grounder to Osborne, and Simpson sent a liner at Wilcox, who caught him at the initial bag. Osborne singled to right, but was caught napping off first. Williams fanned, and Gates popped a foul fly, which Graham raked in.

THE LUCKY NINTH.

The last innings proved the visitors' undoing, and it was by an extremely lucky circumstance that the Peterborough team was prevented from scoring. Pilling, who was first up, was hit by a pitched ball, getting his base. Earls sent a grounder at Osborne, who caught Pilling at second. Wareham hit safely to left, and with two men on bases Quinlan landed on the ball for what looked like a safe one, but Martyn after a great run caught the ball with one hand, making the most sensational play of the game. Earls was out stealing third, and the visitors' chance to score was lost.

Martyn was given an ovation when he stepped to bat in the last half. He landed on the ball for a two-bagger, and Hooper singled. Edick sent a nice double, scoring Martyn, and the game was ended, the score 4—3.

FOUL TIPS.

The best game ever seen in Bowmanville.

Martyn would look pretty good in a Peterborough uniform.

Manager Morris, of the Bowmanvilles, used our boys well, and a return trip is probable.

"You may say that the members of the Peterborough team are gentlemen, and will always be welcomed here," said Manager Morris to the Examiner.

T. A. S. WON FROM HASTINGS TEAM

In a Closely Contested Game of Lacrosse on Saturday Afternoon

Score was 3-2 All Scoring done in first Two Quarters—Teams very Evenly Matched.

In the second home game in the Trent Valley Lacrosse League on Saturday afternoon, St. Peter's T.A.S. won from Hastings on the Murray street grounds by a score of 3—2, in a very closely contested game. The match was witnessed by several hundred spectators, including a number of supporters of the visiting team, which was given liberal encouragement. This was the second meeting of these two teams, the score on the previous Saturday being a tie, three all, so it will be seen that the teams are very evenly matched. Saturday's game was anybody's from start to finish, and the result was in doubt until the final whistle blew.

The style of lacrosse exhibited was not of a brilliant nature, and at the start both teams played poorly, but as the game progressed, the players got in the game and some good lacrosse was played. Wild passing and muffing were too frequent in the first two quarters, rendering the play of a rather loose variety. The play was quite strenuous at times, and several men were ruled off for minor offences. The referee was very strict and, consequently, kept the game clean. All the scoring was done in the first two quarters.

Both teams were strong on the defence and very few shots got beyond the point players. Both homes were speedy and shot fairly accurately; they had difficulty, however, in going in on the flags, owing to the strong defence work. The T.A.S. were without the services of Fred Dercober, Dick Boyle, Jimmy O'Brien and F. McCoy.

The winners all played good lacrosse and worked hard for their victory. O'Connor picked out some warm ones in goal while Maloney at point checked very effectively and frequently relieved when the situation was dangerous. Donovan also played a most useful game, as did Meagher, who time and again broke up the combination of the visitors' home by his clever work. Whaley played a hard game throughout. Crowley, as usual, was very effective, his checking and passing being accurate, while his speedy excursions down the field were of much assistance to the home. Gorham played fine lacrosse at centre and was always in the game. Parnell on the home caught and passed well, playing a splendid game all through. Donovan

BEAUTY IN BOOKS.

USEFUL IN THE FURNISHING AND DECORATION OF THE HOUSE.

Everywhere They Give an Atmosphere Unique, Delightful, Satisfying—Some Good Devices in Shelves For Accommodating Them.

One phase of the usefulness of books that appeals in a very practical manner to home makers is the help they give in furnishing the house. When this fact becomes more generally recognized and better understood there will be a freer and more generous distribution of books through all the different rooms, says the Delineator in offering some hints in this direction. In one home the books make a characteristic part of the furnishings throughout the house. They meet one in the front hall and again in all the living rooms and bedrooms, and on each stairway and landing are more books fitted along the wall, giving an atmosphere unique, delightful and satisfying.

In establishing the books throughout the house no conventional arrangement is as good as that which is originated to meet the special requirements of the household. A corner in the living room may be reserved for a revolving bookcase, in which the heavier encyclopedias and reference volumes are compactly brought together. A large dictionary laid on a steel frame where the pages may be opened without lifting is the best way to hold this useful family friend.

If magazines are bound in half yearly volumes a set of shelves may be built and a space found along the wall of the hallway for them. The second illustration shows a bookcase made by home talent, very simply and with little expense, but answering well for a magazine holder. It is made of pine boards and painted the color of the woodwork against which it stands. The case is four and one-half feet high and three feet long. The shelves are eight inches deep and high enough to accommodate the magazines in bound form. There is no back to these shelves, and they are light in weight and can be easily moved about when cleaning days come around. Any long wall space is available for holding bookshelves. If these are made without a middle support the weight of the books will cause the shelves to sag in the middle.

An original device for utilizing a closed chimney is seen in the fourth illustration, where three small shelves are fitted together below the mantel. The base of the bookshelves is lettered in burnt work with the motto, "Books Are True Friends," embellished with a flowing design.

The decorative effect of the bindings of books, with their variety of colors, touches of gold and attractive lettering, is only partially enjoyed when the volumes are kept behind closed doors. Rare editions that are too precious to be handled freely must of necessity be put under lock and key and protected from the dust. For such works of art as these the old mahogany cases, with doors set with leaded glass, are in keeping.

An Emergency Met.

If on washing day morning your laundress, with doleful looks, tells you that the boiler, filled with clothes, has sprung a leak do not despair. Push the clothes away from the side of the boiler and drop in a handful of cornmeal This will settle at the bottom of the boiler, will soon swell, filling the leak entirely, and the meal cannot harm the clothes. The effect is equally good if your pot with a boiled dinner or ham leaks while in use.

Already the small boy is beginning to count the days until the Fourth of July.

It is a wise leader who is careful to lead the people the way they want to go.

There is nothing like Sunlight Soap for Household Utensils.

When you have to use hard water it is not an easy matter to wash household utensils. To do good washing you should have good soap and soft water (rain water). If you use hard water you must have good soap, and the best soap you can get is Sunlight Soap because it softens the hard water and makes a copious creamy lather. Use Sunlight Soap for all household purposes and the results will surprise you.

DOVECOTS IN SCOTLAND.

According to Law, No One May Build More Than One.

It is not universally known that the right of erecting a dovecot was a privilege only to be enjoyed in England by the lords of the manor, and the law was vigorously enforced on this point. But in Scotland, according to a statute still held in observance, nobody has a right to build a cot in either town or country unless he is the owner of land yielding about 960 imperial bushels of produce per annum, and this property must be situated within at least two miles of the dovecot or pigeon house. A further enactment also states that on the above named conditions only one cot shall be built.

A distinguished authority on husbandry estimated that in 1628 there were 26,000 dovecots in England and that, allowing 500 pairs to each house, the damage wrought by the birds in devouring corn would work out at no less than 13,000,000 bushels—that is, an allowance of four bushels yearly to each pair. Any one who destroyed a cot was guilty of theft and is so held at the present time in Scotland (the act was passed in 1579), while a third offense of dovecot breaking was capitally punishable. Perfect specimens of these cots are becoming scarcer every year.—Hour Glass.

SEA SHELLS.

The Way They Are Formed From the Mantle of the Fish.

A sea shell, whether in one piece (univalve), as in periwinkles, or in two pieces (bivalve), as in mussels and cockles, is formed in much the same way. It consists of a colored outer horny layer, a middle layer of prismatic structure and an inner pearly coating of innumerable very thin plates, the edges of which break up white light into its constituents, so as to give rise to a beautiful play of iridescence.

The body of a shellfish is invested in a soft flap of skin known as the "mantle." By the activity of this the shell is secreted, a sticky fluid exudes from its surface and quickly hardens to form horny or calcareous matter. The salts of lime are chiefly in the form of carbonate, but there is also a percentage of phosphate.

Only the edge of the mantle is able to manufacture the two outer layers of the shell, and repair of injuries is entirely carried out in nacre, or mother-of-pearl.

The Engines of War.

At a dinner during the Franco-German war Disraeli did not open his mouth till near the end of the entertainment, when he observed in his most sententious manner: "The French embarked in this war because they conceived that they had the superiority in arms of precision; they had the chassepot and they had the mitrailleuse (which he pronounced 'mitrailloose'); but of the third engine, called a man, they did not possess even a single specimen." This said, he relapsed into perfect silence.—Diary of Sir Mountstuart Grant Duff.

The Need For Water.

Water constitutes about two-thirds of the weight of the body and enters into the composition of all the tissues and fluids. To keep the necessary proportion, a large quantity needs to be ingested. One of the great dietetic errors is the neglect to take a sufficient quantity. The amount found in foods is insufficient, and about five cupfuls should be taken daily in beverages. A vegetable diet diminishes the need of water, while one composed largely of animal food increases this need.

The Secretary Bird.

That peculiar native of South Africa, the secretary bird, so-called because of the feathers on its head, which look as if it carried a pen behind its ear, is far more of a pedestrain than a flyer, ranging all day in search of food over a large expanse of country. It seldom takes to wing from choice, but it is a great traveler on foot. That when hungry and hard put to it for food the secretary occasionally attacks, vanquishes and devours poisonous snakes of considerable size, is undoubted. But this is by no means so frequent an occurrence as the old naturalists believed. The bird fully understands his risk in these encounters and takes his measures accordingly. He attacks the snake in a very wary manner, fainting with his wings and waiting his opportunity. When that comes he buffets the snake heavily with his wings, strikes it with his strong feet, and, having partially disabled it, breaks its vertebra with a blow or two of its formidable beak or pierces its brain.

WEDDING TALK.

Some Happy Notions About Various Points of the Home Wedding.

For a home wedding, especially if the bride wears a white gown, a green and white color scheme is charming and not difficult to arrange. However, some brunettes, to whom white is not becoming and who wish to look their best on their wedding day, have chosen a pink setting for their bridal, says the Boston Cooking School Magazine in a short chat on wedding matters.

For an early June wedding, in localities where it is abundant, the wild pink azalea makes a most effective decoration. Garden roses are seldom available until the very last of the month, but when they are plentiful nothing finer can be desired. A bride may now wear or carry any favorite flower, the old time prestige of the orange blossom having in some measure departed.

It was a happy thought which gave mothers a place in the bridal procession. Fathers, sisters and brothers all had their duties in connection with the event, but ofttimes the mother was left alone during the ceremony. Now one or both mothers form a graceful and dignified part of the procession.

A pretty idea for a home wedding is to have the young guests surround the couple during the ceremony. This saves choosing bridesmaids, which is sometimes a difficult thing to do when one has many friends and relatives.

Every prospective bride loves to show her trousseau to a few close friends. This is sometimes made the occasion of a small tea or gathering and gives an opportunity for bestowing any small and dainty gift. This is a much better way than the once popular shower, which is now thought not quite good form.

The refreshments for a home wedding may be passed or they may be served at small tables scattered through the house, and this is by far the most comfortable way. If convenient, tables with twenty-four inch tops may be hired for the occasion. These may be covered with large napkins of dinner size if the hostess has not a sufficient number of embroidered or drawn work cloths.

For the wedding reception in summer nothing more is required than ice cool drinks, small cakes and sandwiches. Of course if one chooses a salad may be added, accompanied with thin cut bread and butter or wafers. Careful attention to all the small details will mark the perfection of the entertainment and add much to the comfort of the guests.

HINTS ON ECONOMY.

Last Year's Dresses Can Be Renovated—The Season's Tailor Made.

There is quite a pronounced fancy for simple gauze and muslin frocks for evening wear.

Renovations this season are not hard to make. The principal difficulty comes in the skirts, which require more fullness, and often this may be obtained by the addition of a front panel of embroidery, the same material being used to make the sleeves fuller. Sleeves are often plain to the elbow, where they blossom out into many long frills of lace or accordion plaited chiffon. Wide collars of lace and embroidery cover a multitude of sins, not to speak of the ever present fichu. Skirts may be freshened up by the addition of ribbon ruching put on in a conventional design.

The tailor made frock is likely to prove the most expensive of the entire wardrobe, for it cannot even be partially made at home. The woman who cannot afford to invest much money in hers had better buy it ready made in some good shop.

It is no wonder the best tailor mades are expensive; they show such perfection of cut and such dainty touches in the way of handmade trimmings.

Lace stoles are mounted on chiffon and taffeta and make dainty neck pieces with which to replace the old fashioned boa. Chiffon, crepe de chine and mousseline are made up in dainty fashion with gauged centers of contrasting material. Ribbon is shirred and combined with chiffon and lace to form chic cape effects.

Pongee this season comes dyed in a variety of shades, including gray, a royal blue and a rich brown. It makes pretty coat and skirt costumes and shirt waist costume dresses, and it wears well.

The picture represents a gown of cream veiling trimmed with flat tucks and circles formed of galloon.

must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for.

A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

A PIONEER'S EXPERIENCE.

Alex. McIntyre, of Egremont Township, Tells of His Early Life Cutting Out a Forest Home.

Alex. McIntyre of Egremont Township, came to Canada in 1851. Mr. McIntyre stayed a short time in Cheltenham, then he came to Egremont, took up the farm which he still owns, built a log shanty in the heart of the bush, moved in when there was only a canvas hung up for a door and the wolves would be howling around at night, like to tear it down, but he always kept the ax, "the sword of defence," near at hand.

There was then no neighbors, no roads; one did not know where the roads would be, as the land was not yet surveyed; the only way of traveling was by marking the trees with the ax, so that one could return the same way.

The nearest place where the newcomer could sharpen his ax was at a Mr. McDougall's, who lived where Mr. Dan Murphy lives now, three or four miles away, who had a grindstone.

The nearest place to get groceries was up the Owen Sound road; one Cochrane kept a little store there. It goes by that name yet. There is a small burying ground there.

Heard Wolves Barking.

The first winter he started off one day to get his ax sharpened, and also to get some groceries. Striking across the bush, the crust on the snow would carry him. As he was about two miles from home, he heard a pack of wolves on his trail as he supposed. His first thought was that he would be killed, so he removed parts of his clothing and hung them up in a tree, his bonnet along with the rest. Perhaps somebody might come along and find them. Then he set his back against a tree, the ax in hand ready to fight to the last. To his great relief they took another route, being after a deer instead of a man. In going through the bush one could often see deer carcases where they had been killed by the wolves and partly eaten.

The next spring he bought two hundred of flour and fifteen bushels of potatoes from a person in Arthur Township. The next job was to get his purchase home, as the river was flooded and there was no bridge, only a tree chopped down across the water, which was very high in the spring, and the tree would be floating on the water. Still he had to face it. The farmer brought the stuff as far as Mr. Samuel Wallace's on the other side of the river, the farm now owned by Mr. Cantlon, about two miles away by the road; he had to take it, but there was nothing else for it, and to carry it all on his back. He had to make several trips across the river, expecting every trip would be the last, as the log was swinging so, but he got it all over. The next thing was to carry it all home, and he persevered until he got it all home, but he used himself up so that he had to take a rest on the broad of his back on the bed.

In the summer time he used to go down the country to work, leaving his wife and two little children in the bush. He worked in one place for eleven dollars a month, and now men have the cheek to ask thirty dollars a month.

In the winter time he used to cut down as much of the bush as the dull ax would allow him, until he had cleared a little patch, enough to sow a little wheat and plant some potatoes. It happened one bright moonlight night, when the grass was full grown, that he was aroused out of his sleep by hearing tramping about the house. Thinking it was a black steer that he had which had broken into the grain, he got up, partly dressed and went out. As he looked around he saw what he thought was the steer down amongst the grain. He picked up a stick, wanting to give him a good "whack" before he got out, there being only a slash fence in those days to protect the crop, and he hurried after him through the grain, the stick raised in the air ready to give him the full weight of it, but as they both got over the fence in quick succession the supposed steer stood up on his hind legs with his back against a tree, and his pursuer directly saw that it was Mr. Bruin he was chasing. So he called to his neighbor, he had one then, to come out with a gun, as he had a bear standing up against a tree, and there was a fine chance to put a ball through him. But the neighbor, thinking he was safest where he was said, "Well, Sandy if you knew Mr. Bruin as well as I do you would leave him alone." He also made the excuse that he could not find the powder or balls for the gun. After trying both coaxing and scolding the neighbor till he was tired he had to give it up. He backed to the fence, keeping his eye on the bear all the time. When he got near enough he threw himself over. Mr. Bruin at the same time letting himself down on all feurs, disappeared in the bush.

His First Grist.

His first grist was the product of the first wheat he cut. He threshed some of it by spreading sheets and quilts on the ground, and by tying two sticks together he made a flail with which he knocked the grain off the straw, then he cleaned it by winnowing it in the wind, the way they used to do in olden times. When done he had three bushels. This he had to carry on his back all the way through the bush to Martin's Mills, which, as everybody knows, are between three and four miles away. The grist had to be got home again in the same way. When he had his first yoke of steers broken in his neighbor's wife took sick and he was asked to go for a doctor. So he hitched the steers into the jumper, a rig that was used instead of a sleigh, made with his own hands, not a nail in it or iron of any kind about it, and off he started away down to Arthur, just as anyone would do now with a horse and buggy. On the way he met an acquaintance. When he told his errand the other said: "Well, Sandy, if they knew in the old country that you were going after a doctor with a pair of stirks, they would have a good laugh."

Plodding Through the Bush.

Another time he and his neighbor's boy started off with the steers and the jumper, with two grists, one for each family. In going away they were all right, for it was daylight, but in coming home it was dark in the bush and they had a torch with them made out of cedar bark, but they had not proceeded very far when the torch went out and they were left in the dark. What was to be done but plod along the best way they could? Mr. McIntyre went on ahead feeling for the road, while the boy came behind with the steers and the load, with a rope tied to their horns to guide them. They traveled along that way for quite a while, but when they went back to inspect, the jumper was empty, the bags had dropped off one by one till there were none left. That was another predicament. The only thing he could do was to find his way back and try and gather all the bags together again, so after charging the boy to keep the steers' heads straight ahead and not let them turn around, he started on his search for the lost. When he found them all he had to carry them one by one until he got them all on the jumper again, then make another start for home. When they got as far as Thomas Gardner's where Mr. Jerry Burk lives now, Mr. Gardner gave them another torch. They were all right then until they reached Mr. David Wright's hill, when the jumper went to pieces. Then he had to carry all the load back again to Mr. Gardner's and leave it till the neighbor came after it next day. It was daylight when they got home.

Another time he and the neighbor and his wife were coming home through the bush after dark with the steers and the jumper. The neighbor had a little pig that he was taking home, but the little fellow got out into the bush and the hunt began after the little porker. They left the woman on the jumper minding the steers, while they themselves took after the little rascal. Every time when they thought they had him he would slip away, and they would get a knock against a tree or tangled in the brush. In the meantime the woman was yelling that she was afraid of the wolves. Still they captured the runaway, declaring there was nothing like persevering to succeed in life.

Sheep Killed by Wolves.

When he had a few sheep one night the wolves killed some of them, and a night or two after, about dawn, the dog made an awful noise barking. His master got up, dressed, took the gun (he had one then) and went out to investigate. The dog went ahead till it came near the path (where the road is now, what they call Sandy's hill, and there down on the path was what he supposed was a wolf. He raised the gun and took aim. When a man stuck his head out from behind a tree, he let down the gun and went forward. Two men had been coming home with a jug of whiskey for a logging bee next day, so the supposed wolf was one of the men stooping over the jug, trying to take the cork out so as to get a little drapple to help them along on their long tramp away up to Proton. Mr. McIntyre put away the gun and never lifted it again, very thankful things turned out as they did.

In closing it might be said that to Mr. McIntyre is due a great deal of credit for making the road on the sixth concession, for when it was not passable for either man or beast, he used to make bees to make a way through the swamp. In those days they did not stand or sit till the whistle blew before starting, but they would begin as soon as possible after daylight and work till dark, sometimes not even coming home for their dinner, but taking it with them if there were no children to carry it to them.—Mount Forest Confederate.

Lord and Lady Dundonald.

Lady Dundonald and her children have arrived in London from Canada. Lady Dundonald was Miss Winifred Hesketh, only child and heiress of Mr. Robert Hesketh, of Gwyrch Castle, near Abergale, in North Wales, and her marriage with Lord Dundonald—then Lord Cochrane—took place in 1878. She is a tall, handsome, dark-haired woman, with a pleasant smile and a stately manner. Her time is spent between Gwyrch Castle—now her own property—and a fine residence in Portman Square. Lady Dundonald shows much interest in Welsh industries, and seldom fails to appear at their annual exhibition in London. The marriage of Lady Grisel Hamilton ended, for the moment her duties as a chaperon, but the lovely Lady Jean Cochrane is now seventeen, and will probably make her debut in 1905. Lord Dundonald's distinguished career as a soldier is known to all the world; but everyone may not be aware that, himself a clever inventor, he comes of a family of discoverers and scientists. The present peer has improved gun-carriages, thought out a means of storing water for troops on the march, and invented a useful article for warming the hands called an instra. And his forbears have had the same tastes and talents. Archibald, the ninth Earl, made many chemical discoveries; and the tenth Earl, like his father, was a distinguished scientist, and invented improvements in engines, boilers, and screw-propellers. The Cochranes are one of the oldest Scotch families, and their gift for mechanics and invention is one rarely to be found among the ancient aristocracy of these islands.—

Women and Books.

Professor York-Powell is a devout lover of books. We remember hearing him read a paper to a society in Oxford which illustrated both this devotion and his pretty wit. Touching upon the dangers to their treasures against which book lovers should be on their guard, he denounced the irreverent treatment of books by womankind. A woman, he said, if she were interrupted in her reading and wanted not to lose the place she had reached, would put the book down, open and face downward, on the table or on the lawn or anywhere. Woman, in fact, was one of the great standing menaces to books. The other, by the way, was—insects.—London News.

A Nervous Woman

Will often feel compelled to stop the clock whose ticking seems unbearable to her. In such a nervous condition the woman needs a building up of the entire system. It is useless to attempt the cure of the nerves while the cause of the nervousness remains uncured. A very common cause of nervousness in women is a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases and the nervousness which they cause. It changes irregularity to regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a perfect tonic and nervine, tranquillizing the nerves, promoting the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

"I was so nervous I had to have some one by my side all the time, even in the daytime, and I could hardly eat anything," writes Mrs. Selma Erickson, of 396 Rice Street, St. Paul, Minn. "I quit all the doctors and began taking your medicines; I gained right along. I am as well and feel as good as ever."

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

FOR STREET WEAR.

Fashions In Motor Coats—Shirt Waist Suits as Popular as Ever.

For automobile and outing wear coats of mohair and shantung are the favorite materials. They are admirably suited for shedding dust. The mohairs have never before been manufactured in such silky materials as this year. The shantungs are heavier than last, and the favorite shades are ash gray, damson blue and willow green. The coat of natural colored silk, however, trimmed with black gold and cream braid, has a very smart appearance.

A CARRIAGE HAT.

Both black and brown taffeta coats are also being turned out for the same purpose.

The latest development of the sleeve frill is the employment of fine lace frills dyed to the exact shade of the gown. Chiffon is also largely used for sleeve frills.

Shirt waist suits will be more popular than ever, and these little one color costumes are infinitely more becoming than the light waist and dark skirt to the woman who is at all inclined to stoutness.

The boat shape turban is again with us and is sure to have many admirers, as it lends itself so admirably to the shaded petal trimming. Rose petals of silk or velvet are particularly effective.

In the picture we have a dainty hat most suitable for carriage wear. It is of horsehair straw, draped with lace and a bunch of pink roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

George's Breath.

G. Washington had laid down after a hard day's work licking the British. Sleep came and gently kissed his tired eyes, and he dreamed of the time when war would be over, and he could get back home and trim his cherry trees.

Unknown to him Martha Washington visited the camp. She sat down at his bedside, and when he awoke implanted a kiss on his lips.

"George," she said sternly, after the warm greeting. "What have you been drinking?"

Washington was taken aback, but, rallying, his presence of mind, which had got him out of tight places before, came to the rescue.

"I cannot tell a lie," he said, looking her squarely in the eye, "I have been drinking nothing but water. My success in that little brush on the Brandywine must have intoxicated me."

What He Got.

"You can't get something for nothing."

"Can't, hey?" said the dejected hobo. "I wasn't doing nothing, and the judge gave me thirty days."

Not So Gentle.

Let poets sing of gentle spring
If it relieves their mind,
But still the weather man will ring
Us in the rough house kind.

Some Mistake.

"Is Mrs. Gigg a truthful woman?"

"Painfully so. She knew Senator Primrose when he was a young man and does not claim that he wanted to marry her."

Natural.

And that was the reason
He blew out the gas.

MAN AT THE HELM.

His Strength and All Round Ability Suit the Household Smoothly.

In these days of dissatisfaction with women servants housewives should meet the problem. There is a time to stop this condition of affairs, and the time is at hand. It is an evident fact that servants must be forthcoming and not only servants, but satisfactory servants. There is no use in dillydallying any longer.

Men can be taught how to do any kind of work, and a green man is no more difficult to teach than is a green girl, but when it is possible it is always better to hire a man that has had some experience in housework. Sometimes an aged man can be secured for very low wages. He may be slow in his movements, and yet because of his experience he will accomplish a great amount of work. Sometimes there is a poor man who has tried and failed to get the employment he desires, but who will take anything he can get. One such did the main part of the work in a three story and basement house, including the washing, for a family of three ladies and one young man. Man is especially valuable at the house cleaning period. The ease with which he takes down bedsteads and puts them up again, the swiftness with which he carries mattresses to the yard and the common sense way in which he beats and suns them appeal to any careful housewife, as does also the man's thorough beating of the rugs and carpets, his polishing of the windows, no matter how difficult they are to reach or how heavy to lift.

A woman house cleaner, no matter how willing she may be, could not compete with such a man, for physically she is not strong enough to do what is denominated heavy work, and when she makes an attempt at heavy work the usual result is unsatisfactory. Men do not mind the taking down of stoves or carrying coal to the top of a house, whereas such work to the ordinary serving woman brings severely sharp pain to her side or back.

Therefore, if only for conscience's sake, employ a man, for if Bridget goes to the hospital after her work is over the blame must be put where it belongs.

Manservants have a larger aptitude for work than have women. It is rare when they say of anything, "That is not my work," and because they are so competent, because of their all around ability, they make themselves more valuable. Even catering and marketing may satisfactorily be left to the man at the helm. And why should a woman labor under responsibility that she can set aside?

Shift responsibility when you can and keep the care lines out of your face. Secure the most experienced man that you can afford. Put that man at the helm, and you will have more hours of ease than you have hitherto imagined were possible. A trustworthy man can steer any home safely into the most comfortable harbor.—Emma J. Gray in Ladies' World.

McCoy were also of much assistance to the scoring division by their skilful play. McCabe was always conspicuous by his good work and though he was watched very closely he frequently shone. Angleye played a neat game at inside home and shot well.

Hastings presented a fast team and should have no reason to feel downcast over the defeat as as they played good lacrosse. Clapper at point is a peach and gave a splendid exhibition of defence play. Ed. Scriver also did very effective work, playing a cool and steady game. On the home L. Rice and Dodd were always prominent. The team is well balanced and play good clean lacrosse.

Burt, of Port Hope refereed, giving perfect satisfaction to both teams. He was strict and impartial and always had the players well in hand.

The play was loose at the start with neither team having any material advantage. After thirteen minutes' play Dodd got an opening and scored from a close shot. Two minutes afterwards, McCabe passed to McCoy, who made a pretty run and scored from a neat side shot. After three minutes McCabe gathered in a pass and scored, putting the T.A.S. ahead by 2—1. Two of the T.A.S. and one Hastings man were disciplined in this quarter.

In the second quarter, McCarthy scored in four minutes, from a pass behind the goal posts. In eight minutes more the T.A.S. again drew ahead, Angleye scoring from a scrimmage. Two players from each side were ruled off in this period.

There was no more scoring in the last two quarters, though there were several narrow escapes. Three of the visitors and four of the T.A.S. were given rests for minor infractions. The game ended with the score 3—2 in favour of the Total Abstainers.

It is claimed by Hastings that their team lost the game on Saturday because one of their players did not belong to the Total Abstainers.

COLTS MADA A GOOD SHOWING

Local Cricket Team Played in Lindsay Saturday.

The "Colts" met their Waterloo in Lindsay on Saturday, being defeated by the Lindsay Collegiate team by 98 to 33.

Lindsay certainly won on their merits. They are a very hard-hitting team, excellent in bowling and fielding and make few misplays. Owing to the unavoidable absence of a couple of the regular team the "Colts" were rather demoralized and their fielding was anything but clean. At bat they appeared equally unfortunate, Weller, Hall and Main being the only ones to make fair scores. The latter in some unaccountable manner was hit six times and twice retired injured. Despite this handicap he played a careful bat and was the last wicket to fall.

For Lindsay, Harstone, Koyl, Warner and Hooper batted in fine style, but superb bowling on the part of Moore and Burritt kept their scores down and finally retired them.

In reality the showing made by the Colts is distinctly creditable. The Lindsay team embraced ten senior men and had defeated St. Andrew's and Varsity II. and T.C.S. Not anticipating such opposition the Colts played a strictly junior team and consequently their defeat was a foregone conclusion.

A return game will be played on the Oval on July 12th and the Colts have every intention of returning their lost laurels.

In the meantime a game with the Albions of Toronto has been arranged for July 1st and should prove good practice.

CHURCH CHIMES.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

At the Charlotte street church yesterday the pastor preached on the morning and Rev. J. Bastow in the the evening. At the morning service the anthem, "Christian, the Morn Breaks O'er Thee," was rendered with good effect. During the offertory Mrs. C. B. McAllister sang "The Heavenly Threshhold," in an expressive manner. At the evening service, the male quartette, Messrs. Friend, Breininger, Jolliffe and Dormer, sang "Sweet Sabbath Eve," and Miss C. Ballegbem and Mr. S. Mitchell sang "Love Divine, all Love Excelling."

SERMON TO A.O.F. BY REV. J.G. POTTER

An Eloquent Discourse Last Evening at St. Andrew's.

Large Turnout of the Members of the Order—The Music.

Last evening, the members of Court Stanley, Ancient Order of Foresters attended Divine Service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. There was a large turnout of the members of the Order, who heard an inspiring and eloquent sermon preached by the Rev. J. G. Potter. The service was in every particular a most interesting one and the exercises were heartily appreciated by all present.

The preacher took for his text the words "Notwithstanding in this rejoice not that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in Heaven," Luke 10; 20. Rev. Mr. Potter said it afforded him great pleasure to be granted the opportunity of addressing the members of the Society represented before him and on behalf of the congregation, he extended them a hearty welcome. He was delighted to have the members present, and welcoming them, he wished the Order every success and Godspeed in their work. If length of days were cause of pride or hope of permanency of existence, this Order should have every reason to have this experience. They had an honourable record covering over a century and one of there members had been connected with the local Order for nearly 60 years. In early years, the Society had been founded on a strong foundation. The first sentence of the first Chief Ranger to the Order was, "Brethren before commencement of business of this Order, let us lift our hearts to God and beg His blessing and instruction in all our proceedings." Your forefathers built a strong foundation, said Mr. Potter and you as loyal sons are led to reap the benefits.

Our Heavenly Father, desires the fraternal Orders to keep in close touch with the Christian Church. The fraternal side of the Order was touched upon by the speaker, who said that the work of relieving the sick and depressed was doing work pleasing in the sight of the Creator. It was acting the part of the good Samaritan, of the true neighbour and they recognized the one Divine Head in their work. The motto of the Forester was "Unitas, Benevolentia and Concordia."

There were nearly 256,000 members, and in Ontario there was a surplus at the present time of about $530,000 after a great amount has been expended in benevolent and other purposes. Their record was one which should fill all the members with delight. It was well to count the blessings and see what had been accomplished in His name by the efforts put forth along Christian lines. We should all stand by these organizations which were doing benevolent work, and taking part in the betterment of mankind, and uplifting of humanity. The great work entrusted to organizations such as your own are but expressions of Him who came to lead all to a better life, and to recognize love and sympathy for all the brotherhood of man.

Christ wishes us to enjoy the same happiness and joy which we endeavour to impart to the world at large. The greatest happiness possible to experience is to know that our names were written in Heaven. We should be friends of Him, the Friend of all friends, and Brother of all brothers. It was ours to rejoice that ye were privileged to do work for the Master, and that our names were written in the Lamb's book of life. We should all co-operate in the work of destroying Satan's power and establishing Christ's Kingdom of righteousness and good-will. All should recognize that if we see any value in adding our quota in the work for God we should believe truly in the work, and enter into it heartily, striving for the blessing of mankind, the purity of womanhood, the benediction of the children, and the establishment of the brotherhood of man.

The time would come when we must cast off the brotherhood of every fraternity, and then it would be that we could not rejoice in the temporal pleasures or momentary happiness, but in the realization that our names were written in Heaven. Our names would be erased from the Forestry roll on earth but would always remain on the roll above. Christ gives us the assurance that it will never be blotted out. Let us hear the voice of the great Master in carrying out practical Christian work, in battling the issues that confront us, and in caring for the needs of our fellowmen. Let us seek to raise up and cause to rejoice those which are fallen and proclaim the spirit of man who died for our sins.

The music at the service was of special interest. The opening selection by the church quartette was tastefully sung. Miss Miller sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus say," in excellent voice, and the anthem "The King of Love," was sung most effectively. During the offertory a solo was rendered by Mr. A. E. Young in his usual successful manner.

THE MAP PROOFREADER.

His Work is Done Slowly and With Extraordinary Care.

"I thought I knew my business until I took a job holding copy in a mapmaking establishment," said a veteran proofreader. "The change from the rush of a morning newspaper to the leisurely work of an encyclopedia was queer enough. It was three weeks before I began to feel that I was earning my salary. It takes about two weeks to read the proof of a good map. If it is a business atlas, particularly comprehensive as to small towns, we linger over a proof and its successive revises for a month or six weeks before the final electrotype is made. In mapmaking it is not only essential that every town should be in the map, but that it should be in precisely the right place. The man who is buying a map or an atlas has no use for it unless it gives accurate information about the city or town where he was born, where his wife was born and where he was married. The first thing a prospective purchaser does when shown a new atlas by a canvasser is to look up one or all of these points. If his native town or city is not there he won't bother to take another glance at the book. If it is there, but not in its precise location on some river or bay, he does not hesitate to say he has no high opinion of the atlas. The motto of our business seems to be 'Get it all in and get it in right.'"

NAMES OF NUMBERS.

Why Twelve Is Called a Dozen and Twenty a Score.

"Dozen" is from the French douzaine, a collection of articles generally numbered together. It is used in the Herefordshire poems, 1290, and shows French for the first time encroaching upon English numerals. This enshrines a great historical fact, for from 1220 to 1280 it was the custom to look to France as leader of all Europe in art, chivalry, fashion, war and learning.

"Score" for twenty came into the language nearly at the same time, but was not exclusively French. It comes from the Anglo-Saxon scor, the root of shear, shire, scar, and means to cut. Our ancestors, to avoid the difficulty of large numbers, used to keep accounts by cutting notches in a stick, called a tally, and after twenty such notches they cut off the tally, which thus became a "score." These were used in England for keeping the exchequer accounts, even to the beginning of the nineteenth century. A cricket score was once spoken of as so many notches, and the rind of pork is scored. The word is first used in a poem called "The Bestiary" and in "Cursor Mundi."—London Answers.

PAPER MAKING MACHINES.

They Were Invented by Louis Robert, a Young Frenchman.

The inventor of machinery for paper making, as distinguished from mere pulping machines, was Louis Robert, a clerk in the employment of Messrs. Didot of the Essonnes paper mills, near Paris. In 1798 he completed a small model for a continuous web of paper on an endless wire cloth, to which rotary motion was applied. Continuous length was thus secured, though at first the width was only that of an ordinary piece of tape.

A machine soon followed producing a width of twenty-four inches, for which Robert had a patent from the French government and a reward of 6,000 francs. Messrs. Didot bought this patent and the machines, and in 1801 induced a well known English firm — Fourdrinnier — to take it up. Helped by a clever young mechanic named Donkin of Dartford paper mills they so improved the machinery that a Fourdrinnier machine is still the practical equipment of every paper making establishment the world over. —London Globe.

Unaired Beds.

There is a story told of the eminent Dr. Abernethy, who was as blunt as he was learned. He was called to prescribe for an old lady in failing health, who prided herself upon being and who looked the very pink of neatness. Her dress was spotless and her cap immaculate, and her friends spoke of her as that "sweet old lady." After much questioning, which was almost impertinent, and a careful diagnosis of the case the doctor said gruffly, "Madam, you are ill because of filth." Of course she was horrified, but he went on, "Your bed is not properly aired, and in consequence you are being slowly poisoned to death."

The Helvetian Ladies.

The most celebrated warlike women among the ancients, apart from the fabled amazons, were the Helvetian ladies. Caesar praises highly their military achievements. In more than one instance the legions of Rome turned their backs on the fair ones of Switzerland. During the crusades women often performed the most romantic and chivalrous deeds, dying cheerfully by the sides of their lovers and husbands.

STYLES FOR THE STREET.

Smart and Trig Tailor Gowns, Coats, Hats and Parasols.

Very trig and desirable is a shepherd plaid of silk and wool tailor cashmere smartly made for street wear. The skirt is one of the models most admired and sure to gain in prestige. There are two box plaits in the front, two in the back and side plaits filling in the spaces between, loosening out the bottom in good lines. An Eton bodice closed from above the bust line has a plaited postillion in the back and is belted in with a belt of the same plaid inlet with white silk, black soutache lines and a line of red cloth. The bodice from the bust upward back and front is covered with bias strap lines interfolded into a design and appearing in a broad band upon the tops of the sleeves, below which the full sleeve balloons out. A fitted gauntlet has upon its edge lines the same soutache and color effects as upon the belt and in addition a medium ruffle of lace. The same ruffling trims the neck, which has a stock band repeating the same red, white and black, but adding as well a black silk cravat with short shawl ends so folded that a jabot of white lace falls under each sharp end.

The cut shows a walking gown of mixed cheviot trimmed with black braid. The over collar and cuffs of heavy white linen are scalloped and embroidered in black and white.

Short coats in black and dark colored silks prevail in two styles, one in which the skirt hangs in machine plaitings, or box plaits and gaugings, the other in loose sack fashion. Shoulder capes broaden out the shoulders, and wide sleeves are plaited into big cuffs or gathered into straight wristbands. In birdseye pongee they are very handsome, trimmed over the shoulders with hanging straps of string colored macrame lace in different lengths back and front, with cuffs of the same. Heracules braid in broad widths trims both the white and ecru silk coats as well as the pale champagne cloths.

WALKING DRESS.

Extremely picturesque are the red linen and white canvas short coats, with full skirts and big sleeves. A red coat of this sort has a shoulder collar which begins with Bulgarian embroidery and after a few inches of color riot shapes itself by a series of red taffeta shaped folds into a wide shoulder cape. There is white lace at the throat and for sleeve cuff trimming. The white canvas coat is sack style, with a pointed hood of the same, lined with white silk, edged with blue velvet.

The decrease in size of toque and turban has met with great favor. As for full dress picture hats, they remain quite as large as before.

Pongee linen and the real pongees are always the sort of knockabout parasols that have a large following as the summer season draws near. Dark silks in single or in changeable tones—green, blues, plums and golden browns—are seldom missing as coverings for the "en cas" umbrella in what might be called "shower size," a compromise between a rain umbrella and a parasol. In this style are found long distance coaching or sun umbrellas in scarlet, leaf green, bluet blue, strawberry pink and golden tans.—Vogue.

A GREAT BATTLE EXPECTED DAILY

Japs Steadily March on Russians' Entrenched Position.

MAOTIEN PASS IS THE SPOT

Two Japanese Armies and the Russian Army Number Three Hundred Thousand Men and They are Almost Within Deadly Touch of Each Other—May be Decisive Battle of the Campaign.

With Gen. Kuroki, in the field, June 25, via Fusan (Delayed in transmission).—The Japanese have advanced for two days, and a battle is expected in Maotien Pass, where the Russians are entrenched. A Russian outpost of 300 retreated before the Japanese.

May Be Decisive Battle.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's despatch received last night confirms the belief that the great decisive battle of the campaign between Gen. Kuropatkin's main army and the armies of Generals Oku and Kuroki is imminent. The three armies probably aggregate 300,000 men, and their outposts are to-day in touch all along the line.

Japs Continue to Advance.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—The general staff has received the following despatch from Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff, dated June 26:

"There is reason to suppose that a considerable force of the enemy proceeded from the Wangtsia Station in the direction of the mountains, marching northward toward the Chapan Pass. Our patrols on June 25 noticed that the Japanese were beginning to move along the northern Siuyen-Kaichou road from Toutakau and Pantsiapel, in the direction of Waitn Pass.

"The enemy on June 25 undertook to advance from Seluchan toward the Liaoyang main road, and also along the road leading to the Maotien Pass, thru Tangputze and Tafangku, 11 miles northwest of Seluchan. A battalion advanced along the Liaoyang main road and a regiment of infantry and two squadrons of cavalry along the valley of the Tsao River. A battalion and two squadrons marched westward in the direction of the mountains.

"The enemy on the main road was first stopped by two companies of sharpshooters constituting our van posts, which slowly retired northward. Reinforced by two companies, the enemy at 2.30 in the afternoon occupied Tsinpu. The sharpshooters retired north toward Phakhessan, 22 miles north of Seluchan. Our losses were Lieut. Oglobeff and five sharpshooters wounded.

"On June 25, about a battalion of Japanese infantry marching out from Tangputze, five miles northward of Seluchan, along the road to the Maotien Pass, was repulsed by two companies of our sharpshooter outposts near Tafangku. The sharpshooters fell back at first upon Urtungti and then upon Kentsiaputze. Capt. Yanchuevsky, in command of one company of the sharpshooters, was wounded. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Ryschkoff of the Red Cross and Capt. Yanchukovsky was being carried to the rear on a stretcher when the Japanese rushed on from the flank. Three stretcher bearers were wounded and captured and Capt. Yanchukovsky and Ryschkoff were also captured. We also had two sharpshooters killed, and Lieut. Serpukhovitinoff and thirteen sharpshooters wounded.

Tramp of the Japs Continues.

"During the night of June 25 the enemy, a regiment of infantry and a regiment of cavalry strong, remained at Tuinpu. At 9 o'clock on the morning of June 26 a Japanese battalion marched along the Siuyen-Haichong road from Stokhedza, in the direction of Vandziapudza. The enemy's infantry and mountain guns followed the vanguard at midday. The enemy also resumed the advance on the morning of June 26 from Tuinpu, in the direction of Ikhakhesun, along the main road, by the road to the Maotien defile, thru Urlundi, and by the mountainous road to the Madiapudze Pass, turning our right. The enemy located in the Maotien Pass. At least a regiment of infantry, with artillery, was ordered to proceed along the main road to Liaoyang. This detachment reached Tidiavaiza at 9 a.m. We have received no further report regarding this movement.

Continuous Firing Heard.

London, June 28.—The Standard's Tokio correspondent reports from Chinese sources that continuous firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur from the afternoon of June 25 to the morning of June 26.

Jap Boat Sunk.

Che Foo, June 28.—Chinese arriving in junks from the vicinity of Port Arthur report that the Russians have ordered all Chinese to leave the place. A number of shells fell in the town of Port Arthur during the bombardment by the Japanese on June 23, but no damage was done, many of them failing to explode. A Japanese officer, who went on board one of the junks off the Miaotao Islands, 75 miles south of Port Arthur, told the Chinese that one Japanese torpedo boat was damaged during the engagement off Port Arthur on June 23 and sank in the Gulf of Pechili. The officer stated that two other Japanese torpedo boats were badly damaged.

Condemned Allanton.

Vladivostock, June 28.—The prize court has condemned the British steamer Allanton (captured by the Russian Vladivostock squadron recently in the Straits of Corea) for carrying contraband of war, and has confiscated the ship and her cargo of 6,500 tons of anthracite coal, valued at $500,000. The firm at Singapore, to which the coal was consigned, is the same concern that supplied Japan with contraband during the Japanese-Chinese war. The Japanese schooner captured by the Russian torpedo boats at the time of the recent raid has also been condemned. The captains of the prizes are allowed a month in which to appeal.

Fisheries of Georgian Bay.

Ottawa, June 28.—The commission to investigate vexed questions arising in connection with the fisheries of the Georgian Bay will hold sittings as follows: Aug. 5, Sault Ste. Marie; Aug. 6, Thessalon; Aug. 8, Manitowaning; Aug. 9, Little Current; Aug. 11, Killarney; Aug. 18, Depot Harbor; Aug. 16; Midland; Aug. 18, Collingwood; Aug. 20, Owen Sound. The members of the commission have not yet been chosen. The provincial authorities are anxious to have S. T. Bastedo on the commission.

Immorality Among Indians.

Ottawa, June 28.—Complaints have lately been made of an extensive traffic in liquor with Indians along the shores of Lake Winnipeg, which has resulted in great immorality. It has therefore been determined to establish a lockup at Norway House, at the northern end of Lake Winnipeg, and also to locate posts at Black River, Bering River, Poplar River and Warren's Landing. A detachment of police will also accompany the Indian agents on their official visits to the reservations.

Apology Not Sufficient.

Berlin, June 28.—The Government has decided to send a warship to Port Au Prince, Hayti, after having agreed with the French Government that a simple apology was not sufficient reparation on the part of the Government of Hayti for the recent stoning of the French and German ministers by the palace guards at the Haytian capital.

SERVICES WERE MUCH APPRECIATED

An Address to Rev. Dr. Crothers at Belleville on Sunday

Previous to his Departure for Peterboro —His Work was very Highly Appreciated

The Belleville Intelligencer says: At Bridge Street Church last Sunday evening when the pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers had concluded his sermon, a deputation consisting of Mayor Chown, Messrs. W. R. Aylsworth, Wm. Johnson and F. E. O'Flynn, as representing the congregation, took seats upon the platform. Mr. Aylsworth in a few well chosen words stated their object, namely, to express to Dr. Crothers the congregation's appreciation of his services as their pastor, whose duties in such a capacity were about completed.

Mr. Wm. Johnson then read the following address which speaks for itself:

Rev. Dr. Crothers, M.A., D.D.,

Dear Dr. Crothers,—Ere you leave for Peterborough, the congregation of Bridge Street Methodist Church to whom you have ministered so faithfully for four years, wish to express their appreciation of these services.

While you have most assiduously looked after every interest of "the Flock over which the Holy Spirit hath made you overseer" you have been specially mindful of the children and youth and therein have shown you were the best kind of a shepherd.

Your constant attendance at our Sunday School and the Epworth League of Christian Endeavour, as also in conducting a class for teachers' study and training have been specially helpful.

Your sympathy with and unremitting attentions to the unusual number who have been ill, have merited our praise.

By resolutions of our Boards and as individuals we have during your pastorate told you frequently how much we admired and were grateful for your pulpit and platform utterances, especially on questions of moral reform and National importance, and for these, again, we ask you to accept our thanks.

Our records show that when you came to Belleville the membership of our church was 510 and although 36 members have died, and 141 removed, the number is now 670. For this substantial development we praise the Holy Spirit and gladly acknowledge your part in it.

Very heartily Bridge Street congregation wishes you more abundant success in the future, and earnestly desire for Mrs. Crothers, your daughters and yourself the choicest blessings of heaven.

On behalf of the congregation,
W. R. Aylsworth, Chair.
W. W. Chown,
F. E. O'Flynn,
Wm. Johnson, Sec.

Belleville, June 20th, 1904.

Dr. Crothers replied in a brief but appropriate manner. He thanked the congregation for their kind expressions. What he had done, as their pastor, had been to him a labour of love. He had many friends here, and his residence in Belleville had been of great benefit to him, physically and otherwise. He referred to four very important events which had taken place whilst he had been their pastor, namely, the death of Queen Victoria, the coronation of King Edward, the ending of the Boer war and the Bi-Centenary of John Wesley. His pastorate here was at a close, but he would be succeeded by one who was a grand man and one of the best preachers in the conference. He thanked them for the kind references made to his wife and daughters. He wished for the Bridge street church God's richest blessing.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn led the congregation in prayer for Dr. Crothers and family, and Mayor Chown closed the service by asking all to join in the appropriate hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," and also prayed for Dr. Crothers.

At the Sunday school in the afternoon an affectionate farewell was taken of Dr. Crothers, in which each officer shook hands with their pastor and all the teachers on behalf of their classes said Good-bye.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION WAS A SUCCESS

Very Enjoyable Trip Down the River Last Evening.

Last evening the Epworth League of the George street Methodist church ran a moonlight excursion down the river per steamer Sovereign. The event was attended by a large number of young people, who heartily pleasant sail down the river under the shining rays of a full moon. The boat ran about five miles down the river, returning about midnight.

The George street orchestra played several selections to enliven the proceedings, and Mr. Chas. Deverlux's vocal numbers were also greatly appreciated. The refreshment booth did a flourishing trade throughout the evening.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my children but five months, then would have a miscarriage. The last time I became pregnant, my husband got me to take Lydia E. ARMY REFORM IN ENGLAND

Drastic Measures Said to be in Contemptation.

London, June 25.—The London Express says: The reconstruction of the army, which is a counterpart to war office reconstitution, is still engaging the attention of the government, but an early statement will be made by Mr. Arnold-Foster on the subject. The most drastic measure contemplated is a general reduction among regiments possessing more than two battalions. The Guards are included, and it is likely that the whole battalion of the Third Scots will be struck off the establishment. The reason lies in the paucity of recruits, the brigade of Guards being 1100 men and over 30 officers short. The Irish Guards are not to have their contemplated second battalion, and the Grenadiers and Coldstreams will probably lose 100 men each. Great efforts are to be made, under the direction of Major-General H. S. G. Miles, to reorganize the recruiting for the army. He will be assisted by Colon l Crutchley of the Guards; Captain C. Mansel-Jones, V.C., and Major Dykes. The general improvements which will be effected include the following: Better barracks and more allowances; greater freedom to soldiers; lodging list to be extended; Khaki to be superseded by a more becoming cloth; a better head-dress for walking out; long and short service; a new territorial organization; complete scheme for home defence work; creation of a real army reserve. For the present Mr. Arnold-Forster will be unable to make any satisfactory statement with regard to the application of the Esher reforms to the regeneration of the war office. The deadlock with the treasury continues, and the scheme for the establishment of a general staff, or brain of the army for war, is suspended, because the treasury have refused to find the money. No further appointments are, therefore, being gazetted at present.

Here is a chance for hysterical party yellow journals. Here we have a direct insult to Lord Dundonald and his nationality worse than saying that he is a "stranger" to Canadian conditions. We find the presumptive and irreverent war office authorities actually wiping out the Third Scotts regiment altogether, while other regiments, Irish and English, are simply reduced. Then the reformers of the army system are blocked in their patriotic efforts by the same cause which confronted Lord Dundonald. Recommendations have been made which the British Treasury cannot or will not find money for carrying out. Lord Dundonald recommended reforms which would cost about twelve millions a year, and naturally the Government didn't think the country could spare that considerable sum for the sake of becoming a great military nation—for defences which are not so urgently needed as to justify employing about quarter of our annual revenue to carry out. Yet we do not find the British newspapers slanging hanging the government, and abusing the first Lord of the Treasurery. The British press is above sacrificing decency, common sense, the interests of the militia and the interests of the country to an insane desire to make party capital.

CIVIL POWER ABOVE MILITARY.

Canadians Must be Subject to the Civil in Preference to Military Law.

Lord Dundonald's Action a Virtual Attempt to Make Military Override the Civil Power.

The following from the Globe clearly defines the question involved in the Dundonald incident, as between the supremacy of the Civil or Military power:

The externals and accidents of the controversy between Lord Dundonald and the Government are petty enough, but the principle at stake is of fundamental importance to Canada. The disagreement over the officering of a newly-organized regiment was, as Lord Dundonald himself declares in his manifesto, only an incident, which he made the occasion, but which was not the cause, of his outbreak against the Government. At bottom the controversy is, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier has asserted, the age-long conflict between the military and the civil power. Whatever views on Government Lord Dundonald may hold, whatever creed he may subscribe and profess, his conduct as General Officer Commanding during his two years' service in Canada has not been consistent with Canadian opinion on responsible government and the supremacy of the civil power. And in that he has not only offended against the fundamental principle of our free and responsible institutions, but he has awakened doubts in the minds of many of his admirers, despite his splendid personal qualities and brilliant military career, as to his fitness for administrative service under responsible popular government.

Canada is definitely and unreservedly democratic in its theories of government. There are those among us who confess a preference for a modified autocracy. That question is not now an open question. Our system of government is settled. The Administration is responsible to the people. The Department of Militia and Defence, like all other departments in the Administration, is under the direct control of a responsible Minister. The General Officer Commanding is the military adviser of the Canadian Government, holds his appointment from the Government, is responsible to the Militia Department of the Government, and is the subordinate of the Minister of Militia and Defence. That subordination of office is not affected by any personal facts or considerations. Were the Lord Roberts himself, were he the angel Michael, so long as Canada holds to responsible government the military adviser of the Government must be subject to the civil power; the General Officer Commanding must be the adviser but not the dictator to the Minister of Militia.

This is not a question personal to Sir Frederick Borden and Lord Dundonald. The one may be all his enemies say he is, the other more than his record proves him to be. The fact remains that the Minister of Militia and the Government of which he is a member are responsible to the people of Canada for their management of the Militia Department and for every expenditure upon it, while the General Officer Commanding has no responsibility save to the Government, whose appointee he is, and to himself. From the very beginning Lord Dundonald seems to have misconceived his duty and responsibility. He talked not only to the Government, but to the public, about a military policy and military expenditure, and on at least one occasion last year seems to have presented a policy which the Government had neither considered nor approved. And at last he made his appeal against the decisions of the Minister of Militia, and the acting Minister, not to the Government, to whom he was responsible, but first to a company of military banqueters at Montreal, and then to the newspaper public, from whom he received no authority, and to whom he owed no responsibility. It was that deliberate and persistent disregard of his official duty and responsibility, not any postprandial expression of irritation with the Hon. Sydney Fisher, that made Lord Dundonald's removal from office, no matter how regrettable, an absolute necessity.

And this is no question of party politics. No matter what party is in power at Ottawa, the supreme authority of the Government over the militia and the military commander must be maintained. In his ignorance of the Canadian situation, and in his determination absolutely to disregard politics, Lord Dundonald may have fallen a victim of wily and unscrupulous Tory militarists, who, professing to co-operate with him in his laudable efforts to improve the Canadian militia, encouraged his irritation against the deliberateness of the Militia Department, and misled him as to the trend and temper of public opinion, in order that through this inevitable outbreak the Government might be harassed. The exigencies of party may, indeed, account for the mad course taken by opponents of the Government in Parliament and in the press, but nothing can justify a Canadian in forswearing his Canadian citizenship, as Mr. F. D. Monk did in Parliament the other day, when he declared a General Officer Commanding brought from England 'must be given carte blanche.' No man "must be given carte blanche" in a free country under responsible government, not the Governor-General himself, not even the King. That "carte blanche" notion was disposed of long ago, so far as civil authority is concerned. And it is this incurable desire for "carte blanche" on the part of a few military extremists, and the disposition to pander to it on the part of short-sighted civilians, that make it of capital importance to Canada that incipient militarism be resolutely withstood, and the military policy and expenditure of the country be directly, immediately and absolutely controlled by a Minister and a Government constitutionally responsible to the Canadian people.

THIRTY-THREE KILLED.

Death in a Canadian Enterprise in Jamaica —Investigation in Progress.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 28.—Thirty-three persons were killed by an accident which occurred near Spanishtown (ten miles west of Kingston) yesterday in the main conduit of the West India Electric Co., which operates the street cars from Kingston and the shareholders of which are principally Canadians.

Nearly 100 laborers had been detailed to remove sand from the enormous pipe, which is a mile long, and which conveys water from the intake on the Rio Cobre to the turbines of the power-house. The work had been practically completed when orders were given to allow a small quantity of water to enter the conduit.

Through misapprehension, accident, or carelessness, the full force of water was turned on and a mad struggle to escape by means of the manholes ensued, with the result that 33 persons were killed.

An investigation into the cause is now in progress.

Child Died From Burns.

St. Catharines, June 28.—A fire occurred at Merritton at 11 o'clock on Sunday evening which resulted fatally. A lamp exploded in a house owned by Charles Doyle and occupied by Mrs. Lafferty. The damage to the property was very slight, as the fire was soon extinguished, but not before two of Mrs. Lafferty's daughters, Florence, aged 15, and Ethel, aged 9, were badly burned. They were removed to the hospital in this city, where Florence died yesterday morning. Ethel is doing nicely.

Young Woman Burned.

Toronto, June 28.—In the effort to extinguish some burning curtains which had caught fire from a match carelessly thrown towards an open window after lighting a gas stove, Miss Katie A. Roe, whose mother is housekeeper for Dr. Adams, at 44 East Queen street, was very seriously burned yesterday afternoon, the upper part of her garments being entirely consumed. The medical authorities expect her to recover, although her injuries are severe.

Lost An Eye.

St. Thomas, June 28.—Edwin Hill, a 15-year-old boy, son of Mrs. J. Hill, 65 Hincks street, while striking a wire nail hit with such force it flew up, hitting the eye and puncturing it. A surgeon found it necessary to remove the injured optic.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

BRITISH FIGHT THIBETANS.

Required Four Hours Hand-to-Hand Fight, Artillery and Infantry, to Drive Them Out of Monastery.

Gyangtse, Thibet, June 28.—General Macdonald, with reinforcements, entered Gyangtse June 26, after a somewhat severe fight with the Thibetans at the Naini monastery, six miles distant. The monastery was strongly held by the Thibetans, who were only driven out after four hours of artillery, infantry and hand-to-hand fighting.

The British force lost five men killed and six wounded. The Thibetans' loss was considerable, but the estimated numbers were not given out.

EXPERIENCE OF A BIRCHTOWN LADY

Tried in Vain to Cure Her Dyspepsia till She Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Cured Her Completely and Permanently

Miss Mary Brown, of Birchtown, Shelburne County, N. S., relates an experience that is of interest to thousands of people in all parts of Canada. These thousands are the people who face a square meal with mingled feelings of pleasure and dred, in other words the victims of indigestion and Dyspepsia.

"I can say I had Dyspepsia for some time," says Miss Brown. "I tried many medicines but never met with anything to help me till I used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"After taking three boxes I think they have made a perfect cure. And as it is over a year now since I took them I think you can say the cure was a permanent one."

If you want to eat three square meals a day and enjoy them use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Wireless Station Working.

Montreal, June 28.—The first of the seven wireless stations which are being built by the Marconi Company under agreement with the Canadian Government was opened for traffic last Saturday evening. It is situated at Fame Point, 320 miles below Quebec. The first steamer in connection with it was the Parisian, outward bound from Montreal to Liverpool. A large number of messages, mostly congratulatory, were exchanged. The second station will be ready in a fortnight and two others before the end of August.

Was Ralph Hurlow.

Toronto, June 28.—The young man drowned in the Don on Sunday was Ralph Hurlow, a C. P. R. fireman, who boarded at Toronto Junction.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. Menogue presented the report of the Equalization and Assessment Committee, which recommended as follows:—

The committee recommends:— That all the municipalities comprising the County of Peterborough, be assessed for the purpose of County Rates, at the value set forth in the schedule hereto annexed and that such valuation shall be the equalized assessment for County purposes for the year 1904.

Your committee recommends that this council determine that this council is willing to have the final equalization of the assessment in case of Appeal made by the County Judge.

The report was adopted.

In accordance with the above report, Mr. Curtis moved the first reading of a bylaw carrying out the provisions of the report. The bylaw was given its several readings.

At the conclusion of the business of the session, Mr. Hunter complimented the committee on the work accomplished by them. He thought it very creditable that the rate was the same as last year, since this year Ashburnham, with a revenue of about $1,000, is lost to the county.

He referred to the new clerk and treasurer, complimenting him on the able manner in which he had filled the position, particularly since he had had such a short time to familiarize himself with the duties of the office.

This closed the June session of the council, which adjourned to meet on Novemeber 23rd, or earlier, if called by the warden.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

OBITUARY.

Sad Death of Mrs. John King After Short Illness.

The death occurred to-day about noon of Nellie McAuliffe, wife of John King, at the residence of her mother, 704 Water street. The deceased was 24 years of age, and had been ill for about two weeks with inflammation. The death is a particularly sad one in view of the short length of time that the deceased has been a wife, having been married less than a year. She leaves one child. The funeral will take place from the family residence, 704 Water street; the date of the funeral, however, has not been set.

DELIGHTFUL GARDEN PARTY ON ST. JOHN'S HILL

A Charming Social Evening—The Band Makes Beautiful Music.

The garden party which took place last night on the beautiful lawns of St. John's church, passed off most successfully. The Women's Auxiliary, under whose auspices the affair was given, are to be congratulated upon the excellent manner in which every detail of the arrangements was carried out. The grounds were beautifully decorated for the occasion, there being electric lights in profusion, while white tented booths picturesquely dotted the smooth green slope of the hill. It was not ideal weather for a garden party, being somewhat cool, but the attendance was large and the young ladies who attended on the refreshment stands were kept busily engaged. The band of the 57th Regiment occupied a position immediately in front of the church, and rendered a splendid programme, which was very much appreciated. The Rector and many of the church officials were present, and assisted in making the evening pleasant for the many strangers who attended. It was a delightfully successful evening, especially on the social side, which it was the object to particularize emphasize.

MATTER OF IMPORTANCE TO BICYLE RIDERS

Regarding the Sidewalk from Water Street over Railroad Bridge, Through the Auburn Property.

An information was laid recently by the Chief of Police against a member of the Peterborough Golf Club for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk constructed from the east side of Water street to the railway bridge and over the railway bridge to the sidewalk on the Auburn mill property on the east side of the river. The case was dealt with in the police court this morning. It was urged in defence that the sidewalk in question and the sidewalk on the bridge did not constitute a sidewalk on a street or public place within the meaning of the bylaw. The Court held that inasmuch as the sidewalk was built on the west side of the bridge over land granted by the Auburn Milling Company to the corporation of the Town of Peterborough for that purpose and the sidewalk out of the bridge was dedicated by the Grand Trunk Railway Company for sidewalk purposes and the Grand Trunk Railway Company constructed for a public sidewalk a little piece of sidewalk from the east end of the bridge to the boundary of the Auburn property, that all that sidewalk was a public place within the meaning of the bylaw, and riding on it with bicycles was a violation of the bylaw. The sidewalk on the east side of the river, on the Auburn Company property has not been, by any instrument dedicated to the town for sidewalk, or other purposes and is not a public place, and so far as any offence was charged for riding on that part through the Auburn Company's property on the east of the bridge, there was no offence and as the charge was laid for the purpose of determining a question of law, no fine was imposed, none being sought.

STAR OF THE EAST GOLD MINES PROGRESSING

Preparations Being Made for Erecting the Stamp Mills

Mr. E. J. Cowain, superintendent of the Star of the East Gold Mines, in town yesterday in the interests of the new stamp mill for the works. The shaft in the northern vein has been sunk about 130 feet, with, Mr. Cowain says, continuously improving show of auriferous quartz, and drifting east and west has begun close to the foot wall. The pipes for the conduit from McCausland Lake to the site of the stamp mill to supply power are in the ground and Mr. Cowain is negotiating for stamp mill machinery. There is a large quantity of quartz in the dump—enough to keep a ton-stamp mill busy for a long time. The pay streak next to the foot wall of the southern vein which assayed $180 dollars at the surface improves in quality, Mr. Cowain says, as it decends, and now scores as high as $196.

GAVE RETIRING PASTOR A PURSE

Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., Remembered by His Congregation.

A POPULAR MINISTER

Congregational Meeting Held Last Night—Many Expressions of Regret at His Departure—Good Work Accomplished by Him.

Last night at the George street church, the last public gathering of the congregation with their pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, was held, the object of the meeting being to bid he and his family farewell, before leaving for their new home in Belleville.

That the congregation regretted his coming departure, was amply evidenced last night, not only by the large attendance, the basement of the church being filled, but by the many expressions of regret given utterance to by those who spoke. The fact was referred to also, and observations attest to its truth, that not only within the bounds of his own congregation, but outside as well, and among the members of other churches, there is a general feeling of sorrow at Mr. Wilson's departure from town. He has served the church here four years, the longest period permitted by the discipline of the Methodist church, and during these four years the church has prospered abundantly, and is now in a much better condition in every way than it has been at any previous period in its history.

The meeting last night was a representative one, attended by all sections of the congregation, and there was a perfect unanimity of opinion with regard to the work done by Rev. Mr. Wilson, and regret that his pastorate was ending.

In the business of Mr. D. W. Dumble, the recording steward of the church, who was to have acted as chairman, these duties were ably performed by Mr. R. J. Winch, the meeting being opened by singing several well-known hymns, in which all heartily joined. Mr. Eyres then led in prayer, and after a short musical programme, consisting of solos by Mr. Mulligan and others, the chairman called Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson to the platform, with Mr. Jeffers and Mr. Eyres as representatives of the congregation.

Mr. Eyres was first called upon to address the meeting, and in doing so said that the church had now arrived at a period where they must say farewell to their esteemed pastor and his family. Mr. Wilson had done excellent work in the George street church, and in his forty years' experience as a local preacher, he had never seen a minister in any church of whom everybody had a good word to say, until Mr. Wilson's stay here had made it possible to say this.

At the last business meeting of the Board, a resolution had been passed expressing the Board's appreciation of the work of Mr. Wilson, but while resolutions were all right, he thought an expression in a more substantial way was better, and this they proposed doing last night.

He hoped that when the prescribed period had passed, Mr. Wilson might come back to Peterborough, and he was sure if he did he would find many warm friends to welcome him, and his family. It was not necessary to refer to the genial and sympathetic nature possessed by Mr. Wilson, for all had been eye-witnesses of the existence of these qualities in him. He thanked God for the good work done by the retiring pastor both as a pastor and as a preacher, and remarked that while the purse, of which Mr. Wilson was to be made the recipient, might not be particularly large, still it would express to him the genuine friendly feeling that exists for him and his family in the hearts of the members of his congregation.

Mr. Eyres then called upon Mr. J. J. Jefferies, who in a brief address presented Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with a purse of money, which, he said, was the practical expression of the good-feeling which existed between the pastor and his family and the people to whom he ministered. He trusted that God's blessing would rest upon him, and that the work he undertook would prosper.

In acknowledging the gift, Mr. Wilson remarked that he hardly knew what to say, but before anything else he wished to thank the press of Peterborough for the way in which it had treated him. He referred to the fact that the local papers had always shown a willingness to assist any church enterprise. He thanked those present most heartily for the token of esteem and affection given to Mrs. Wilson and himself. It helped to make easier the wandering life to which every Methodist Minister must submit, and who, through their whole ministerial career, must, to use a street boy's expression "get a move on." He said that the greater part of the pain and trouble in this continued moving fell upon the minister's wife, but events like that of last night helped to make these unpleasant duties easier. He said that he was pleased with his stay here, and in his pulpit ministrations he had felt that while he had given them his best, they had also given him their best. In the offices, stores, shops and the homes of Peterborough he had always found a warm welcome, and he would never forget the friends he had made here. He was indeed sorry to go, here. He was indeed sorry to go and quoted the old saw, "Happy to meet, sorry to part, happy to meet again." His family, too, had only the kindliest of feelings for Peterborough. They had been well treated here. He had seen his children and others' children grow up into manhood and womanhood, and felt a peculiar relationship existing between himself and the members of the congregation. The four years spent there had been the happiest in his ministry. His parting benediction was "God be with you and bless you and yours," and he assured all present that his wife and family as well as himself thanked them heartily for every act of kindness shown them during the four years of their residence here.

Short addresses were also delivered by Rev. Mr. Lewis, and Messrs. Yelland, Hartley and Powell, all of whom referred to the good work accomplished by Rev. Mr. Wilson.

Rev. J. G. Potter was also in attendance at the meeting, at the conclusion of which those present bid farewell to Rev. Mr. Wilson and the members of his family.

BOTH HAVE RECORDS

Two More Counterfeiters Arrested in the City of Toronto.

ONE WAS MAKING $2 NOTES

When the Detectives Pounced Upon Him in a Room at Adelaide and Church Streets—Large Quantity of the "Queer" in Process of Manufacture at the Time—An Extensive Plant Seized.

Toronto, June 28.—Col. Percy Sherwood, chief of the Dominion secret service, was in Toronto last Wednesday. He had a conference with Inspector Stark. The result of his visit was the placing under arrest yesterday afternoon of:

Alfred Rose, alias Anthony Decker, 91 Peter street.

Charles Higgins, alias Charles Edwards, 354 East Front street.

Both these men have done time before on practically the same charges. Anthony Decker, for that is his real name, although he registered under the name of Rose at police headquarters, is the older criminal of the two. He is about 63 years of age, and was convicted on March 16, 1900, at Woodstock, for counterfeiting, and sent to the Kingston Penitentiary for five years. He was liberated on March 25 of this year.

Higgins, under the name of Edwards, was arrested two years ago. He was found guilty of "shaving" a counterfeit $5 Molson's Bank bill. The principal sufferers were merchants on West Queen street. He disposed of about $200 worth of this "stuff" before he was put away. He was given two years, and his time expired May 17 last.

Before Col. Sherwood left Toronto he had an understanding with Inspector Stark. It was the intention then to put out the drag net, but the time was not yet ripe. So it was arranged that Detective Parkinson of Col. Sherwood's staff would arrive here on Monday. He came; so did E. R. Carrington of Montreal, the Canadian manager of the Thief Detective Service Company of Chicago. They saw Inspector Stark and he placed at their disposal Detectives Cuddy, Black, Mackie and Twigg of his staff. They proceeded to make a "round up." Their first visit was made to room 18 in the Cornell Building at 88 Church street. They found the door locked. That did not bother them much. The door was forced and Cuddy rushed in and grabbed the only occupant. That was Higgins. They caught him with the goods on him. He was in his shirt sleeves, busy making counterfeit $2 Dominion of Canada notes.

The officers also found a most complete counterfeiters' outfit—plates, dies, stones, acids and all the necessary preparations for turning out a good sample of the "queer," one that would easily deceive the public. There was nothing crude about the work that was being done. They also found a number of bills which was printed on one side only. These expert officers say that the work was as clever, if not better, than any counterfeiting they have come in contact wuth during their experience. Higgins was locked up and the contents of the room removed to police headquarters.

The next visit was to 91 Peter street, where Decker was boarding. He had only been there a week, coming from Buffalo, where he had been since he left the "pen." He was arrested and locked up in No. 2 Station, so that he would have no chance of speaking to Higgins, who was in No. 10.—His personal effects were also taken to headquarters. In his trunk there was found a plate which looks like a $5 imitation on some bank, but as it was covered with a preparation to protect it, it was not clearly examined last night.

Neither of the prisoners made any statement to the police.

The two men will appear in the police court this morning.

Toronto Highwaymen's Work.

Toronto, June 28.—At 2 o'clock this morning a man was found in a badly battered condition in a lane at Ossington avenue and Dundas street. He said he had been assaulted early in the evening by four men and robbed of $27. He appeared to be in a serious condition. He said one of his assailants was named Allen, a fellow workman.

Firebug Gets 18 Years.

Port Arthur, June 28.—Adolphe Tangor, who confessed to having set fire to the C.P.R. stock yards stables at Fort William, was sentenced to twelve years in Kingston Penitentiary by Police Magistrate McDougall of Fort William yesterday afternoon. When he was asked if he had anything to say, Tangor replied that Frank Thomas of the C.P.R. special service, had paid him ten dollars to set the fire. He said Thomas had given him the key to the stables and had waited for him, getting the key back after the fire was set. The statement is laughed at.

POSTAL ESTIMATES

Conservatives Dispute Their Deficit of 1896.

ON THE ITEM FOR SALARIES

Sir William Mulock Vigorously Defends the Working of His Department and the Accuracy of the Reports—The Dismissal of Mr. Gallagher—Judge Winchester's Report—The Auditor-General.

Ottawa, June 28.—The progress of business in Committee of Supply yesterday did not indicate any desire on the part of the Opposition to expedite the business of the session. For four hours, upon an item for salaries of the Postoffice officials at Ottawa for one year commencing July 1st next, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Clancy and other members of the Opposition persisted in debating the accuracy of the reported deficit of $780,000 in the Postoffice Department for the last year the Conservatives were in office. Frequent Government efforts were made to bring the discussion back to the business actually before the House by the Postmaster-General, who vigorously defended his own administration and demonstrated the accuracy of the reports of departmental expenditure. In the evening the dismissal of the postmaster at Wilton, Lennox County, was subject of debate. Mr. Uriah Wilson, who brought the question up, complained that the dismissed official had been unjustly treated. Sir Wm. Mulock replied that the dismissal had taken place after the inspector had reported that Mr. Gallagher had taken an active part in a political contest, and had otherwise transgressed the rules of the service.

Before the orders of the day were called Sir Wilfrid Laurier informed Mr. R. L. Borden that the Alaska boundary papers are in the hands of the printers.

Judge Winchester's Report.

Sir William Mulock informed the leader of the Opposition that Judge Winchester had not yet reported, nor was he in a position to say how near the inquiry was to completion. His Honor would be in the city on Wednesday, and he hoped to be able to make a statement after seeing him.

Mr. Borden asked that the Government expedite the securing of a report from the Yukon Commission.

Mr. Bruneau secured a lot of information in reply to some ten questions as to the rate of wages paid day laborers on various public works, as follows: R. McDonald's contract on Three Rivers wharf, $1.25 per day; Montreal harbor board, $1.50; Soulanges Canal, $1.50; building the ice-breakers at St. Anne de Sorel, $1.25; Ottawa Postoffice, 19 4-9 cents per hour; booms and piles on St. Maurice River, $1.25; Poupore & Company's contract on Sorel wharf, $1 per day; Lachine Canal, $1.50; St. Ours Lock, $1.50.

Auditor-General's Resignation.

Mr. R. L. Borden called attention to reports in The Globe and The Hamilton Times, stating that the resignation sent in by the Auditor-General had been conditional on the Government adding ten years to his length of service. He asked if that was true, and if the Government would bring down the papers relating to the resignation. While on his feet Mr. Borden paid a tribute to the Auditor-General for his honesty of purpose, and claimed to have given him due support as leader of the Opposition. At the commencement of the session he had divided the Auditor-General's report into about twelve sections, and assigned each part to one of two members of the Opposition for special examination and scrutiny. It had been said the Opposition had not taken up the Cornwall Canal matter, but he had reserved his remarks until the House took up the railway estimates in supply. He had so informed Mr. Lennox when the latter discussed the matter in connection with his bill to amend the audit act.

Hon. Mr. Fielding said the railway estimates would soon be brought forward. It was true that the Auditor-General had sent in his resignation and had accompanied it with a request that an additional period of years be added to his service, but he did not understand that it was a condition of his resignation. The resignation had not been accepted by the Government. The document would be brought down to-day.

Postoffice Estimates.

The House then went into Committee of Supply, taking up the Postoffice Department estimates. The House adjourned at 1.10 a.m.

Sir William's Bill.

Ottawa, June 28.—(Globe Special.)—Sir William Mulock's bill to amend the Alien Labor Act will provide for the appointment of special officers to deport aliens who are unlawfully in the country. The employment of aliens on Government works or works aided by the Government will be prohibited, except under special conditions. The existing provisions aimed at the importation of contract labor will be strengthened.

IN THE SENATE.

Ottawa, June 28.—Senator Macdonald of British Columbia gave notice in the Senate yesterday that he would introduce an amendment to the Audit Act, so that the Government might retain the services of Mr. J. Lorne McDougall as Auditor-General.

To Build Ice-Breakers.

Hon. Mr. Scott informed Sir Mackenzie Bowell that the Government intended to build two ice-breaker vessels. Tenders had been called for, but Canadian firms had not been asked to tender, as after communicatibg with Canadian firms it was found that they could not have the vessels ready in time. These boats were intended for the St. Lawrence, and one was to be ready by September 1st next. There were to be ice-breakers for the great lakes, and they were to be built in Canada.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell moved for all the correspondence in the matter.

Canada Temperance Act.

Ottawa, June 28.—The second reading of the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act was carried in the Senate yesterday afternoon on a vote of 26 to 8. Those who voted against the bill were Senators Clorran, Dobson, Domville, McKay, McSweeney, Merner, Miller and Poirer.

Pacific Bank of Canada.

Ottawa, June 28.—A bill to incorporate the Pacific Bank of Canada was introduced in the Senate by Hon. William Templeman yesterday and received a first reading.

ACCIDENTAL?

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death on the man who fell from the window ledge on which he had fallen asleep. But the death was really due to carelessness which made the accident possible.

There are a great many lives suddenly terminated as a result of carelessness, although the medical certificate may read "heart failure." When a man takes chances with his stomach and neglects the warning symptoms of disease, he is carelessly inviting calamity.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, which makes strength. It stimulates the liver, cures biliousness, and removes bilious impurities from the blood.

"I had been troubled with a pain in lower part of my stomach for three years, so severe I thought it would kill me in time," writes Mr. Aaron Van Dam, of (Kensington) 2549 119th St., Chicago, Ill. "I could hardly work; it felt like a big weight hanging on me and got so bad that I had to take medicine. I used Stomach Bitters for a time, but it did no good so I wrote to Dr R. V. Pierce for advice, which he gave me immediately. I followed his directions; used two bottles of his medicine and was cured. I had a torpid liver which was troubling me instead of cramps (as I thought) so Dr Pierce told me. I have pleasure in living now; have gained in weight 15 pounds since then."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They do not beget the pill habit.

Digestion isn't a mere chemical process alone. The walls of the stomach move against one another and grind, or "churn," the food. "FORCE" is already half digested and well milled. It gives these over-tried twentieth-century stomachs of ours a fair show.

Sunny Jim

There is a certain crisp, appetizing, delicious taste to the flakes of "FORCE" which creates a sensation you long to repeat.

That delicious taste is a sure sign that you are eating something which is going to do you good.

"FORCE" is made in Canada.

Depends on the Stone.

"It is disheartening to ask for bread and receive a stone."

"Unless the stone is a diamond."

Why She Was Cross.

"What is the matter with Mabel tonight? She is as cross as two sticks."

"She made a mistake in a number when she was out today."

"Why should she be so cross about that?"

"Well, you see, she mistook a five for a seven at the shoe store."

"Ah, there is where the shoe pinches, is it?"

Painful Color.

"Poor man!" said Mrs. Boomer sadly. "He suffers terribly from the plumbago."

"That means a dark outlook for him, I presume," returned her husband.

Her Money Saved Her.

To hear the lady try to sing
Would fill a room with woe,
But she had wealth to burn, poor thing,
And no one told her so.

Where It Would Fail.

"A little learning is a dangerous thing."

"Yes, indeed; someone might ask you to pronounce appendicitis."

Stood In the Way.

"I'd get married if it were not for one thing."

"And that is, I presume, if the girls were not so particular."

Just For Amusement.

"Mabel, I heard you are to be married."

"You must take an engagement seriously."

An Illuminating Crab.

One of the marine curiosities fished some time ago from the bottom of the Indian Ocean was a mammoth sea crab, which continually emitted a bright white light, similar to that seen in the spasmodic flashes of phosphorescent luminosity emitted by the common glowworm.

The crab was captured in the daytime and placed in a large tank containing specimens of fish, nothing peculiar except its immense size being noticeable in the broad glare of the tropical sun.

At night, however, when all was pitchy darkness, the crab lit up the tank so that the other creatures in it could be plainly seen.

SHODDY CLOTH.

It Is Made From Secondhand Yarns Spun Over Cotton Warp.

"I would like you to tell me just what is meant by the term 'shoddy' as applied to cloth used in clothing," said the young man who was looking for clothing in the store of a well informed clothier. "I have heard of 'shoddy' all my life, and I do not just understand exactly what is meant by it."

"Well," replied the clothier, "'shoddy' is used in the construction of many fabrics which go into the manufacture of clothing for both men and women. It is so skillfully combined in recent years that it is not possible for any but an expert to detect it until the goods are worn to some extent. Shoddy cloths are made from cheap yarns spun over cotton warp. These yarns are spun from old woolen rags chopped into waste, then carded and spun into threads of various sizes and strength. The cloth is soft, nicely finished and attractive in appearance and comparatively free from imperfections. The goods cost the clothier from 15 to 80 cents a yard, and a larger yardage is consumed than of any other kind of goods manufactured for men's wear.

"One of the advantages of the shoddy is that it can be woven into patterns similar to those of the most expensive woolens, which is not always true with respect to pure cotton yarn, which, being hard and wiry, does not lend itself to soft effects."

Gowns For Commencement.

The sheer fabrics, such as mull, dotted swiss, organdie, batiste, fine lawn and india linon, Paris muslin and point d'esprit, all make dainty frocks and not necessarily expensive ones, provided they are made at home, but this point depends largely upon the trimmings employed. While simplicity marks the new modes, it is in the lines only, as laces, ribbons, flounces and quantities of handwork characterize them all, says the Delineator.

Flounced and ruffled skirts as well as the straight full model are extremely becoming to youthful figures, and waists must have deep berthas or trimmings applied to produce the fashionable long shouldered effect, and there must be a loose slightly drooping blouse both back and front. The sleeves, too, are of great importance.

The finest of laces and nainsook embroideries are used to trim these dainty frocks, valenciennes and mechlin being especially appropriate for sheer materials.

Besides the sheer fabrics there are soft, beautiful wool goods that have much to recommend them, as they offer delightful possibilities, are inexpensive and are admirably adapted to the present modes. Veiling and both silk and wool voile, cashmere, albatross and challis are very attractive materials.

THE STORY OF LIFE.

Making the best of life is getting the best health you can out of it—good digestion is the key. What you eat may or may not do you good. It depends upon how it is handled by the digestive apparatus of the stomach—If it is deranged, the blood, instead of taking new life and strength to the various organs of the body, takes poison which clogs the kidneys, irritates the nerves, distresses the heart, causing headache, sleeplessness, weary, dull feeling, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia—makes the complexion sallow—causes biliousness and constipation. The great, new discovery ANTI-PILL has a marvellous influence in correcting a crippled or rebellious stomach, and the results that follow—ANTI-PILL is the most perfect help to have when you feel wrong, out of sorts, sick or getting sick. It brightens you up—makes you feel better. 50 cents per bottle at druggists or Wilson-Fyle Co., Niagara Falls, Ont.

Sunshine Furnace

Water-pan

Dry air is light — it lifts and carries dust. Dry air cracks your furniture, gives you a headache, shrivels your skin, parches your lungs.

The water-pan in most furnaces is a pleasantry. It has no serious business in the work of the furnace—it is merely placed there for effect, because a water-pan is a good thing.

And a water-pan is an absolute necessity to your health and comfort, but it must be properly placed to radiate moisture evenly and uniformly throughout the house.

The water-pan of the Sunshine Furnace is the most scientifically arranged water-pan in any furnace in the world.

It does the work a water-pan should, and does it well.

THE OPENING GAMES ON BOWLING LAWN

New Grounds of the Peterborough Bowling Club Opened Last Night

Last night the opening of the new Green recently fitted up by the Peterborough Bowling Club was opened under very auspicious circumstances. To those who have been accustomed to seeing the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets as it was before the work of transformation was begun under the direction of the Bowling Club, it will hardly be recognized as the same place. This corner has been made one of the prettiest in Peterborough, and last night, when the opening games were played, the Green was the centre of attraction for a large number of persons, even outside the members of the Bowling Club, the street being lined with spectators.

The indications are that with the new grounds, bowling will be given a fresh impulse in Peterborough, and the game will become even more popular than it has been in the past.

The bowlers who have used the grounds are greatly pleased with them. They say they are better than the old ones, a tribute to the thoroughness of the work of preparation, under Mr. George Giroux.

The games last night were:—

PETERBOROUGH RUNS UP A BIG SCORE

Defeated Campbellford in Baseball at Cobourg

(Special to the Examiner.)

Cobourg, June 27.—Even at the camp the Peterborough boys are shining at baseball. For several days the Campbellford crowd were "throwing it into us" pretty strong about their ability to play baseball. At last we accepted their defi and on Monday afternoon the game was played. Following are the names of players and the score:

Peterborough — Cawthorne, p; Anglesye, c; Joe Guerin, 1b; Sergt. Henderson, 2b; Holmes, ss; Sergt. Guerin, 3b; Desautel, cf; Guerin, rf; Kimbell, lf.

Campbellford—Boyle, p; McGregor, c; Maynard, 1b; Morton, 2b; Long, ss; Doxie, 3b; Blute, rf; Tait, cf; Mickjohn, lf.

The final score was 45 to 5 in favour of Peterborough; the features of the game were a circus catch by Dick Desantel, in centre, of a fine drive, and the excellent pitching of Cawthorne.

LADIES GOLF.

The usual weekly tea will be held at the club house Thursday afternoon, June 30th.

FOOTBALL.

The Old Country Wanderers sprang a surprise on the football world last evening by defeating the Quakers by a score of 3-2 in the second game in the City Football League. At half time the score was 1-1. The winners showed up in better form than at any time this year and played good football. The Quakers also showed up well, but were minus Belleghem, P. Fitzgerald, Renton, M. Guerin and Crowley. The line up was:—Quakers.—Goal, P. Fitzgerald; backs, Simpson and Dorris; half backs, Donaldson, McKeown; forwards, Moore, J. Guerin, Brooks, Snider and C. Fitzgerald. Referee A. Noble.

PROGRAMME FOR THE BOYS' CAMP

Promise of a very Enjoyable trip up the Lakes This Year

A very interesting gathering took place at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday evening at 6 o'clock, when the boys who have enrolled for the seventh camp took tea together, discussed the programme submitted and appointed committees to perfect plans for the successful carrying out of the many novel features to be presented. The programme is too long to be submitted for public inspection, but is made out on the principle "somethin doin every day." It however, includes the erection of a "chute" and "chuteing the chute" will no doubt be very popular. One evening Rev. J. A. Wilson will come up and beside the camp fire tell the story, "Beside the Bonnie Briej Bush." It is expected that Mr. Edwin Elcome and Mr. Harding will spend a Sunday each in camp, and on Monday Mr. Elcome will take the boys on a "Natural History" trip.

Two field days will be held and many other features too numerous and funny to mention. Twenty-two boys have enrolled and all who are going must have their names in this week. After 35 have enrolled the management do not promise to take any more.

If you're feeling warm, drop in and have a "Hiawatha," "David Harum" or a "Crushe Fruit Sundae" at HOOPER'S.

Fort William, June 28.—Reports are current that the C.P.R. will sell their clearing elevator at this place to the C.N.R., and that they will build a large new clearing elevator at Fort William. The C.P.R. also contemplate erecting one of the largest handling elevators in the world. Ottawa, June 25.—It was learned yesterday that Judge Winchester has sent in some reports to the Minister of Labor naming certain employes of the Grand Trunk Pacific, engaged on the surveys of the road, for deportation. The department is taking steps to have them returned at once to the United States. The names of the parties are, for obvious reasons, withheld.

"DOCTOR" CONNOR'S HEAVY SENTENCES

A Man Known in Peterborough's Criminal Annals Gets a Year at Central.

The following from the Hamilton Herald, will be read with interest by many in Peterborough, where the "Doctor" is well known: David R. Connors, the corn doctor, who was found guilty of getting clothes from Henry Rader under false pretences, and remanded until to-day for sentence, was sentenced to the Central Prison for one year. His Worship had a criminal record of the "Professor," which he began to read to Connors. As he called out the sentences he had served, he asked Connors if he wished to admit them, but he declined. Here is his record:—1883, sentenced at Toronto, for house house-breaking at Belleville, three years in the penitentiary; November 8, 1886, ten years for house-breaking at Belleville; October 15, 1894, safe-blowing at Peterborough, remanded for sentence, November 6, 1894, sentenced to five years at Toronto for burglary; October 11, 1890, theft at Ottawa, six months in the Central.

His last sentence makes 19 1-2 years that Connors has been sentenced to spend in prison, and he is only 48 years of age. He asked permission to go to the hospital this morning, as he said his rheumatism was very bad, but His Worship told him that would be attended to in prison.

Toronto, June 28.—A note picked up on the American reservation at the Falls reads as follows:

Notice.—Tired of living. Jumped in river, above Falls, June 18, 1904. Good-bye. Edward Symons, Toronto.

On the 3rd inst. Edward Symons left the home of his father and mother at 11 Mansfield street and went to St. Catharines. He had nothing with him but what he stood in. A blacksmith by trade, he had of late been disinclined to work and was out of employment at the time he left. On the 8th he was seen at the Falls by some friends. He was afterwards reported to be at work in Buffalo at Coutts'. His father has consulted Inspector Stark about the matter.

About forty years ago he removed to Ottawa, and during his residence of thirty years there became connected with many of the financial institutions, being for many years the managing director of the Ottawa Street Railway system. He lived a retired life in Brockville since 1894. Mrs. McNaughton and six children survive.

HAVELOCK VISITED BY CONFLAGRATION

Fire Resulting in Loss of Life Occurred There This Morning.

A Number of Residences and Business Places Destroyed —Origin a Mystery—Statement of the Losses.

Early this morning Havelock was visited by the most serious fire that has ever occurred in that village, and while the monetary loss is a serious one, this is by no means the most deplorable circumstance connected with it. One life was lost in the flames, that of Mr. E. I. Powell, of Toronto, a picture agent working the town, and a guest at the Armstrong House, where the fire first started, about 12.30 this morning, in some buildings at the rear.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but there is a hint that it is due to incendiarism.

The fire was discovered shortly after it had started, but the only fire-fighting appliances in the town are those possessed by the C.P.R., and these were brought into requisition as soon as possible, but the buildings were all frame structures, and the fire spread with great rapidity. Only one line of hose was available, and this was wholly inadequate to cope with the fierce fiery furnace, which in a short time the scene had been converted into. The Armstrong Hotel was a large three-story frame structure, and has the largest guest accommodation of any house in the village, and it was soon beyond salvation. The fire then spread to the west, to R. E. White's barber shop, which was destroyed. It next went to the east end of the hotel, and started H. T. Andrew's grocery store ablaze, and it with the stables, were quickly added to the list of places destroyed. It next reached out to the livery stables of John Sills and Claude Williams' barber shop, completely razing them.

The west end then claimed attention, Jas. McKeown's tailor shop being attacked. Mr. McKeown is one of the oldest business men in the village, having been there for about 20 years. His establishment was burned, as was also the laundry of Sing Lung a Chinaman. While the hose was at the west end of the fire, Dineen's Hotel, at the east end caught fire, and it required the greatest effort on the part of the hastily formed brigade, to save this brick structure. The stables belonging to the hotel, however, were burned. The harness shop of Wellington Wiles, which was partly gutted, was pulled down and the fire was then prevented from spreading farther in that direction.

Some sparks, which flew to the main street, started the Presbyterian church and the manse, next to it, burning, but prompt action saved them from being damaged to any extent. Richard Nolan's house had a narrow escape, while a stable in the yard of Mr. W. W. Wester was burned, as was also the large grocery store of Messrs. Williams Bros., with a house attached. The fire was stopped here, and no further damage was done. All the small stables and sheds at the rear of these places mentioned were destroyed. The fire was gotten under control about 8 o'clock, only by the heroic work of the citizens, and the C.P.R. employees, to whom particular credit is due, Mr. W. W. Wester, locomotive fireman of the company, had charge of the hose line, and energetically and wisely directed the work, and it is in no small degree due to his work that the fire was of no more serious a nature. He was ably assisted by Messrs. Edwin Dorricott, C. B. Shepherd and J. Thompson.

The losses are estimated as follows:

Williams Bros.—$3,500.
W. Wiles—$200.
H. T. Andrews—$1,500.
N. Donnelly—$1,500; $300 insurance.
C. Armstrong—$4,000.
Jas. McKeowan—$2,000.
W. Dineen—$400.
G. Stils—$200.
Sing Lung—$150.

The amount of insurance held by each is impossible to learn, but about half the loss is covered by insurance.

This will be a severe blow to the village, but it is probable that the majority of the buildings will be rebuilt, and very probably of a better quality.

Dominion Day has Come the Thirty-Seventh Time.

While obtrusive demonstrations of loyalty are not always the most sincere, yet it is suggested that it will serve to commemorate one of the most important events in Canada's national life, and incidentally brighten the town if citizens generally would hang out all the bunting in their possession or control.

THE FALL OF PORT ARTHUR

Cannot Apparently Be Now Much Longer Delayed.

JAPS CAPTURE 3 OF THE FORTS

A Battle at Kaichan—Russians Forces Driven Out on the Morning of June 26—First and Second Japanese Armies Said to Have Effected a Junction—Jap Advance Continues.

Tokio, June 30.—It is unofficially reported that the Chikwanshan, Chitgushan and Sochoshan forts, southeast of and part of the Port Arthur defences, were captured on Sunday, after an all-day fight, beginning with an artillery duel. Sochoshan, it is added, was first captured and the other forts fell soon afterwards. The Russians retreated west, leaving forty dead or wounded. The composition of the Japanese forces has not been ascertained, beyond the fact that it is said to have consisted of all branches of the service. The Japanese lost three officers and a hundred men killed or wounded and captured two guns and a quantity of ammunition. The officials here do not confirm the report.

Japs Capture Kaichan.

London, July 30.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says that severe fighting took place at Kaichau on June 25, which resulted in the capture of that place on the morning of June 26.

Junction Made.

London, June 30.—The Tokio correspondent of The Morning Post says that the Japanese second army has effected a juncture with the first army, and that the whole force now has a fighting front of 120 miles.

Into Port Arthur.

Chicago, June 30.—A special to The Daily News from Tokio says: In fierce fighting which took place at the rear of Port Arthur Monday, June 26, attack was simultaneously made by the Japanese troops on three hills which were strongly fortified. After an overwhelming bombardment the Mikado's men advanced and drove out the Russians.

Russians Lost 8 Ships.

Liaoyang, June 30.—The Japanese are reported to have retired ten to twenty miles from the positions which they recently held. Owing to local rains, it is thought that the operations north of Port Arthur have been indefinitely postponed. It is unofficially stated that the Russian fleet put out from Port Arthur several days ago and encountered the Japanese fleet. In the ensuing engagement between the two fleets three ships were lost. No details of the engagement, however, are available here.

LOCAL CLERGY IN NORTH BAY

Assisted in Laying Corner Stone of new Roman Catholic Church

Sermon by Rev. Father McCall—His Lordship Bishop O'connor Lays the Corner Stone

The North Bay Times contains the following report of the corner stone laying of the new Roman Catholic Church in that town: —

Ceremonies which marked Sunday last as a memorable day in the history of the Parish of St. Mary's on the Lake were the laying and blessing of the corner stone of the new Roman Catholic Church and the blessing of the spot where the cross is placed by His Lordship Right Reverend R. A. O'Connor, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Peterborough, assisted by Rev. Father Primeau, Superior of the Jesuits at Sudbury; Rev. Father McCall, Rector of the Cathedral at Peterborough, and Rev. Fathers Scollard and Crowley, of North Bay. It was a day of general rejoicing for the parishioners of St. Mary's; the fulfilment, or partial fulfilment, of a cherished dream of Pastor and congregation; an epoch around which are encircled and interwoven happy mementoes and joyous remembrances that shall linger and live in the hearts of the people in years yet to be recorded.

Probably three thousand people witnessed the impressive ceremonies and the processions to the new church of the Catholic societies and the school children were imposing. The streets and square around the edifice were lined with people of all creeds and nationalities, every one of whom seemed to manifest the deepest interest in what was taking place. Shortly after three o'clock the ceremonies began. Bishop O'Connor, with the accompanying priests solemnly blessed the spot where the Cross is placed, the following Antiphon and Psalm being sung in the meantime: "Set up, O Lord Jesus Christ, in this place the sign of salvation, and permit not the destroying angel to enter therein." Psalm 83 was sung and prayers said.

Returning to the covered platform erected at the corner stone, His Lordship, after sprinkling the stone with holy water, took a silver trowel presented to him for the occasion by the architects and contractors, and marked on it the sign of the Cross, saying: "In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

This was followed by prayer by the Bishop, the Litany of the Saints, Antiphon, and Psalm 126.

Then the stone was placed in position, and the Bishop, sprinkling it with holy water, said: "Sprinkle me, O Lord, with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow."

Psalms 50 and 86 were chanted, and then the whole foundation was sprinkled with holy water, prayers being repeated in the meantime.

The copper casket which was deposited in the corner stone contained: A Latin parchment containing the names of the reigning Pope, King, Governor General, Prime Minister of the Dominion, the Premiers of the Provinces, the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Parliamentary representatives, Mayor of North Bay, the officiating Bishop, local Priests and Priests who preached the sermons upon the happy and important occasion. It also contained copies of The North Bay Times and The Despatch, La Patrie and all the principal daily papers coming to North Bay, religious medals and current coins.

The sermons of the occasion were delivered in beautiful rhetoric and impressive eloquence by Rev. Father Primeau in French, and Rev. Father McColl in English. Father McColl, who took his text from St. Matthew, Ch. XXII., 37th to 39th verses, said in part:

My Lord, Rev. Fathers, and Dear Brethren,—I think it very proper on this occasion when we are assembled to assist at the laying and blessing of the corner stone of the beautiful church which is being built, to state that the highest compliments and greatest praise are due to the esteemed pastor and to the people of this parish for the erection of so magnificent a building in which are to be sounded forth the divine praises, and in which are to be promulgated the great truths and the sublime moral precepts of the Christian religion, which has contributed so much to the peace, happiness and civilization of the human race.

As a tree is known by its fruit so people are known by their works, and this work clearly proves God is truly and sincerely loved by the people of this place. He is loved on account of the excellence of His nature, because He promises infinite perfection, infinite amiability, infinite beauty; because He is infinitely just and merciful, and consequently infinitely worthy of love from us and from all creatures. He is loved out of gratitude for His goodness and kindness to us, on account of His great gifts, and the sacrifices and sufferings He endured for our salvation.

Moved by these considerations, the good people of this place show, by the building of this church, that they desire that God may be known and loved and served and worshipped and honoured, that as He is purely glorified in Heaven, purely loved by those who minister around His throne, so may He be loved and glorified upon earth.

From the love of God naturally flows the love of our neighbor. If we love God sincerely we must love His creatures, the work of his hands. Our neighbor is mankind of every description, irrespective of nationality or creed. A true love for our neighbor will cause us to treat him with kindness, consideration and justice. It caused tyranny, slavery and oppression to be abolished, and consequently in Christian countries, where its principles are practised, we have the highest standard of civilization the world has ever known. Charity furnishes a balm for every wound and an antidote for every misery and suffering. It gives a home to the orphan and the aged poor, and a refuge for the infirm and afflicted. Only Holy Religion affords the most beautiful and heroic examples of persons in every age and century who have sacrificed themselves in the cause of afflicted humanity.

By the building of this church we cannot estimate the good that will be conferred upon this community. The chronicler may describe the symmetry of its proportions, the beauty of its architecture, but he can never describe the silent moral influence on the people, the passions that will be suppressed, the sorrows, assuaged, the lives that will be uplifted, purified and strengthened, for these are hidden with Christ in God and are registered only by the Recording Angel.

Father Primeau's sermon was an eloquent exposition of the work of the Church, past and present, and a touching appeal to the children of the Church to guard the faith by constant and unswerving fidelity to the practice of the virtues of Charity, Love of God and of our neighbor, and by frequent recourse to the Saving Sacraments in this magnificent new Temple of God.

His Lordship also addressed a few words to the assembled multitude. To his own flock he spoke in terms of filial love and piety; and to those of other creeds he held out the olive branch and bade them welcome. He thanked all classes and all creeds for their presence at the ceremonies, for their contributions towards the erection of the new edifice, and for the good feeling and charitable spirit that existed between the different classes of the community.

A few words of thanks from the Pastor, Rev. Father Scollard, brought the ceremonies of the day to a close.

The offerings on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone amounted to $1,700 and this sum will be increased considerably by further contributions that have been promised.

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Public School closed here on Monday night and Mr. Armour the principal, returned to his home in Seymour.

Miss Staples, of Toronto, is spending a few weeks here with her brother, Frank.

A runaway, which caused a great deal of excitement, occurred here on Saturday evening when Mr. Alfred Harris' team became unmanageable. They dashed down the street, collided with Mrs. Jas. Ashburn's buggy and tearing a wheel off it overturned the buggy to which they were attached, upsetting Mr. and Mrs. Harris into the ditch; freed themselves, and continued their mad flight until they ran foul of a stump. Strange to say though both buggies were occupied, no one was hurt.

Thirty-three pupils from this and the surrounding districts are writing on the entrance examinations here this week.

Miss Hazel Dean, of Peterborough, was the guest of Miss Harrison last week.

JUSTIFIED IN WHAT HE SAYS

Why J. J Perkins Owes his Life to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Doctor had Given Him up and He was Hopeless and Destitute Before the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy put Him on His Feet.

Tyndall, Man., June 29. — (Special.) —When a man has had kidney disease; when the doctor has given him up; when that man takes Dodd's Kidney Pills, begins at once to recover, and is soon a well man, that man is surely in a position to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills saved his life.

That is the experience of Mr. J. J. Perkins of this place. Speaking of his case Mr. Perkins says:—

"For two years I was troubled with my kidneys and at last became so bad that the doctor who was attending me gave me up and said that I was incurable.

"I continued to grow worse. I was unable to work and was becoming destitute when to please a friend I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"The first box did me so much good I felt like a new man and after taking five boxes I was completely cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys, and cured Kidneys cure Dropsy, Rheumatism, Heart Disease and all other diseases resulting from impure blood.

DWYRE'S CORNERS.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

THE PERMANENCE OF WINNIPEG'S GROWTH

"Boom" is a Team Mis-applied to this Rapid Growth

Special Correspondence from the Prairie City—Preparations for the Great Fair

(Special Correspondence.)

Winnipeg, Man., June 29.—I see by the Ontario papers columns upon columns devoted to interviews with easterners returned from a two weeks' visit in the west in which much space is given to "the great boom which is on at present in Winnipeg." Such an inaccuracy, which in probably every case is perfectly unintentional, should not pass by without correction. What is termed by some as being a "boom" is nothing more or less than genuine prosperity — something vastly different to and in pleasing contrast with a bubble of progress which sooner or later is bound to burst. Mistakes of this kind are regrettable in that they are to some extent damaging. As long as Manitoba's wheat crop is one of the features of Canada's progress—and surely the day of its failure is not discernible on the horizon by even that miserable class who make themselves wretched by being pessimists—then will Winnipeg continue to increase and multiply both in respect to material and commercial prosperity. The fermentation is even daily visible. Boarding, covered with advertisements printed in inartistic colours, spring up to veil from prying eyes the activities of workmen, and buildings crumble before ones gaze like froth in a tankard. In a course of a few weeks a whole district, so vast are the improvements, changes beyond recognition. One storied dwellings become replaced by sky-scraping warehouses the very presence of which give a feeling of solidity to this extraordinary, if not phenomenal prosperity. The vacant lot of to-day is a store or a factory of to-morrow. And then the climax to all this is it being reported as "a boom," while colour is lent to the statement by the fact that the real estate market is at the present time strong—it is even said to be balancing on a pinnacle from which it is destined to fall. The absolute absurdity of this is beneath notice.

Winnipeg the distributing point to the great North-west, is the home of representatives of nearly every country on the face of the earth which have been visited by white man. And still they come in hundreds daily, men and women of all nationalities and creeds. To visit the station and watch an immigrant special give up its passengers is a sight to be long remembered. Fully ninety per cent. of these new comers are of foreign extraction and they arrive with their worldly wealth wrapped up in a coloured cloth and their babies strapped to their back. Even the most hard hearted cannot turn his eyes away from this kaleidoscope of struggling humanity without a feeling of pity. Ignorant of the actual state of things they arrive some certainly with a little money, but most in abject poverty. They depart into the great unknown, and are never again heard of. It is noticeable that the larger percentage of these are men of about forty years of age. Of course in that crowd of hundreds the young man is represented, but he is in the minority. This is in remarkable contrast with the English speaking immigrants, the majority of whom are all under 25 years of age, and none more than a year or two over 30. Already the curtain is being rung down on the immigration for the year, and the tableau, it is said, will display one larger numerically than ever before. Apparently the Dominion Fair, which is to open here on July 26, will surpass all the previous ones. Hundreds of workmen are busy on the buildings, and as the advertisements invariably say of every monstrosity, they are still growing. The exhibition offices, now that the appointed day is about to dawn, are the scene of great hotivity, and if this denotes success, the Fair will be a most gratifying triumph. A feature will be the speeding events, and celebrated horses have been working out on the local track for the past month. The city council has organized an accommodation bureau, and on application there, strangers will be able to obtain comfortable sleeping quarters for, under the circumstances, a moderate fee. Exhibition week is proverbial in regard to the weather; in the past it has never failed, and the presence of sunshine and cooling breezes are taken to be as a matter of course an adjunct to the great Fair. The city is taking a lively interest in it, and during the two weeks will be dressed in gala attire. H. A. L.

BLACK WATCH BAND FOR PETERBOROUGH

This Famous Musical Organization to visit the Town

On September 26th, Under the Auspices of Peterborough Industrial Exhibition —An Historic Band

The Black Watch Brass and Pipe bands under command of Major Rose and the musical leadership of Bandmaster Murray will leave their quarters in Edinburgh Castle on August 15th, next, sailing from Liverpool for Montreal, where they will arrive on August 27th, proceeding then to Toronto for the Canada National Exposition. They will make a four weeks' tour of the country, September 12th, under the direction of Mr. Stewart Houston. During this short period they will make a record tour of the country, traversing some six thousand miles, or an average of 220 miles per day, in addition to two concerts every week day. In order to accomplish this feat Mr. Houston has arranged that the band should travel by special train, living in special sleeping cars, as in many towns where they visit, the hotel accommodation is not sufficient in view of the large number of excursionists who will be coming to every place where the band plays. The first week of the tour will be devoted to Western Ontario, the second week to Winnipeg and the West, the third week to Eastern Ontario including Ottawa and Montreal. The fourth week will find the Highlanders in the Maritime Provinces, their last concert being given at Moncton on Saturday evening, Oct. 8th, and immediately after the concert they will take the train to catch the ocean liner at Rimouski the following morning. "The Auld Forty-twa" as the 42nd Royal Highlanders or Black Watch are affectionately called in song and story have unquestionably the greatest fighting record of the British Army. Formed in 1729, first seeing foreign service in 1745 at Fontenoy, they have been prominent in every great campaign for the past century and a half. There is no doubt that a splendid welcome will await their magnificent musicians and pipers wherever the kilt and the red heckle will be seen. The date of the band's visit has been fixed here for September 26th, under the auspices of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

KILLED BY FALLING CRANE.

F. J. Idenden of Toronto Almost Instantly Expired—E. J. Ellis Hurt.

Toronto, June 30.—Frederick J. Idenden, superintendent of the Fensom elevator works, 54 Duke street, met with a sudden death yesterday morning as a result of the falling of a crane in the yards at the rear of the factory. Ernest J. Ellis, manager of the stores department, had his collar bone broken. James Houghton had a narrow escape.

Idenden and Ellis were standing underneath the crane, which was lifting a large pumping machine, while Houghton was lying on the ground placing a plank under the machine. A bolt snapped in the collar holding the pulley at the end of the boom and it crashed down squarely on Idenden's head, crushing him to the earth. Ellis was standing a little to one side, but his face was grazed. The superintendent passed away in a few minutes. Houghton was directly underneath the boom, but was saved by the pumping machine, which arrested the fall of the crane.

Fell From a Tree.

Norwich, June 30.—John Milton of Dutton, one of the Bell Telephone Co.'s linemen, while engaged in repairing the line here fell from a tree and was instantly killed. The deceased was a young man.

Killed For a Deer.

Sundridge, June 30.—In the township of Joly Tuesday Robert Woods was shot and killed by E. Paisley, who mistook him for a deer. The coroner at Burk's Falls is holding an inquest.

May Be Fatally Hurt.

Belleville, June 30.—Francis Larkins, a yeoman, residing in Tyendinaga township, was seriously, if not fatally, injured Tuesday night. His team became frightened at Corbyville at a passing train and ran away. He was thrown out and dragged along the road for some distance, sustaining concussion of the brain.

One Body Recovered.

Watertown, N. Y., June 30.—The body of Private Alex. Benson of the Ninth Infantry, who with two other soldiers was drowned in Lake Ontario, June 16, was recovered yesterday. The other bodies have not yet been found.

CIRCULAR SAW HORROR.

John R. Turnbull, a Winnipeg Contractor, Instantly Killed.

Winnipeg, June 30.—John R. Turnbull, a Winnipeg contractor, was accidentally killed in his sawmill at Gull River, near Ignace, Ont., yesterday. In passing over the carriage his foot caught in a cog wheel, throwing him on a circular saw which cut him from the right shoulder to the waist, causing instant death. The mill was only started yesterday, cutting ties for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

HAVE YOU SEEN HIM?

If So, You Know that Diavolo a Capstone wonder.

In the way of taunting for and securing new and astonishing bicycle sensations, the proprietors of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows seem to have become colossal cranks with heads full of "safety wheels." First they secured Diavolo, and turned all New York that could get into Madison Square Garden topsy-turvy over his prodigious and spectacular feat of looping the loop on a bicycle. In this terrifically daring venture he still rides and reigns alone. The fame and fortune the achievement has brought him have tempted a few others to attempt an imitation of his specialty, but, alas, every one of them has worse than fallen by the wayside. The present season sees him but one of a trio of equally intrepid and marvelous experts in entirely different illustrations of supreme cycling originality and magnetism. From France for the first time comes Prodigious Porthos, whose astounding feat of flying over a fifty-foot chasm on an ordinary bicycle set Paris and Europe agog with wonder. Then there appears "Cyclone," termed "the demon-driven cycling paradox," who scales a wheel the high, absolutely perpendicular interior of "The Devil's Chimney"—an incredible, mysterious and seemingly impossible triumph of circling, soaring speed. And with these we are promised other equally new and notable features in their way, on Saturday, July 2nd.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. MAKING HYMENEAL HAY WHILE JUNE SUN SHINES

A Big Bunch of Bridals in the Closing Days of the Month of Brides.

The beautiful superstition that the leafy month of June is the lucky time for matrimonial ventures seems to have been almost lost sight of by a number of Cupid's victims. The time was about to lapse, and a great many weddings were crowded into the last two days of the month.

P.-EL-BRADSHAW

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated last evening at 7.30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jas. Bradshaw, 318 Charlotte street, when her youngest daughter, Ada, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Norman Everett Peel, book and stationery dealer, of London, Ont.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Bastow, M.A., in the presence of the relatives of the bride and groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Emma Bradshaw, sister of the bride, while the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Harry W. Peel, of London, Ont. The house was prettily decorated with palms, brightened with cut flowers.

Mr. Wellington Bradshaw, brother of the bride, gave the bride away.

After the ceremony a delightful wedding breakfast was served.

Amongst the many and numerous handsome gifts to the bride, was a set of solid silver knives, forks and spoons, from the choir of the Murray street Baptist church, of which she was a member for thirteen years; a beautiful tea set of china from the Sunday school teachers and officers of Murray street church; and a handsome berry set and water set from the Mission Band of the church, of which she filled the position of secretary for nine years. Miss Bradshaw will be very much missed in the Murray street Baptist church. She held a number of responsible positions, and her zeal and loyalty to the church and its interests was worthy of every praise.

The happy couple left on the midnight C. P. R. express for Montreal, and on returning will take up their residence at 150 Maple street, London, Ont. The best wishes of a host of friends will follow them to their new home.

DYKE-WRIGHT

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. C. D. Dyke will read with interest the following report of his wedding, which took place in Toronto Tuesday night. Mr. Dyke was formerly a resident of Peterborough and was employed on the staff of the Bell Telephone Company. The Toronto News says:—

"The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright, 308 Berkeley street, was last night the scene of a pretty house wedding, the contracting parties being their daughter, Miss Maud C. Wright, and Mr. C. D. Dyke, of Lindsay, Ont. Rev. Solomon Cleaver, of Sherbourne street Methodist Church, performed the ceremony at 7 p.m. precisely, the bride being given away by her father. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white crepe de chine, over white taffeta, with drop yoke and deep berthe of plaited chiffon. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, with the usual veil and orange blossoms. Miss Birdie Wright, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and wore grey eolienne over taffeta. She carried a shower bouquet of roses. Mr. Charles J. Levy was best man. After the ceremony dejeuner was tastily served in the dining room. There were 40 guests present from outside towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyke left for the West on the 11.20 train. Mrs. Dyke's going-away gown was a navy blue tailor-made suit, with hat to match. On their return from the honeymoon, they will reside in Lindsay.

HALL-PACKENHAM

Last night a very pretty house wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Edward Packenham, Manning avenue, when his daughter, Annie, was married to Mr. William Everett Hall of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, in the presence of a large number of guests, many of them from out of town. The wedding was performed by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M. A., in the beautifully drawing room, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, with palms, evergreens and flowers. The bride was very prettily gowned in a dress of champagne voile, elaborately trimmed. She wore the usual bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Cora Packenham, who was dressed in green voile, and carried pink roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. G. B. Hall, of Toronto.

After the wedding the company sat down to a dainty repast, served by Mr. Harry Long, in his usual excellent style. The health of the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, and responded to on her behalf by the groom, who made a nice speech.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome presents from her numerous friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hall left on the nine o'clock train for a trip to Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Toronto, in which city they will make their home.

FOUND-CHATTEN

A pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Andrew's church at 6 o'clock last evening, the contracting parties being Miss Alberta May Chatten, the third daughter of Mr. J. H. Chatten, 304 Smith street, and Mr. Franklin George Found, formerly of Oshawa, now of Peterborough. Rev. J. G. Potter performed the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Maud Miller, while the groom was attended by Mr. Norman Whitesides. The bride looked very handsome in a gown of white organdie, with trimmings of lace and insertion, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was similarly attired, her bouquet being of white carnations.

After the ceremony a wedding dejeuner was served at the bride's home, following which a social time was spent at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Collins, 539 Gilchrist street. There were about fifty guests present.

Many beautiful presents received by the bride testified to the esteem in which she is held by a large circle of friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a pair of beautiful oil paintings of the King and Queen. The bride also received a handsome check from Mrs. M. J. Found, the groom's mother.

The bride and groom will reside at 304 Smith street,

BURKE-SCOTT

On Wednesday, June 29th, the Church of the Purification, in far away Chandos was the scene of a pretty wedding, Rev. Father Phelan performing the solemn ceremony, which united in marriage Miss Laura Scott, daughter of Mr. James Scott, to Mr. John Burke, of the fifth ward, town. The church was filled with the populace of Scott's settlement, who thus showed their interest in the wedding of the daugbter of one of the oldest and most respected residents of the township. The bride, who was tastefully and appropriately gowned, was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Scott, while Mr. Michael O'Brien, town, was best man. A delightful wedding breakfast was spread for all the old residents of the township. The happy couble will take residence in the fifth ward.

CROWE-PATTERSON

At two o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. Geo. Patterson, Antrim street, a very pretty wedding took place, when his daughter, Ida May, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney Crowe, son of Mr. Chas. Crowe, fifth ward, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. J. Major in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mabel McKnight, while the groomsman was Mr. George Crowe, brother of the groom. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room, which had been nicely decorated for the pleasing occasion, and the bridal party looked very pretty.

After the ceremony the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends, before leaving on the 5.10 C.P.R. train for Buffalo on their wedding trip. They will reside in Peterborough on their return.

The bride received a large number of presents, evidences of the esteem in which she is held.

SORBY-HERALD

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. L. Borradaile, 617 George street, when Mrs. Herald and Mr. Chas. Sorby, of Gore's Landing, were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major of All Saint's church. The bride and groom left on the 5.10 o'clock train for a trip to Sault Ste. Marie, and will reside at Gore's Landing, upon their return.

COLLINS-STEWART

At noon yesterday Rev. Dr. Torrance united in marriage, Miss Nettie Stewart, daughter of the late Geo. Stewart, and Mr. Fred Collins, both of Otonabee.

DOMINION DAY, 1904

How to Spend To-morrow.

To-morrow will be somewhat of a quiet day in Peterborough. The near approach of the opening of the Lift Lock and other important events, has prevented any special effort being made for to-morrow. The T. A. S. will run a large excursion down the river to Jubilee, a number of boats having been chartered for the day. This will be a very pleasant outing, and will no doubt be largely patronized. The Auburn Sunday School will go up Stony Lake on their annual trip, the "Stony Lake" the new steamer being engaged for the trip. This will be the first excursion from Peterborough by this boat, and will doubtless attract a great many. The new boat was inspected yesterday and found to be in good shape. She made her trial trip last week.

For those who stay in town the great attraction will be the baseball game between Lindsay and Peterborough, at the T. A. S. grounds at 3 o'clock. This will be the greatest game of the season, and will be well worth seeing.

A number of lacrosse enthusiasts will accompany the team to Orillia.

St. Luke's Bible Class will go to Stony Lake by the Majestic

THE OPENING IN THE AFTERNOON.

Lift Lock to be Formally Opened at 2 O'Clock, June 9th.

Programme Arranged Last Night. Subject to Ministerial Approval—Joint Committee Met.

Last night the Joint Committee of the Town and County Council, to arrange for the lift lock opening, consisting of Messrs. R. F. McWilliams, chairman; S. R. Armstrong, secretary; Mayor Roger, Aldermen Best, Adams and Rush, Warden Peck, County Councillors Fitzgerald, Hunter and Johnston, met in the Town Clerk's office. Mr. R. B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer of the Canal, D. Hughes-Charles, President of the Board of Trade, and F. D. Kerr, representing the Manufacturers' Association have been added to the committee by the invitation of the committee. These gentlemen constitute the committee making the arrangements.

The programme as amended is to have the opening take place during the afternoon, when it was thought that a larger number of persons could witness it than if it was held in the morning, as previously arranged.

The parliamentary party, consisting of about two hundred members of parliament and senators, will arrive here by special train about 11.30 a.m. and immediately on their arrival the coaches will be transferred to the G.T.R. and they will be taken to Dam No. 5, just below which the canal deflects from the river.

Lunch will be served here, and a trip will be taken down the canal to the Lift Lock, where the opening ceremonies will take place, after which if time will permit, a trip down the river as far as Hastings will be made, and the party will take train again at that place for Ottawa.

This outline will be submitted to the Hon. Mr. Emmerson for his approval before being definitely adopted.

The members of the parliamentary party as well as representatives from the different towns along the route of the canal, and from the principal cities in Canada, will be the guests of the corporation, and on account of the limited accommodation, it has been found necessary to limit the invitations to a few local citizens. Since the principal object in the celebration is to impress the visitors with the advantages of the canal, as many of those as possible will be taken on the trip.

DOMINION DAY

To-morrow will be the Thirty-seventh Anniversary of the Confederation of the Provinces of Canada, and never before was the dawn of our national birthday more auspiciously heralded. Those who are old enough to remember cannot but be struck, upon a very little reflection, with the great advances in almost every respect that have marked the intervening years. In 1868 the revenue of Canada, amounted to only $13,687,928; in 1902 the latest corrected figures available for reference, the revenue had grown to $58,050.70. In 1868 the total trade of Canada amounted to $131,027,732, and in 1902 the total trade grew to $123,910,444, and to-day the total trade amounts to over $467,000,000. In 1868 there were 2,269 miles of steam railway in operation and in 1902 the number of miles of railway was 18,714, and to-day the number doubtless stands at the round figures of at least 20,000 miles of railway and when the lines under way or contemplated, are completed the number of miles of railway will be about 25,000. Our population has, however, not increased in numbers in similar ratio with our material growth. While this would seem to be a cause of regret, it is at the same time a cause of congratulation. It is at once a tribute to the energy and enterprise of our people and the great wealth and extent of our national resources that a people so few in number should have achieved such wonderful progress and made so creditible a record. The total trade of Canada is about $75 per head, while the total trade of the United States is only about $30 per head. In 1868 the assets of our chartered banks were $71,872,257. In 1902 these had expanded to $581,876,985. In 1868 in 213 post office savings banks the people had deposits to the amount of $856,814, and in 1902 the savings of the people in our post office banks had increased five fold — to $42,320,209. On this, the eve of our thirty-seventh birthday we can congratulate ourselves both upon our present prosperity, and upon the reseate outlook the future promises. We all feel that no more prosperous country exists, no country with larger civil rights, better form of government, and better and more liberal laws. No country has a more moral, more generally intelligent, more enterprising people than the Dominion of Canada. Nor any country has a more united people. Perhaps we are afflicted a little too much with the bitter spirit of party, but the great mass of our people are free from its trammels, looking first to the progress of the country and its good government. While a pestilent few may place the interests of party before the welfare of the state, the great heart of the people, including both parties, beats only for Canada, and party zeal is only an incident in their relations to the country. We are a happy, prosperous, contented people, with good reason to rejoice on our national birthday, which marks another step in the future of great progress and development which the coming years, under Divine Providence, will bring.

THE COUNTY ACCOUNTS

The Warden and members of the County Council know, and the people should know that the books of accounts and the accounts of the county are in a deplorable condition of confusion. The Examiner has no desire nor wish to take an alarmist attitude, but it seems to be our duty to point out that it is the duty of the County Council as trustees of the people's interests, to take steps for procuring a thorough and sufficient audit by an expert accountant. This should be the first step towards an urgent necessity—the opening of proper books of account. The Council is fully aware of the condition in which the books are, and there should be no delay. The Provincial Municipal Auditor, as mentioned in the Examiner paid the town a visit a day or two ago, and he declares that the books are in a condition such as no county books should ever be in. There is no indication, fortunately, that any of the county funds have been improperly dealt with except in the matter of record. There is, however, an apparent shortage in the bank account, and it is the duty of the Council to take prompt steps to discovert where lax bookkeeping has produced or led to this shortage. For the system of bookkeeping both under the late treasurer and his predecessor was not a proper one, and so defective that with treasurers honest as the sunlight it was inevitable that the accounts should get into confusion. It is necessary that the accounts should be straightened, and put into a shape that can be understood. To this end, the services of an expert accountant should be secured, and then, with a proper understanding of the situation, and with a proper set of books opened, the future should be clear sailing. It is not fair to the present auditors to expect them to untangle the complications into which the county books of account have fallen. It would be just as reasonable to expect an expert accountant, with no knowledge of agriculture, to take a worn-out and run-down farm, and bring it into paying cultivation, as to expect two first-class farmers, with large general intelligence, but with no special actuarial or financial experience, to successfully wrestle with accounts so complicated as to require the services of an expert. It is the duty of the County Council to see that the books are strictly audited, posted, and handed over to the new treasurer in proper condition. This is only fair to the latter, for in that case he will have no excuse for allowing the books to fall again into confusion. He can then be held more strictly to account than if he is saddled in the beginning with the books in the unsatisfactory condition in which they now exist. It is to the interests of the County Council, the County Treasurer, and, above all, the people, that prompt steps be taken to straighten out the county books, by a thorough audit by a competent accountant, and to establish a proper system of book-keeping, so that we may know where we stand, something we do not know at the present time.

A LEGAL CASE OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Webb-Canadian General Case Settled at Last.

In the Court of Appeal in Toronto yesterday, a judgment was handed out of local interest. The Mail and Empire reporting it says:—Webb vs. Canadian General Electric Co.—Judgment (E. B. B.) on appeal by defendants from judgment of Osler, J. A. (2 O.W.R. 865) in favour of plaintiff for $700 upon the findings of a jury in an action tried at Peterborough, brought to recover damages for injuries sustained by plaintiff in the service of defendants in their works at Peterborough. Held, that the case could not have been withdrawn from the jury, and that the findings of the jury were sustained by the evidence. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Further particulars have been supplied the Examiner as follows:—

1st trial at Fall Assizes here 31st Oct., 1903, when plaintiff was nonsuited by Judge Meredith. From this plaintiff appealed to the full court in Toronto, where the non-suit was set aside and a new trial ordered. From this the defendents appealed to the Court of Appeal, when their appeal was dismissed. The new trial came on here at the Spring Assizes on the 29th and 30th April, 1903, when the Jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $700.00. From this the defendants again appealed to the Court of Appeal which was heard some time ago when judgment reserved which was delivered yesterday, dismissing the Appeal and sustaining the verdict for the plaintiff. J. Green, plaintiff's solicitor; Dennistoun Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, defendant's solicitors.

Bank Teller Henry H. Hobbs of Ingersoll Arrested.

HAD LIVED EXTRAVAGANTLY

Popular and Well-Behaved Young Man Gets Into Trouble Through This Cause—Grief Brought to His Mother, Who Was Entirely Unaware That Her Son Was Living Beyond His Means.

Woodstock, June 30.—Acting under a warrant sworn out by an official of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, Chief Constable Zeats arrested Henry H. Hobbs, teller in the bank at Ingersoll, and brought him to the county jail here yesterday morning. Hobbs is charged with stealing the sum of $729.34, which he abstracted from the funds of the bank in small sums. He was found at his home on Thames street and took his arrest very coolly, at once putting on his coat and bidding his mother goodbye. He was remanded until July 4, on account of the absence of the police magistrate at Drumbo division court, but he will probably be brought up for preliminary examination within a day or two.

The arrest was a great surprise, as Hobbs was generally looked upon as a man of quiet habits, with no extravagant tastes. He was a prominent member of one of the Ingersoll churches and had a very large circle of friends owing to his genial manner. He was also prominent in athletic sports, being well known here as a baseball and hockey player.

Hobbs has been in the employ of the bank in Ingersoll for many years. He is about 24 years of age and of prepossessing appearance. He was born in Walla Walla, Wash., whence he came to this country. His arrest has been a great shock to his mother, who was entirely unaware that her son was living beyond his means.

Since his arrival at the jail he has spoken freely of the causes which led to his downfall. He was not addicted to drink and did not gamble, but admits that he used the bank's funds to enable him to dress in the best style and indulge in luxuries which necessitated a frequent recourse to the till to enable him to keep up his end. He expects that his friends and relatives will come to his aid and make up the deficiency with the bank and promises that if he gets out of the present trouble he will benefit by his experience.

As the matter is now in the hands of the Crown prosecutor, it rests with him to decide whether the criminal proceedings will be pushed.

Tried to End Her Life.

Galt, June 30.—Rather than bear the disgrace of appearing in the police court on a charge of assaulting Robert Lovegrove, her adopted daughter's husband, Mrs. James Finlay, an elderly grey-haired woman, who lives on the Hospital road, attempted to commit suicide at 9.30 yesterday morning by throwing herself in the pond above the Electric Light Works' race. Her attempt failed, however, and she was arrested by Chief Gorman, and was later charged with attempting to commit suicide, and was remanded to Berlin for a week, where she will receive medical attendance.

Accused of Forgery.

Woodstock, June 30.—Yesterday a man giving his name as Fred Bennett Boynton, B.A., who recently came from Toronto to work in the Hamilton Oak Tanning Company's works here, was arrested on a charge of forgery. The alleged forgery consists of a check, purporting to be signed by George Marshall, secretary of the Tanning Co., which Boynton had cashed by the proprietor of the Central Hotel. Trouble With the Kidneys

Ailments of the Most Painful Nature Result—Prompt Cure Comes With the Use of

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

From every part of this broad land come letters of recommendation for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They seem to be well suited to the needs of many people, who obtain no benefit from ordinary Kidney medicines.

When you wait to think of the bosts of cures they are making it is no wonder that they have such an enormous sale.

Mrs. Caswell Reid, Orrville, Muskoka, Ont., writes: "For nearly twenty years I was troubled with kidney disease, and have recently been completely cured by using three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have tried a great many medicines, but never seemed to get anything to do me much good until I used these pills."

Mrs. J. C. Johnston, Carman, Man., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from kidney trouble, and have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with very marked benefit. I cannot say too much for this medicine, as it seemed to be the only medicine that suited my case."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 11

Buenos Ayres, June 30.—A correspondent at Bage, a Brazilian town, near the Uruguayan frontier, reports that a courier sent by Saravia has arrived there with a report of the battle at Tupambale, Uruguay. The fighting began on Wednesday of last week and continued the following day.

The Government forces had six hundred killed and eight hundred wounded, while the revolutionists suffered one hundred killed and six hundred wounded. The revolutionists captured a big quantity of war supplies.

Another despatch from Bage says the rear of the revolutionary forces under Mariano Saravia, brother of the leader of the revolution, is pursuing the Government troops under General Benavente. The revolutionists occupy excellent positions.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all druggists.

MOTION OF CENSURE

Mr. Haggart's Motion re Withholding Documents Defeated.

PREMIER SPEAKS IN DEFENCE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Shows That the Position of the Government Is Well Supported—Apparent Even to the Opposition, Who Refuse to Challenge a Vote—Marine Department Estimates Passed.

Ottawa, June 30.—Hon. John Haggart yesterday afternoon submitted his motion of censure upon the Government for having withheld from Parliament documents which, he contended, should have been laid upon the table. Lord Dundonald's report upon the defences of the country was the chief document, the absence of which Mr. Haggart complained of, but Hon. Mr. Blair's memorandum on the G. T. Pacific and several other documents were referred to, the withholding of which by the Government was, Mr. Haggart contended, unconstitutional.

The Premier's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied effectively, dealing at length with the constitutional question and quoting eminent authority in support of the Government's position. He again emphasized the fact that the question whether the civil or military power should be supreme had long since been decided in British countries, and could not now be made an issue.

Mr. R. L. Borden.

Mr. R. L. Borden strongly supported his lieutenant and criticized the Government's action, but freely and frankly accepted the explanation given by Sir Wilfrid as to his meaning and intention when he applied the term "stranger" to Lord Dundonald. Although the amendment was offered by Mr. Haggart upon the motion to go into supply, and was, therefore, a motion of want of confidence, when the question was put the Opposition declined to go on record by demanding a vote.

Government Railways.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson informed Mr. Pope that the total receipts on the Government system of railways for the current year up to May 31 last were $6,009,756, and the expenses of operation for the same period $6,665,071.

Mr. Casgrain asked if the report in the Government press that the Treadgold concession in the Yukon had been cancelled was founded.

"It is founded," replied Sir Wilfrid Laurier, amid laughter.

Marine Estimates.

The House then went into Committee of Supply, taking up the marine estimates again. After some considerable discussion on the St. Lawrence lighting system, Mr. Henderson made a special request for the erection of a lighthouse at Bronte for the benefit of the many fishermen at that point.

In reply to Mr. E. D. Smith, the Minister of Marine said that the vessels of three steamship lines running out of Montreal were fitted with wireless telegraphic apparatus.

The committee having passed the remaining items for the Department of Marine, the House adjourned at 11.15 p.m.

Sir F. Borden's Letter.

The Minister of Militia laid on the table of the House yesterday a letter which he addressed on the 26th of March to Lieut.-Colonel Fred Whitley, commanding the eastern townships cavalry brigade, in relation to the organization of the 13th Dragoons. "My attention," he says, "has been called to the fact that considerable dissatisfaction exists in several quarters in the townships owing to the fact that Montreal officers are being selected to recruit and to command country regiments. I have every confidence in your good-will towards myself and the Government generally, but I think it is desirable you should understand the real position in order that you may take the utmost care in any work you may be doing in this regard." Sir Frederick alludes to an application from Watson P. Miltimore for a commission in D squadron, and to a letter he had received from Hon. Sydney Fisher in that connection.

How long will it take the man to fill the sack if he does not stop the leak? To attempt to nourish the body when the stomach is diseased is like trying to fill the sack with the hole in it. When the stomach and other digestive and nutritive organs are diseased, there is a constant loss of nutrition. Enough is eaten but the body loses flesh,—plain proof that the food eaten is largely wasted because it is not digested and assimilated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It stops the leaks by which nutrition is lost, and enables the building up of the body by the nutrition derived from food. The gain in weight proves the cure.

"Three years ago I was taken sick with what the doctor called nervousness and indigestion," writes Mrs. Warren E. Parker, of Orange Street, Nantucket, Mass. "He gave me medicine for the trouble, but I could not eat even a little toast or oatmeal without suffering severely. In a few months I began to have distressing pains right in the pit of my stomach. I called the doctor again and he said I had catarrh of stomach; gave me medicine but it did not do any good. I lost 26 pounds in three months. I then commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines and soon began to feel better. I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' two of 'Favorite Prescription' and six vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I have gained ten pounds. Can eat everything."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

IN THE SENATE.

Ottawa, June 30.—In the Senate yesterday, Senator Macdonald moved a resolution declaring in favor of an amendment to the audit act at the present session of Parliament, in accordance with the recommendation of the Auditor-General, and thereby retain the services of that official, whose mental vigor, courage and long experience well qualify him to discharge the duties of his office, with advantage to the people of Canada.

Hon. Mr. Scott said whatever the views the Government might have had in regard to the audit act, it was too late to make any amendments this session. He would regret if this caused the resignation of Mr. Macdougall. He in no way wished to minimize the services of the Auditor-General to the country. Even his errors had always been on the right side of the protection of the public revenue. The Government hoped that his resignation, which had not been accepted, would not take effect.

The motion was lost on a vote of 25 to 12.

The bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act was taken in committee of the whole, read a third time and passed.

London, June 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Governor of New Zealand, in opening Parliament, said it was a matter for consideration whether the original scheme in regard to naval defence should not now be adopted for New Zealand, and the Australian squadron brought into the state the Admiralty suggested at the conference of Prime Ministers. It meant doubling the present subsidy, but it was better to feel safe.

The King Was Treated Well.

Hamburg, June 29.—King Edward paid his promised visit to Hamburg yesterday, and met with a most cordial reception from the authorities and big crowds of the inhabitants. He subsequently made a tour of the harbor, which was elaborately decorated.

The King, replying to the burgomaster's toast, said he would never forget the kindness of the reception. "When I return to my country," he added, "I will seize the opportunity to tell everybody how well and cordially I have been received here. I know very well that this reception is intended not only for my person, but also for the great Empire God has chosen me to rule over."

PROTEST BY THE MILLERS.

Claim Freight Rates in Canada Are Higher Than in U.S.

Toronto, June 29.—Before the Railway Commission yesterday, C. B. Watts appeared for the Canadian Millers' Association, and claimed that the rates within Canada were too high, being greater than the charges on goods shipped from points in the United States. John W. Loud, freight traffic manager of the G.T.R., said that the railways sought to obtain a portion of the export trade from the United States, and on this account were compelled to lower their rates.

D. R. Ross of Embro, a pea miller, had shipped to Great Britain in 1901 a million and a quarter pounds of peas, but since then had done almost nothing. He ascribed the falling off to the rates on peas. The English miller could get Canadian whole peas at a cheaper rate than the Canadian millers themselves.

Mr. Watts said that the rate on grain for export from Canadian points was 13½c. per 100 pounds, while from Detroit it was 9½c., and this was not an exceptional case. He also objected to the demurrage charge of $1 for every car detained over 48 hours, and submitted that the roads should be subject to a similar penalty when cars were not promptly furnished or forwarded. Mr. Watts admitted that there was not much grain exported last year, but he spoke for the principle. He dwelt, however, on the necessity for granting the privilege of grinding in transit to Ontario millers, as it would be of much advantage to the farmers.

The Commission rose at 4.30 p.m., and will to-day inspect some crossings at Whitby and to-morrow sit at Ottawa.

Silk Burglary at Montreal.

Montreal, June 29.—When the large store, known as Le Louvre, at the corner of St. Lawrence and De Montigny streets, was opened yesterday, it was found that burglars had effected an entrance during the night and had carried off a large quantity of valuable silks, collarets, shawls, jackets, etc. Armand Giroux, the proprietor, says that the men carried off fully $6,000 worth of goods, and that they must have had an intimate knowledge of the value of the silks, etc. The detective department has been notified, and two men are at work on the case. Mr. Giroux is insured in the Dominion Burglary Guarantee Company.

A BIG FAMILY.

New names have to be designed every year to accommodate the Disease Family, but they all revolve around one cause—The Stomach.

The receptacle of all you eat or drink cannot help but get crippled—very few escape. How can they? Just think of what lands in the stomach during a few hours—All sorts of things—sour, sweet, acid, starchy, light, heavy, vegetable and animal; all this raw material is tumbled into the stomach without much thought as to the order of its going, every particle of which has to be worked over, digested, and converted into food for nerves, blood, brain, kidneys, liver and bowels—for every tissue, cell and fibre of the body. Sometimes the stomach is overloaded, shocked and deranged and cannot do its work properly, and right here begins the starting point of disease, as no organ now receives proper nutriment, and usually the weakest cry out their warnings. That's why a well stomach means a well body, and that's why ANTI-PILL has such a marked effect. It soothes the irritated linings of the stomach, and so acts on the mucous membrane that the necessary supply of gastric juice to secure digestion is assured—ANTI-PILL, the Great System Treatment makes a well stomach.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH WAS THE VERDICT

Of the Jury at the Coroner's Inquest Last Evening.

Train Officials Not Blameworthy for Death of the Late Mrs. Ellen Delaney The Evidence.

The jury brought in the following verdict at the adjourned inquest before Coroner Gray, last evening, to inquire into the circumstances of the death of the late Mrs. Ellen Delaney:

"The late Ellen Delaney met her death accidentally by being struck by an engine on the Grand Trunk Railway, on Park street, Peterborough, on June 10th, and we believe the train official did all possible to prevent the said accident, and are not blameworthy."

"We would recommend that the limit of speed for trains in incorporated towns and cities be less than 40 miles an hour (except where crossings are placed) as now allowed by Act of Parliament. We would also recommend that steps be taken to have gates placed at this crossing and at the crossing on Reid street."

The jury was composed of Messrs. J. J. Lynch, G. Ball, C. Halpin, J. P. Bryson, W. J. Geary, J. Coughlin, J. A. Tully, F. S. Schneider, C. B. Routley, R. McWhinnie, K. G. Lech, W. Eyres, D. J. DeVine, T. Lane.

Nathan Stabler, sworn, said that on the morning of June 10, about 11.45 o'clock, he was on Park street and saw a special passenger train approaching. He saw an elderly woman between him and the track. He heard the train whistle but heard no bell ring. The whistle continued to blow until the lady was struck. When deceased was struck she was pitched through the air into the ditch east of the track. He saw her after she was struck, but could not say whether she was dead. When he heard the whistle first, she was probably thirty or forty feet from the track. He did not know when the brakes were applied. The train began to slacken speed as it approached the crossing. He thought he had seen trains cross the road before at the same rate of speed.

Albert Duncan said he saw the accident occur when he was at Green's foundry. He did not hear the train whistle after it left the boundary. He saw the regular train pass five or ten minutes before and was surprised to see another follow so closely. He saw the deceased struck. She was partly carried on the front of the engine until thrown off the track. The train was going from 25 to 30 miles an hour, he thought. He was of the opinion that the train was moving faster than ordinary trains.

Robert Baker first saw the train just after it struck the deceased. He was standing in front of Green's foundry. He first saw the deceased when she was going through the air. He had no definite idea how fast the train was going. Probably it was about as fast as the noon train. He heard the train whistle around the park somewhere.

Lambert Wallis, operator at G.T.R. station here, said the noon express arrived at 11.42 and the special reached the station about one hour later, going first to the fifth ward. It took 25 or 30 minutes to come from Omemee to Peterborough. He did not know when the special left Omemee. The trains are kept ten minutes apart if possible. The G.T.R. had an operator at Omemee. The special and regular must have been about ten minutes apart. The special did not book at Peterborough until it returned from Ashburnham.

Chas. Piercy, train despatcher for the G.T.R. on this division, kept a record of the arrival and departure of all trains. The regular left Omemee on that day at 11.16, and the special at 11.25. The regular train went the 14 miles in 26 minutes, or a little better than 30 miles an hour. He had no record of the speed of the special. In the regular way there were 20 minutes between passenger trains. They might be allowed to follow more closely if all concerned were notified.

Jas. Pirie was on the special train. There was no stop between Omemee and Peterborough until the accident occurred. The road foreman, Mr. J. E. Linahan was running the engine. He is supposed to be an expert at the business. At the time of the accident the witness was on the left hand side of the cab, ringing the bell. When he first saw the women the train was about 50 yards from the crossing, which she was approaching slowly. She seemed to stop when about fifteen or twenty feet from the track. He supposed she would remain there until the train passed. As the train neared the crossing she ran along the middle of the public road on to the track. He put out his hands and called to her to stop. She was running across on Park street apparently trying to beat the train across. He lost view of her when she tried to pass in front of the engine. She was found 20 or 25 feet from where she was struck. Whistles were blown for each crossing. In the short distance to go between the lady and the train there was little chance to give warning. The train was not going more than ten miles an hour. The brakes were last applied going around the curve north west of Park street. A person standing some distance from a train could not form a proper estimate of the speed. He was an engineer, but was not in charge at the time. He did not think Mr. Lanahan saw the lady before she was struck. There were ten minutes between the regular and special trains. The train could have stopped even if the alarm had called to the man running the engine. Had the train been going faster she might have crossed the track and she might have been cut to pieces. We might have attained a speed of 40 miles an hour at certain points on the run from Omemee to Peterborough, but were not running at that speed when we reached the curve.

Jas. E. Linehan said he was the foreman of engines for the Northern Division. He took charge of the engine at Lindsay. He thought he could run an engine as well as the last witness. At any time he saw fit he assumed charge of an engine. He frequently did so to make himself familiar with the condition of the engine. He shut off steam at the Lily Lake siding when they were running about 35 or 40 miles an hour. He applied the brakes two or three times when coming down the grade. When turning the curve west of Park street the speed was probably 12 miles an hour. He whistled when coming around the curve and also as they came to Park street. When he released the brake west of Park street the train was going about ten miles an hour. He whistled so much when coming down that he wondered if the officials would not think he was whistling too much. He first intimation he had of the accident was when he was about 12 feet from the crossing. He put the valve at "service application," which is used for ordinary stoppages. The engineer said "Did we hit that woman?" He saw the woman fall but did not see her until after she was struck. The fireman when not otherwise engaged, must keep a sharp look out. The train ran for about 300 feet after he applied the brake until it stopped. He concluded from that that it was not going more than ten miles an hour. With an emergency application he could stop the train in 120 or 125 feet if going at 10 miles an hour on that down grade. The lady appeared to be lifted bodily. He thought that the woman moved at about the same speed as the train. He generally took charge of any engine he was on. He whistled probably five or six times between Lily Lake and the Park street crossing; he passed no whistle post without whistling. The special would run at about the same speed as the regular. He had often ridden on the regular train, and believed the special was going no faster.

William Little, conductor on the special, was standing in the baggage car door. When the deceased was 18 or 20 feet from the track, she started to run across the track, along the middle of the road. He did not see her struck. He did not think the train was going more than ten miles an hour. The whistle was sounded, and the bell was ringing. He could see the sidewalk and street crossing. The deceased was walking where the teams drive, with an umbrella up.

Nathan Stabler, recalled, said, the deceased crossed the track about 10 feet from the sidewalk. He did not notice her hesitate before she crossed the track.

J. J. Lynch, knew nothing regarding the hearing of the deceased. At times one might have to speak louder than usual to make her hear.

George Ball was well acquainted with deceased, and considered her hearing normal. He did not know her to be quite deaf. Her sight was all right.

This concluded the evidence, and the jury retired and brought in the above verdict.

FOOTBALL.

In the third game in the City Football League at the Oval last evening, the Quakers won from the Y.M.C.A. in a well contested game by a score of 3-0. The Quakers after their loss to the Wanderers on Monday, were right in the game from start to finish, playing fast football and having the best of the argument. The Y. also played a good game, but could not pass the strong Quaker defence. At half time the score was 1-0. Only ten men a side were played. The teams were:—Quakers,— Goal, Belleghem; backs, Simpson and Dorris; half-backs, McKeown, Donaldson, P. Fitzgerald; forwards, Crowley, C. Fitzgerald, Brooks, Snider. Y. M. C. St. Paul's evened things up on George street last night by defeating the Methodists in the second half of the return game by 6—0, and the whole game by 9—3. The game was one characterized by a perfect inability to hit Watt, the twirler for the St. Paul's team, aided by some bad errors in the field. Mudhern, who pitched for the Methodist aggregation, was given very poor support, although he pitched good ball. The batteries were the same as in the first half of the game,—St. Paul's, Watt and Rosenberg; George Street, Mulhern and Dobbin. Umpire, H. R. H. Kenner.

claimed, to an army of 4,000 and is still increasing. It is expected that there will be 10,000 men in the field before next January, as Boers who are dissatisfied with the situation under the British Government are coming into the border camp daily.
The writer of the letter says in part: "We are well fortified in the mountains and have enough provisions to last us a year, also an abundant supply of ammunition and arms. Those stores we have been accumulating gradually. There are enough arms in the camp to equip

The letter states further that the existence of the Boer army has not been given publicity and that the leaders and the men have been guarded in their conduct so that none of their exploits would be recounted in newspapers. The leaders now consider that the force has become suf-

sent out to Boers all over Europe urging them to be in readiness to respond when a call for recruits is

RUSSIANS AND JAPS IN A FIGHT AT SEA

Decisive Naval Battle Reported from Che Foo.

CHE FOO CAPTAIN'S STORY

Passed Within Fifteen Miles of Japanese Fleet, Consisting fo Two Battleships and Five Cruisers, All Actively Engaged, But Did Not See Russian Fleet—Partial Confirmation—Russians Admit 200 Slain.

Che Foo, July 2.—What should prove to be a decisive naval engagement was in progress yesterday afternoon, midway between Che Foo and Port Arthur.

The steamer Che Foo, which has arrived here, passed within fifteen miles of the Japanese fleet, consisting of two battleships and five cruisers, all actively engaged.

The Russian fleet was not seen, but the distance of the Japanese fleet from land precludes the possibility of any attack on the land batteries.

The captain of the Che Foo says he heard a terrific explosion, but was unable to discern whether a Japanese or a Russian ship was affected.

A Chinaman who left Port Arthur Thursday night says there are only four Russian warships, cruisers and battleships in the harbor and none outside. The opinion prevails that the faster ships eluded the five Japanese warships maintaining the blockade.

Japs 20 Miles From Liaoyang.

Liaoyang, July 2.—Gen. Kuropatkin and Gen. Kuroki are moving their troops like men on a chessboard. The Japanese are now twenty miles from Liaoyang. The rains are impeding their movements.

Detachments totalling 1,200 men have been detailed from Gen. Rennenkampf's Cossacks to scout in the defiles and hills, harrassing the Japanese and not allowing any rest day or night.

Kuroki's army is extremely active east of the Russian position and the Russians are correspondingly active. The Russian centre is being rapidly pushed northwards to a point where Kuropatkin established his base after the battle at Vafangow. So far as the Russians know, Kuroki is steadily pushing onwards through all the mountain passes, even towards Mukden.

Preparations at all points are now practically complete. The demonstrations made during the last few days against the Russian left flank threaten to completely change the position of the two armies.

Notwithstanding four days' rain the troops are still being moved.

Denies Russian Loss.

St. Petersburg, July 2.—Major-Gen. Pflug, telegraphing from Mukden, under date of July 1, says:

"The reports from foreign sources that the Japanese fleet sank several vessels of our squadron on June 23 and that our loss included Rear-Admiral Prince Ouktomsky and 700 sailors are absolutely untrue."

The Gensan Bombardment.

Tokio, July 2.—The Russian Vladivostock squadron, consisting of three cruisers, one torpedo boat destroyer and nine torpedo boats, after shelling the Village of Gensan Thursday, was later reported off Anpen (about 15 miles to the east of Gensan), proceeding in a southeasterly direction. Its destination is not known.

Seoul, Corea, July 2.—Additional reports from Gensan show that only two Coreans and two Japanese were slightly injured and two dwellings burned as a result of the bombardment by the Russian Vladivostock squadron.

Fighting Round Port Arthur.

Mukden, Thursday, June 30.—(Delayed in Transmission.) — Heavy fighting is reported to have occurred near Port Arthur, June 26, resulting in the Russian withdrawal from Quinsanshan after severe losses on both sides.

The Japanese fleet approached Staopingtao, midway between Port Dalny and Port Arthur in the morning of June 26 and bombarded the coast north of the bay so far as Ultseloshan. Strong Japanese forces which had been landed then attacked the neighboring heights, which were occupied by Russian riflemen.

Three times the Japanese were driven back with heavy losses, but the Russians were forced to retire from their main position near Quinsanshan. The Japanese reinforced their advance guard and pressed the attack. After several fruitless assaults on Quinsanshan, the Japanese commander sent a strong column along the central road from Dalny to Port Arthur with the object of turning the Russian left, forcing the Russians to retire.

The Russians lost seven officers and nearly two hundred men killed. The Japanese losses are believed to have been at least 1,000, as during the battle they passed over a mine which the Russians successfully exploded.

Say They Sank Jap Ships.

Liaoyang, Thursday, June 30.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—Russian advices from Port Arthur say that the Russian Port Arthur squadron consisting of eleven ships attacked the Japanese squadron of eighteen ships, June 23, sinking four of the Japanese torpedo boats and inflicting damage on the other vessels. The Russian ships returned to Port Arthur. Not a single large vessel, it is added, was damaged.

Kuropatkin Decides Not to Fight.

Newchwang, July 2.—A telegram from German sources at Mukden received here Thursday evening says Gen. Kuropatkin has decided not to fight at Tatchekiao or Haicheng, but to retreat from Tatchekiao, which movement was started June 28 and is well under way. Small detachments of troops will, it is stated, stay south to stem the Japanese until the Russian retreat is in full swing. It is not believed that the Russians will be able to reach Liaoyang, as the Japanese control the passes, which would indicate that the Russian line of communication may be cut.

Kuropatkin Reports.

St. Petersburg, July 2.—The Emperor has received the following despatch from Gen. Kuropatkin, dated June 30:

"Torrential rains fell in the Tatchekiao district June 28 and on the roads from Tachikiao to Sinyen, inundating our bivouac. The Japanese are advancing slowly in different directions towards our east and south fronts.

"On the south the Japanese are advancing eastward, with the object of effecting a junction with Kuroki's army.

"It has been ascertained by a reconnaissance in the direction of Dalin Pass that the Japanese have retired some distance from the positions recently occupied by them. Their covering forces, consisting of several companies, retired after a short fusillade.

"A report from the direction of Fengwangcheng, June 29, announced that an energetic advance of the Japanese forces had been discovered towards Wafanhaun and the Linhosin Pass.

"The rains continue."

Japs Evacuated Dalin.

Liaoyang, June 30 (delayed in transmission). — Gen. Kuropatkin, with reinforcements, personally moved towards Dalin Pass, whereupon the pass was evacuated by the Japanese and re-occupied by the Russians.

Some Roads Impassable.

Liaoyang, July 2.—The Chinese say the real rainy weather season has begun. The roads in some place are absolutely impassable.

The Japanese have retired from Dalin Pass and are moving in a northeasterly direction on the Liaoyang road. They have appeared in great force at Fenshui and Motien Pass, outflanking the Russian position.

The Russian eastern divisions continue to retire before superior numbers, but are keeping in close touch with the enemy.

Lost 300,000 Lbs. Flour.

Liaoyang, July 2.—During a recent typhoon in the Sea of Japan, 27 barges belonging to the Nippon Yusen Kaisha of Tokio, lost 300,000 pounds of flour intended for the Japanese armies.

FRENCH MONKS RESISTED.

Troops, Police and Firemen Were Used But Latter Did Work.

Nantes, July 2.—The extensive establishment of the Premonstrant and Capuchin orders were closed yesterday after violent resistence. The Premonstrant monks barricaded their doors and windows.

A battalion of infantry and a detachment of dragoons assisted the police.

Firemen finally deluged the monastery with water, forcing back the monks from the barricades.

The occupants were taken out by means of ladders.

Similar expedients were used to expel the Capuchin monks.

To Suppress Appropriation.

Paris, July 2.—The Budget Committee of the Chamber of Deputies voted yesterday for the suppression of the appropriation of the French Embassy at the Vatican, and also passed a resolution which will be incorporated in the committee's report to the Chamber, censuring Premier Combes for his refusal to express the views of the Government on the subject.

BOERS ON THE MOVE.

4,000 Who Have Never Surrendered to British Ready For the Field—Expect to Grow to 10,000.

York, Pa., July 2.—A Boer uprising in South Africa is predicted in a letter written by a Boer in German Southwest Africa, to Girardus H. Van Deventer, who was a lieutenant in the Boer army and who is now earning a livelihood by teaching languages in the city.

Van Deventer ... in receipt of the letter yesterday ... he was surprised to learn that a Boer army of 4,000 men well armed, fully provisioned and with good horses, are in the field on the borders of German Southwest Africa. These troops are in command of Generals Van Zyl, Van Brummelen and Moritz, who have never surrendered their arms to the British.

After the close of the war these went into the mountains ... treatment where they remained with a few ... lowers. During the past year the handful of men has grown, it is claimed, to an army of 4,000 and is still increasing. It is expected that there will be 10,000 men in the field before next January, as Boers who are dissatisfied with the situation under the British Government are coming into the border camp daily.

The writer of the letter says in part: "We are well fortified in the mountains and have enough provisions to last us a year, also an abundant supply of ammunition and arms. Those stores we have been accumulating gradually. There are enough arms in the camp to equip 8,000 man and we expect to be supplied with more. The Germans are very friendly to us. Our rendezvous is an ideal spot both for living and in point of the protection it affords us. The time is not far distant when the spark of rebellion will be fanned into a vast flame which will sweep South Africa. Rest assured, the Boers will never rest until the British are driven out and our country reclaimed."

The letter states further that the existence of the Boer army has not been given publicity and that the leaders and the men have been guarded in their conduct so that none of their exploits would be recounted in newspapers. The leaders now consider that the force has become sufficiently large to inspire Boers all over the world, so letters are being sent out to Boers all over Europe and throughout the United States urging them to be in readiness to respond when a call for recruits is issued.

BEFORE THE HOLIDAY.

Members of the Commons Prefunctorily Disposed of Business.

Ottawa, July 2.—A small and listless House perfunctorily disposed of various estimates of the Department of the Interior Thursday afternoon and adjourned at 5 o'clock. The House will meet again on Monday at 3 p. m., the Prime Minister having delayed the beginning of the morning sittings till Tuesday. The best prophets are figuring on prorogation in three weeks.

Hon. Sydney Fisher denied that he hired out one of his horses to an Ottawa trooper and received the full Government allowance for the same. He said he kept a horse at a livery stable in Ottawa. To provide exercise for the horse the liveryman, in Mr. Fisher's absence, lent the animal to a trooper in the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards. Mr. Fisher accepted no pay for the horse.

The bill respecting the Temigami Railway Company, as amended by the Senate, was accepted by the House. Under the Senate amendment, Father Paradis is retained as a charter director.

Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill relating to the naturalization of aliens. The amendment is designed to remove some technical difficulties which have arisen in the Province of Quebec in regard to the places of sitting of the Circuit Court.

Replying to Dr. Kendall, Sir Richard Cartwright stated that $1,721,566 had been paid in bounties to the Dominion Iron and Steel Company since it began the manufacture of iron and steel.

TAXATION POINTERS.

The Ontario Railway Commission Meets Michigan Experts.

Detroit, July 2.—The Canadian commission to investigate the American railway taxation system occupied the Russell House parlor yesterday, where it met the Michigan State Commission and discussed informally the laws and methods of this State.

The session in this city will conclude July 6, when the commission will go to Lansing to inspect the books of the State.

All the members of the Michigan State Tax Commission were present and entered heartily into the discussion.

SAVE BABY'S LIFE.

You cannot watch your little ones too carefully during the hot weather. At this time sickness comes swiftly, and the sands of the little life are apt to glide away almost before you know it. Dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera infantum and stomach troubles are alarmingly frequent during the hot weather. At the first sign of any of these troubles Baby's Own Tablets should be given—better still, an occasional dose will prevent these troubles coming, and the Tablets should therefore be kept in every home. Promptness may save your child's life. Mrs. J. R. Staodeal, Weyburn, N.W.T., says, "Baby's Own Tablets are valuable in cases of diarrhoea, constipation, fives, and when teething. I have never used a medicine that has given such satisfaction." This is the experience of all mothers who have used the Tablets. If you do not find the Tablets at your druggists send 25 cents to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and a box will be sent you by mail, postpaid.

—Mr. Ubatten, a resident of Smith street, fell in a fit on George street to-day, and the services of the ambulance were required to take him home.

SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1904.

THE AUDITOR-GENERAL.

The resignation of Auditor-General McDougall, has brought about considerable discussion of his merits and his relations to the Government and country. While there is no doubt that he has done good service to the country in his official capacity, it is the fact that his usefulness has been somewhat restricted by his insistance at times upon the arbitrary exercise of his functions. He has been rather too nice a stickler in small things and has became more of a dictator than an auditor. While it is desirable that the public interests should be protected and proper payments provided for, there is also another phase to the exercise of this powers. Persons who do legitimate service for the Government are entitled to remuneration, and sometimes injustice is done and on the mere ipse dixit of the Auditor-General. A case in point may be cited. When the Dominion Franchise Act was passed, now many years ago, the Examiner on the authority of the late Judge Dennistoun and his recording clerk, Sheriff Hall, published in connection with the revision of the lists, advertisements which, in the judgment of those officials, were necessary and proper, for each municipality affected. When the account was presented for payment the Auditor General, who would not deny the fairness and correctness of the account, or the reasonable nature of the charges, took it upon himself to review the judgment of the local officials, who being upon the ground, would be supposed to know better what was required than a distant officials, took the ground that all the advertisements should have been included in one general advertisement. The account was rejected, and to this day payment of a considerable amount has not been made. The Auditor-General doubtless knew that it would not pay to go into the Exchequer Court with the account — a lawyer's fees would soon absorb the whole amount. Consequently the injustice has been done of withholding payment of a just account. The people of Canada are the Government of Canada, and while the theory of the watch-dog of the treasury is very attractive, it must be remembered that the rights of the people to payment for just service, is not to be ignored. Carried out to its logical conclusion, the attitude of the Auditor-General in regard to the account in question, is tantamount to the exercise of the functions of a minister. He did not question the correctness of the account mentioned, but assumed to decide on a matter of policy. On the same principle, the account of a contractor on a canal, might be proper and regular, but the Auditor-General would reject it because the construction of the canal was, in his opinion, contrary to sound public policy. If the Auditor-General is useful in protecting the interests of the people, that does not make it right that an autocratic exercise of his power should deprive the people of their just rights.

THE TWO RECORDS

Lord Dundonald tells the country in his manifesto that "the present Government has shown itself to be indifferent to the militia, and the Conservative papers echo his accusation. We append, says the Globe, the expenditures on that branch of administration for the last six years of Conservative rule and for the first six of Liberal administration:—

1891...	$1,279,514	1897...	$1,567,598
1892...	1,266,308	1898...	1,514,472
1893...	1,419,746	1899...	2,112,292
1894...	1,284,517	1900...	1,846,179
1895...	1,574,014	1901...	2,001,674
1896...	1,136,714	1902...	2,060,979
	$7,960,813		$11,263,184

In addition to this ordinary expenditure there was an expenditure during the latter six years of $2,973,947 on capital account, and no expenditure on capital account in the previous six years whatsoever. It will be remembered that the superloyalists could not spare funds even to send the men to camp to their annual drill.

OUT OF ORDER

The great evils which are often wrought by small ills can be no more clearly and effectively demonstrated than by the troubles of an automobile driver. How well he knows the disastrous effect of negligence or failure to give proper care to each and every detail. A single small part out of order affects the entire mechanism.

And so it is with the infinitely more delicate and intricate mechanism of the human frame. Affected kidneys put the entire system out of order. They are the direct cause of lame back, sick headache, sallow or deathly pale complexion loss of memory, loss of ambition, dyspepsia, melancholy, tired feeling, swollen joints, puffed face, rheumatism in any of its various forms, loss of appetite, and many more troubles. Have you any of these symptoms?

Bu-Ju, The Kidney Pill, will set you right. It will cure you. Begin today.

Bu-Ju is for sale by druggists, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box.

Dr. Giuseppe Lappon.

Physician to the Pope Praises Dr. Williams Pink Pills

In four Cases of Anaemia their Effects Were so Satisfactory that he will go on Using Them.

Dr. Lapponi, whose skill preserved the life of the late Pope Leo XIII to the great age of 92, and to whose care the health of the present Pope, His Holiness Pius X., is confided, has written the remarkable letter of which the following is a translation:

"I certify that I have tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in four cases of the simple Anaemia of development. After a few weeks of treatment, the result came fully up to my expectations. For that reason I shall not fail in the future to extend the use of this laudable preparation not only in the treatment of other morbid forms of the category of Anaemia or Chlorosis, but also in cases of Neurasthenia and the like."

DR. GIUSEPPE LAPPONI.

Dr. Giuseppe Lapponi, Physician to the Pope, who has written a letter in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

It would be impossible to exaggerate the importance of this opinion. Dr. Lapponi's high official position places his professional competence above question, and it is certain that he did not write as above without weighing his words, or without a full sense of the effect this opinion would have.

The "simple anaemia of development" referred to by Dr. Lapponi is of course that tired, languid condition of young girls whose development to womanhood is tardy, and whose health, at the period of that development, is so often imperilled. A girl, bright and merry enough in childhood, will in her teens grow by degrees pale and languid. Frequent headaches, and a sense of uneasiness which she cannot understand, make her miserable. Just when it is time for her to leave off being a girl and become a woman—a change which comes to different individuals at different ages—her development lingers—why? Because she has too little blood. That is what Dr. Lapponi means when he speaks, in the scientific language natural to him, of "the anaemia of development." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have the power of making new blood. They cure anaemia just as food cures hunger. That is how they help growing girls, who, for want of this new blood, often drift into chronic ill-health, or "go into a decline"—which means consumption—and die. Dr. Williams' Pills could save them.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a nerve tonic, referred to by Dr. Lapponi, makes them valuable to man as well as women. They act on the nerves through the blood and thus cure diseases like St. Vitus dance, neuralgia, paralysis and locomotor ataxia. When buying these pills it is important to see that the full name Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around each box. Never take a substitute, as it is worse than a waste of money—it is a menace to health. If you cannot get the genuine pills from your dealer write the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent you post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

SUIT AGAINST FISH TRUST.

Ohio Will Try and Rule the Booth Co. Out in That State.

Columbus, Ohio, July 2.—Suit has been brought by Attorney-General Ellis to oust the so-called fish trust of the great lakes, commercially known as A. Booth & Co. of Chicago, from its charter in Ohio.

The Attorney-General charges that the company has purchased the business of its competitors and controls 90 per cent. of the fresh water fish business carried on from the Mississippi to Buffalo. It has been in operation four years, during which time it has reached out into Canada. It has taken in the business of about sixty dealers in fresh water fish.

The petition states that the corporation seeks to engage in about forty different kinds of business under its charter, from making glue to becoming surety on the bonds for individuals.

A Beet Sugar Combine.

Detroit, July 2.—One of the most important steps in the development of the sugar beet industry in Michigan is the formation of a central board of control to more economically operate plants practically owned by the same interests. The plants now working under agreement are: The Alma Sugar Co., capital $650,000; Saginaw Co., $750,000; Valley Co., $650,000; Bay City Co., $1,000,000; Tawas Co., $750,000; Sebewaing Co., $650,000; Sanitac Co., $800,000; Peninsular Co., $1,000,000; total capitalization, $6,250,000.

CAN PUT A STOP TO GREAT EVIL

Physicians Asked not to Issue Orders for Liquor.

License Department Request Medical men not to Grant Permits Indiscriminately.

The indiscriminate manner in which medical men in various parts of the province issue orders to liquor dealers authorizing them to sell liquor to persons who would not otherwise be able to obtain it, has caused the Provincial License Department a great deal of concern. Of late the evil seemed to have become aggravated and with a view to preventing, or at least minimizing it, Mr. Eudo Saunders, chief officer of the department, on Wednesday sent the following letter to Dr. R. A. Pyne, M. P.P., registrar of the Ontario Medical Council—

"The Provincial License Department, has recently received a number of complaints from various parts of the province, that medical practitioners in the districts in question are in the habit of giving prescriptions or orders to hotel keepers and shop licenses to supply liquor to the holders of the orders, sometimes for indefinite periods, and often in absurdly large quantities, and it was thought probable that the Medical Council might see fit, if attention were called to the matter, to make an effort to minimize this evil.

"The department would prefer not to give any names for publication lest it should be prejudicial to the practitioners without being correspondingly beneficial to the public. I may, however, say that within the last few days three complaints have been received of this character. In one instance thirty orders had been given within ten days in a small place, mostly to persons to have reached an acute stage on two successive Sundays. In another locality seventeen orders were given for alcohol, chiefly by the quart, and, what is worse, many of these orders were to bearer. In Woodstock recently a curious order was presented to an hotel keeper, signed by a medical practitioner, authorizing him to supply the bearer, whose name was mentioned, with three or four glasses a day in order that he might 'wean off.' The weaning-off process, so far (as I understand it, is not generally accomplished in this way. This particular order was not subject to any limitation in point of time, and the hotel keeper thought it would hold good for several months. It should be stated in this connection that a notice had previously been served upon the hotel-keeper under section 125 of the Liquor License Act, forbidding him to supply the person in question with any liquor whatever.

Northwest's Wheat Area.

Regina, N.W.T., July 2.—The Department of Agriculture has just issued an estimate of the area of the Northwest Territories under crop this season, 1904. From the figures given it appears that there are 2,054,211 acres under wheat, 654,649 acres under oats, 111,979 acres under barley and 20,938 acres under flax. A comparative table is also appended, showing the acreage under these crops for each year since 1898. Wheat, oats and barley all show large increases in area over 1903, but flax from 82,481 acres in that year has fallen to 20,938 acres for 1904.

Had Diabetes but was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Great Interest in the Case as People Realize what will Cure Diabetes will Cure any Kidney Disease.

Toronto, Ont., July 1.—(Special.)—As the people learn to realize how much the general health depends on keeping the kidneys right, and how many diseases are the direct result of bad kidney action every verified cure of a severe kidney disease is received with interest.

For that reason the case of A. W. Holman, the well-known butcher of 1931-2 Mutual street this city, is well worthy of attention. Mr. Holman had Diabetes. Now he is a well man. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it. Asked concerning this case, Mr. Holman said:—

"Yes, I had Diabetes for six years. I tried all kinds of remedies but to no use. My attention was called to Dodd's Kidney Pills by an advertisement and I began to use them. I only used six boxes when I was completely cured."

As it is conceded that what will cure Diabetes will cure any Kidney Disease it must be admitted that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any Kidney Disease.

An Encouraging Message

I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the torture due to female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health, and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well-being. This change has been brought about wholly by the use of ORANGE LILY.

In addition, I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgements of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:

Truro, N. S., April 5, 1904.

Dear Mrs. Currah,—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it.

For several years I have suffered untold agony. This suffering was continuous, but I would have violent attacks every few weeks, each attack lasting several days. The first Sunday in November, I felt the pain increasing and so did not go to prayers. The rest of the family did go and soon after the forcing down pains seized me and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night, and was very sick for a whole week.

Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick do write myself. (My doctor could do nothing for me.) I have used 6 boxes of ORANGE LILY, have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going around and doing my own work. I can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could shout it to all the world. I cannot speak enough in its praise.

Your friend, MRS. B. H. F.

Receiving as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I felt impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It differs from the other so-called remedies in that it is not taken internally. It is a strictly local treatment, and is applied directly to the affected organs. Its curative elements are absorbed into the congested tissues, expelling the stagnant foreign matter which has been irritating the membrane and oppressing the nerves, and a growing feeling of physical and mental relief is noticeable almost from the start. It is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free trial Treatment you will be very materially benefitted.

FREE TRIAL OFFER.

I want every reader of this who suffers in any way from painful monthly periods, irregularities leucorrhoea, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pains in the back, etc., to send me their addresses, and I will forward at once, without charge, 10 days' treatment. If your case is not far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so earnest in making this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without a doctor's bill.

MRS. F. C. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT.

ORANGE LILY is recommended and sold in Peterborough by Mr W. B. Warne, Druggist, 345 George Street.

Principal Graham Throws Himself Under Train at St. Mary's.

LEAPED IN FRONT OF ENGINE

Mr. Graham Was Principal of the Simcoe Street Norman Training School at London—Temporary Insanity Accounts For the Horrible Affair—Trolley Killed Aged Woman—Pembroke Man Killed.

London, Ont., July 2.—Principal Robert M. Graham of the Simcoe Street Normal Training School, took his own life in a horrible manner at St. Mary's Junction yesterday afternoon. He was being taken to the Sanitarium at Guelph for treatment, and the party with him, who included his physician, Dr. Teasdall, and Mrs. Graham, had alighted at the Junction to take the east-bound express. As the train reached the platform Graham suddenly stepped behind his wife and leaped in front of the locomotive, being ground to pieces under the wheels. There were numerous witnesses of the horrible occurrence. The deceased had been suffering from melancholia for several months, which became acute upon his being told that he was afflicted with a serious physical malady. He was regarded as one of the brightest minds in the teaching profession in the west, and in addition was a barrister-at-law. He was 47 years of age, and had spent practically the whole of his life here. He was born in Kincardine. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and was highly respected by all.

Trolley Kills Aged Woman.

Toronto, July 2.—A peculiarly shocking fatality occurred on Avenue road Thursday night at about 9 o'clock, when Mrs. Elizabeth Ward of 188 Macpherson avenue was killed by Avenue road car, No. 697, in charge of Motorman Charles Burch and Conductor Ernest Ford. Mrs. Ward was crossing from the west to the east side, and the unfortunate woman fell as she was crossing the tracks, and the car, which was traveling backward at the time, ran over her, the wheel passing over her head. She died within ten minutes.

Pembroke Man Killed.

Port Arthur, July 2.—A man named T. J. O'Reilly, who was employed as a bridgeman by the C. P. R. at Jackfish, was accidentally killed Thursday. When employed working on a hoist, a piece of timber slipped and struck him on the head, killing him instantly. His home was in Pembroke.

Killed Going to Picnic.

Ottawa, July 2.—W. C. Baker, 10 years old, was killed by a Canada Atlantic train yesterday. With his brother and other members of the family he was going to a picnic, and failed to notice a train shunting at South Indian station.

Struck By Lightning.

Bothwell, July 2.—William Randall was struck by lightning Thursday during a storm, and was unconscious for two hours. He will recover.

Girls Save Drowning Boy.

Elder's Mills, July 2.—Thursday a son of Mr. Elder was crossing the apron of the dam on the Humber when he accidentally slipped and fell into about 16 feet of water. The current carried him out about 10 yards, but Miss Grace Ayer of Montreal, and Miss Annie McLean, daughter of Dr. P. D. McLean, Woodbridge, companions at Moulton College, Toronto, plunged into the water without disrobing in any way and swam out to the lad, when Miss McLean caught him by the hair of his head. Between the two girls they succeeded in swimming with him to shore and resuscitating him. The girls are receiving congratulations from everybody.

Asks $2,000 Damages.

Stratford, July 2.—Clement & Clement of Berlin, on behalf of Miss Augusta Lasso of that town, have filed with the clerk of the high court an action against William Stroh of Wellesley, until recently employed in the Kunta brewery at Waterloo. The young lady claims damages to the extent of $2,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage.

Strike That May Grow.

St. Catharines, July 2.—Thursday at the Welland Vale Saw Works the smithers quit work because an extra apprentice was put on. The strikers are men who earn from $4 to $6 a day. They have approached the other workmen of the works, over 300 in all, with a view of having them go out in sympathy, provided the objectionable apprentice is not taken off.

Oil Well Ablaze.

Leamington, July 2.—George W. Benson of Windsor has been engaged in putting down an oil well, and was within three hours of finishing when a strong wind blew the gas from the well to the engine-room. In a second the well was on fire. It burned out, causing a loss of over $2,000.

Province Gets $215,000.

Toronto, July 2.—The amount of succession duties on the estate of the late John Lyman of Syracuse coming to the Province will amount to $215,000, less $80,000 left in charitable bequests. The estate amounts to about $1,400,000.

A Dangerous Jest.

"I don't think," said the young man, "that I ever want to be engaged again."

And the young woman flared up immediately and said:

"Very well, sir. You may consider everything over. I will return you your letters and photographs and presents right now."

"But I don't believe you understand me."

"Yes, I do; perfectly. You said you never wanted to be engaged again."

"But do you know why?"

"No, and I don't care."

"It's because I want to marry the girl I am engaged to now."

And the world became beautiful once more.

THE TRIUMPHS OF PE-RU-NA INCREASE.

Thousands of Chronic Ailments of Women Cured Every Month—Disguised Internal Catarrh the Enemy of Women—Pe-ru-na the Only Internal Systemic Catarrh Remedy Yet Devised—Prominent Cases in Illustration.

Nervous Depression.

Summer months are peculiarly the months of nervous diseases, especially nervous prostration and other depressed states of the nervous system. People who are not at all inclined to be nervous or suffer from weak nerves find this time especially trying. Sultry heat and electrical disturbances of the atmosphere are probably the cause of this.

Invalids need to be particularly careful to fortify the nervous system by the use of Peruna.

Miss Helen Rolof, Kaukauna, Wis., writes:—"Several times during the past two years or more my system has been greatly in need of a tonic, and at those times Peruna has been of great help in building up the system, restoring my appetite and securing restful sleep. I know a great number of women who are using it for the troubles peculiar to the sex, and with the best results."—Helen Rolof.

Miss Louise Bertel, 19½ Second street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:—"My health was excellent until about six months ago, when I seemed to have a collapse from overdoing socially, and the doctor ordered an entire change of scene and climate. As this was an absolute impossibility at the time, I had to try and regain my health in another way and was induced by a friend, who gave Peruna such a good recommend, to try Peruna. I can-not tell you the condition of my nerves when I began to use it. The least noise irritated me, and I felt that life was not worth living, but Peruna soon changed me into a well woman, and now I do not know I have nerves."—Louise Bertel.

A newspaper contributor was lately admitted into the extensive suite of offices which constitute the headquarters of Dr. Hartman, who treats catarrh patients by the thousand. Among the busy swarm of assistant doctors, clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers, Dr. Hartman stopped long enough to say a few words.

"A large number of female patients visit me every year, but the number who are entered on my books as regular patients and are treated by correspondence is very much larger. Hundreds of letters are received and answered free every day. A yet greater multitude take my catarrh remedy, Peruna, and are cured, of whom I never hear. Some of this latter class write me years after their cure.

"I never allow a name published except by the written consent of the patient. We make no charge at any time. The medicine only is obtained by each patient at her own drug store. Those desiring to become regular patients have only to send address, duration of disease and treatment previously received, and directions for the first month's treatment will be sent at once."

Over half the women have catarrh in some form or another. And yet, probably not a tenth of the women know that their disease is catarrh. To distinguish catarrh of various organs it has been named very differently.

One woman has dyspepsia, another bronchitis, another Bright's disease, another liver complaint, another consumption, another female complaint. These women would be very much surprised to hear that they are all suffering with chronic catarrh. But it is so, nevertheless.

Each one of these troubles and a great many more are simply catarrh—that is, chronic inflammation of the mucous lining, of which organ is affected. Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other location. This is why Peruna has become so justly famous in the cure of female diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Peruna does not palliate—it cures.

"Health and Beauty," sent free by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Jennie Finley, 70 Madison Street, Memphis, Tenn., a popular young society lady of that place, writes:—"Three years ago I had very poor health, and while I was only sick abed occasionally, I was unable to enjoy life, and lacked vitality and strength. I was an easy subject to cold and malaria. Four bottles of Peruna changed my entire physical condition. My head stopped aching, my strength returned, and the poison was driven out of my blood till I felt like a new and well woman once more. It is a truly great medicine and well worthy the good things its friends say about it, and it will always have my indorsement."—Jennie Finley.

Miss Lucy M. Riley, 33 Davenport street, Cleveland, Ohio, writes:—"I feel it to be my indorsement to thousands of other women who have been saved through the use of Peruna. I suffered for five years with severe backache, and when weary or worried in the least I had a profound headache. This fall I caught a bad cold and was advised to take Peruna for it. Imagine my astonishment and pleasure to find that after taking two bottles not only was my cough gone, but I had no more backache or headache, and am now in perfect health, enjoy life and know neither an ache or pain, thanks to Peruna."—Lucy M. Riley.

THIS IS CIRCUS DAY.

The People Began to Come to Town at 7 O'clock This Morning.

The people began to come in to the circus at seven o'clock this morning. If the circus maintains the character indicated by the street parade, it will be well worth visiting to-night. Never perhaps has there been a larger or finer procession than passed through our streets this morning. The sleek horses and the healthy looking animals showed an air of prosperity that one can never associate with a mediocre exhibition. Mr. De Wolf, the representative of the show, assured the Examiner that the exhibition would be all that is promised by the parade and the advertisements.

T. A. S. EXCURSION HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL.

St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society Goes to Jubilee.

Features of the Day's Outing—The Annual Excursion an Enjoyable One.

Yesterday the annual excursion of the T.A.S. of St. Peter's, was held, the trip this year being to Jubilee Point, and as is the universal experience with T.A.S. excursions, an immense crowd participated in it, and the affair was one highly successful.

The steamers which carried the excursionists were: The City of Peterborough, Sovereign, Water Lily, the latter being accompanied by a scow. All of these were well filled, and from the standpoint of numbers, as well as from every other, the venture was one gratifying to those having it in charge.

Shortly after eight o'clock, a start was made from the C.P.R. wharf, and the merry crowd sailed down the river in good spirits, the trip down being enlivened by the music provided by the orchestra, engaged for the purpose. Jubilee was reached about noon, and dinner partaken of by those who had not previously taken it, and the afternoon was very pleasantly spent in spite of the fact that a heavy shower came on just after the boats arrived at the point.

After spending the afternoon, during which boating formed a favourite position, an early start was made for home, and Peterborough was reached about 9 o'clock, everyone feeling that a thoroughly pleasant day had been spent, great credit for which is due the chairman, Mr. John O'Brien.

ST. LUKE'S BIBLE CLASS EXCURSION

A Delightful trip to Stony Lake Yesterday

One of the most enjoyable trips out of Peterborough yesterday was that taken under the auspices of St. Luke's Bible Class to Stony Lake, by G.T.R. and steamer Majestic. There was a splendid crowd, and everything combined to make the event an enjoyable one. The excursionists left here on the regular morning train, and at Lakefield were taken on board the steamer Majestic, and the pleasant sail up the lakes was taken. The first stop was at McCracken's, and later at Burleigh, where three hours were spent, and dinner taken. Stops were also made at Viamede, and Boschink, and the return trip to Lakefield began. They arrived home on the regular 6.10 G.T.R. train. Although some rain fell during the day, it did not in any way affect the pleasure of those constituting the party, and a thoroughly enjoyable day was spent.

The committee having the affair in charge, had as its chairman, Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., the teacher of the class, and it deserves great credit for the success of the excursion.

A MEDAL CONTEST AT PARK STREET.

Interesting Entertainment Was Held on Thursday Night.

At the Park Street Baptist Church, Thursday night a very unique entertainment was given under the auspices of the local council of The Royal Templars of Temperance and is known as "The Elocutionary Silver Medal Contest." There were five contestants. The judges were Mr. Stacey, Mr. A. E. Kerr and Mr. Pringle, who sat in different parts of the church. The entries were reduced by number and were five in all. After a few remarks the chairman, Rev. A. H. Brace, called on No. 1, Maud Titterson, who gave "Good Night, Pappa", and was followed by a duet by the Gurney brothers. No. 2, Maud Oliver, rendered "The Terrible Charge". Maud Titterson favoured with a very sweet solo "A Wee Bit of Honey". Numbers 3 and 4, Alice Yelland and Gladys Mulligan recited with good effect, and after a solo by Miss Percy, No. 5, Hattie Lee's poem "Out of the Depths" closed the contest.

When Maud Titterson's second solo was called for the judges entered to compare notes and count marks. Their work was difficult for the young people did credit to themselves and all concerned. During their absence Mrs. Gurney, superintendent of the contest, and to whom the lion's share of the praise is due for the success of the undertaking, gave an address. Miss Titterson, by request gave another recitation, (not competitive) and after an address by the chairman, the judges were ready. The name of the prize winner, Maud Titterson, was greeted with applause. The presentation was made by the Rev. A. H. Brace, and his remarks were supplemented by Mr. Pringle, who on behalf of the judges, who spoke of the high merits of all the numbers, making special mention of Maud Oliver's "Terrible Charge", who was called to the platform and was presented with a bouquet of cut flowers. The promotors regard this as a most interesting and effective way of showing the evils of the drink traffic, virtues of temperance and the blessing which would result from prohibition.

DOMINION DAY IN PETERBOROUGH

How the Citizens of this Town Spent the Holiday

No Public Demonstration—Baseball Game being only Public Function—Many go out of Town

Yesterday was the quietest Dominion Day seen in Peterborough in a number of years; a number of causes, doubtless, contributing to this. About the only function of a public character taking place in town was the baseball game between Peterborough and Lindsay, in the Midland League, in which game the home team was successful, administering to Lindsay its first defeat.

It was thought that the circumstances were not very favourable to having a public demonstration in town yesterday, as has been the custom on Dominion Day in the past. In the first place, today the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus is in town, and it was thought that it would attract a great many from outside points, who would prefer to come to-day to yesterday, and whose presence in town to-day would be more desirable from a business point of view.

Then, too, it was found that during the month of July, there would be a number of celebrations of an elaborate character, and it was thought that it might be unwise to add to the number of celebrations during the month.

A large number of persons left town yesterday, by far the greater number going down the river to Jubilee Point on the T.A.S. excursion, which was well attended, and was highly successful from every standpoint. St. Luke's Bible Class went up Stony Lake on the Majestic, and report a good time.

The Young Quakers baseball team and T.A.S. lacrosse team were in Port Hope yesterday and each won their game. A number of supporters accompanied these teams.

The heavy rain which fell during the early evening dampened the closing of the day to a certain extent, but Dominion Day, 1904, as far as Peterborough was concerned passed off satisfactorily.

Decidedly the Newest—"Navajo." On sale only at Hooper's.

Peterborough Baseball Team Won From Lindsay—T. A. S. Victory at Port Hope—Other Sporting News.

LINDSAY MET ITS FIRST DEFEAT

Peterborough won Yesterday's Game

Fine game of Baseball witnessed by Large Crowd—Both Pitchers did great work—Lindsay's Costly Errors

Did you hear anything drop yesterday afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock? It sounded like all the elephants in a circus falling on a big bass drum all at once. But it wasn't that. It was the Lindsay Baseball Club, which took their first tumble of the season in a Midland League baseball game. And they fell good and hard. Ask Billy Cinnamon if they didn't. It was the Peterborough team which performed the trick, and the damage was 7 to 1. Lindsay won at Sougog town by 2 to 1 on Victoria Day, you know. Guess it was turning the tables some yesterday. All of which was very refreshing after the warm weather of last week. Lindsay had decided to write the president of the League after yesterday's game and say, "Just send along the pennant; we're too good for these Midland Leaguers." But the letter won't be posted for a few days yet. The question is, how will the Lindsay Post explain it. And in the meantime the Peterboroughs are still strictly in the running for the pennant. While there's life there's soap, you know, so let us dry away the tears of that one run defeat in Bowmanville, and expect to see and read of nothing but victories henceforth.

Yesterday's game was the second home game in the Midland League, and as aforesaid, Peterborough won by 7—1. Mighty near a shut-out, too, mind you. The game was witnessed by several hundred spectators, who braving the threatening skies, saw a fine game of baseball. It was a pitcher's battle, and the local southpaw got better support in critical moments. Lindsay's errors being of a very costly nature, wild throwing being productive of several of the tallies. Peterborough's new slab artist's name is Reid. He's a dandy, and the fans are strongly of the opinion that he will do. He is a modest, unassuming, pleasant-looking chap, and throws with his left hand, or baseballically speaking, he is a southpaw. He has everything imaginable in the curve and shoot line. He mixes up the slow and fast ones most effectively. Mr. Reid, you're all right. Eleven of Lindsay's sluggers were victims of his elusive shoots while only two connected for safe swats. McLaughlin, Lindsay's southpaw, is also a star in his line, and pitched great ball. He ties himself in a knot to begin with, but soon untangles himself again and shoots the ball over with all kinds of speed. His slow drop ball puzzled the locals greatly. He struck out ten men, and allowed four safe hits.

The homesters are improving in their hitting, and their fielding is fine. Graham handled Reid well, considering the practice he has had with him. Pilling did good work at first, and Whitcroft at second handled some pot ones in fine shape. Lamonte had few chances but gobbled up everything that came his way. Sheridan also did good work at third handling grounders well. The outfield had no chances. Reid was handy with the ash, cracking out two hits, one a double.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

McGill was first up. He missed three but Graham dropped the ball, and he was safe. A nice snap throw by Reid caught him between first and second. Workman was hit by the ball. Miller hit to Whitcroft, who just missed touching Workman, and both runners were safe. Each advanced a base on a passed ball. It looked bad, but Cinnamon flew to Sheridan, who doubled up Workman.

For the locals, Cinnamon missed the third strike on Sheridan, and "Dooley" completed the circle of the bases. The Lindsayites kicked loud and long, but of no avail. Miller took in Graham's pop fly, Lamonte cracked out a pretty single over second; Whitcroft fouled to Cinnamon. Earls got a pass and both he and Lamonte stole up a peg. Pilling hit to Miller, who missed, and both runners scored. Pilling stole third by a pretty slide, but Wareham fanned.

It was easy for both teams in the second. McLaughlin grounded to first. Menzies hit a grasser to Reid and Marks flew to Sheridan.

For Peterborough, Simpson grounded to Menzies, and Reid and Sheridan struck out.

It was a close shave in the third. For the visitors, Hooper and Sharpe fanned, but McGill laced out a two-bagger to centre. Workman missed three, but Graham dropped the ball and threw low to first. McGill tried to score but Simpson made a great throw to the plate, and McGill was out.

For the homsters, Graham grounded to Workman, Lamonte hit to McGill and Whitcroft was out at first.

It was in the fourth that Lindsay scored. Miller got four wide ones and stole second and in an attempt to catch him purloining the third sack Graham threw wild and the runner scored. Cinnamon singled to right garden, McLaughlin struck out, Menzies got to first on an error, Cinnamon was caught stealing third and Marks fanned.

For Peterborough, Earls missed a trio of shoots, Pilling went out, Menzies to McGill, Wareham hit to McLaughlin who threw wild to first, Simpson dropped one in front of the pan and Cinnamon threw to first, Wareham going to third and Simpson to second. Reid hit to McLaughlin and it was all off.

In the fifth, Hooper fanned, Sharpe grounded to Sheridan and McGill fanned.

The locals got two. Sheridan was hit, and stole second on a wild throw, Graham hit to Miller who threw to catch Sheridan going to third, but Menzies dropped the sphere. With Whitcroft at bat, Graham ran to second; Cinnamon threw to Miller who tossed the ball to Workman to catch Graham but the throw was wild and Sheridan scored. Whitcroft flew to right, and Graham scored on the throw home. Earls fanned.

In the sixth, Workman and Miller fanned and Cinnamon grounded to Sheridan.

For Peterborough, Pilling and Wareham did the fanning act, Simpson beat out a slow hit to third and Reid following with a single to right. A hit meant two runs but Sheridan knocked the ball to McLaughlin who caught Simpson at the plate.

In the seventh, McLaughlin hit to Whitcroft who made a fine pickup and threw. Menzies grounded to Sheridan, Whitcroft booted Marks grounder and Hooper was hit, so he said. Sharpe struck out and the danger was over.

Graham died at first. Lamonte got a base on balls, McLaughlin tried to catch him off first, but the ball went wide and "Reddy" landed on third, Whitcroft hit to Menzies who threw wild to first and Lamonte scored. McGill threw to Workman who was not looking and Whitcroft went to third and scored on a passed ball. Earls fouled to Cinnamon and Workman made a great running catch of Pilling's hit over second.

In the eighth, McGill grounded to Whitcroft, Workman got a charity and stole second and third, but Miller fanned and Cinnamon hit a liner at Reid who made a fine stop.

For Peterborough, Wareham fanned, Simpson died at first and Reid's two-bagger to left which Marks nearly captured, was wasted as Sheridan struck out.

In the last McLaughlin fanned, Menzies hit to Lamonte and Marks grounded to Whitcroft.

The teams were:—

Lindsay—McGill, 1b; Workman, 2b; Miller, ss; Cinnamon, c; McLaughlin, p; Menzies, 3b; Marks, lf; Hooper, cf; Sharpe, rf.

Base on Balls — Off Reid, 2; off McLaughlin 2.

Hit by pitched ball— By Reid 1.

Two base hits — McGill, Reid.

Double play — Sheridan unassisted.

NOTES.

Graham's errors were entirely excusable. The thumb on his throwing hand was badly injured, and his two wild throws should not be counted against him.

The pitcher was given good support yesterday.

It was a rude jolt for Lindsay.

This atones for the defeat at Lindsay by 2—1.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse club sent a team to Orillia yesterday to play the return exhibition game with the team of that town, and received considerably the short end of the score. Orillia outclassed the home team in every department of the game, and have got together a bunch of players that will take a lot to beat. Only those who have been intimately connected with the management of the local club this year can appreciate its difficulties and disappointments, and it is hoped that another year their position will be easier.

T.A.S. DEFEATED PORT HOPE TEAM

In a Game in the T.V.L.L. Yesterday.

Score Was 4-2—A Fast Game—Last Year's Senior Players on the Team

Yesterday the T.A.S. lacrosse team achieved a notable victory, when they defeated the Port Hope Trent Valley League team on the latters own grounds, before one of the biggest crowds that ever gathered in Port Hope on a similar demonstration. The score was 4—2, and that the local team was able to defeat the Port Hopers, with Marvin, Henderson and Burt, of last year's senior C.L.A. team, on the line-up, is a record of which the winners may well be proud.

This win puts the T.A.S. well up in the running for the championship of the league. The game was one of the cleanest ever played in Port Hope, not a man being ruled off during its progress. The T.A.S. team sprang a surprise on their older opponents, who were confident of winning the game, depending on the assistance of the veterans of last year's senior team to help them to victory, consequently the defeat was all the harder to bear. Judd, the youngster on the T.A.S. team, surprised the spectators and the other members of the team by his fast work. He scored three of the four goals, and although checked by Henderson did great work.

The T.A.S. team lined up as follows: Goal, O'Brien; point, Boyle; cover point, Derocher; 1st defence, W. Donovan; 2nd defence, Meagher; 3rd defence, Crowley; centre, Gorham; 3rd home, F. McCoy; 2nd home, Parnell; 1st home, H. Donovan; outside home, L. McCoy; inside home, W. Judd; field captain, Geo. Lynch; time keeper, A. Sharpe. Mr. T. Tuer refereed the game and gave good satisfaction.

A summary of the goals scored is as follows

1st quarter, T.A.S., in 7 1-2 minutes.

2nd quarter, T.A.S., in 11 minutes.

3rd quarter, T.A.S., in 3 1-2 minutes.

3rd quarter, Port Hope in 5 minutes.

3rd quarter, Port Hope, in 1-2 minute.

3rd quarter, T.A.S., in 4 1-2 minutes.

Judd claimed three and H. Donovan one of the goals.

Safeguard the Children

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Frank Rigg of Franklinville, N.Y., in speaking of this remedy, said: "I have found it expedient to have a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. It has been a family safeguard, and while especially beneficial to children it is equally good in adult cases. I recommend it cheerfully and without reservation." For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. Parnell in Destitution.

Mrs. Charles Stewart Parnell has appeared in the London Bankruptcy Court with evidence that she is not only penniless, but in practical destitution. The family to which she belongs are well-to-do, and Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, who is her brother, is more than that. If she had not deserted her husband, been divorced, and then married Mr. Parnell, she might have retained a good place, but it is rather absurd to blame the Irish Nationalists, as is done, since it was "Kitty's" charms that through his infatuation brought about the ruin of Parnell when he was in the heights of his power as the Irish leader.

RUSSIAN DISASTERS.

Submarine Sunk and Officer and 20 Men Drowned—Warship Badly Damaged By Another Russian Battleship.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The submarine boat Delfin sank at her moorings in the Neva, off the Baltic shipbuilding yard, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, with the loss of an officer, Lieut. Cherkasoff, and 20 men. The accident was due partly to the excessive number of the crew, mostly inexperienced men, and chiefly to the unfortunate attempt of a man to escape while his comrades were screwing down the manhole cover.

32 in a 10-Man Boat.

The officers and men detailed for submarine boat instruction had assembled at the Baltic yard, and three officers decided to go down in the Delfin, although her captain was not present, relying on the experience of her skilled crew. A score of novices were anxious to go down with the three officers. The Delfin's nominal capacity is 10 men, instead of which 32 entered the boat, bringing her manhole in dangerous proximity to the river level. Just then a tug passed, sending a heavy wash against the boat.

Panic Among the Novices.

So soon as the water splashed into the submarine boat's interior it created a panic among the novices, and one of them tried to get out of the manhole, which the older hands were screwing down preparatory to the descent, the submerging compartment having already been opened. The water rushed in and as the submerged vessel sank like a stone, the officers and some of the men were saved by being blown up through the manhole by the rush of escaping air. The Delfin shortly afterwards was raised.

The Delfin is Russia's best submarine boat, and underwent a successful trial in 1903.

A Battleship Rammed.

Cronstadt, June 30.—The Russian battleship Navarin, while returning to her anchorage yesterday, was rammed by the Russian ironclad, Netron Menia, which struck her amidship. The damage to the Navarin is not serious, though it may be necessary to drydock the vessel. It is believed that the period required for repairing the battleship will not be a long one.

The Navarin is a battleship of 10,206 tons displacement. The warship has a belt of compound armor 16 inches thick, and 12 inches of the same armor above her belt, on her bulkheads and over her heavy gun positions. Her armament consists of four 12-inch guns, eight 6-inch guns, 14 quick-firing guns and four smaller guns. The speed of the Navarin is estimated at 16 knots and she carries a crew of 630 men.

The Netron Menia is a coast defence ironclad of 3,310 tons displacement. She is an old vessel, having been completed in 1865. Her armament consists of 14 6-inch guns and probably a few smaller quick-firing guns.

FOUND A CURE FOR SEASICKNESS

Veteran Traveller says Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are so good no Party Should Travel without Them.

This is the season of lake excursions and ocean voyages, and, sad to relate, of sea-sickness. How many people are afraid of the two former on account of the latter. To all such that veteran traveller, H. Hutchinson of Chatham, Ont., sends a word of cheer. He crosses the Atlantic four times a year, and has consequently a splendid chance to study the terror of the seas.

"I find," says Mr. Hutchinson, "that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best thing as a preventive against seasickness, and I think any party travelling should carry them for that purpose.

"On my last trip I gave away several Tablets to different passengers, who felt the sickness coming on, and in every case it seemed to settle their stomachs and prevent the sickness."

Criticises Canada.

London, June 30.—(C.A.P.)—Chiozza Money says it is strange that Canada, the only country that ever "dumped" bounty-fed iron into Britain, is the first to take action against the "dumping" of others. He feels sorry for the Canadian customs official who has to decide whether pig iron sold by Germany to Canada at the ruling German price, must be classed as "dumped," if its value on the German market rose while the metal was on the high seas.

Catholic Church Burned.

Ottawa, June 30.—St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church at Aylmer, Quebec, was burned to the ground yesterday morning, resulting in a loss of $40,000, with $30,000 insurance in the Phoenix of London. A fireman named Dubois and a boy named Ritchie were badly injured by falling plaster. The statuary and altar equipment were saved. The fire started from an electric wire."

Found Murdered.

St. Paul, Minn. June 30.—With a silk tie knotted tightly about the neck, the body of Ruth Leachout, aged 18, of Minneapolis, who had been strangled to death, has been floating in the Mississippi River near here. The appearance of the body and the manner in which the tie was found about the throat indicates that the woman was murdered.

Decrease This Year.

Ottawa, June 30.—At the Agricultural Committee yesterday J. A. Smart, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, was examined. He stated that the Immigration last year from the United States was 40,000, and that this year there would likely be a decrease of 5,000 or 6,000. He attributed the decrease to the presidental election.

Test the Kidneys

Allow urine to stand in a glass for 24 hours, and if at the end of that it is clouded or has left a sediment in the bottom of the vessel you may be sure that your kidneys are diseased. As a means of invigorating the action of the kidneys and making them strong and healthy there is no preparation so prompt and none so thorough as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The Club Man

As home from the Club he wanders late
He gently smiles at the wiles of fate
For he knows the effect of wine and malt
Is quickly banished by Abbey's Salt.

A night at the club—an unusually elaborate banquet—even a "bird and a bottle"—ought to be followed by a foaming glass of ABBEY'S SALT, next morning.

It cleans the stomach and bowels—stirs up the liver—clears the head—gives snap and vim to the whole system—and sends a man to business as "bright as a dollar."

It makes the clubman, the epicure, forget he has a liver.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt Is "the Joy of Living."

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Mete Out Long-Delayed Justice in Rough and Ready Manner.

Whitby, June 30.—The Dominion Railway Commission spent yesterday forenoon here, considering three railway crossings. Mr. Bernier was absent. The commission arrived by special train accompanied by Superintendent McGuigan and other Grand Trunk officials. The town authorities met them with carriages at the junction station, and drove the party to the several crossings. The very dangerous one at the base line, just west where the old station was has three main-line tracks and is at an acute angle. In lieu of a subway the Grand Trunk agreed to open a new road north of their lines and from just east of the crossing, which will be closed to Brock street, just north of the bridge, by the new station.

Emanuel Sleep's crossing is to be put in order again, and compensation given for damages.

Corbett's crossing, leading to a famous old-time picnic ground on the lake shore east of the town, in place of having a subway, is to be made safer as to approaches and an electric bell installed.

A very large and representative of county and township councillors and neighboring farmers had been secured by J. L. Smith, who had worked up the Corbett case.

General approval was expressed at the decisions of the commission, and admiration at the rough and ready despatch with which they meted out long-delayed justice.

Helen Keller Cheered.

Cambridge, Mass., June 30.—Helen Adams Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind girl, whose wonderful achievements have made her name familiar throughout the world, was the central figure among the ninety-six young women of Radcliffe College, who yesterday afternoon received their degrees of bachelor of arts at the hands of Dean L. R. B. Briggs, the president of the college. Miss Keller was attended by Miss Sullivan, her teacher and companion, and when her name was called and she rose to receive her degree the large audience broke into hearty and prolonged applause.

Principal Caven at Liverpool.

London, June 30.—At Liverpool, Principal Caven, in delivering his inaugural address entitled, "The Service of the Alliance to Christian Doctrine and Fellowship," said the alliance did not claim to be an ecumenical council of the reformed churches, but if it should in any measure strengthen the faith, love, zeal and unity of these churches in Christ's service it would do practical work of great value and of urgent necessity at the present time.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from Chronic Diarrhoea for ten years, and during that times I tried various remedies without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well, and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favour of that wonderful remedy." This medicine is for sale by all druggists.

Ahead of Time.

London, June 30.—(C.A.P.)—Premier Seddon, speaking at Wellington, says that the establishment of meat shops in Britain will be ahead of time. Canada, New Zealand and Australia had to fight alien countries against their invasion of the trade battlefield of England.
